

DRY TOWN STAYS WET

Conflict in Statutes Gives St. Johns Saloonkeepers Loop-hole Through Which They Intend to Sell Liquor Until July 1.

Taking advantage of a conflict in the prohibition law the St. Johns saloonkeepers are enjoying the benefit of the doubt and keeping open until July 1, although the county court yesterday afternoon issued an order declaring prohibition in effect in precinct No. 21. The leaders of the temperance fight are in doubt as to what course to pursue, owing to this conflict in the statutes.

Rev. Frank L. Young, who has been one of the active partisans on the "dry" side of the liquor fight, said last night that the saloon men may be given the benefit of the doubt in the construction of the law favorable to them, inasmuch as they have only two more days of life in any case. He said, however, that the temperance men may decide not to let the liquor dealers run for even the remaining two days if they find on investigation that the law cannot be interpreted to allow this.

Here's the Conflict.
Following are the conflicting parts of the local option liquor law: "Section 19—Said court shall, on the eleventh day after the election, or as soon thereafter as practicable, hold a special session, and by a majority of the votes hereon in the county as a whole, or in any precinct in the county, or for prohibition, said court shall immediately make an order declaring the result of said vote and absolutely prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors within the prescribed limits. Thereafter it shall be unlawful to sell or exchange or give away any intoxicating liquor within the territory included in said prohibition order, except as in this law provided."

Saloonkeepers Smile a Little.
"Section 3—In every county subdivision of a county, or precinct thereof, that shall return a majority vote for prohibition in November, 1904, the law shall take effect on the first day of January, 1905, in all succeeding elections, the law shall take effect on the first day of July following the day of election." "The last Saturday of June is each year observed as the reunion day for the Kelly Klan. The clan now numbers over 200 members, living mostly in Oregon, California and Washington. They are all descendants of the four Kelly pioneers: Clinton Kelly, who owned the land now known as the Waverly-Richmond and Kenilworth tracts; Thomas Kelly, who lived in Kitchikan county, Washington; Albert Kelly, who settled at Hillsdale, and Archon Kelly, who settled near Pleasant Home, on the Powell Road. Clinton Kelly was a minister and hauled the timbers and helped build the first church in Portland. All four brothers are now dead.

WITNESS AGAINST PIPE THUG PAROLED TILL OCTOBER TERM

Harry A. Young, chief witness for the state in the case of Jack De Rose, the alleged gas-pipe thug, who is charged with the murder of Hyman Neuman, was released from the county jail yesterday. He was placed on parole and directed to report to Sheriff Stevens every Monday, so that the prosecution might touch with him. He will not be needed until October, the trial having been fixed for that month. He has been detained at the jail since May 14.

O. J. Smith, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, was released from jail last night, the district attorney having returned a "not true information."

OFFICERS ARREST BEALE IN ROSEBURG

Detective Leaves to Bring Back Man Wanted Here for Forgery.

C. D. Beale, who has been wanted by the Portland police for some time for forgery, was arrested at Roseburg, Or., last evening. Detective Howell left on the early morning train to bring the prisoner to this city. Detective Captain Baty learned that Beale was staying at the Hotel McClellan, Roseburg, and instructed the Roseburg police to make sure of their man and then apprehend him. Beale obtained nearly $150 by committing forgery in the name of R. N. Bates, whose office is in the Stearns building.

ANOTHER CONTEST ENTERS JOURNAL RACE

The accompanying picture is that of Julia B. Hylander, who has entered the Journal's third annual scholarship contest. She is confident she can win one of the many scholarships. Julia is a bright, intelligent-looking girl of 14, and was born in the Rose City. She has made rapid progress in her studies, graduating from the Williams avenue school in June, 1907. She is a daughter of John Hylander, 260 Cook avenue, a member of Webfoot camp, Woodmen of the World, whose paternal influence will be to encourage his enterprising daughter in her ambition to earn her own way through college.

ANNUAL MEETING OF KELLY KLAN

Members of Pioneer Family Assemble at Home of Portland Physician.

The ninth annual gathering of the Kelly Klan took place yesterday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. O. P. S. Plummer at Hillsdale. Kellys came from all over the state and the oldest member present was Mrs. Hampton Kelly, 82 years of age, who came from Victor, east of the mountains, to attend the reunion. She is the widow of the eldest son of Clinton Kelly pioneer.

