AT THE THEATRES

"The Henrietta" Next Week. There is hardly a theatregoer goes in the land who has not heard of "The Henrietta," which the Baker Stock company will present all next week for the first time in stock in this city.

Three More Performances. "The Swindler," Howard Russell's play, which has been the talk of the town all week, will be presented but three more times by the Baker Stock company and no one should miss the opportunity to see it.

"Ye Colonial Septette" at Marquam. Plenty of good things are on the bill for the Marquam next week. "Ye Colonial Septette" is the daintiest musical act in present-day vaudeville.

The Marquam Attractions. Have you seen the "Ten Colored Knights" at the Marquam this week? Don't miss it for it is the funniest thing this season. See the darbies parade and the woodoo man. Also Torcat and his roosters.

Okito Family. The Okito family of Chinese illusionists and magicians will be the headline attraction at the Grand next week. This is the first appearance of this wonderful act in the city. There will be half a dozen other big features.

"Charley's Uncle." The coming week will be the last of the engagement of the Armstrong Musical Comedy company at the Star theatre. For the farewell week the company will appear in the musical farce, "Charley's Uncle," which the Armstrong declare is the best attraction in their repertoire.

Cheerful Vaudeville. The collection of acts at the Grand this week represents some of the best tumblers and acrobats in the business. The Webb Romalo troupe of three men and a woman give a balancing and gymnastic act, which contains more new feats than any other troupe has brought to Portland.

Star's Musical Comedy. Musical comedy presented by the Armstrong company is the attraction this week at the Star theatre. "General Mixup" will be repeated tonight and tomorrow and those who have not seen this military melange have missed many a good laugh.

Warning. Residents of North Albina attack to the pioneers. Don't be fooled by the monopolists that are gobbling up the whole district from the Willamette to the eastern limits, between Fremont street and Powell Valley road.

Pneumonia is now the most deadly of all diseases. Every year it kills off about 140,000 persons in the United States. Allowing a mortality rate of one fifth of the total number of cases, this means that there are about 700,000 cases annually in this country.

Tomorrow, positively will be the last day for discount on east side gas bills. Portland Gas company.

TONGUES OF FIRE TORRIDE ON ADOSE

Tempestuous "Saints" Emit Wild, Uncanny Groans at Mount Tabor.

A creed without a leader, with no organization, spurred by the rest of Christianity and ridiculed as a religion of fanatics by the press all over the country, yet firm in its adherence to the peculiar doctrines it teaches and ever relying on the zealots to its standard, the Apostolic Faith, more familiarly known to the public as the "Tongues of Fire," stands unique among the religious sects of the world.

A religious pariah on the face of the earth, the strange sect yet perseveres in its ritual methods and from Boston to London and from New York to Manila it is spreading. The Apostolic Faith thrives under persecution.

Summer Meeting in Session. The "Saints" as they call themselves are holding a summer campmeeting on Mount Tabor and on account of the waiting noise they make when they "get the spirit" people who live in the neighborhood have been making complaints to the police department and trying to have the "Saints" silenced.

Reveries are held every afternoon and evening and about 200 followers of the creed make the day and night sound like a Fourth of July celebration. They have so far held out successfully for what they term their right to praise God and in spirit utter prayers by the police department the extraordinary sounds still emanate from the city of the Mount Tabor hills.

A reporter sent to interview the leaders of the Apostolic Faith had an interesting time. On inquiry for the head of the campmeeting he was told that the Apostolic Faith has no leaders. When the pencil manipulator tried to get some information as to its history he was gravely informed that the peculiar sect had no origin. It just grew up—like Topsy.

One of the devotees who seemed to be more assiduous than the others then engaged the reporter in conversation which led to a number of interesting questions. The sect told how the faith had sprung up mushroom-like in a single night in America, England, Spain, Siberia, India and a dozen other countries.

Groanings Easily Understood. In the words of the "saint": "God just saw that the world needed a new religion and he sent his spirit to a hundred different lands at the same time. It is not wonderful, for instance, that at the same time we first began to spread the new faith in Portland."

A New Departure. The cost of interments has been greatly reduced, by the Holman Undertaking Co. Heretofore it has been the custom of funeral directors to make charges for all incidental services that are required. The Edward Holman Undertaking company, the leading funeral directors of Portland, have departed from that custom. When casket is furnished by us we make no extra charges for embalming, hearse to cemetery, outside burial or any services that may be required of us, except clothing, cemetery and coffins, thus effecting a saving of $25 to $75 on each funeral.

the far-famed mother, Pandita Ramabai, was converting thousands of poor Hindus to the matchless influence of the fiery tongue.

"You ask why we wait, as you call it? Does not the Bible say that they came under the power of God and their souls cried out in unutterable groanings of the spirit? When the divine spirit takes possession of us we are moved to cry out and this influence is expressed in the language which you call strange but which to us is intelligible as the word of God."

The apostle then went on to say that the newspapers were all run by devils and that some day the power of the Almighty would strike the unrighteous and then the press would be blotted off the globe.

San on Secret Societies. Among the doctrines advocated by this sect is that secret societies and organizations of all kinds are works of the devil and should be avoided by the faithful. Sister Crawford, one of the faithful expounders of the faith, claims among other extraordinary powers that of making drunkards give up drink, dope and abjure the drug habit and even averse in one instance that she made a lodge man give up his fraternity pin.

The apostle held that all races are equal. Chinaman and Jap, Malay, negro and white man are all the same. Smug black John Glasco sits plonely beside "Sister Crawford" on the glory bench in the main tent of the believers. A negro who had a young daughter said he would just as soon she should marry a negro as a white man. One thing, however, they do resent and this is being called "rolling rollers." They say there is no connection between the apostles and the rollers. True, they roll of the ground but that's only a manifestation of the "flaming tongues" which fill them when under the "influence."

The campmeeting will last all summer. The attendance this year is larger than ever before. Followers from all over the United States are numbered among those who are "speaking in tongues" on Mount Tabor.

The apostles have no government of any kind. The only officer is the secretary and treasurer, who is chosen annually by the "Saints" and receives no salary. The money used to defray the expenses of leasing a camp ground and buying bedding and tents is contributed voluntarily by the apostles. They trust their secretary absolutely. If he wants to there is nothing to prevent him from dipping into the funds for his own private use. The saints have no means of knowing how much he gets from the voluntary subscription. They rely on his supposed honesty.
