EARLY START NECESSARY IN JOURNAL'S CONTEST

There will be a happy lot of boys and girls and young men and young women at the finish of The Journal's third annual scholarship contest in about three months' time, when a large number will receive free scholarships at leading educational institutions, together with handsome cash awards ranging from $25 to $150, besides cash commissions on all new subscription orders they secure for The Journal.
 There will be no prouder young people in the country, and they will deserve credit and applause for their ambition and their honorable efforts to earn their own way through college. All the energetic contestants will get the hearty support of their friends in their work. Nothing is so praiseworthy as ambition in boys and girls. When it is seen that the young students are determined to acquire a good college education and are striving hard with that fixed purpose in mind, friends will rally around them and lend a willing hand in pushing them ahead in their laudable work.
Support is Certain.
 The Sundry school class that has a member striving for a Journal scholarship will work as a unit, in order to help a favorite member to attain his or her desired ambition. The office staff that has an energetic member trying to earn a scholarship will do all in its power collectively and separately to boost the young aspirant forward in his ambitious work. The store staff likewise will stand by a fellow worker and work hard to secure for him or her the attainment sought.
 Most young people have no idea how many friends they have until they start out to accomplish something that requires a special effort and considerable energy. It is then and not till then that innumerable friends prop up and back their own work easy.
 If it were possible for any young student to stand up on a pedestal and address all the people of Portland, saying "People of Portland, one and all,

The wise students will start in right now canvassing office buildings, stores, factories, hotels, apartment houses, and institutions without delay.
 It is well to plan a regular campaign and work with a system, thus facilitating your work. If you do not fully understand the conditions of the contest the contest manager will give you all particulars, apply to him personally or write to him and ask him all the questions you like regarding the contest. Remember, it does not make any difference what section of the country you live or work in, you have an equal chance to win a scholarship. While some students are ambitious they are naturally backward in asking favors, but when friends interest themselves in their behalf it encourages them to be more confident in winning.
 A scholarship is an invaluable acquisition to any young person's resources, and will be of benefit to the recipient when nothing but empty memories of honest diversion will remain.
 Get started in the contest, boys and girls. Call at The Journal office and the contest manager will equip you with receipt forms, etc.

WOMAN INVENTS NEW KIND OF SIFTER

Saves Time, Trouble and Steps for Busy Housewives.

A Portland woman, Mrs. S. Nickerson of St. Johns, has invented a little household help which will be of service to many hundreds of women. Mrs. Nickerson has applied for her patent, both in the United States and Canada, and has no hesitation in telling what her patent is.

Flour Sifter That Doesn't Leak.

and then has the plate to wash and put away again, besides having to take those extra steps every time flour is used.
 Mrs. Nickerson's patent covers this little difficulty, and though the cost will be slight, the saving in steps and labor to the thousands of women throughout the land will be considerable.
 A simple clamp holds the lid to the bottom of the sifter when it is to be carried about; when it is wanted open, the lid is merely hinged back out of the way.
 Mrs. Nickerson's attorneys think that a considerable sum of money should be derived from the invention. She has several other inventions which she is working out.
