WEEK'S GAME GOES TO SERAPH CROWD

Bundle of Errors Helps Angels to Take Opener From Beavers.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 Los Angeles, June 24.—The champions went up another notch in the percentage column yesterday, when they beat the Beavers after a game full of weirdness, 7 to 4. A triple, a single and another triple, an error and a score on single leave the locals four runs in the fifth inning. The Angels made it two more in the sixth inning. Delmas tripled and errors by Madson, who overthrew second allowed Delmas and Hogan to score.
 The Angels put the last run over in the eighth. Three singles and a sacrifice did the work.
 Portland made her four runs in the third inning. Madson, Kinsella, Cooney and Ryan scored on a single, a pass, another single, a hit by pitcher, and two fielders' errors.
 One of the features of the game was the cutting off of Delmas' home run. The sphere went under the fence but McCredie reached through and grabbed it, compelling Delmas to stop at third. Kinsella was hit hard after the fourth inning, Nagle and Cooney being the others to get credit for three baggers. However, Big Ed pitched great ball until the fifth when the four hits tied the score for the Angels. Danzig got 18 putouts and one error.

VANCOUVER AUTOIST MAKES RECORD RUN.

What is undoubtedly the fastest automobile run ever made from Eugene, Or., to Vancouver, Wash., was established last week by William Marsha, and a party of Vancouver business men. The former's 1908 model Buick light touring car. In company with Floyd Swan, R. C. Sugg and George Sherman, Mr. Marsha, who is one of Vancouver's well known citizens, made a trip to southern Oregon. On their return they decided to hit only the high spots between Eugene, near the head of the valley, and Vancouver. The distance of 185 miles was made in seven and one half hours, which includes the time occupied in ferrying across the Columbia. The record is all the more remarkable considering that Mr. Marsha only recently purchased the machine from C. J. Mack, the local dealer, and has had but little experience in driving.

HOW OREGON'S 1,020 AUTOMOBILES ARE DISTRIBUTED AMONG TOWNS

(Salem Bureau of the Journal.)
 Salem, Or., June 24.—Next to Portland Medford has by far the largest number of licensed automobiles of any city in Oregon. The facts are interesting and it is curious comparison when the figures are presented showing the automobiles in the different towns and cities. There are about 1,020 automobiles in Oregon, according to the license books in the secretary of state's office.
 After Medford comes Salem with 23 automobiles though it is the next largest city in Oregon. After Salem is Pendleton with 27, and Grants Pass with 25. Baker City, with 23, La Grande with 22. Astoria with 19, Albany with 18, Union with 18, and Roseburg, Eugene and McMinnville each with 12 automobiles. Other towns that have one licensed automobile are as follows: Woodburn, Arlington, Prairie City, Alsea, Heppner, Merino, Oswego, Coburg, Linnton, Lebanon, Tillamook, Glendale, Tolo, Cove, Beaverton, Creighton, Jefferson, Stayton, Wilsonville, Halfway, Florence, Myrtle Creek, Condon, Highland, Creek, North Powder, Philomath, Talent, Siver, Falls City, Silverton, Canby, Harrisburg, Sherwood, Haines, Creswell, Imbler and Dundee.

HARVARD CREWS READY FOR YALE

(United Press Leased Wire.)
 New London, Conn., June 24.—New London is putting on her holiday attire which she dons but once a year for tomorrow is the day of all days. It is the day on which Harvard and Yale meet in the annual battle of oars, and the city is proud to entertain the rowing sons of the two greatest universities in the country. The town is brilliant with flags and bunting of crimson and blue and the place has taken on an air of life and activity customary to the occasion. The regular city routine has been established, the same excitement occurs each year prior to and about race time, the same deep lethargy reigns after, but for the few days of hustle and bustle, cheers and song New London is without a rival.
 The two crews who are to battle tomorrow for supremacy on the water took their final practice spins today. For several weeks they have been quartered on the banks of the beautiful Thames river, which like its namesake in England, has been in the past the scene of many a hard fought battle, and will tomorrow be the scene of one that will doubtless be as interesting as any that has ever taken place there, though the contest may not be so close as in some previous years.
 For months the preparations for the race have been going on, but the tedious work of training, now over, and to-day eight husky sons of old England and eight broad-shouldered youths from Cambridge are resting, talking things as easy as the thoughts of impending battle will allow, and tomorrow the great race of power, endurance and sand takes place.
 Yale is the choice in the betting today. Few wagers have been placed on the crowd pours in from Boston, New York and other points, it is expected that much money will be bet on the stake. Yale supporters are confident as to the result of the varsity race, and Harvard men appear to be only hopeful. While both sides are so close up to the standard of previous years, and a fast race is not looked for, Yale is generally the favorite, the betting because of her superior form and the better quality of her work during the past week in practice. Harvard at all other seasons has been the favorite because of her superior form and the better quality of her work during the past week in practice. Harvard at all other seasons has been the favorite because of her superior form and the better quality of her work during the past week in practice.

