Lawrence K. Evans, a well known member of the police department, was painfully injured yesterday afternoon during a game of baseball between the policemen's nine and that of the Gevarty store. Evans was making a run from first to second base. The ball was thrown to the baseman and both men met in a head-on collision. The second baseman struck Evans on the right cheek with the top of his head laying the policeman out. He was revived and brought to the station, where he again collapsed and was taken to his home in the ambulance. His injury is nothing serious, however, and reports received at the station this morning are to the effect that he will be about in a short time.

The second examination is for negative cutter and lithographic draftsman, in the geological survey, at salaries ranging from $1,500 to $3,500 per diem, according to skill. The police are looking for Walter Dahlenn, chauffeur, because his city license has been revoked by the board of automobile registry. A Crystal Ice & Coal company some time ago. He declared the driver equally at fault. The members of the board of automobile registry received a letter from the company sustaining his contention his license would stand. But no letter has been forthcoming so Dahlenn is wanted by the police. He is 29 years of age and lives at the Oak hotel.

Judge Bronaugh in the circuit court this morning gave judgment for $390.40 in the case of R. L. Wells against the Great Northern railway. Wells asked for $449 for the loss of a trunk, said to have been burned at Chicago. It was on the way from Chicago to Portland in April, 1907. In awarding damages the court refused compensation for the trunk, as it was a personal possession of a sentimental value, but regarded as having no market value.

The distributing agent of a gang of counterfeiters has apparently taken a fancy to the University Park grocery. Several bogus coins have been found in the till there recently. A $5 piece and a 50-cent piece were passed on the store yesterday. The secret service operators will try to find the distributing agent.

A. E. Lodell of Portland filed a petition in the United States district court this morning requesting that he be adjudged a bankrupt. His liabilities amount to $2,360 and his assets $1,100. Among others whom Lodell names as creditors are several bartenders who have not received their salaries.

PROTEST AGAINST HOFF'S METHODS

President Linn Refuses to Accept State Certificate Without Inspection.

President Fletcher Linn of the Manufacturers' association, on behalf of himself and other Oregon factory-owners, has written a letter of protest to State Labor Commissioner O. F. Hoff concerning the renewal of inspection certificates. It is claimed by Mr. Linn that the commissioner has written manufacturers throughout the state offering to renew their certificates for $20 without a preceding inspection.

It is claimed that these letters have been sent to many of the factory-owners throughout the state, and that in some cases the owners are remitting $10 to the commissioner and receiving renewals without inspection. "It is a very dangerous thing for us," said Mr. Linn this morning, "in case of the injury of employees, the charge could be brought against us that we had practically bribed the labor commissioner to renew our certificates without proper inspection of the factories. I declined Mr. Hoff's offer of renewal and asked that my factory be inspected before my new certificate was given me."

Mr. Hoff declared this morning that it was only in cases where the factory in question had been recently inspected or where he was sure that it was in the same condition as when last inspected that he offered to renew the certificates. "I consulted the attorney-general about the matter and he told me that where a factory had been inspected a reasonable length of time before, it would be legal for me to renew without immediate inspection, always with the understanding, however, that I would within a reasonable length of time."

"The offers sent from my office to renew certificates were simply printed forms that I mailed to all manufacturers, saying that upon receipt of $10, the state's regular fee, the license would be renewed. Of course, the fee goes to the state, anyway; but I thought it might lessen the work of the office, which is already very heavy. There was no intention to pass any factory without inspection, it being the purpose of the labor commissioner's office to inspect all factories at least once a year."

GIRL CALLS, ESCORT FALLS TO HIS DEATH

Frank Jemtgaard Misses Footing, Slips Beneath Wheels of Car.

Frank Ole Jemtgaard, a popular young man of the east side, and a respected member of the Portland Lathery union, was instantly killed yesterday morning at 11:30, when he attempted to board a Mount Scott car at Kern Park while the car was moving away from the station. Jemtgaard grabbed for the rail on the head car and his hand slipped. The momentum of the car threw him inside and under the platform. One of them called to him as he passed by and he made a leap for the rear platform of the front car and his failure to get a firm grip resulted in his falling. He lived with his parents at 321 East Thirty-third street.

