

DRUGGISTS AT THE BREAKERS

Oregon State Pharmaceutical Association Convenes in Annual Session.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

The Breakers, Wash., July 9.—Old Asclepius is at the bench, and the Oregon State Pharmaceutical association has gone in session at the Breakers. One hundred ointment mixers have left the apprentice boy to get a little experience and come over to North Beach to hear Arthur Thayer's address of welcome and witness the ladies' ball during the evening. The first night of the latter event will receive one large bottle of Horlick's malted milk, and the loser will drink the same. Other events of the nature of a ball will follow.

The pure food law and its relation to the drug business will be discussed at the meeting. The next morning papers will be read on matters of interest to the druggist. Officers will be elected for next year. The next meeting place will be selected. The social side of the meeting will be quite a feature. Arrangements have been made for trips to the light house, to the life saving station and Fort Columbia.

On the program is printed the slogan of the meeting:

"Those shall laugh who seldom laughed before, And those who always laugh shall laugh some more."

Those at the meeting are: A. W. Allen, Miss Edna Johnson, Henry Harlan, E. Jacobson, W. A. Montgomery, Guy Ketchum and wife, Miss Margaret Stetchon, Miss Pearl Moran, P. H. Berman, W. C. Church, Jones, V. Wallace, John M. A. Laue and wife, Miss Edna Munro, Ed. R. Sweet, P. B. Bly, C. C. Shaw, Arthur Thayer, W. H. Ziegler, W. F. Koehler, Dr. William Koehler, J. E. Osmach and wife, Ralph Taylor and wife, P. L. Schana, wife and children, N. G. Willis, Frank Jancke and wife, E. J. Fox and wife, H. W. Vets, P. C. Davis, A. A. Astor, C. H. Beckman, W. C. Church, William Wittzell, J. C. Felter and wife, all of Portland; W. A. Kuykendall and wife, R. D. Vincent, New York; E. D. Nice, Los Angeles; D. F. Everett, Goldendale; J. Marsh and wife, Wasco; Frank H. Caldwell, Newburg; Al R. Bury, wife and child, San Francisco; C. G. Huntley, George Harding and wife, Oregon City; A. C. Koeppe, N. Pendleton, M. E. Eyeritt, North Bend; George C. Blakeley and wife, The Dalles; M. B. Clemons, Grants Pass; S. D. Vincent, New York; L. Johnson, Silverton; T. F. Laurin, Astoria.

Smallpox May Become One of Worst of the Great Historic Plagues.

(United Press Lined Wire.)

St. Petersburg, July 9.—An appeal for government aid in checking the ravages of smallpox, which is devastating Russia from the White to the Black sea and from the Baltic to Siberia, was made today by representatives of the affected districts. They declared that unless heroic efforts were taken Russia will be afflicted with the worst scourge in history. In several districts the death rate is 25 to 30 per cent. The disease's rapid spread is due partly to the lack of cleanliness in the masses, personal habits and laxity in enforcing sanitary measures.

CLAYTON IS SEATED AS CHAIRMAN

(Continued from Page One.)

In their action shall be interred with their bones.

"Grant, O God, that our political selves may be touched to higher issues by these national memories. Let us not forget, be these the monitors that tell us of the magnificence in political life, of fealty to principle, of honor and character and sincerity in manhood. And keeping close to these, when the day's work is ended, be our devotion, consciousness that thou, Judge of nations, art with us yet."

Bell recognized Delegate McWhiston of Pennsylvania, who declared that up to the present time he had been unable to secure badges and tickets for the eight Pennsylvania delegates seated by the convention last night.

Sullivan Is Heard.

Roger Sullivan of Illinois declared that he believed McWhiston was in error, as the national committee had provided for the delegates. It was finally ordered that the eight members be admitted and seated with the delegation.

Senator McCreary of Kentucky was recognized to present the report of the committee on permanent organization. It named Congressman Henry D. Clayton of Alabama as permanent chairman and made all of the temporary officials permanent.

So soon as the report of permanent organization had been adopted, Chairman Bell in a brief speech thanked the national committee for honoring him as temporary chairman and thanked the convention for the manner in which it had treated him. He declared that it was an honor to the Pacific coast that would be appreciated in every part of the states there, saying his selection was a tribute to the locality rather than to the individual.

He was enthusiastically cheered as he concluded, the delegates rising and waving flags, hats and fans. In a boisterous attempt to show their good will.

