WIDESPREAD INTEREST IN JOURNAL'S CONTEST

Inquiries Pour Into This Office Relative to Scholarship Awards to Be Made When Competition Closes—Cash Prizes in Addition to Other Offers.

Great interest has been aroused by the announcement of The Journal's scholarship contest which opens next Monday, June 22. The many inquiries coming in from all sections is a criterion of the most animated competition of its nature ever conducted on the Pacific coast. The interest taken in the former contests for higher education is a great credit to the youthful aspirants. The young men and women who have confidence enough in themselves to earn their own scholarships in the education of their choice, are worthy candidates for any position where the requirements are integrity, honesty and application. The winners of scholarships in The Journal's former contests, it is safe to say, will always be proud of the fact that they were independent of parents in securing higher education. They will always have it to their credit, and they will always have confidence in themselves to be resourceful if ever threatened with reverses.

When it is considered that any boy or girl or young man or young woman over 10 and under 30 years of age has a good chance to secure a free scholarship and a cash award of $150 in addition to cash commissions for about three months' pleasant work during the vacation season, one would imagine that hundreds of candidates would seize the opportunity and work with untiring energy to capture such rich prizes. It is far more creditable and decidedly more honorable for young people to show their own capability and to give a demonstration of their independence by earning their own way through college. Their parents will have higher opinions of them and employers will pick them out for positions of trust in preference to those who show no desire to exert themselves without being forced to it.

All those who desire to win The Journal's scholarships and cash awards should lose no time now. A perusal of the conditions will reveal a simple way to win your way to college and honor. It is easy to secure subscriptions from the public who will cheerfully assist you to attain your desires and to boost you along to success in your honorable work.

New subscriptions will give you more votes than renewal orders, so that you should strive to secure all the new orders possible. It will be well to have a sample copy of The Journal with you to show people what a good newspaper it is. By subscribing they get good value for their money, and also help you to win a scholarship. Those who devote their time during vacation working for their future welfare will find more pleasure in it than if the summer were spent in idle pleasure, which would leave nothing but memories. Call on the contest manager at The Journal office, or write to him for any further information or for advice. He is always at your service. Don't be afraid to ask questions.

MICKI STRUCK OUT AFTER YEAR'S EFFORT, BUT HE'S UP TO BAT AGAIN

Portland school children were divided into two classes last night—those who had successfully passed their examinations and those who had failed.

It was the successful ones who were happy and the ones who had not passed who were downhearted and felt as if they had made a failure of life and that living is not all worth while.

Among those who had failed in the examinations were many Chinese, Japanese, Korean and other children of foreign parentage. The orientals, in several instances, were below the percentage in the examinations not owing to their stupidity, but simply because of the difficulties they have had in mastering the English language and the ways of doing things in general in this country.

Among those who were unhappy last night was Micki, a Japanese boy, about 20 years old. Two years he had been in the seventh grade and it was his one hope, his one ambition in life successfully to pass the spring examinations.

Micki's great drawback in school, which has kept him in the same class two years has been grammar and geography. It is the industriousness, the persevering spirit and the stick-to-itiveness in anything they undertake that has made the Japanese so successful, not only in this country, but in all the world. And Micki is no exception to the rule.

Micki cooks for an American family and has been attending school during the winter. Last night he was particularly despondent and his white friends tried to cheer him up in spite of his failure at school.

"Oh, it's all right," said one of the Americans to the Japanese, "you can go home now and see your relatives. They won't know that you didn't pass the examination here. They will think you are a great man anyway. Don't worry, you have succeeded in this country. What do you think you will do now?"

"I no go home. I no give up," replied the oriental, "I all ready to start all over again. I pass next year, sure. Until then I no see Japan again, the old folks at home no see me."

CLUB RESPONSIBLE FOR CHARTER MOVE

Northeast Side Association First to Begin Agitation for New Document.

The publicity given the matter of charter revision recently was started by the Northeast Side Improvement association, which through President Munly was instrumental in having a committee appointed from the east side to confer with the mayor and city council with regard to the much needed work.

The association at its regular meeting last night called attention to the fact that the movement had its inception with the association, and the members congratulated themselves on the outcome of their efforts. It is the opinion of the committee that the city fathers will immediately take some action in the matter of charter revision as soon as the committee waits upon the council.

The announcement by Dr. C. H. Raffety of the water board that the city is facing a serious shortage in the supply of the great thirst quencher and that the only remedy for this condition is the immediate construction of water mains which will cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000, caused consternation, as Dr. Raffety said there is only $300,000 available for the purpose.

In connection with this talk the association had its attention called to the urgent need of the immediate construction of a second Bull Run pipe line and the building of additional reservoirs. Before this can be done the supreme court must decide as to the validity of the bond issue of $300,000. This case is pending now.

