CRUSHES STEM ON HEAVY SCOW

Steam Schooner Washington in Collision During Night.

NO ONE INJURED; DAMAGE SLIGHT

Accident Could Have Proved Disastrous, Had Blow Been a Few Inches Lower—Alliance and Eureka Arrive From Coos Bay.

Coming up the river during the night the steam schooner Washington, Captain Nason, collided with a heavy scow and damaged her stem to a considerable extent just above the water line. The night was very dark and somehow the scow managed to get in the way of the steamer, although it is maintained that the lights were burning and the signals sounded properly.

No one was injured. The steam schooner struck the scow head on and crushed the stem post and tore off several feet of metal sheeting on the starboard bow. This damage can be repaired without much difficulty, however.

The Washington arrived up at Couch street dock at 9 o'clock this morning, bringing a full cargo of freight, consisting chiefly of asphalt in barrels. The barrels were carried on deck so that it was difficult to walk about excepting on the hurricane or promenade deck reserved for the passengers, of whom there were eight this trip.

Captain Nason reports having encountered fair weather all the way up the cast, but the run was somewhat delayed by intermittent fogs. After repairs to the damaged stem, the Washington will leave for San Francisco with grain and lumber.

The steamer Alliance, Captain Olson, arrived up at Couch street dock last night from Coos bay, bringing a full list of passengers and considerable freight. Before going on the run again the Alliance will be equipped with a new propeller shaft. This will take probably 10 days. In the meantime the route will be covered by the steam schooner Nome City, Captain Hansen, Captain Olson of the Alliance will go as pilot the first trip. The Nome City came up to Couch street dock this morning to begin receiving cargo as soon as possible. With the arrival of the Nome City there were three steam schooners abreast at the Couch street wharf.

The steamer Eureka arrived at Martin's dock last night from Eureka via Coos bay, bringing passengers and general freight. She goes out again this evening in command of Captain Norren.

ASTORIA MARINE NEWS.

Fishboats Capsize in Blow at Mouth of Columbia.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Astoria, Or., July 2.—During the heavy sea and wind storm at the mouth of the river yesterday morning five fishboats were capsized and one man, Matt Reimes, a boat puller working for the Columbia River Packers' association, was drowned. The Cape Disappointment life saving crew were out with their motor boat and saved a number of lives. They picked up seven men from four boats. The two from the fifth boat were rescued by another fishboat crew. Under one of the boats a man remained over 15 minutes before he could be rescued and was almost dead. The body of the drowned man has not been recovered.

The American steamship Nevadan arrived yesterday morning from Seattle and will take 12,000 cases of salmon for direct shipment to New York, shipped by S. Elmore. She will sail tomorrow.

QUIET AT SHIPYARDS.

No New Projects on the Ways for the Time Being.

The Portland Shipbuilding company has laid off its ship carpenters and things are quiet at the yard in South Portland. High water in the river interfered somewhat with work for a while, but just now there is not a great deal of work in the boatbuilding line, and so the men were given the benefit of a vacation.

Joseph Supple is having a few men at work in his yard at the east end of the Morrison bridge, but there is no new work on the ways for the time being.

The St. Johns Shipbuilding company's yard at St. Johns is keeping a force of men at work repairing five barges for the Port of Portland.

LOADING FOR ORIENT.

Steamer Guernsey Coming Up From Astoria to Finish.

The Norwegian steamer Guernsey will arrive up at the mills of the Portland Lumber company this evening to finish her cargo of lumber for Shanghai. She will be at the Portland mills about a week.

The British steamer Allanton which began loading lumber at the mills of the Inman-Poulsen Lumber company last week, is expected to be ready to go to sea ntxt week. She is receiving unusually quick dispatch.

The British ship Ancalos has left down the river for Tongue Point where she will load lumber for Europe. She was at the O. W. P. dock for several weeks after having discharged her coal cargo at the O. R. & N. Albina dock.

FAMILIAR SHIPS RETURN.

Many Well-Known Vessels Will Load Here This Fall.

Most of the vessels engaged to load here this fall and winter are well known here because of previous visits. Another familiar name was placed on the route list this morning when it was announced that the French bark Michelet had been chartered to come here to load wheat for Europe.

The Michelet was here last year and is now booked for Japan with cargo. From Hiogo the bark will make the run across the Pacific to Columbia river in ballast.

It was also announced this morning that the old barkentine Wrestler is returning to the Columbia river from Guaymas presumably to load lumber.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT.

Captain Benneche is shipping a crew for his schooner H. K. Hall today and will probably leave down tomorrow.

The British bark Brodick Castle began discharging coal at her moorings at the drydock this morning.

The river continues to fall slowly and in a couple of days all the lower docks will again be above water.

The steam schooner Olson & Mahony which arrived at Astoria yesterday from Alaska is under charter to load lumber at a coast port for Guaymas, Mexico.

L. A. Pike, special deputy collector of customs, has gone to Calgary, Alberta, to visit with his daughter, Mrs. H. E. Middleton. J. N. Gidney of the customs service, has gone on a fishing tour.

WANTED--A PACKER; CANNERY RENT FREE

Woodburn Offers Extraordinary Inducements to Responsible Persons.

Woodburn, Or., has a first class, up-to-date cannery just completed at a cost of $9,000, which will be leased rent-free for this season to any responsible person who will immediately put it in operation and handle the surplus fruit and vegetables produced in that vicinity. Woodburn is the center of an exceedingly fertile portion of the Willamette valley. Fruits, berries and vegetables grow there to perfection, and a handsome profit awaits the experienced canneryman who will go there and put up the surplus crops which will soon begin to mature.

Any one interested in the cannery business and in position to take advantage of the above offer may correspond with G. W. Huffman, cashier of the Woodburn Farmers' and Mechanics' bank.

CURRY, LONG-DEPRIVED, WILL HAVE PHONE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Gold Beach, Or., July 2.—Never since the memory of man has Curry county had adequate communication with the outside world. Except for one lone telephone wire, out of repair when most needed, the county has no form of communication except by post, which stands for washed-out roads in winter and mountain trails in summer.

The citizens have organized a local concern, known as the Home Telephone company, and with the $4,000 subscribed construction work will immediately commence on a line to run from Gold Beach to the outside world via Crescent City, Cal. The most prominent business men of the county are stockholders in the company. The new line is expected to be working by August 1.

Excursion to the Beach.

For the convenience of holiday travelers, the O. R. & N. excursion steamer T. J. Potter will leave Portland Saturday morning, July 4, at 8:30 o'clock, instead of 2 p. m., for North Beach.

This will enable passengers to arrive on the beach early in the afternoon. Saturday to Monday round trip excursion tickets $3.00. On sale at Third and Washington streets.