Hill then named as the committee to escort Permanent Chairman Clayton to the chair, Senator McCreary of Kentucky, Lewis Nixon of New York and Judge John E. Baker of California.

A Pleading Incident.

As Congressman Clayton started to speak, three little girls, garbed in the stars and stripes, ascended to the rostrum and presented him with a magnificent bouquet of roses. This was a pleasing incident that was followed by a loud outburst of applause, cheers and handclapping. The children, who were Irene, Catherine and Ida Smith, sisters, were lifted to the platform and the portly statesman from Alabama made a hit by kissing each.

Cries of "Hobson," "where's Hobson?" then came from the crowd, who recognized that the permanent chairman was a fellow-statesman of the hero of the Merrimack.

As soon as the noise caused by the incident had died down, Clayton began his speech.

[Note by editor.—The speech of Permanent Chairman Clayton may be found in full on page five in this issue of The Journal.]

Speeches During the Wait.

As the marchers passed out, Chairman Clayton recognized John W. Kern of Indiana, whose motion that a committee of three be named to ask the resolutions committee when it would be ready to report the platform, was carried. Kern, Pace of Alabama and Norman E. Mack of New York were named and they left at once to interview the committee.

Robbins of Chicago was then called to the platform to address the convention during the interval. He made a proper speech.

An Oklahoma delegate then demanded that Martin W. Littleton of New York be asked for an address. This brought Texas and New York to their feet and they yelled with delight as Littleton moved up to the platform.

"Politically," he said, "the message from New York to this convention is short. Whatever this convention does, both as to its candidate and its platform, New York will stand man and arm for the success of both and fight our hardest for victory."

The convention adjourned until 7 o'clock tonight.

BURSTING TIRE CAUSES DEATH

Ernest Scribner of Oakland Killed Under Capsized Auto; Three Hurt.

(United Press Lined Wire.)

Oakland, July 9.—Ernest Scribner, bookkeeper for the Ransome Construction company, is dead, and J. P. Jeffrey, a capitalist; James Nelson, a prominent lodge man, and Mrs. Hazel Liddill are badly injured, as the result of an automobile accident a mile east of Hayward's last night.

The affair is somewhat mysterious. It is said there were seven in the automobile, which was running at high speed, when a tire burst. The shock caused the wheel to collapse, and the automobile turned turtle, crushing Scribner to death.

Nelson is the most seriously injured of the survivors, not yet having regained consciousness. The names of the other occupants of the machine have not been learned. The accident was not reported until today.

STATE MILITIA TO SQUELCH LO

Guthrie, Okla., July 9.—A company of state militia was ordered this afternoon from Chandler to Henrietta to protect residents there from the Snake Indians, who are holding a celebration dance at Hickory camp grounds. The Indians are reported to have risen and the situation is believed to be serious. Adjutant-General Canton is at Henrietta and the soldiers were sent at his request. Acting Governor Bellinger will accompany the militia to learn conditions for himself.

Tomorrow will positively be the last day for discount on west side gas bills, Portland Gas Company.

USE DREDGE

(Continued from Page One.)

see the project completed, unless something entirely unforeseen happens. Rock is being dumped into the sea at the rate of about 4,000 tons daily, and the immense breaker now extends six and one-half miles from shore. Completed, it will have a length of about seven and one-half miles. The total cost of the structure will be about $6,000,000.

The north jetty, referred to above, has a length of about seven and one-half miles. It will have a bearing of 100 degrees and will be a part of the original project, the object of the scheme being to contract the river's volume of water and thereby give greater force to scour out the sands that have a tendency to wash in with the ever-heating waves.

Other Recommendations.

The annual report will also contain recommendations for placing the Cello canal project on a continuing contract basis with the view of having the immense project completed in about four years, at a possible total cost of $5,000,000. Work is now progressing nicely on a portion of the canal, but serious delays might occur in the future, and much of the good work go to waste unless the scheme being proposed be given necessary money available whenever needed for it.

Colonel Rossler, whose transfer to Newport, R. I., was announced some time ago, will turn over the affairs of this office to Major James B. McIndoe, who arrived from New Orleans this morning and spent most of the day with his predecessor getting pointers on the immense projects that will come under his supervision. Tomorrow Major McIndoe will accompany Colonel Rossler to Fort Stevens and the mouth of the Columbia to view the jetty and inspect the fortifications. Major McIndoe is a young and very popular. Up till the time of leaving for Portland he had charge of the government work on the Mississippi river. He has headquarters at New Orleans. He also had charge of the improvements of the harbor of New Orleans and was a member of the board of engineer officers on building and repairs of levees on the Mississippi river. He expects this winter family in a few days. They are visiting friends on Puget sound for the present. This is Major McIndoe's first visit here.

