Charles F. Lord Testifies in Highbinder Murder Trial

He Was Member of Chinese Society 14 Years—Defense Surprised.

Defendant Gives Testimony in Own Behalf—Denies He Was Near Scene of Shooting—Frisco Witnesses Interrupt Proceedings.

That there are white members of Chinese tong was the statement made by Charles F. Lord in the highbinder murder trial before Judge Brougham this morning. Mr. Lord said that he had been a member of the Sui Ling tong for 14 years, was in good standing and attended all the meetings as a member of that fraternal night do.

Lord Testifies. "Do you place Mr. Lord as an expert witness?" he inquired. "No," said Mr. Logan, "but you are qualified to speak with authority and expert knowledge on Chinese customs." Mr. Lord asked Mr. Malarky, "Well, you aren't Chinese, are you?" "No."

Lord, on here," interrupted Mr. Logan. "I regard Mr. Malarky's question as a final fender test next week at the Haver street bar. The communication from captain Moore relative to the necessity of a new city jail was placed on file."

At a meeting of the health and police committee of the city council this morning the members instructed the city attorney to draft an ordinance regulating the construction of nickelodions and another prohibiting persons from living above garages. The latter measure will also prohibit the giving of exhibitions and entertainments above the garages.

The members also decided to hold another "final" fender test next week at the Haver street bar. The communication from captain Moore relative to the necessity of a new city jail was placed on file.

BEHIND THE SCENES

G. M. Smith's $1,500 Olds touring car was spirited away Wednesday night and exhaustive search of the city by Captain Baty's plain clothes men fails to reveal the slightest clue to a very unique automobile robbery.

Wednesday evening Mr. Smith, who is president of the Pacific Coast Automobile company, took a party of friends out for a ride. The machine was clipping along without jar or friction when, opposite the Columbia university on Willamette boulevard, it suddenly stopped.

Examination disclosed an accidental break to the steering gear necessitating the attention of a garage expert. It was decided to leave the machine in the hands of the garage.

In order to frustrate any possible attempt Mr. Smith, aided by some of the auto party, carried away all the portable parts necessary to the supplying of motive power. Stripped of the essential parts of the machine, the Olds car was as incapable of automatic motion as a boxcar.

It was at first thought that the spiritless car was the only one of its kind in the city. Besides the detectives have been furnished with a minute description of the missing car. The police in the neighborhood have also been notified.

FLEET ASSEMBLES FOR TRIP AROUND WORLD

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, June 19.—The 16 battleships of the Atlantic fleet are gradually assembling in the bay, preparatory to their departure, as scheduled, on July 7, and today the streets are almost literally filled with the delegates in jackets as they were during the big celebrations of fleet week.

In a few days all of the fleet will be in the bay. The Fourth of July will be made notable by a navy celebration and the firing of the national salute of 21 guns by the assembled ships. The fleet will then depart for Honolulu, July 7, and on August 5 the cruisers will start for Samoa and the Philippines. As Admiral Dayton is expected to retire it is believed that Admiral Swinburne will take command of the Pacific fleet before it leaves this port.

ONE SCHOOL DISTRICT IN TWO COUNTIES

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., June 19.—Two school districts, one in Marion county and the other in Linn county but both in the same territory, are being united by popular vote. The official count shows that 68 were in favor of the union, and 25 were against it. The districts united are No. 108 in Marion county and No. 99 in Linn county and the problem is how to divide the school property between the two counties.

The Santiam river is the cause of all the difficulty. The Santiam not only serves in equal parts as the willow of Mill City, but also separates Marion county from Linn county. The expense of maintaining the school on the east side of the river was too great for the taxpayers and they decided two schools were not needed.

TRI-CITY GAME IS CALLED FOR CHARITY

Sunday's game will be played as scheduled and the postponed game will take place later in the season.

BEHIND THE SCENES

No Husband Appears to Defend Himself Against Charges Made.

