

JOSEPH WE MULL BE DRY JULY 1

Saloonmen Prepare to Move
Across Line Into Jackson County.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Grants Pass, Or., June 25.—That the liquor-thirsty fraternity of Grants Pass may be cured for one or more of the saloons that have been doing business in this city will move across the line to Woodville, Jackson county, after July 1, the date on which prohibition goes in effect. There is no disposition on the part of the saloonmen to evade the order. All are packing their goods, having "special sales" and making preparations to leave.

Woodville is a small country town, eight miles from this city. It can be reached in a few minutes' time either by train or automobile, and if the residents of the town do not patronize the new grog shops it is believed that the transient trade will be sufficient to make the business pay.

LIFE SAVERS EXHIBIT FOR G. A. R. VETS

Women's Relief Corps Presents Free Will Offering of $107.30 to G. A. R.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Newport, Or., June 25.—Delegates to the encampment were treated to a surf drill Thursday morning by Captain Well-lander and members of the life-saving crew. The beach and bluffs were lined with hundreds of visiting members of the Grand Army, Relief corps, and the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The day was clear and sunny and the water smooth. The old soldiers marched to the beach behind a drum corps composed of veterans of the civil war. Most of the townspeople were out also. The life savers ran out the lifeboat and gave an exhibition of fancy rowing, going through "many evolutions. Then they overturned the boat, disappearing beneath it, rolling the boat over and over and always coming up on top. The boat was run in and a crew got out the gun and fired the line over a distant pole, attached to brooches buoys, and "rescued" a man in record time.

The exhibition was greatly appreciated by the visitors, many of whom had never seen the ocean before. The regular business of the session of the various organizations began at 10:30 this morning. This afternoon the Grand Army will elect officers and select the place for the 1909 encampment. The visitors are all having a fine time.

Mrs. Gilman of Heppner Relief Corps delegate, who was severely ill last night with acute indigestion, is better this morning, but is not able to be out. The business sessions were held yesterday afternoon. Last night various organizations met together at the Casino, where they were formally welcomed by Newport County Judge Swegley, delivered the address of welcome on behalf of Newport and Lincoln county. He spoke feelingly of the inestimable services of the soldiers and wartime women. Department Commander Blythe responded briefly in behalf of the Grand Army.

The comrades started "Marching Through Georgia" and the veterans sang enthusiastically in their cracked old voices. Department Commander Blythe responded in behalf of the Relief Corps to the address of welcome, and Department Chaplain Mrs. Jennie M. Brown spoke of the Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic. Emma Grady's recitation was awarded the prize medal. The Relief Corps presented the Grand Army with $107.30 free will offering. Mrs. Sanford, war nurse, related hospital incidents. In spite of light, drizzly rain the Casino was filled with veterans and women.

PELICAN BAY PREPARES FOR E. H. HARRIMAN

Artificial Ice Plant and an Auto Road Await R. R. Magistrate's Coming.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Klamath Falls, Or., June 25.—The first artificial ice made in Klamath county was brought into this city this week. Colonel W. H. Holmberg has just completed the "instillation" of cold storage and ammonia ice plant at Pelican bay, for use during E. H. Harriman's visit. The first test ice was made this week.

The plant has a capacity of two tons of fine quality ice or four tons inferior quality, per day. The temperature of the room was reduced to four degrees below zero. Parties in Klamath Falls, attracted by the success of the plant at Pelican bay, are making arrangements to establish a plant here.

A contractor with a large force of men has started work on the automobile road from Port Klamath to Pelican bay. E. H. Harriman stands most of the expense of the road, which will be in readiness for him when he arrives in August.

HERMISTON FIRST DRY TOWN IN UMATILLA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Pendleton, Or., June 24.—Hermiston is wholly dry and is the first town in Umatilla county to lose its one and only bar as a result of the recent local option election. The bar was located in the Hotel Hermiston and was operated under a county court license which expired yesterday. No attempt was made to secure a temporary permit from the council, as it was recognized that the opponents of the saloons were in control of that body and would make the license as high as to be prohibitory.

Pastor Enters Newspaper Field.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Rainier, Or., June 23.—Rev. C. C. Fry, pastor of the Methodist church and editor of the Rainier Review, has been forced to resign his position in the church and donate all of his time to the management of the Review. His place in the church has been filled by Rev. R. E. Myers.

KLAMATH FALLS MEN CONTEST DRY VOTE

Petition Is Filed in Circuit Court Asking for Review of Election.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Klamath Falls, Or., June 25.—An effort is being made to keep the saloons open in Klamath Falls despite the county vote for prohibition. Following the lead of Medford, a petition for a writ of review has been filed in the circuit court. The petition cites error on the part of the county court in making the order for the local option election and also in declaring the result of the election.

A. Castel, a brewer, and Kent Ballard, part owner of the Bank Exchange saloon, filed the writ through their attorneys, A. L. Leavitt and F. H. Miller. County Judge Griffith and Commissioner Fred Melrose are the defendants. The city charter of Klamath Falls does not contain the clause found in the Medford charter, "regardless of any other state law." The matter is now with Judge Benson, whose decision will be given by July 1, the date on which prohibition goes in effect.

HOME FOLKS GLAD TO SEE SENATOR

Cheyenne, Wyo., Turns Out 5,000 Strong to Welcome Francis Warren.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Cheyenne, Wyo., June 25.—United States Senator Francis E. Warren returned today from Washington and was given an ovation by the citizens, who joined in a non-partisan parade and reception. Over 5,000 people were in line, including pioneers, cowboys, United States infantry, cavalry and artillery from Fort Russell, school children, state troops, business men, shopmen and others. Senator Warren's carriage was drawn by 50 pioneers, who unhitched the old team of cayuses and attaching a long rope hauled the senator triumphantly through the streets.

PROMINENT CAPITALIST VISITS KLAMATH FALLS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Klamath Falls, Or., June 25.—Railroad Commissioner A. C. Irwin of California was in the city Wednesday, accompanied by Colonel E. A. Forbes, a prominent promoter of northern California, and owner of newspapers in Yreka, Chico and Marysville. An effort will be made to interest Colonel Forbes in some of the many propositions here awaiting capital and promotion.
