

MAGNIFICENT ROSES DELIGHT VISITORS

Post-Festival Display at the Chamber of Commerce Building Delights Eastern and Portland Flower Lovers—Due to Enthusiasm of W. A. Storey.

W. A. Storey of Twenty-first and Vaughn streets, also of the Chamber of Commerce building, has hit upon a bright plan for making Portland's roses better known. Beginning with the early rose season he has, through the kindness of the management of the building, secured for the Chamber of Commerce an informal rose show which is to continue through the height of the season. This is that visitors who with the finest roses from his home on Vaughn street. And with this business he is well able to cut some beautiful ones. The plan succeeded so well that he was encouraged to repeat the experiment this year and was immensely gratified when he found others becoming interested. H. M. Graessle and Robert Smalls were the first to send in their roses to add to the show. Then Colonel Jackson sent in some of the finest Florence Pemberton roses from Portland, and now Mrs. A. C. Pantan has supplied a whole table with many of the finest varieties. However, B. Langston joined the list with exquisite Maman Cochet roses in the various delicate tints, and Mr. Haak sent in various kinds of roses from his garden in Portland. Mr. Storey says has the finest garden roses of any one in the city. He will show some of his roses at the festival rose show.

"It is a splendid advertisement," said Mr. Storey, "who is very enthusiastic over the growth of his plan. It is a delight to stand there and hear the remarks. And many residents of our own city have been very penitent in taking down the names of new roses which they wish to secure for their own gardens. And I have made many delightful acquaintances, for people from the eastern states stop to admire and can hardly believe the roses are so good here. Before the festival rose show I invited them to my home in the evening to see the roses blooming, and to get some, and they were most generous. I have given away, I am sure, 25,000 roses the past few days. One man and his wife from the east refused to believe they were grown here, and said they must have been shipped from California. I took them to my home and they were amazed. When they went away they wanted to hire a man to carry away the roses for them. And I have made many more who were utterly converted. A man from Texas touring through here in his automobile came out here and I filled his machine with roses. It is a treat to see their delight."

Mr. Storey gave the names of some of the most beautiful varieties of this year which have been shown at the building. Among them were the Dean Holt, the Ben Cant, the Joseph Hill, the Lady Roberts, the Lyon, the Rene Borg de Loraine, Madame Eugene Verdelier, Franz, the Duke of Devonshire, the Barnes, Avoca, Souvenir de Stella Gray, Captain Hayward, Philip and the Gaston McArthur, the Regis, Bessie Brown, and many others.

are not interested enough or are not informed, or are too busy to go to the formal rose show at the fair grounds during its short season, may still become acquainted with the roses.

This idea came to Mr. Storey last year when he found that he had many fine roses going to waste and plants to be cut after the rose show at the fair grounds was all over. Then he secured the tables and the space, and for several days kept large vases filled

CHOKED BY AUTO DUST, LINNTON WANTS LIVE CITY CONSTABLE

Linnton is up in arms. Furthermore, Linnton is to be incorporated. It is claimed that Linnton has been getting a little the worst of the deal lately, and that the citizens have hopes of doing something better for themselves by becoming incorporated. It seems that there is a nice county, country road which passes through the principal part of Linnton. And this thoroughfare is used a great deal by automobilists. And as most of the automobilists are out for fun they never think of stopping at Linnton—unless there is a breakdown. This stretch of nice straight road in Linnton is about seven blocks long. Sometimes it is dusty. Sure as the road is dusty numerous machines and men with goggles and funny looking caps, and women in the rear seats with queer, hazy looking streamers trailing the air behind, are sure to appear. And then, bang! A honk-honk is heard, may be there is a cloud of dust and the goggles and veils and everything, including the machine, are out of sight. The automobile goes on its way, merrily, rocking and bumping. The occupants forget all about the dust—and the furore they have created. Then the dust begins to settle. It rambles around town a bit. Settling all the while. Few houses, few stores, few anything escapes. Before the furore is dusted again, along comes another happy party. And it is the same thing all over again. That is the dust that is in the parlors and on the store counters and everywhere.