DON'T RUB AND SCRATCH CURE THE SUMMER ITCHES

All Forms of Itch Caused by Warm Weather and Perspiration Can Quickly Be Cured.

Mosquito bites—nettle rash—prickly heat—bites and all forms of itch can be instantly relieved and quickly cured by a simple wash of oil of wintergreen and other purely vegetable compounds. If you are troubled with prickly heat, hives, rash or any form of itch common to hot weather, do not rub and scratch. Rubbing increases the itch and irritation, and many times resulting in a poisonous sore. Apply a few drops of this liquid and instantly the itch goes and you feel soothed, calmed and relieved. Mosquito bites, summer sores, poison ivy and the like will no longer trouble; in fact, the second and longer application will begin to allay the eruption.

This liquid is known as D. D. D. Prescription. It is the standard reliable eczema remedy and we positively vouch for its effectiveness in curing all mer rashes, mosquito bites, poison ivy, etc. For sale by Skidmore Drug Co., Woodward, Clark & Co.

NEW SKIN REMEDY

Creates Big Stir: Drug Stores Crowded With Buffers.

For several weeks past, Skidmore's and other leading drug stores in this city have been crowded with persons desiring a supply of poslam, the new cure for eczema. This is the drug which has effected such a stir throughout the country since its discovery one year ago.

For the convenience of those who use poslam for pimples, blackheads, blotches, red nose, acne, herpes and other minor skin troubles, a special 50-cent package has been adopted, in addition to the regular two dollar jar, which is now on sale at all leading drug stores.

In eczema cases, poslam stops the itching with first application and proceeds to heal, curing chronic cases in two weeks. In minor skin troubles, rashes show after an overnight application. For a free experimental sample, write direct to the Emergency Laboratories, 22 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City.

BREAD SCOURGE COVERS RUSSIA

Smallpox May Become One of Worst of the Great Historic Plagues.

(United Press Lined Wire.)

St. Petersburg, July 9.—An appeal for government aid in checking the ravages of smallpox, which is devastating Russia from the White to the Black sea and from the Baltic to Siberia, was made today by representatives of the affected districts. They declared that unless heroic efforts were taken Russia will be afflicted with the worst scourge in history. In several districts the death rate is 25 to 30 per cent. The disease's rapid spread is due partly to the lack of cleanliness in the masses, personal habits and laxity in enforcing sanitary measures.

CLAYTON IS SEATED AS CHAIRMAN

(Continued from Page One.)

In their action shall be interred with their bones.

"Grant, O God, that our political selves may be touched to higher issues by these national memories. Let us not forget, be these the monitors that tell us of the magnificence in political life, of fealty to principle, of honor and character and sincerity in manhood. And keeping close to these, when the day's work is ended, be our devotion, consciousness that thou, Judge of nations, art with us yet."

Bell recognized Delegate McWhiston of Pennsylvania, who declared that up to the present time he had been unable to secure badges and tickets for the eight Pennsylvania delegates seated by the convention last night.

Sullivan Is Heard.

Roger Sullivan of Illinois declared that he believed McWhiston was in error, as the national committee had provided for the delegates. It was finally ordered that the eight members be admitted and seated with the delegation.

Senator McCreary of Kentucky was recognized to present the report of the committee on permanent organization. It named Congressman Henry D. Clayton of Alabama as permanent chairman and made all of the temporary officials permanent.

So soon as the report of permanent organization had been adopted, Chairman Bell in a brief speech thanked the national committee for honoring him as temporary chairman and thanked the convention for the manner in which it had treated him. He declared that it was an honor to the Pacific coast that would be appreciated in every part of the states there, saying his selection was a tribute to the locality rather than to the individual.

He was enthusiastically cheered as he concluded, the delegates rising and waving flags, hats and fans. In a boisterous attempt to show their good will.

Hill then named as the committee to escort Permanent Chairman Clayton to the chair, Senator McCreary of Kentucky, Lewis Nixon of New York and Judge John E. Baker of California.

A Pleading Incident.

