

PEANUT "NOT SO SMALL" IN ECHO DISTRICT WHERE IT'S IRRIGATED

Potato Field Containing 100 Acres Under Irrigation From the Canal of the Furnish-Coe Project, Three Miles North of Echo. The Crop Is Now Ready for Market, Foretelling the California Product.

Five Peanuts to the Foot, Grown on the Farm of W. W. Wolfe, Three Miles North of Echo. One Half Acre Was Set Out This Year as an Experiment, Which is Regarded as Successful.

Peanuts are growing in Oregon! Not the shriveled up product such as Senator Macaroni sells to the children from his stand on the street corner...

One would suppose that with the long list of products already under cultivation in the section adjacent to the town...

At first it would seem to the visitor that the people of Echo and its tributary zone would be mildly excited over the prospect of a distinctly southern industry in their northern clime...

When a merchant or farmer whose attention for years has become fixed only on dry farming or stock raising with all the limitations which those slow moving industries impose...

Some idea of last year's yield for the country around Echo may be had from a statement issued by the Commercial club of the city recently published in variety and volume...

It contains, as estimated from its stock attendance, in the neighborhood of 800 people, all classes of mercantile business being represented...

A good indication of the importance of the city as a shipping point is derived from a table setting forth its stock output during the past year...

There is a constantly increasing demand for irrigated lands manifested in the record of the Echo district made during the past spring...

One of the most interesting features of the property is the fact that it is passing from the hands of practical farmers to those of speculative investors...

In conclusion it is well to call attention to the increase in values already brought about not only through the continuous demands for...

That this enhancement in values is only in its early stages is shown by the records made in similar districts...

During the past 12 months the writer has traveled from the Pacific coast to Colorado, Wyoming and Idaho, and on his journey has investigated on an extensive scale the working out of the various irrigation projects...

What Lorenz accomplished is not at all unlike nor more marvelous than many of the cures effected by James Austin Larson, the originator of Telectoni. Take the case of the little Glover girl...

James Austin Larson, originator of Telectoni, the science of vibration, announces that those desiring to enroll for the full course of Telectoni treatments must do so between now and next Saturday night, July 4...
