MALARKEY HAS KNIFE FOR KRIBS

Millionaire Timber Owner Will Suffer When Defendant's Attorney Begins Cross-Examination in the Trial of the Booth Case.

Former Receiver Bridges Tells of Transactions at Roseburg Office—Sensation Is Promised When Kribs Is Called.

Dynamite, to use an expression of the street, is supposed to lurk in the hidden corners of the Booth bribery case now on trial in the United States court. However that may be no heedless hand has as yet run afoul of the hidden charge and consequently it has required an effort on the part of the jurors to keep awake so far. Delving into the records and recounting the customs of the land department of the United States is not sensational work. J. T. Bridges, former receiver of the Roseburg land office, was on the witness-stand for the greater part of the day. He finished his direct-examination before 11 o'clock and since that time has been answering the questions of Mr. Malarkey, put to him on cross-examination.

One thing, and that alone which bore directly toward the guilt of the defendant, was testified to by the witness just before the conclusion of his direct examination. He said that F. A. Kribs had come into the land office one day late in 1903 or early in 1904 and after calling both Bridges and Booth over to the desk had offered them $25 a selection for every case held up for cancellation by the government and purchased by Kribs which would be tipped off to Kribs.

In telling the story Bridges said that Kribs had done a good deal of business with the land office; that he had taken a timber claim in his own name and had purchased a large amount of state scrip. Some of this scrip had been issued on base which was not approved by the general land office and the selections were sent back as held for cancellation. The state failed to notify Kribs of the action taken by the government and he had lost his land.

Accordingly Kribs came into the Roseburg office, Bridges said, and related his troubles. He had told them of having lost the land and had offered them $25 for each selection held up if the officials would tell him of selections held for cancellation as soon as the notifications had been received from the general land office. Bridges said that they had agreed to furnish the information. He testified that Booth was present when the arrangement was made and that he had made no objection to the arrangement.

Foreshadows Strong Evidence.

Shortly after this Bridges was released by the government and his cross-examination began. Bridges said in answer to Mr. Malarkey's questions that he had written a letter to the commissioner of the land office at Washington, telling him the records were being used by interested parties to secure advance information and asking for permission not to give the books to the public. This order had been made by the commissioner.

In his cross-examination Mr. Malarkey went into the detail of the land office business, asking many questions as to the manner of keeping the books and records of the office at Roseburg in order to make it plain to the jury how the business was transacted in anticipation of the evidence to be introduced by the defense later in the trial.

Frederick A. Kribs will be one of the next witnesses for the government. He is in fact, the government's principal witness and it is expected that the government's case in chief will be made from his testimony. It is expected that much of the sensationalism of the trial, if any develops, will cluster around the testimony of Kribs. Judging from the slurs cast in the direction of the government's chief witness by Mr. Malarkey in his opening statement yesterday, Mr. Kribs will fare badly when he falls into the hands of the defense for cross-examination. It is expected that Mr. Kribs will be put on the stand either late this afternoon or early tomorrow morning.

IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL

of the infantry companies, comprising 300 men, and Captain Edwin Field, who is in command of the mounted troops, held a conference and arranged the plans for guarding the cortege. The infantry will be stationed at intervals all along the route of the cortege and the mounted men will form a patrol in such a way that instant assistance can be given if the foot soldiers at any point have any trouble in keeping the crowd back.

A squad of secret service men arrived here last night and have been busily at work laying their plans to prevent any possible attack on President Roosevelt and other high government officials.

Large wreaths were received today from President Roosevelt and Baron Rio Branco, the Brazilian minister to the United States. Flowers came in such profusion that it was difficult to find room for them in the house. The largest floral trophy of all was sent by the New York organizations of the Sons of St. Patrick. The offering from Baron Rio Branco was accompanied by a wreath from the Brazilian government. Cleveland was held in highest regard in Brazil on account of his settlement of the Venezuelan border line dispute, and that government has given orders for military salutes at the time of the funeral similar to those ordered by the United States government.

Exchanges Close.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, June 26.—With the exception of the cotton exchange, which is unable to close on account of its being July notice day, all the exchanges in the United States will close after 1 o'clock today out of respect to the memory of former President Grover Cleveland. Reports received today state that exchanges everywhere are to observe this rule.