As Congressman Clayton started to speak, three little girls, garbed in the stars and stripes, ascended to the rostrum and presented him with a magnificent bouquet of roses. This was a pleasing incident that was followed by a loud outburst of applause, cheers and handclapping. The children, who were Irene, Catherine and Ida Smith, sisters, were lifted to the platform and the portly statesman from Alabama made a hit by kissing each.

Cries of "Hobson," "where's Hobson?" then came from the crowd, who recognized that the permanent chairman was a fellow-statesman of the hero of the Merrimack.

As soon as the noise caused by the incident had died down, Clayton began his speech.

[Note by editor.—The speech of Permanent Chairman Clayton may be found in full on page five in this issue of The Journal.]

Speeches During the Wait.

As the marchers passed out, Chairman Clayton recognized John W. Kern of Indiana, whose motion that a committee of three be named to ask the resolutions committee when it would be ready to report the platform, was carried. Kern, Pace of Alabama and Norman E. Mack of New York were named and they left at once to interview the committee.

Robbins of Chicago was then called to the platform to address the convention during the interval. He made a proper speech.

An Oklahoma delegate then demanded that Martin W. Littleton of New York be asked for an address. This brought Texas and New York to their feet and they yelled with delight as Littleton moved up to the platform.

"Politically," he said, "the message from New York to this convention is short. Whatever this convention does, both as to its candidate and its platform, New York will stand man and arm for the success of both and fight our hardest for victory."

The convention adjourned until 7 o'clock tonight.

CLAYTON IS SEATED AS CHAIRMAN

(Continued from Page One.)

In their action shall be interred with their bones.

"Grant, O God, that our political selves may be touched to higher issues by these national memories. Let us not forget, be these the monitors that tell us of the magnificence in political life, of fealty to principle, of honor and character and sincerity in manhood. And keeping close to these, when the day's work is ended, be our devotion, consciousness that thou, Judge of nations, art with us yet."

Bell recognized Delegate McWhiston of Pennsylvania, who declared that up to the present time he had been unable to secure badges and tickets for the eight Pennsylvania delegates seated by the convention last night.

Sullivan Is Heard.

Roger Sullivan of Illinois declared that he believed McWhiston was in error, as the national committee had provided for the delegates. It was finally ordered that the eight members be admitted and seated with the delegation.

Senator McCreary of Kentucky was recognized to present the report of the committee on permanent organization. It named Congressman Henry D. Clayton of Alabama as permanent chairman and made all of the temporary officials permanent.

So soon as the report of permanent organization had been adopted, Chairman Bell in a brief speech thanked the national committee for honoring him as temporary chairman and thanked the convention for the manner in which it had treated him. He declared that it was an honor to the Pacific coast that would be appreciated in every part of the states there, saying his selection was a tribute to the locality rather than to the individual.

He was enthusiastically cheered as he concluded, the delegates rising and waving flags, hats and fans. In a boisterous attempt to show their good will.

Hill then named as the committee to escort Permanent Chairman Clayton to the chair, Senator McCreary of Kentucky, Lewis Nixon of New York and Judge John E. Baker of California.

A Pleading Incident.

As Congressman Clayton started to speak, three little girls, garbed in the stars and stripes, ascended to the rostrum and presented him with a magnificent bouquet of roses. This was a pleasing incident that was followed by a loud outburst of applause, cheers and handclapping. The children, who were Irene, Catherine and Ida Smith, sisters, were lifted to the platform and the portly statesman from Alabama made a hit by kissing each.

Cries of "Hobson," "where's Hobson?" then came from the crowd, who recognized that the permanent chairman was a fellow-statesman of the hero of the Merrimack.

As soon as the noise caused by the incident had died down, Clayton began his speech.

[Note by editor.—The speech of Permanent Chairman Clayton may be found in full on page five in this issue of The Journal.]

Speeches During the Wait.

As the marchers passed out, Chairman Clayton recognized John W. Kern of Indiana, whose motion that a committee of three be named to ask the resolutions committee when it would be ready to report the platform, was carried. Kern, Pace of Alabama and Norman E. Mack of New York were named and they left at once to interview the committee.

Robbins of Chicago was then called to the platform to address the convention during the interval. He made a proper speech.

An Oklahoma delegate then demanded that Martin W. Littleton of New York be asked for an address. This brought Texas and New York to their feet and they yelled with delight as Littleton moved up to the platform.