Five feminine faces were brightened by Judge Ganselben in the circuit court this morning by the words, "Decree granted." It was divorce day, and the fair ones flocked to court in twos and threes, the divorcees bringing witnesses and friends to see them through the brief ordeal. Not a man appeared to defend himself from the accusations that were piled up as reasons for cutting away from the marital anchor.

One of the successful seekers for divorce was Mrs. Lizzie B. Carson, who filed involved in a suit pending in the circuit court, wherein her husband, Joseph G. Carson, is seeking to recover $25,000 from Leroy H. C. Hadley for alienation of the affections of his wife. Carson alleges that Hadley induced Mrs. Carson to leave her happy home in Los Angeles to join him in Portland, and that it was Hadley who put the suit for divorce into the mind of his wife.

The accusations of Carson were not mentioned today, however. This was Mrs. Carson's first trial, and she was allowed to have the benefit of a full trial. She said they were married in San Francisco in the last days of December, 1907, and that she had been married to Leroy H. C. Hadley for four months after they were married, she said, her husband swore at her and knocked her down. When she spoke he would strike her again, she alleged. In the following month he again knocked her down twice in one day, she asserted. Before marriage Mrs. Carson's name was Lizzie B. Higbee.

Lucy May Sargent, who sued Draper C. Sargent on the charge of desertion, told the court of a suit she started in Oregon City and later dismissed. She said her husband, who had been working at Lakeview, had come to her and taunted her for not suing him in Portland, where she lives, instead of going to the court in Oregon City. She had the courage to obtain the divorce at home she had the case at Oregon City and brought a new suit in Portland.

Mrs. Sargent said that she was married in Durango, Colo., in 1902. While she was in Durango she was employed by the Commercial club Thursday evening, and Friday and Saturday evenings will be devoted to business meetings in the city. Two Hundred Will Assemble in the Big Tent on the Beach Tonight

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Seaside, Or., June 19.—Two hundred delegates from the city and college young women's Christian associations of Oregon, Washington and Idaho will arrive at Sargent's Seaside house this afternoon to attend the annual conference, which will continue until Monday, June 29. A large two-hundred party was entertained on the golf links in front of the hotel, in which the meetings will be held. Miss Delta Watson, who has charge of the business part of the conference, has been on the beach for several days getting things in shape for the opening tonight.

The program will include a social evening during the week for recreation. Many tramps into the beautiful country around Seaside have been planned. In this way it is hoped to combine the serious consideration of the everyday problems of the Christian life with the pleasure of a seaside resort. A book store will be run in connection with the conference, where the publications of the national board and other organizations will be given over to the exhibits of the different delegations, where posters, handbooks and catalogues of the various schools and associations will be on display.

Rev. Raymond C. Brooks of Oakland will be the main speaker of the conference. He will be given over to the exhibits of the different delegations, where posters, handbooks and catalogues of the various schools and associations will be on display.

Senator Abraham Believes in Organizing Legislature for Business Purposes.

Senator-Elect Albert Abraham of Douglas county is in the city from his home at Roseburg attending to political business and looking over the political situation. The senator, who was elected on a Statement No. 1 platform, defeating Commodore R. Jackson, a member of the house of representatives at the 1907 session and who was running for election to the senate on a Republican choice platform.

Senator Abraham considers that the Statement No. 1 question was settled by the recent election and that there will be no attempt made to defeat the will of the people and do not believe that the legislature should be organized with the view of transacting the business of the state. He believes that the question of a Statement No. 1 or an anti-Statement No. 1 organization does not enter into the problem of selecting a president of the senate or a speaker of the house.

Crook County Residents Tired of Harriman Delay, Plan to Extend Columbia Southern to Prineville and Bend.

Crook county business men have not given up the idea of getting railroad connection between Shaniko, Bend and Prineville. The people of Prineville and other points inland have started a movement to build a steam railroad between these points. They propose to raise enough money to build first to Bowers, and by bonding that section would be built. The route would be through Madras, Lamont, Prineville and Bend.

It is reported from Prineville that work will be started on the proposed road within the next few days. The capital is said to be behind the project, and the Portland chamber of commerce is looking into the problem of selecting a president of the senate or a speaker of the house.