At least this is what some of the Linnton people claim. The side of the automobile people will be heard later. So Linnton is to incorporate, and such laws will be passed as are necessary to regulate the automobile business and provide for a constable, etc. The city of Linnton is now being formulated by the citizens in general.

Incorporations.
(Special Dispatch to the Journal.)
Salem, Or., June 15.—Articles of incorporation have been filed in the office of the secretary of state as follows:
Royer Implement company, principal office Portland; capital stock $5,000; incorporators, George Royer, A. B. Winfree and H. H. Thompson.

ACHING LIMBS. NEARLY BLIND.

Had kidney disease for a long time and did not know it. Thousands, like Mrs. Ellis, are troubled with kidney disease and do not realize it until it has developed into rheumatism and other diseases, which derange the entire system.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE

Mrs. Lina Ellis of Matagorda, Texas, was so overjoyed with the cure effected by WARNER'S SAFE CURE in her case that she wrote the following letter, unsolicited, on April 30, 1908:

"Kind friends—I have never in my life found anything to equal your great medicine, WARNER'S SAFE CURE. I would certainly have been dead and buried if I had not taken it just when I did. I was so nearly blind that I could not see to thread a needle; my limbs ached all over and there was a very offensive odor to my urine, but since I have taken your wonderful medicine, my sight is as good as it was when a young girl; my skin has lost the dead look it had; my limbs do not ache, there is absolutely no offensive odor and my blood is in a perfectly healthy condition. I am so delighted over the restoration of my health that I tell every one far and near of your good medicine and what it has done for me. I had this kidney trouble for four (4) years but I did not know what it was. Now that I realize what my trouble was and how Warner's Safe Cure cured me I will always keep it in the house and take it occasionally to ward off any return. Before taking Warner's Safe Cure I was nervous, irritable and the least noise would disturb me. My nervousness has all disappeared. I am a new woman." Lina Ellis.

WARNER'S SAFE CURE is put up in two sizes and is sold by all druggists, or direct at 50 CENTS AND $1.00 BOTTLE. Beware of substitutes containing harmful drugs which injure the system.

TRIAL BOTTLE FREE every sufferer from diseases of the kidney. A trial bottle will be sent ABSOLUTELY FREE, postage to any one who will write WARNER'S SAFE CURE CO., Rochester, N. Y., and mention having seen this liberal offer in The Journal. The genuineness of this offer is fully guaranteed by the publisher. Our doctors will send medical booklet, containing descriptions of symptoms and treatment of each disease, and many convincing testimonials, free to every one.

MILWAUKEE SCHOOL

Increased Attendance in Fall Has Been Provided for by Annex.

With the close of school last week at Milwaukee was on the new $10,000 addition to the public school building of that thriving little town took on renewed activity and the construction is rapidly nearing completion. When this is finished it will accommodate 200 more pupils, thus relieving the congestion which has been the result of the past year owing to the unprecedented growth in the population of Milwaukee. The old hall had to be utilized during the summer months to house some of the pupils. When school opens again in the fall there will be plenty of room for the increased attendance that is expected. The school will include grades up to the first year in high school, and the corps of teachers has been added to, to meet the increased growth of the school demanded until now there are six instructors with the work of V. V. Holman, whom Mr. Storey added to the teaching staff this fall.

MAKES BERRY-BOXES OF BROWN PAPER

Milwaukee factory the Only One of Its Kind in the Northwest.

Milwaukee has the unique distinction of being the only city in the northwest with a paper berry box factory. This is the property of J. W. Graessle & Son. As far as is known this is the first time such a berry box has ever made its appearance. Eight people are employed in the factory, which turns out 35,000 boxes daily and is unable to meet the demand now made by growers. With the installation of additional machinery next week and the employment of more helpers, Mr. Graessle expects to be able to produce 60,000 berry boxes daily. All of the present output is finding ready sale around Milwaukee. The box is sold at a slightly cheaper price than the tin-top wooden berry box and is much more durable. It may be filled a dozen times without impairing its usefulness, while the ordinary box breaks up after being used once or twice.