"Politically," he said, "the message from New York to this convention is short. Whatever this convention does, both as to its candidate and its platform, New York will stand man and arm for the success of both and fight our hardest for victory."

The convention adjourned until 7 o'clock tonight.

CLAYTON IS SEATED AS CHAIRMAN

(Continued from Page One.)

In their action shall be interred with their bones.

"Grant, O God, that our political selves may be touched to higher issues by these national memories. Let us not forget, be these the monitors that tell us of the magnificence in political life, of fealty to principle, of honor and character and sincerity in manhood. And keeping close to these, when the day's work is ended, be our devotion, consciousness that thou, Judge of nations, art with us yet."

Bell recognized Delegate McWhiston of Pennsylvania, who declared that up to the present time he had been unable to secure badges and tickets for the eight Pennsylvania delegates seated by the convention last night.

Sullivan Is Heard.

Roger Sullivan of Illinois declared that he believed McWhiston was in error, as the national committee had provided for the delegates. It was finally ordered that the eight members be admitted and seated with the delegation.

Senator McCreary of Kentucky was recognized to present the report of the committee on permanent organization. It named Congressman Henry D. Clayton of Alabama as permanent chairman and made all of the temporary officials permanent.

So soon as the report of permanent organization had been adopted, Chairman Bell in a brief speech thanked the national committee for honoring him as temporary chairman and thanked the convention for the manner in which it had treated him. He declared that it was an honor to the Pacific coast that would be appreciated in every part of the states there, saying his selection was a tribute to the locality rather than to the individual.

He was enthusiastically cheered as he concluded, the delegates rising and waving flags, hats and fans. In a boisterous attempt to show their good will.

Hill then named as the committee to escort Permanent Chairman Clayton to the chair, Senator McCreary of Kentucky, Lewis Nixon of New York and Judge John E. Baker of California.

A Pleading Incident.

As Congressman Clayton started to speak, three little girls, garbed in the stars and stripes, ascended to the rostrum and presented him with a magnificent bouquet of roses. This was a pleasing incident that was followed by a loud outburst of applause, cheers and handclapping. The children, who were Irene, Catherine and Ida Smith, sisters, were lifted to the platform and the portly statesman from Alabama made a hit by kissing each.

Cries of "Hobson," "where's Hobson?" then came from the crowd, who recognized that the permanent chairman was a fellow-statesman of the hero of the Merrimack.

As soon as the noise caused by the incident had died down, Clayton began his speech.

[Note by editor.—The speech of Permanent Chairman Clayton may be found in full on page five in this issue of The Journal.]

Speeches During the Wait.

As the marchers passed out, Chairman Clayton recognized John W. Kern of Indiana, whose motion that a committee of three be named to ask the resolutions committee when it would be ready to report the platform, was carried. Kern, Pace of Alabama and Norman E. Mack of New York were named and they left at once to interview the committee.

Robbins of Chicago was then called to the platform to address the convention during the interval. He made a proper speech.

An Oklahoma delegate then demanded that Martin W. Littleton of New York be asked for an address. This brought Texas and New York to their feet and they yelled with delight as Littleton moved up to the platform.

"Politically," he said, "the message from New York to this convention is short. Whatever this convention does, both as to its candidate and its platform, New York will stand man and arm for the success of both and fight our hardest for victory."

The convention adjourned until 7 o'clock tonight.

CLAYTON IS SEATED AS CHAIRMAN

(Continued from Page One.)

In their action shall be interred with their bones.

"Grant, O God, that our political selves may be touched to higher issues by these national memories. Let us not forget, be these the monitors that tell us of the magnificence in political life, of fealty to principle, of honor and character and sincerity in manhood. And keeping close to these, when the day's work is ended, be our devotion, consciousness that thou, Judge of nations, art with us yet."

Bell recognized Delegate McWhiston of Pennsylvania, who declared that up to the present time he had been unable to secure badges and tickets for the eight Pennsylvania delegates seated by the convention last night.

Sullivan Is Heard.

Roger Sullivan of Illinois declared that he believed McWhiston was in error, as the national committee had provided for the delegates. It was finally ordered that the eight members be admitted and seated with the delegation.

Senator McCreary of Kentucky was recognized to present the report of the committee on permanent organization. It named Congressman Henry D. Clayton of Alabama as permanent chairman and made all of the temporary officials permanent.