The last Saturday of June is each year observed as the reunion day for the Kelly Klan. The clan now numbers over 200 members, living mostly in Oregon, California and Washington. They are all descendants of the four Kelly pioneers: Clinton Kelly, who owned the land now known as the Waverly-Richmond and Kenilworth tracts; Thomas Kelly, who lived in Kitchikan county, Washington; Albert Kelly, who settled at Hillsdale, and Archon Kelly, who settled near Pleasant Home, on the Powell Road. Clinton Kelly was a minister and hauled the timbers and helped build the first church in Portland. All four brothers are now dead.

WALKED IN, TURNED AROUND, STAYED IN

Smiling upon all the world, Alexander McPherson ambled into the police station last evening. Alexander was drunk and he knew it. He hailed Captain Slover.

"Captain, I-I-I have had a drink or two and I might get into trouble, 'know, so yed best give me a bed for the night," said he.

"Take a little walk with me and see how you like it since you were last here," said Jailer Endicott soothingly, and Alexander went off to his cell bed, still smiling with good humor.

the Miss Hylander secured a position with Olds, Wortman & King for a few months during the holidays. She attends the Danish Lutheran church, corner Union avenue and Morris street, of which Rev. Mr. Scott is pastor, and has many friends who give their aid by placing their subscriptions to the Journal with her.

If this enterprising girl fails to win a scholarship the contest manager is a poor judge of contestants. She has victory in her eyes and her every action denotes energy. The Journal is sure she will lead her competitors a merry race during the exciting contest.

The Journal's scholarship contest is an educational work in itself, inasmuch as it gives boys and girls a good idea of business. It stimulates young brains to act and think for themselves. The general knowledge derived from their mingling with people soliciting business cannot be acquired in any other way and those young people who go through the experience will have a decided advantage over the boys and girls who have no business associations with men and women.

In their narrow surroundings, with young people of their own age as companions and teachers, the youth cannot gain a good knowledge of the principles of business. This contest is a good practical training which will be of substantial service to them in after years.

The wise young boys and girls will consult their parents and ask their support and the considerate parents will encourage their children to earn and learn. The active work of soliciting subscriptions for the Journal will be of good service to boys and girls. They will take pleasure in it and they will have something to show for their work whereas if they spend the summer in idle amusement their time will be lost.

The cash commissions alone on all new orders should be inducement for smart boys and girls to get in early work during vacation. There is big money in it besides the honor of winning a scholarship.

WIFE HAS GONE, $25,000 GONE

Affections Alienated, Husband Sues Other Man—Loses Suit and Spouse.

Joseph G. Carson has given up his vision of jingling $25,000 of Leroy H. C. Hadley's money in his trousers' pockets. That is the sum he demanded as compensation for his wounded feelings for the alleged alienation of the affections of his wife, but his attorneys yesterday entered into a stipulation with Hadley's lawyers to dismiss the suit in the circuit court.

At the same time there was filed another stipulation by which Carson's attorneys agreed that their demurrer to the divorce complaint of Mrs. Lizzie B. Hadley shall be overruled and the default of the husband entered. The filing of the two stipulations indicates that the dove of peace has settled down. As a result Hadley will no longer be in danger of parting with his ready cash and Carson will permit his wife to secure a decree without further opposition. Just what Carson will get out of the deal does not appear of record.

Carson married Elizabeth B. Higbee in San Francisco in December, 1906, but in five months they parted. Carson asserted that the honeyed words of Hadley, transmitted through the mails from Portland to Los Angeles, where he was then living, caused his wife to leave. He followed her to Portland, and she lived with him here from July to December, although she had begun her suit for divorce in June and did not withdraw it. In December they parted a second time, and again Carson blamed Hadley for his unhappiness. The suit for $25,000 damages was the result.

GRAYS HARBOR MAY GET $20,000 ARMORY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Aberdeen, Wash., June 27.—It seems probable that Grays Harbor will soon have a $20,000 armory, to be used jointly by the Hoquiam company, W. N. G., and by the Aberdeen company, now about formed. Formerly the state legislature has granted an armory to cities with two companies, and Aberdeen and Hoquiam, acting together it is thought will be entitled to one. Two companies will go into camp at American
