

WIRELESS OUT OF COUNCIL CREST

Portland Company Now in Communication With New Station at Westport.

The Portland United Wireless Telegraph company has just completed a new station at Westport, and nightly communication is carried on between Council Crest and Grays Harbor. Improvements are being made whereby the Crest station will be able to overcome static influences of daylight and talk with Puget sound stations in day time.

The Crest station is now in charge of J. V. Weed, who was four years in wireless work in the United States navy and concluded his term of service a month ago. Sitting at his key last night he said:

"The Council Crest wireless station talks without difficulty at night to points as far distant as San Diego, Cal. We constantly hear messages received or sent from San Francisco bay. This station does a regular commercial business, mostly with sea-going vessels or with the company's stations along the coast. We do a considerable amount of communicating with vessels of the navy department. The battleship Connecticut has the most powerful wireless equipment in the United States navy. Its messages are frequently overheard here."

All naval business is sent free by the United Wireless company, but its regular rate is $2 for 10 words and 10 cents per additional word. The volume of business here is said to be already paying a return on the investment and is steadily increasing.

While the operator talked to The Journal visitor, the battleship Connecticut, lying in the bay of San Francisco, was overheard talking with the naval station at Farrallon islands, 30 miles out from San Francisco.

At one period of his service Mr. Weed was stationed at Bremerton navy yard, on Puget sound. While the war fleet was maneuvering at Magnolia bay, the admiral of the Bremerton navy yard sent a message to Admiral Evans, in charge of the fleet. Weed sent the message first to Magnolia station at San Francisco, and from there it was relayed to San Diego station and thence to Magnolia. Within four minutes from the time the message was started from Bremerton Weed telephoned his admiral the answer from Evans. He said the wireless system is the most rapid means of communication in existence.

The wireless works best in foggy or drizzling weather or at night. The hot sun in daytime produces static waves that interfere with the carrying of the sound waves very long distances. Very powerful instruments are now being installed to overcome this trouble. The Crest station is equipped with its own power and dynamo, and uses no batteries. Its initial current is 110 volts, which is stepped up to 40,000 volts in a transformer before it passes through the wireless instrument.

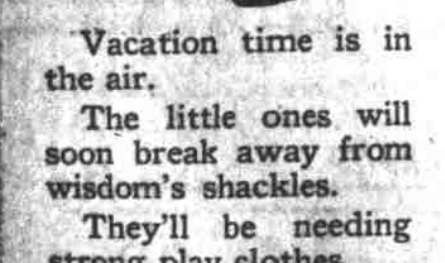

AGED WOMAN'S EFFORT TO END LIFE FUTILE

Mrs. A. Davis, who attempted to commit suicide last night by jumping from the Morrison-street bridge, left St. Vincent's hospital this morning, to which place she was taken immediately after being rescued from the river last night.

Her address was not learned at the hospital. She was an elderly woman and it is believed that stricken circumstances temporarily unbalanced her mind. She was rescued last night by Frank Merrill, of the Morrison boat house, and two other men before she went under.

Doctor Sues for Fees.

Dr. J. A. Gilbert's suit against the Standard Box and Lumber company for fees for medical services went to trial before a jury in Judge Cleland's department of the circuit this morning. Gilbert alleged that the company became indebted to him for his attendance upon an employe, A. W. Frazee.

HARRIS MANOR HOUSE BURNS

Residence of Late Leader of Free Love Colony Destroyed by Fire.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Santa Rosa, Cal., June 18.—The Manor house, famous as the headquarters of the late Thomas Lake Harris, founder of a free love and spiritualistic colony, is a mass of charred ruins today and over $50,000 worth of books belonging to the library of the colony and valuable bric-a-brac is a pile. The fire started last night as the result of an explosion of a kerosene lamp in the Manor house. John Cole, a relative of the Harris family, was in the room at the time of the explosion and was badly burned.

The colony was founded by Harris, who came out here from England and organized a large following. Lawrence Oliphant, a distinguished English diplomat and writer, was a member of the colony at one time. Later his cousin wrote a novel making bitter charges against Harris.

ROSES TO BE SHOWN FOR MANY DAYS YET

Thousands of visitors who have gone to the lobby of the Chamber of Commerce building in the last two weeks to view the magnificent displays of roses exhibited there by tenants of the building will be interested to know that the displays will be continued indefinitely. There are many rose culturists who have offices in the building and have become enthusiastic over the success of the continued displays.

The management of the building has cooperated with them in every possible way to make the exhibits successful. Special arrangements were made this week for the Holman exhibit. H. D. Langille, W. A. Story and others have contributed to the display. Some of the exhibitors make a specialty of one or two varieties, but most of them show a large line of the wonderful Portland beauties. The cool weather has done much to make the long-continued exhibits a success. It is estimated that upwards of 400 varieties of roses have been shown.