So soon as the report of permanent organization had been adopted, Chairman Bell in a brief speech thanked the national committee for honoring him as temporary chairman and thanked the convention for the manner in which it had treated him. He declared that it was an honor to the Pacific coast that would be appreciated in every part of the states there, saying his selection was a tribute to the locality rather than to the individual.

He was enthusiastically cheered as he concluded, the delegates rising and waving flags, hats and fans. In a boisterous attempt to show their good will.

Hill then named as the committee to escort Permanent Chairman Clayton to the chair, Senator McCreary of Kentucky, Lewis Nixon of New York and Judge John E. Baker of California.

A Pleading Incident.

As Congressman Clayton started to speak, three little girls, garbed in the stars and stripes, ascended to the rostrum and presented him with a magnificent bouquet of roses. This was a pleasing incident that was followed by a loud outburst of applause, cheers and handclapping. The children, who were Irene, Catherine and Ida Smith, sisters, were lifted to the platform and the portly statesman from Alabama made a hit by kissing each.

Cries of "Hobson," "where's Hobson?" then came from the crowd, who recognized that the permanent chairman was a fellow-statesman of the hero of the Merrimack.

As soon as the noise caused by the incident had died down, Clayton began his speech.

[Note by editor.—The speech of Permanent Chairman Clayton may be found in full on page five in this issue of The Journal.]

Speeches During the Wait.

As the marchers passed out, Chairman Clayton recognized John W. Kern of Indiana, whose motion that a committee of three be named to ask the resolutions committee when it would be ready to report the platform, was carried. Kern, Pace of Alabama and Norman E. Mack of New York were named and they left at once to interview the committee.

Robbins of Chicago was then called to the platform to address the convention during the interval. He made a proper speech.

An Oklahoma delegate then demanded that Martin W. Littleton of New York be asked for an address. This brought Texas and New York to their feet and they yelled with delight as Littleton moved up to the platform.

"Politically," he said, "the message from New York to this convention is short. Whatever this convention does, both as to its candidate and its platform, New York will stand man and arm for the success of both and fight our hardest for victory."

The convention adjourned until 7 o'clock tonight.

CLAYTON IS SEATED AS CHAIRMAN

(Continued from Page One.)

In their action shall be interred with their bones.

"Grant, O God, that our political selves may be touched to higher issues by these national memories. Let us not forget, be these the monitors that tell us of the magnificence in political life, of fealty to principle, of honor and character and sincerity in manhood. And keeping close to these, when the day's work is ended, be our devotion, consciousness that thou, Judge of nations, art with us yet."

Bell recognized Delegate McWhiston of Pennsylvania, who declared that up to the present time he had been unable to secure badges and tickets for the eight Pennsylvania delegates seated by the convention last night.

Sullivan Is Heard.

Roger Sullivan of Illinois declared that he believed McWhiston was in error, as the national committee had provided for the delegates. It was finally ordered that the eight members be admitted and seated with the delegation.

Senator McCreary of Kentucky was recognized to present the report of the committee on permanent organization. It named Congressman Henry D. Clayton of Alabama as permanent chairman and made all of the temporary officials permanent.

So soon as the report of permanent organization had been adopted, Chairman Bell in a brief speech thanked the national committee for honoring him as temporary chairman and thanked the convention for the manner in which it had treated him. He declared that it was an honor to the Pacific coast that would be appreciated in every part of the states there, saying his selection was a tribute to the locality rather than to the individual.

He was enthusiastically cheered as he concluded, the delegates rising and waving flags, hats and fans. In a boisterous attempt to show their good will.

Hill then named as the committee to escort Permanent Chairman Clayton to the chair, Senator McCreary of Kentucky, Lewis Nixon of New York and Judge John E. Baker of California.

A Pleading Incident.

As Congressman Clayton started to speak, three little girls, garbed in the stars and stripes, ascended to the rostrum and presented him with a magnificent bouquet of roses. This was a pleasing incident that was followed by a loud outburst of applause, cheers and handclapping. The children, who were Irene, Catherine and Ida Smith, sisters, were lifted to the platform and the portly statesman from Alabama made a hit by kissing each.

Cries of "Hobson," "where's Hobson?" then came from the crowd, who recognized that the permanent chairman was a fellow-statesman of the hero of the Merrimack.

As soon as the noise caused by the incident had died down, Clayton began his speech.

[Note by editor.—The speech of Permanent Chairman Clayton may be found in full on page five in this issue of The Journal.]

Speeches During the Wait.