Fakers Meet Repulse.

Princeton, N. J., June 26.—A small army of souvenir venders and various kinds of fakers arrived here this morning from New York to meet the crowds attending the Cleveland funeral, but they received a disappointing reception. The police had received instructions in advance that no fakers of any kind were to be permitted to work in this city today. As each faker stepped from the train, he was met by a blue coat, who served notice that he would be given just 20 minutes to leave town. When they got a glimpse of the soldiers and the numerous special officers, most of them obeyed promptly and went sadly back to the metropolis.

BANKERS ARE THE GUESTS OF SALEM

Oregon's Rothschilds Holding Their Annual Gathering in State Capital.

Salem, June 26.—The State Bankers' association adjourned shortly after the preliminary meeting today as a tribute of respect and honor to the memory of the late President Cleveland, and will draft a suitable memorial.

Salem, Or., June 26.—After a really strenuous year Oregon's bankers have assembled in Salem today for a two days' session to talk it over. Some have come from wrecked banks, again put on their feet by the state's illimitable resources. Such, in fact, is the status of the president of the Oregon status of the vice-president of the Oregon State Bankers' association, Montie F. Gwinn of Pendleton, who went down in the flurry, but came out of it nobly.

Bankers Optimistic.

With prospects ahead for a bumper crop and a heavy fruit output, the bankers of the state look forward to a year such as has not occurred for perhaps a decade. Last year was a notable one for big wheat crops, but the off-apple year and the "off-banking year" rather damaged the profits and the glory, even, of being a money lord. The panic had its effects in more ways than one.

Interesting Session Promised.

All these subjects and many more are heard discussed in the halls and on the streets by the visiting Rothschilds. It has been one of the most interesting banking years ever recorded, therefore there are many interesting things to come before the assembled bankers. Oregon, perhaps, has survived the bankers' panic better than any state in the Union, for both from the east and south still come reports of hard times and struggles to keep afloat.

Bankers Are Welcomed.

At 11 o'clock, when the convention opened in the Elks' hall, Mayor George Rodgers welcomed the bankers to Salem. The response was made by Mr. Haines, who touched upon matters of importance that the convention will likely be called upon to discuss. Among them will probably be bank insurance, such as Oklahoma has, and perhaps, more strict regulation by the state and laws to be proposed to the next legislature for the protection of depositors and bankers; savings bank methods and minor matters affecting more strictly the bankers and their business relations between themselves.

Automobile Spin.

No business was undertaken this morning further than to complete the organization and get acquainted. The business session was resumed after luncheon and at 3 o'clock the visiting bankers will be taken for an automobile ride through the country tributary to Salem.

A discussion of "credit currency" by Arthur Reynolds, president of the Des Moines National bank, was the feature of today's session of the Oregon State Bankers' association. Mr. Reynolds is one of the best banking authorities in the United States, being a member of the currency commission and chairman of the federal legislative committee of the American Bankers' association.

Only a short session of the association was held. Due to the absence of President E. W. Haines, it was announced by Vice-president Montie B. Gwinn that the annual address of the president would have to be dispensed with.

SULLIVAN TO FIGHT KID SCALER TONIGHT

Amateur Who Boxed in Portland Breaks Into Professional Game.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Spokane, June 26.—Kid Scaler is a 10 to 6 favorite over Gene Sullivan in the fight tonight. Sullivan weighs 134 pounds, while Scaler tips the beams at 131. In addition to the weight advantages Sullivan has it on Scaler in reach. Both men are in fine condition. Scaler is confident of winning in six rounds. Maurice Thompson is a favorite over Louis Orsie in their six-round bout. There are prospects of a big crowd being present at the reopening of the fight game in Spokane.

Gene Sullivan is well known in Portland, where he participated in a number of amateur four-round boxing matches last winter. Before he left Portland he let his friends understand that he would beat Scaler just as sure as he ever met him. Scaler is one of the best known lightweights on the coast and a victory for Sullivan will put him in the second class of fighters with a chance to get on with the top-notchers.

GRAFTER SCHMITZ IN PROPER COMPANY

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, June 26.—An investigation is being made today by the county jail officials of a remarkable banquet which took place a few evenings ago and at which several inmates of the jail made merry over tempting viands, as guests of former Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz.

