

HOLMAN DISPLAY FEAST OF RAREST BLOSSOMS

Rose Show in Chamber of Commerce by Portland Rosarian Admired by Hundreds of Visitors Daily—Many Rare Blooms Shown—Some Unnamed.

A feast for rose lovers is spread in the corridor of the Chamber of Commerce building where F. V. Holman is making a display of his choice blooms. It is a rose show all by itself and hundreds of people gather there explaining and pointing out to their friends or visitors what wonders Portland climate combined with a little care can do.

There are three tables of these beautiful roses carefully arranged in exhibit boxes, each with its tube of water, so that the flowers are preserved. Mr. Holman's largest roses are placed in one box which contains a large deep pink rose labeled Unknown, a fine Mrs. Myles Kennedy, white faintly tinged with pink; a marvelous Frau Karl Druschki, a Testout, a J. B. Clark and a Bessie Brown. These are all of remarkable size and perfect in shape and color.

Rose Without Name.
The unknown rose, Mr. Holman explains, he has had for some time, but he has found no one to identify it. He has at last succeeded in sending buds to the Dicksons, the noted rosarians, near Belfast, who will perhaps be able to give it a name.
The Winnie Davis is a new rose of which Mr. Holman has a fine example. It is a long slender bud, of a delicious pink tinge, a marvelously beautiful flower. The Florence Pemberton is another which is not so well known but which is beautiful. There are several blooms of the Belle Siebrecht, the variety which took first prize at the rose show during festival week.

If you ask Mr. Holman which roses are the best to grow here, he will tell you all you have room for. He has himself about 500 bushes but if he had a farm he would have it full of roses. And if you ask what he is working toward he will tell you, "Nothing, except the pleasure of working with them and the wholesome joy that one gets out of it." And that being a lover of his city and proud of the title of Rose City which it has acquired, he enjoys preparing this exhibition of roses that people may learn the names of varieties and be stimulated to turn rose culturists themselves.

Many Notable Types.
There are some roses, however, which grow here with better results than can be obtained in other places, and one of these is our much heralded Caroline Testout, of which some gorgeous examples in a tall vase grace the center of one of the tables. Another is the climber Madame Alfred Carriere of which Mr. Holman has one bush 32 feet high and another 40 feet high, and both still going. It blooms freely and perfectly here and is grown with only mediocre results elsewhere.

No handsomer rose is shown, to the taste of most people, than the beautiful creamy white Frau Karl Druschki, of which several notable examples are shown. This rose is popular with the eastern people and there are crowds of admirers about these several examples all day long.

At the exhibition of the National Rose society of Great Britain held about a year ago, the following were accorded gold medals, and a gold medal from the national society, as Mr. Holman explains, means not the best of its class at the time of exhibition but a high degree of perfection. These were the prize winners: Best hybrid tea, Dean Hole; best hybrid perpetual, Frau Druschki; best tea, Madame Jule Gravenue (a climber).

Another novelty here is the new Irish rose, Killarney, of which Mr. Holman shows a specimen. It is not large but of beautiful shape and a clear pink.

Much Interest in New Ones.
There is always interest in deep red roses for they are unsurpassed for brilliant effect. Mr. Holman shows some fine ones; the Gloire de Bourg in Reine is large and of clear color; a rich one is Xavier Gilbo which is very satisfactory because of its free blooming; another is the Captain Hayward, which bears the unusual reputation of doing well in partial shade. Another fine red rose is the Liberty, from which the Richmond was derived. It is of the same fiery color that makes the Richmond so much admired and furnishes a succession of bloom which is desirable.

A striking rose is the Improved Rainbow which has delicate pencillings of red upon its pink petals.

There is always more to learn about roses, and interested rose growers as well as those who have had aspirations in that line are enjoying tully Mr. Holman's rose show.

GRAND JURY INDICTS SEVEN

Federal Body Returns True Bills in Umatilla and Other Cases.