BRIGHTEST GIRL IN CLASS

Miss Verda Wells, who is the daughter of Deputy County Clerk Theodore S. Wells of 228 Market street. The weather conditions being unfavorable for a class picnic, her schoolmates celebrated the close of their grammar school studies by holding a party at her home on 12th and Morrison streets, on Saturday, July 1. She is a native of Oregon, having been born in Portland. She is sample-rooms, the rental of which will make the plan self-supporting. C. D. Fraser, delegate to the national convention at Milwaukee, which met last week, has been elected first vice-president of the national body and this announcement was received with cheers. W. B. Glafke made a presentation speech, giving to the president, Willis Fisher, a medal from the national office at St. Louis for the unusual increase in membership during his term of office. Over 200 members were in attendance and were entertained by songs by the Oregon male quartet, which got off several hits on the officers of the association.

Something less than a dozen members of the Antlered tribe of Elks will leave Portland next Monday night for Dallas, Texas, to attend the annual meeting of the grand lodge which convenes in the Texas city July 12 to 17. The party will consist of Governor George E. Chamberlain, Ralph E. Moody, W. S. Levens of Baker City, Dr. Smith of Salem, John C. McCue of Astoria, Henry Blackman of Heppner, Mr. Hardy of Roseburg and possibly one or two others representing Willamette valley lodges.

The delegation will leave over the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company for Denver and then take the Colorado Southern and Denver & Fort Worth for Dallas.

The Pacific coast has no candidate this year for any of the higher offices in the grand lodge, hence the meeting of the national organization will not hold the intense interest for Pacific coast Elks as did that of two and three years ago.

HALLOWAY TO BE TRIED FOR ASSAULT ON WIFE

Victim of Jealous Husband Will Recover From Pistol Wounds.

Chester C. Halloway, who shot his wife at 524 Roselawn avenue Saturday evening, will be tried for assault with a dangerous weapon in the municipal court July 1. Mrs. Halloway is resting easily at St. Vincent's hospital, where the physicians are now confident of her recovery.

Halloway came from Los Angeles in search of his wife and children. The young woman was working as a telephone operator, and was at the home of her sister, Mrs. Charles Dawson, when Halloway demanded that she return to him. On her refusal he fired three shots into her body, but none struck a vital spot. One bullet entering her breast was deflected by a rib so that the injury will not be fatal, unless blood poison should set in.

Indamed with jealousy, Halloway attempted his life by cutting his wrist in a North Portland hotel last week, but failed to sever the artery.

APPEARED FIRST AS COMEDIENNE

It is interesting to note in connection with Mrs. Fiske's appearance here in "Rosmersholm" at the Lyric theatre, July 1, that her ability to interpret Ibsen roles was predicted years ago by the late Lawrence Barrett, who at the time when Mrs. Fiske, then Minnie Maddern, was regarded by the public solely as a light comedienne, saw in her the talents, the intellectual grasp, the technical excellence and the great dramatic talent that the interpreter of Ibsen must possess.

It was Barrett who advised Mrs. Fiske, then hardly more than a child, to study the serious dramas, and more especially the plays of Ibsen, in which he believed her admirably fitted. He predicted that in such roles lay her way to success, and outlined in a general way the future that Mrs. Fiske has now attained.

All mail orders for tickets to either the matinee or evening performance must be accompanied by a check.

TRAVELERS LOOKING FOR HEADQUARTERS

The Travelers' Protective association will be the next organization to find a handsome home. At the second quarterly meeting Saturday night action was taken looking toward the establishment of permanent headquarters for the local branch. The meeting was held in the convention hall of the Commercial club. A committee of three was appointed to look up rooms for the organization. The recommendation is to lease the two upper floors of some new building to fit up an office, a meeting-room and clubrooms, also first-class

ANNEXATIONISTS WIN BY INCORPORATING

Improvement Club Can Now Demand Books From Opposing Faction.

O. N. Ford, leader of the annexation forces in Mount Scott, scored for his partisans this morning when he filed articles of incorporation for the Mount Scott Improvement club, which just at present has a double set of officers, two different factions having elected officers at the recent annual election. The officers of the incorporated club are Charles Stout, president; O. N. Ford, vice-president; F. I. Marshall, secretary-treasurer.

By this move the annexationists secured the legal right to the title under which the club is at present known, and they now say they have a right to demand the books of the Mount Scott Improvement club, which are in the possession of the old secretary of the organization, he having refused to turn them over at the last election.

DRY BATTERIES WILL OPEN JULY 1

St. John's saloonmen will not be molested by the anti-liquor party before the first of July, when the saloons will be closed. Although the law may be interpreted to mean that prohibition is now in effect, and has been ever since the county court issued its order Saturday morning, it also gives the impression that the closing of the liquor dispensaries is not compulsory till July 1. Of course the proprietors of St. John's six saloons and one wholesale