Schmitz' guests were Attorney George D. Collins, bigamist, whose temporary address is the county jail; Attilio Carta, convicted of forgery and also registered at the jail; a deputy sheriff in charge of Collins and Carta, and several members of the Italian colony who are old cronies of Schmitz.

When the county jail authorities learned that several of their guests had gathered in a popular restaurant for a banquet and that a deputy sheriff joined in the feast, they were astonished and the matter is being investigated today.

MILLION AND A HALF ALASKA GOLD COMING

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Seattle, June 26.—The steamship Spokane is due in Seattle at 9 o'clock Monday morning with $1,510,000 in Alaska gold in her strong boxes. The Spokane was reported from Wrangle yesterday and left that port Wednesday night, southbound.

Of the treasure which the Spokane is bringing $1,500,000 is consigned to the mails. The other $10,000 is sent by express. The treasure is from Dawson and Yukon river points, and is the long expected shipment from that district, which has been delayed by the late opening of the river.

WEYERHAEUSERS ELECT OFFICERS

Coast Timber Syndicate Holds Annual Meeting—President Is Interviewed.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Tacoma, June 26.—The stockholders of the Weyerhaeuser Timber syndicate, which owns more of the timber lands of Oregon and Washington than any other corporation or man, held its annual meeting here yesterday, electing the following officers to serve the coming year: President, Frederick Weyerhaeuser of St. Paul; vice-president, W. H. Laird of Winona, Minn.; treasurer, F. E. Weyerhaeuser of St. Paul; secretary, Robert L. McCormick of Tacoma; assistant secretary, Fred S. Bell of Winona; resident agent, George S. Long of Tacoma.

Fire protection for the forests of the syndicate was taken up, and arrangements made for a forestry patrol along the lines of railroads traversing the forests of the syndicate.

The syndicate is not intending to do any heavy timber buying during the coming year. Nor is it on the market to sell any of its holdings. Frederick Weyerhaeuser, president of the syndicate, said:

"The northwest is better off than any other portion of the country in the present financial stringency. If you have a good crop this season, it will do much towards bringing back with a rush the prosperity of a year ago. The lumber rate decision will not start up mills on the coast at once. I was through Canada two weeks ago, and the mills are all shut down, with about the same conditions prevailing in lumber manufacturing that we have here, and bear in mind they have had no rate difficulty there. A general resumption of business, with railroad construction and a commencement of building operations, is the thing that will start the sawmills. Lumber manufacturing is the first thing to feel the hard times and the last thing to recover when prosperity returns. Watch your crops this summer and forget the sawmills. If your crops are good it will surprise you how money will become plentiful and times begin to pick up."

ASTORIA-TILLAMOOK R. R. IS INCORPORATED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Astoria, Or., June 26.—Articles of incorporation of the Oregon Coast Railway company were filed in the county clerk's office this morning. The incorporators are: W. E. Burrum, H. G. Van Dusen and E. Z. Ferguson. The capital stock, $10,000, is divided into 1,000 shares of $10 each. The object is to secure right of way and surveys for the proposed electric railway from Astoria to Tillamook. This company is controlled by local parties and so organized as to guard the interests of the people who give rights of way or subscribe to the fund for making surveys.

Rainier Pythians Have Election.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Rainier, Or., June 26.—At the Knights of Pythias meeting the following officers were elected.

C. C., A. L. Clark; V. C., T. J. Flippin; prelate, W. C. Fry; M. of A., Nick Blumensaadt; M. of W., Hans Banks; I. G., O. Peterson; O. G., E. B. Abrahamson; trustees, F. Prescott and D. E. Scott.

ARREST THREE ON PERJURY CHARGE

Douglas County Residents in Mesh of Federal Grand Jury Net.

Three additional arrests—two for perjury and one for making a false affidavit—in connection with the investigations of the federal grand jury into the alleged land fraud and false entries in Douglas county, were made at Roseburg this morning by Deputy United States Marshal Griffith of Portland.

Louis Kohlhagen was arrested on an indictment charging him with perjury. Kohlhagen perjured himself, it is claimed by the government, in April when he went before a United States land representative and swore falsely to a timber and stone entry. Albert L. Gilpin, also arrested this morning, is charged with the same offense. He is alleged to have perjured himself in his endeavors to secure rights to a stone and timber claim in the same county.

