

Epis of the vacation quiet there has been a good deal of interest for society folk the past week. The "Toyshop" performances early in the week were the chief source of delight and every one went sooner or later and some went both sooner and later. Many parties were entertained. Almost every matron of prominence was included either in the patroness of the presenter list and many of the young unmarried people were among the chaperones who made themselves responsible for the welfare of the little folk at the rehearsals and the performances.

A fashionable audience was in attendance at the Billy Collier plays the last of the week and these theatrical offerings so late in the season seem welcome. Mantell in Shakespeare roles and Mrs. Fiske and Margaret Hillington are other stars to be heard here soon. The charity baseball game last Saturday for the Flower Mission nursery was well attended by representative people. Yesterday the Young Men's association was the object of interest in its day at the Onks. A large list of prominent patronesses lent to the success of the affair. All the day's receipts were turned over to the association.

What was pronounced the most delightful and complete event of its kind this season was a tallyho party and country home entertainment given last Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Metzger to their young friends. The Metzgers own a beautiful country place on the Salem electric line, equipped with all modern conveniences. The party of young people were carried by tallyho to the country home and were there met by Mr. and Mrs. Metzger who had preceded them in an automobile. As the party drove through the archway into the park Parson's orchestra began playing. They were taken to the beautiful dancing pavilion underneath which were resting rooms and dressing rooms. Here the skill of the art of electricians had been tested in beautifully lighting the platform. In one corner was a charming Japanese retreat where lunch and evening an elaborate dinner was served at a huge horseshoe table spread under the oak trees. The table appointments were dainty and the place cards presented a unique idea. Covers were laid for 40. A visit to the dining gallery, where the guests tried their skill and were awarded handsome prizes, followed dinner. Dancing, the party was taken through the park and came back later for supper. At a late hour the young women were escorted through the park by men carrying torches and were taken to the carriage where they were embarked on a private car for home.

The guests were: Miss Helen Rosenfeld, Miss Miriam Jacobs, Miss Edith Rothchild, Miss Clarice Marx of San Francisco, Miss Hilda Jacobs, Miss Daisy Rosener of San Francisco, Miss Florence Kohn, Miss Henriette Lauer, Miss Frances Jacobs, Miss Clementine Hirsch, Miss Mai Hirsch, Miss Mabel Beck, Miss Ruby Jacobs, Miss Florence Wolfe, Miss Gertrude White, Miss Flora Fleischer, Miss Germaine Samuel, Miss Hilda Hexter, Miss May Oppenheimer, Walter Rosenfeld, Leo Falk, James Rosenfeld, Adolph Jacobs, Dr. Lawrence Rosenthal, Julius Loewe, Sanford Rosenfeld, Arthur Rosenfeld, Leon Stelzhamil, Leopold Hirsch, Samson Hirsch, Kaufman, Ediger, Frank, Adolph Salomon, Will Ehrman, Felix Kahn, Julius Koshland, Dr. Jesse Eitelson, Sidney Mayer, Dr. Archibald, Kenneth, Sam Bissinger, Henry Metzger, Monte Mayer, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Lipman, Mr. and Mrs. Sol Rosenfeld, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Vincent.

Mrs. David T. Honeyman entertained with a tea yesterday afternoon for Miss Ethel Rogers of South Greenfield, Mass., who is visiting Miss Genevieve Thompson. Miss Rogers is proving a most popular guest, and there has been a good deal of informal entertaining. She is an accomplished pianist and was a pupil of the late Edward MacDowell. Mrs. Honeyman asked to meet the real young set including Miss Josephine Smith, Miss Malda Hart, Miss Erle Houghton, Miss Claire Houghton, Miss Margaret Walter, Miss Louise Carey, Miss Carolyn Burns, Miss Leslie Knapp, Miss Frances Wilson, Miss Lisa Koehler, Miss Hazel Dolph, Miss Letta and Miss Helen. Both Mrs. Plowden Stott, Antoine Labbe, Kenneth Besbe, Irving Webster, Morris Whitehouse, Tom Robertson, Bruce Honeyman, Harry Felling, Henry Hoffman, Erskine Wood, Captain Lansing, Harold Wells and Raymond Wilcox.

The wedding of a popular member of society which came as a general surprise last week was that of Miss Katherine Stitton to Lawrence Sutton Atinworth, Wednesday evening, at the First Unitarian chapel. Rev. W. G. Elliot read the ceremony and only the members of the family were present. Mr. and Mrs. Atinworth are making a short visit here with Mrs. Charles Stitton the bride's mother, before leaving for their home. Both are members of prominent families. Mr. Atinworth is the son of the late Captain George M. Atinworth and Mrs. Atinworth is a nephew of John C. Atinworth. He spent his childhood in Portland, where he was reared and has many friends here.

Miss Mabel Copley Smith and Dr. Ralph A. Fenton were married Wednesday at Holy Innocent's chapel, Astoria, by the Rev. John Warren. The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Holmes, and Kenneth Fenton of Portland was the best man. Dr. and Mrs. Fenton are now at Cannon Beach, and will be at home at The Hill after August 1. No cards.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Fenton are graduates of the University of Oregon, and Dr. Fenton later was graduated with high honors from the Northwestern Medical Institute at Evanston. Dr. Fenton is the eldest son of Judge and Mrs. W. D. Fenton of Portland.

L. Henry and Mrs. Flora Guerin won the prizes. The guests were: Mrs. Beckwith, Mrs. Charles L. Boss, Mrs. John H. Burdard, Mrs. A. A. Cushing, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. E. E. Coover, Mrs. Garfield A. King Wilson, Mrs. B. P. Weaver, Mrs. Harvey Wells and Mrs. Prescott of Baker City.

The annual tea at the Patton home last Tuesday afternoon was probably the most successful ever given there. The home was beautifully decorated with roses everywhere. A large crowd was in attendance and many handsome gowns were worn. Candy was sold by the young girls and realized a goodly sum for the home. Tea was served in the dining room at eight tables by prominent matrons interested in the home. The officers and board of the home received the guests. An exceptionally good program was given under the direction of Mrs. Byron E. Miller. The work of the accompanists, Mrs. Herman A. Heppner and Miss Louise Bradley was efficient and satisfactory. The program was as follows and was received with appreciation:

- Duet—"Parting".....Nedlinger Miss Grace Campbell, Miss Alice Juston Soprano—"Oh, Vision Entrancing"....."My Bairnie".....Goring Thomas "My Bairnie".....Kate Yannah Reading—"One, Two, Three".....Bruner Miss Mabel Selover. Contralto—"Four-Leaf Clover".....Coombs "In My Garden".....Liddle "My Curly Headed".....Miss Sara Glance. Duet—"Hark to the Mandolins".....Misses Campbell and Juston.