Howard Graessle has a patent on the smaller box manufactured by the company. The larger square box is not patented by the Graesses, but as far as is known this is the first appearance of this box in a northwest market. The smaller boxes are made of one piece of heavy brown cardboard, and the larger of two pieces. The inside of the box is treated with paraffin, which is impervious to moisture and increasing the life of the box almost indefinitely. Mr. Graessle hopes to make the Milwaukee factory a northwest distributing point for the boxes.

Great Receivers' Sale of Arnold Print Works

Greatest Values in 20 Years

THIS IS A SALE THAT WILL MAKE HISTORY in the selling of desirable Wash Fabrics. THE ARNOLD PRINT WORKS of North Adams, Mass., produce, and have produced for many years, the BEST-KNOWN Cotton Dress Fabrics IN AMERICA, if not in the world. Their name has been the synonym of QUALITY or originality of newness and beauty of designing.

Financial conditions placed them in the hands of receivers and they have been forced to sacrifice price for immediate distribution. The opportunity is now presented to purchase here their most desirable fabrics at the lowest prices that these or any similar quality materials have ever been offered in the history of the cotton fabric business. To the woman who knows, to the merest tyro, in fact, the prices that follow tell a most remarkable story of saving—and we count ourselves fortunate in being able to present this record-breaking sale.

NOAH'S FAMILY WILL COME TO LIFE IN THE TOY-SHOP PLAY

Portland is to have an invasion of dolls next week. Dolls of all kinds, Dutch, French, Japanese, tissue paper, the tin and modern soldier variety, even the candy dolls will be here. They will come to life at the Hellig theatre Monday, June 22, and will frolic, dance and sing for four performances, all for sweet charity's sake. The institute of the People's Institute will benefit by the affair, which has for patronesses 100 of the most prominent of Portland's women.

Miss Martin of Chicago, who directed the "House That Jack Built," is in charge again this year, which is evident from the applause that greeted her performance. One hundred and fifty children are working hard to make each part perfect. From several Portlanders who heard the opera last year and who have seen the "Toy Shop" in other cities, it is evident that this year's offering is more beautiful, both as to music and stage effect. Those who have been privileged to see some rehearsals at the Portland academy gymnasium bear out this statement, and also say that some of the children are doing wonderful work.

"THE PLAY"
Lyric, "Capital vs. Labor."

The problem of capital vs. labor is being admirably solved at the Lyric theatre this week in a three-act drama bearing that title. Ervin J. Blunkall, leading man, does the solving to the intense satisfaction of everybody who sees the performance. The leading woman, Miss Atwood, does her share toward making the play a success, and Miss Grace played with fine favor and adequate applause through her acting as "Cinderella," one of the co-protagonists in the suit.

Incidentally the play is not without its thrills, and heart throbs pulsate from beginning to end. There are no half-bad characters in the play—from first to last the bad men are bad and the good ones are good. The scenes are laid in the iron works of a Pennsylvania town, and the stage settings are adequate. The very well pleased houses were the juries in the case yesterday.

"Jolly Widow" at Oaks.
The new bill at the Oaks summer air-drome is "The Jolly Widow," a musical travesty by the Allen Curtis company on the prevailing craze over dark and winsome merry widows. The manner in which this business, as staged, caused old time theatre goers of the city to sit up straight and pay close attention. The production was rich and in excellent style, while the scenic and electrical surprises in the two act song mixture surpassed anything of the kind yet introduced by the Curtis company.

It is a foregone conclusion that this merry throng of funsters and pretty girls will become one of the most popular Portland institutions, and they certainly will fill a needed gap in the fun-loving hearts of the city. The play was written by the Merry Widow Waltz, Herbert Lindley, was one of the characterizations that made a hit with the crowd. "I'm looking for the man who wrote the Merry Widow Waltz," was the scream which brought the house, figuratively, to Marguerite La Pointe, the prima donna.