H. H. Riddell of the city judiciary committee, who was in Salem last week, told the members of the association that Chief Justice Moore of the supreme court had assured him that it was quite likely that the case would be advanced on the calendar because of its pressing importance to Portland.

The association voted to send an attorney to Salem to assist in presenting a brief on the water bond question to the court when the case comes up.

This was the last regular meeting of the Northeast Side Improvement association until next September.

GRAND RONDE VALLEY IS TO BE IRRIGATED

Capital Ready to Utilize Flood Waters If Ranchers Will Agree to Use the Supply.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

La Grande, Or., June 20.—That the greater part of the Grand Ronde valley will be irrigated is the general belief in this city, based upon a bonafide offer made to the Commercial club by capitalists to finance a gigantic irrigation scheme, using the flood waters of the Grand Ronde, if the club will interest the farmers in the enterprise to the extent of securing their promises to use the water. A similar project was under way about a year ago, financed mainly by local capital, but owing to the death of one of the principal promoters and stockholders it was abandoned. Surveys and estimates were made, and practically all that the new company will need to do is to secure the capital necessary and dispose of water. The commercial club is enthusiastic and will soon make a canvass of the landowners.

WASHINGTON HAD EYE ON OREGON ELECTION

Chamberlain's Recent Campaign Centered Attention of Evergreen State.

Roscoe N. Drumheller, one of the leading Democrats of Walla Walla and a wheat king of the valley, is in Portland on business. He says the Democrats of eastern Washington were all interested in the recent political campaign of Governor Chamberlain for the United States senatorial toga and are pleased with his success. Mr. Drumheller was the leader of the Walla Walla delegation at the state Democratic convention held in Spokane last month. He tells an interesting story of how the east side men toppled Seattle from the political pedestal which the sound city has so long enjoyed. Incidentally he throws a sidelight on a campaign that has not become public before.

Spokane was credited by the papers of that city with being the organizer of the big combine which humbled the Seattle politicians so effectually. Mr. Drumheller says that the real leaders of the movement were the Walla Walla and Whitman county delegations, which had reached an agreement and pledged mutual support before any of the Spokane men knew about it.

The main fight centered on the election of a national Democratic committeeman for the state of Washington. W. H. Dunphy of Walla Walla was out for the position against Charles Heffren, the veteran spellbinder of Seattle, and the Walla Walla man won out. This means that in the event of a Democratic success in the coming presidential campaign the Walla Walla man will have the distribution of federal patronage for the state at his disposal.

Mr. Drumheller is of the opinion that the Republican party in Washington is fast losing prestige and the infusing of new blood into the ancient rival of the dominant faction in politics has completely changed the color of the political situation in the state. It is the opinion of all well informed observers that the Democrats will succeed in electing representatives to the national capital this year. The Republicans themselves are conceding the election of William Goodyear of Colfax, who will be the candidate of the east side this fall.

BALFOUR-GUTHRIE TO BUILD NEW PLANT

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Bellingham, Wash., June 20.—The Balfour-Guthrie company, the cement importers of Liverpool, England, have decided to build a cement plant in Whatcom county that will cost $1,000,000.

Alexander E. Guthrie, senior member of the firm, arrived in this city last night, accompanied by Alexander Baillie of Tacoma, R. McWilliams of San Francisco and T. W. B. London of Portland, to make an examination of their cement properties which comprise 1,000 acres at Kendall.

Guthrie and Baillie, who is a member of the firm, admitted last night that the plant is assured. Richard McWilliams, scientific cement engineer of Toronto, Canada, will arrive here and begin the preliminary work next week. To McWilliams belongs the task of deciding whether Bellingham or Kendall shall become the site for the plant.

The proposed plant will be a duplicate of the cement works at San Jose, California. The operation of the plant will mean that 600 men will be given permanent employment.

COTTON SCANDAL UP FOR HEARING

Preliminary Hearing in Federal Court of Defendant T. H. Price.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

New York, June 20.—The alleged conspiracy cases growing out of the cotton leak scandals of 1905 came up for a preliminary hearing in the federal court yesterday afternoon. The principal defendant is Theodore H. Price, at one time known as the cotton king, because of his tremendous trades in the staple and the skill with which he executed his operations in the cotton market. The other defendants are Moses Haas and Frederick A. Peckham of this city, and Edwin S. Holmes Jr., former assistant statistician of the department of agriculture at Washington.

The trial of these cases is awaited with much interest. It was more than three years ago that reports were first circulated regarding the alleged cotton leak. It was charged by Richard Cheatham, secretary of the Southern Cotton association, that information obtained from the department of agriculture furnished by some officer or officers within it, was used to influence the cotton market. Secretary Wilson immediately began an investigation. As a result Statistician Edwin H. Holmes was suspended from duty and charges, alleging conspiracy were brought against Moses Haas and Frederick A. Peckham. Haas and Peckham were acquitted at once and Holmes later was put on trial. After a trial lasting 19 days the jury disagreed and was discharged.