MINING MEN FIGHT IN ST. FRANCIS HOTEL

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, June 18.—A reconciliation today effected between two millionaire mining men, Fred Nevada and a local stock broker, who engaged in a fight in the lobby of the St. Francis hotel. In the presence of scores of guests who were lounging about the hotel, M. A. Truett, a wealthy operator, hid M. H. Truett, head of the big company that is operating the Truett lease at Rawhide, in a mining stock broker of this city, mixed up in lively fashion for a few minutes.

CREW FOR HOURS FACED AWFUL FATE

(Continued from Page One.) After leaving Rainier the sloop hooked onto a lograft in tow of a passing steamer and thus St. Johns was sprung by the night. The crew stopped there, and so sails were again set and the run to Alsworth dock was made in a little over an hour. According to their best way of reckoning the Guiding Star covered 700 miles, making the distance from Vanouver, B. C. to Portland.

ASTORIA WILL HAVE COMPANY OF GUARDS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Astoria, Or., June 18.—C. H. Abercrombie received a message from Adjutant-General Finzer stating that the state military board had granted the petition for the establishment of a company of the Oregon National guard in this city and that a mustering officer would be sent down within a few days, when the company will be organized.

"Capital vs. Labor" Tought.

There will be another repetition of that thrilling industrial drama, "Capital vs. Labor" at the Lyric tonight. The Blunkall-Atwood company has made the biggest kind of a hit in this play and those who have not seen it have missed a rare treat.

SHERWOOD'S CASE TOO WEAK TO STAND

B. F. Sherwood's case against disorderly persons at the Mount Tabor camp meeting disintegrated of its own volition this morning. Judge Cameron's court into court Monday morning. The case evidenced strong indications of a wobbly foundation. This led Judge Cameron to continue it from day to day until Sherwood, who is a policeman, could gather sufficient evidence to make out a case against the persons whom he arrested. This morning he stated to Judge Cameron that his witnesses had "gone back on him."

The identity of Sherwood's witnesses is veiled in mystery. The costs of his case, which will amount to about $25, will have to be paid by the city. The police department will probably relieve Sherwood's vigil over the camp meeting, sending a competent man to make arrests in answer to the numerous complaints from residents in the vicinity of Mount Tabor.

WRONG WRIGHT RIGHT SMART

Police Would Like to Nab Him but Alleged Swindler Is Too Slippery.

R. M. Wright, alleged to have swindled scores of farmers in the vicinity of Boise, Idaho, out of approximately $50,000, and who gave the Portland police a fruitless vigil of 24 hours, brought to a climax by a sensational back-door escape at the Imperial hotel, where he put up during his brief stay here, is again at large, having secured his release from the El Paso, Texas, jail on payment of small bail.

Captain Baty of the Portland plain clothes force received telegrams from both the chief and sheriff of Boise about three months ago, describing Wright and instructing the authorities to apprehend and hold him on a charge of larceny by bailee. He was alleged to have promoted a Farmers' Protective association, in which the members were to pool their products, Wright representing them and superintending the sale of the products. The scheme was successful, but Wright, it is claimed, decamped with the proceeds of the sale of the pool.

COLORADOANS INVITE CHAMBERLAIN TO TALK

Grand Junction Asks Oregon Governor to Deliver Oration.

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., June 18.—Governor Chamberlain yesterday received an invitation to deliver the Fourth of July address at Grand Junction, Colorado. The governor will remain at home, however, and will deliver his address, possibly at Newberg, on that date.

CASE AGAINST DR. THORNTON DISMISSED

The case against Dr. O. A. Thornton has been dismissed in the municipal court at the request of City Health Officer Dr. Esther C. Pohl. Thornton was arrested for failing to notify the city health office of a smallpox case, while dismissing the case against Thornton, Dr. Pohl holds him personally responsible for the epidemic which was discovered by the city health officers, and may press other cases against him. Thornton contends that he did not know that the case was one of smallpox. Dr. Pohl admits that the evidence probably was not strong enough to convict him, but that she dismissed the proceedings because of her dislike to prosecute a fellow practitioner in the same cases. However, she insists that Thornton could be convicted.

ATTORNEY SERVING TIME FOR LARCENY

(United Press Leased Wire.) Oakland, Cal., June 18.—F. D. Miller, an attorney of Mississippi, and son of a former attorney-general of that state, began to serve a sentence of six months in the county jail here today for petty larceny. He pleaded guilty to having stolen a buggy and horse. It is said that John Sharp Williams interested himself in the case and tried to secure leniency for the son of his former friend.

GEORGE H. WILLIAMS OLDEST DELEGATE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Chicago, June 18.—George H. Williams was escorted from his seat in the Oregon delegation to the platform where he was introduced as probably the oldest delegate sitting in the convention.