Seven indictments—two of them in the Umatilla land fraud investigations—were returned to the United States district court this morning by the federal grand jury which has been in session four weeks. This makes nine indictments all told in the Umatilla cases. The others are relative to postal irregularities and other violations of the government laws. The names of the indicted ones are not to be made public until the bench warrants, issued by Judge Wolverson this morning, are served.

PORTLAND PROFITS BY ROSE CARNIVAL

Portland is receiving a lot of free and valuable advertising as a result of the Rose Carnival. Not only were interesting news items dealing with the festivities sent out from Portland to the daily press all over the states during the carnival week, but now periodicals and special interest journals are devoting space to it.

The latest issue of the Weekly Implement Trade Journal, Kansas City, contains a page of matter pertaining to the carnival and its features and it also gives a good picture showing the automobile parade coming down Morrison street. The Implement Trade Journal has a large circulation all over the continent.

Tomorrow and Saturday positively will be the last days for discount on east side gas bills, Portland Gas Co.

DEMOCRATS MEET IN MISSISSIPPI

Emancipation of the Fat Folks

To have to sit through the hot weather quiet as a log, scarcely daring to breathe simply because one is so fat the least exertion will start the perspiration in a stream, is not a very lively prospect. But it has been the lot of the fat since time began until now.

Fat folks have been emancipated from hot weather misery at last, by a home mixture: 1/4 ounce Marmola, 1/4 ounce Fluid Extract Cascara Aromatic, and 2 1/2 ounces Sirup Simplex, of which they take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime until—which isn't very long time—they have lost all the fat they care to.

Simple and inexpensive (any druggist will fill it for a small sum) as this receipt is, the results it obtains are unexcelled. Some folks have lost as much as a pound a day within a week after starting. Yet, radical and delightful as such an effect is, there is no aftermath of wrinkles or stomach troubles; the mixture is harmless except to the fat itself.

DR. RILEY TO SPEAK AT WHITE TEMPLE

Large Audience Hears Dr. Brougher's Discourse on Man's Curiosity.

Dr. W. B. Riley of Minneapolis, Minnesota, will preach at the White Temple tonight. Last night a large audience was present to hear Dr. Brougher discuss the subject, "Man's Curiosity—Is It Greater than Woman's?" At the close of the service Mr. Martin sang very effectively a gospel solo and the large chorus held the people for some time after they were dismissed with their popular gospel singing.

"I looked over this crowd," said Dr. Brougher, "to see which is the more curious, men or women. I think it is about even for there are fully as many men here tonight as women. Evidently they are just as curious as the women."

Passing into the serious portion of his discourse, he dwelt on the theme that curiosity is productive of good as well as evil. Through curiosity one may be led into evil but one may find the good as well. After satisfying all the demands of curiosity through life, one will not reap reward at the end if his curiosity has not led him to know the Christ.

From Luke 12:1-16, Dr. Brougher read the Parable of Zacheus, the Phileean, whose curiosity led him to seek Christ. Dr. Brougher pointed out that this kind of curiosity is worthy of emulation and at the same time warned his audience against the curiosity that led Eve to the tree of evil.

"Your associates may laugh and sneer you into hell," asserted Dr. Brougher, "but they cannot laugh or sneer you out of it. Many men cannot stand by their convictions because they haven't any."

Turning from curiosity leading to sin, Dr. Brougher then showed that curiosity would lead people to become Christians. He stated that he believed in the use of curiosity for leading men to Jesus Christ.

Ready for A. C. A. Tour.
(United Press Leased Wire.)
New York, June 18.—Arrangements have been completed for the national tour to be conducted by the Automobile Club of America as a part of its campaign against the American Automobile association. LINGENFELTER MAKES DENIAL OF FRAUD

(United Press Leased Wire.)
Washington, June 18.—The president has received a telegram from C. H. Lingenfelter, recently appointed United States attorney for the district of Idaho, in which Lingenfelter denies a report that he is connected with any land fraud cases. The president referred the report published in a western newspaper to Lingenfelter.