No further action in the case transpired until about two weeks ago, when the federal grand jury after a long investigation returned indictments against the four men named. The grand jury found two indictments against Price, one charging conspiracy to commit an offense against the United States and the other bribery of a government official.

JAPAN ABANDONS SUNKEN WAR VESSEL

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Tokio, June 20.—Word was received here today at the naval university that the attempt to raise the Matsushima, which was sunk off the coast of Formosa last April, has been a failure and Minister of the Navy Saito has announced that he will make no further effort to raise the sunken cruiser.

The Matsushima was one of the three Japanese training cruisers and over 200 officers and men lost their lives when she was sunk. An explosion was the cause of the disaster and the naval ministry has made several efforts to float the cruiser to ascertain the cause of the explosion.

Deep water and rough weather have made it impossible for the vessel to be refloated.

LAND OWNER THINKS LIFE IS IN DANGER

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Reno, Nev., June 20.—A. A. Hibbard, the wealthy land owner of this city, has started an investigation today into what he believes was at attempt on his life.

A box was delivered to his home by express and from its external appearance he judged that some friend had sent him a box of fruit. He immediately started to open the box, which bore the shipping mark of an office of the company on the Yuba river in California. He had no sooner loosened one of the boards than scores of rattlesnakes sprang from the box and attacked him, the pounding on the cover evidently having infuriated them.

Fortunately Hibbard was not bitten, but the reptiles struck him many times on the arms, a heavy coat protecting him.

The graduates from the grammar grades who were awarded diplomas are Harry Rice, Walton Dutcher, Maggie Brant, Fay Williams, Jessie Thayer, Osie Howe and Leslie Larsen.

The enrollment of the year was 335. The following teachers have been elected for the ensuing term: O. H. Byland, principal; Miss Lucy Howell, Miss Lillian Duxberry, Mrs. O. H. Byland and Mrs. W. S. Cready.

STRANGE ACCIDENT WILL END IN DEATH

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Vallejo, Cal., June 20.—Mrs. F. M. Hodgeman of this city is lying near death today from severe razor slashes which she inflicted on herself in a singular accident. She was standing in her home with one foot resting on a chair, in the act of paring a corn with a razor, when suddenly she lost her equilibrium.

In her efforts to recover her balance, she slashed her left arm open to the bone, from the palm of her hand to the elbow. In snatching the razor from the wound, she nearly severed one of the fingers of her right hand.

The woman's cries brought immediate assistance, but before the flow of blood could be stopped she was in a serious condition and today there is little hope for her.

DRYGOODS PALACE IS TO BE DEMOLISHED

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, June 20.—The famous old Stewart building, the scene of the triumphs of A. T. Stewart, New York's pioneer merchant, and in his day known as the "Drygoods Palace," will be demolished to give place to a modern skyscraper.

For years the marble-fronted structure, covering an entire block, on Broadway opposite City Hall park, was one of the showplaces of the city and today the property is one of the most valuable pieces on Manhattan Island. A Philadelphia syndicate has purchased the building from the estate of Judge Hilton, who was executor for A. T. Stewart. The price paid was $4,500,000.

THAW IS TRYING TO ESCAPE MATTEAWAN

(Hearst News by Longest Leased Wire.)

New York, June 20.—Counsel for Harry K. Thaw applied to Justice Dowling in the supreme court today to modify the judge's order by which Thaw was committed to Matteawan at the conclusion of his trial for the murder of Stanford White. Justice Dowling reserved decision. In his argument in his support of a proposition to transfer Thaw to another asylum than Matteawan, Colonel Bartlett made known that it is the intention of the Thaw family to ask for a jury trial to determine the question of Thaw's sanity.

Colonel Bartlett argued against sending Thaw back to Matteawan on the ground that he is not a criminal.

A New Meaning.

"Don't you ever get homesick, captain?" asked the passenger on the ocean liner.

"No! I'm never home long enough," replied the captain.

Students to Visit Brazil.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Boston, Mass., June 20.—The departure today of a party of students of the Boston high school of commerce for Brazil, where they are to study commercial relations and similar subjects, furnishes another proof of the growing relationship between the United States and the South American republics. The Brazilian government has offered to extend to the students every courtesy, even to reduced hotel rates and free passage on the steamships and railways in the interior.

Americans are the greatest coffee drinkers in the world. The per capita consumption in this country amounts to about 10 pounds a year.

Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good;" and Doctor Pierce's medicines well exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities are soon manifest; hence it has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly flashed into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, perhaps dizziness, foul breath, nasty coated tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It's an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for woman's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. Less advertised than some preparations sold for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nervine it is unequaled. It won't satisfy those who want "booze," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—one to three a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.
