Pastor Who Has "Made Good"

Rev. A. A. Winter, pastor of the First United Evangelical church, was born in Lycoming county, Pennsylvania, near Williamsport, October 4, 1871. In child-

County.

In the summer of 1892 he took a business course in the Williamsport Commercial college. One year was spent in Dickenson seminary, a Methodist institution, which prepared him to enter the sophomore class in Central Pennsylvania college where he graduated with first honors in 1899 and received his degree of A. M. and three years later his master degree.

take work in one of the mission conferences of the church.

There came an urgent call for men for the Oregon conference and he answered, "Here am I, send me." At the annual session of this conference in 1899 he was stationed at La Fayette, then the seat of La Fayette seminary.

After a pastorate of two years he was moved to Dallas where he served the time limit of four years. La Fayette seminary and Lacreole acamedy entered into consolidation the year previous to his going to Dallas. Out of this union came Dallas college. This gave him the privilege of heing college pastor again. The church here enjoyed a marked degree of success and a commodious church building was erected, having a seating capacity of 709.

In 1905 Mr. Winter was appointed pastor of Portland First church and he is now serving his fourth year at this now serving his fourth year at this place. A building fund is now heart.