REGON CITY AND ALBINA DROPPED

Franchises Remain in Hands of Present Owners—For Good of League.
 Realizing that it would be better for the interest of the Tri-City league and having the welfare of the organization at heart, Managers Ehrlich of the Albina Tourists and Partlow of the Oregon City Papermakers requested the league directors to allow them to withdraw their teams from the combination for the balance of the season of 1908.
 At a special meeting held last evening in the office of Secretary Smith the directors voted permission to allow the withdrawal of these two teams, without prejudice and with all good intent and feeling.
 The franchises will not revert back to the league, but will remain in the names of the present owners. As a result of this action there was a necessary changing of the schedule to fit the new order of things. Oregon City and Albina dropping out leaves a number of open dates on the various grounds of the circuit. These have been filled by distributing the dates among the remaining clubs. Woodburn will play the West Siders at the Vaughn street grounds Sunday, June 28. This game was originally scheduled between Albina and West Side.
 This brings the two leaders in the pennant race together much earlier than possible under the old schedule. As each team is stronger than in the beginning of the season, a battle royal may be looked for.
 East Portland will go to Salem instead of to Woodburn, as scheduled. Here another hard game may be looked for, as upon each occasion that East Portland has played at Salem the game have been fast and very close, East Portland having the better of the argument. St. Johns and Vancouver will follow the schedule, except that they may decide to play in Vancouver instead of in St. Johns, as St. Johns fans are not according to the team the support it deserves.
 The league is now composed of six teams—Woodburn, Salem, West Portland, East Portland, St. Johns and Vancouver—really a better combination to handle than an eight-team organization, and these will finish the season.
 The disbanded of the Oregon City and Albina teams allows the other teams to pick up a few good men as strengtheners. The teams have all been putting up better ball, as a rule, than last season and the fight is a bitter one.

SAM BELLAH SHIPS HIS SPECIAL POLES ABROAD

San Francisco, June 24.—California is watching with interest the progress of its athletic team which is now en route for New York to take the steamer to London to participate in the Olympic games.
 Ralph Rose, the Olympic club's world champion shot putter, will meet Sam Bellah, the Stanford pole vaulter, in New York, where they will take the steamer on Saturday with the rest of the American team.
 Bellah has had some special poles shipped to London, so that he will not be handicapped as he was at Chicago, by having to use a strange pole.

KLAMATH BANKS ON COLLEGE BOYS TO WIN

(Special Dispatch to the Journal.)
 Klamath Falls, Or., June 24.—The Klamath Falls baseball team will go to Lakeview to take part in the baseball tournament to be held there July 2 and 4.
 There is a purse of $800 up for the winners and the Klamath Falls team is confident of winning it, on account of the young college boys home from Corvallis, who are on the team, and who played fast baseball there this year.

AMERICAN CAR CLOSE UP IN SIBERIAN RACE

Irkutsk, Siberia, June 24.—The German and American cars in the New York to Paris automobile race have struck good roads at this point and are now engaged in an exciting contest for the lead, with the Thomas car but nine hours behind in the actual running. The Italian car, the Rust, the only other car remaining in the race, is 11 days behind the German car.

RELIGIOUS WORK OVER ATHLETICS

Y. M. C. A. Shows Tendency to Use Side Issues Only to Win Men.

With the return to Portland yesterday of a large number of the delegates attending the Y. M. C. A. conference at Brakers, Wash., there ended one of the most notable events among the conferences of recent years, and one that has left a marked influence on many of the delegates.
 One of the principal features of the conference was the daily life work meeting in which different phases of Christian life were presented by various speakers. A. J. Folsom, Oregon state traveling secretary for the Congregational church, presented the ministry as a field of work and was awarded with the names of five among the college men who promised to make the ministry the object of their studies. W. Arnold of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A., spoke on the Y. M. C. A. secretaryship and there were six volunteers for this work, while there were six enthusiastic delegates who promised that their life work would be in the foreign missionary field.
 While the conference was one mainly of hard work, it was not without its lighter side. One night was devoted to "stunts" put up by each college, of which undoubtedly the most amusing was the mock marriage conducted by John Dean of Seattle over Secretary Hood of the Seattle Y. M. C. A. The farce was meant to be a prophetic nature.
 Secretary Stone has been kept out of much of the work, owing to severe indisposition but it is believed that he will be about again before the close of the conference for the physical men meeting this week.
 "Up to Thursday the conference was very disappointing in actual results," said Religious Director Clark of the Y. M. C. A. on his return to Portland. "The men had not begun to realize that they were down for serious work and did not consider that the slipping of a meeting for lighter forms of diversion was a very serious matter. But in the closing meeting there were more strenuous efforts put forth and I think enormous good has been done. We are mainly agreed that while the physical and editorial sides of the work are excellent side issues there has been a tendency to over-emphasize them, whereas the religious work should be our main work, and in the future we mean to use these side issues only as means that will enable us to win men."
 While it is understood that many of the physical men do not hold entirely with these views it was impossible to reach Physical Director Griley for an expression of opinion.

EAST SIDERS TO MEET WEST SIDERS SATURDAY

Saturday of this week the East and West Side teams of the Tri-City league will meet again for another try for supremacy. On the previous clash at the opening of the season the West Side won, after a hard and exciting battle, which ran into 11 innings. Since then the teams have landed upon separate rounds of the ladder, the West Side team holding its own in second place and the East Side team having gone up and down the ladder several times, now occupying the position of cellar champion.
 Notwithstanding this order of things, the game will be a good one, and if West Side wins it will be only through the hardest efforts of its existence. Both teams are practicing faithfully for this event. The East Siders were out at the Vaughn street grounds last evening and were put through the hardest workout they have had at Twelfth and Davis streets and went through all the stunts they could think of.
 The West Siders can't afford to lose this game, and the East Siders are determined to get out of the cellar again. So, putting the two together, there is bound to be some fireworks at Vaughn street Saturday.
 This Date in Sport Annals.