Leroy S. Shipley is the one charged with having sworn falsely to an affidavit relative to making a homestead entry. Ralph S. Bennett, also of Roseburg, made an application, it seems, under the homestead laws and Shipley, the government claims, swore falsely to the affidavit.

The three man in question are known as "squatters," by the government agents.

They were taken before a United States commissioner in Roseburg this morning, the amount of bonds placed at $1,000 each, and after arranging for the bail were released.

Shipley, Kohlhagen and Gilpin will be brought to Portland probably some time next week to enter pleas in the United States court.

PROPERTY SOLD TO PLANT HIS DOUBLE

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Reno, Nev., June 26.—Henry Harkless, a prospector, is today taking measures to prove himself legally alive and regain possession of property that had been sold to pay the funeral expenses of another man who had been buried for him.

The man dropped dead in Goldfield, and was supposedly identified as Harkless. Some of Harkless' property was sold to pay the funeral expenses of the dead man and the public administrator was rapidly settling up other property of the supposed dead man when Harkless put in an appearance and declared himself very much alive.

Poison Oak Poisoning.

Ballard's Snow Liniment cures it. Mr. O. H. P. Cornelius, Turner, Or., writes—My wife has discovered that Snow Liniment cures "Poison Oak Poisoning," a very painful trouble. She not only cured a case of it on herself, but on two of her friends who were poisoned by this same ivy. Price, 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by Skidmore Drug Co.

TEN JAP STOWAWAYS ON BOARD AKI MARU

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Seattle, June 26.—When the immigration officers searched the steamship Aki Maru, which arrived from the orient last night, 10 Japanese stowaways were found in the hold where the cargo was stowed. The men had been in hiding since the steamship left Japan, and for seven days, several declared, they had had nothing to eat, as their scanty supply of food had given out.

The men had been half smothered after the hatches were closed, and the final cargo stored in the forehold.

Last night they were taken to the county jail to await examination by a board of special inquiry, and ate the first good meal they had had since leaving home.

Letter Carriers Convene Saturday.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Astoria, Or., June 26.—The annual convention of the letter carriers of the state will convene in this city on Saturday and the business session will be followed by a banquet and ball tendered to the visiting delegates by the local organization.

Cured Chronic Dyspepsia

MR. ALEX. K. KESSLER.

Mr. Alex K. Kessler, of St. Louis, Mo., praises Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for completely curing him of dyspepsia and stomach troubles, which were of long standing. He strongly recommends Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for all stomach troubles.

"For five years I have suffered with stomach troubles, caused by overwork, and several times have had severe attacks of gastritis, which developed into a chronic case of dyspepsia. After beginning the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey I experienced immediate relief and eventually effected a permanent cure, and sincerely recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey to anyone suffering from dyspepsia or similar stomach afflictions."—ALEX K. KESSLER, St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 15, 1907.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

It is invaluable for overworked men, delicate women and sickly children. It strengthens and sustains the system; is a promoter of health and longevity; makes the old young and keeps the young strong.

CAUTION.—When you ask your druggist, grocer or dealer for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. It's the only absolutely pure medicinal malt whiskey and is sold only in sealed bottles; never in bulk. Price $1.00. Look for the trade-mark, the "Old Chemist," on the label, and make sure the seal over the cork is unbroken. Write Dr. R. Curran, Consulting Physician, for free illustrated medical booklet and free advice. Duffy Malt Whiskey Co., Rochester, N. Y.

AFTER WORK

No matter how arduous, confining or pleasant, a person welcomes that freedom from restraint which says "It's time to go home." With that liberty you notice for the first time how really fatigued you are. On your way home to supper you enjoy the pleasure of walking or riding, anticipating the supper spread on table awaiting your coming. If you would cultivate the habit, you would insist upon a bottle of being at your plate. Just before eating, drink it and you will find your appetite stimulated, your fatigue all gone, your flagged spirits revived and your whole organization ready for the experiences of an enjoyable evening. You have no idea what a difference this little routine will make in your life. It will promote health, save doctor's bills and tone you up to such a pitch as you never knew.