As the marchers passed out, Chairman Clayton recognized John W. Kern of Indiana, whose motion that a committee of three be named to ask the resolutions committee when it would be ready to report the platform, was carried. Kern, Pace of Alabama and Norman E. Mack of New York were named and they left at once to interview the committee.

Robbins of Chicago was then called to the platform to address the convention during the interval. He made a proper speech.

An Oklahoma delegate then demanded that Martin W. Littleton of New York be asked for an address. This brought Texas and New York to their feet and they yelled with delight as Littleton moved up to the platform.

"Politically," he said, "the message from New York to this convention is short. Whatever this convention does, both as to its candidate and its platform, New York will stand man and arm for the success of both and fight our hardest for victory."

The convention adjourned until 7 o'clock tonight.

CLAYTON IS SEATED AS CHAIRMAN

(Continued from Page One.)

In their action shall be interred with their bones.

"Grant, O God, that our political selves may be touched to higher issues by these national memories. Let us not forget, be these the monitors that tell us of the magnificence in political life, of fealty to principle, of honor and character and sincerity in manhood. And keeping close to these, when the day's work is ended, be our devotion, consciousness that thou, Judge of nations, art with us yet."

Bell recognized Delegate McWhiston of Pennsylvania, who declared that up to the present time he had been unable to secure badges and tickets for the eight Pennsylvania delegates seated by the convention last night.

Sullivan Is Heard.

Roger Sullivan of Illinois declared that he believed McWhiston was in error, as the national committee had provided for the delegates. It was finally ordered that the eight members be admitted and seated with the delegation.

Senator McCreary of Kentucky was recognized to present the report of the committee on permanent organization. It named Congressman Henry D. Clayton of Alabama as permanent chairman and made all of the temporary officials permanent.

So soon as the report of permanent organization had been adopted, Chairman Bell in a brief speech thanked the national committee for honoring him as temporary chairman and thanked the convention for the manner in which it had treated him. He declared that it was an honor to the Pacific coast that would be appreciated in every part of the states there, saying his selection was a tribute to the locality rather than to the individual.

He was enthusiastically cheered as he concluded, the delegates rising and waving flags, hats and fans. In a boisterous attempt to show their good will.

Hill then named as the committee to escort Permanent Chairman Clayton to the chair, Senator McCreary of Kentucky, Lewis Nixon of New York and Judge John E. Baker of California.

A Pleading Incident.

As Congressman Clayton started to speak, three little girls, garbed in the stars and stripes, ascended to the rostrum and presented him with a magnificent bouquet of roses. This was a pleasing incident that was followed by a loud outburst of applause, cheers and handclapping. The children, who were Irene, Catherine and Ida Smith, sisters, were lifted to the platform and the portly statesman from Alabama made a hit by kissing each.

Cries of "Hobson," "where's Hobson?" then came from the crowd, who recognized that the permanent chairman was a fellow-statesman of the hero of the Merrimack.

As soon as the noise caused by the incident had died down, Clayton began his speech.

[Note by editor.—The speech of Permanent Chairman Clayton may be found in full on page five in this issue of The Journal.]

Speeches During the Wait.

As the marchers passed out, Chairman Clayton recognized John W. Kern of Indiana, whose motion that a committee of three be named to ask the resolutions committee when it would be ready to report the platform, was carried. Kern, Pace of Alabama and Norman E. Mack of New York were named and they left at once to interview the committee.

Robbins of Chicago was then called to the platform to address the convention during the interval. He made a proper speech.

An Oklahoma delegate then demanded that Martin W. Littleton of New York be asked for an address. This brought Texas and New York to their feet and they yelled with delight as Littleton moved up to the platform.

"Politically," he said, "the message from New York to this convention is short. Whatever this convention does, both as to its candidate and its platform, New York will stand man and arm for the success of both and fight our hardest for victory."

The convention adjourned until 7 o'clock tonight.

CLAYTON IS SEATED AS CHAIRMAN

(Continued from Page One.)

In their action shall be interred with their bones.

"Grant, O God, that our political selves may be touched to higher issues by these national memories. Let us not forget, be these the monitors that tell us of the magnificence in political life, of fealty to principle, of honor and character and sincerity in manhood. And keeping close to these, when the day's work is ended, be our devotion, consciousness that thou, Judge of nations, art with us yet."

Bell recognized Delegate McWhiston of Pennsylvania, who declared that up to the present time he had been unable to secure badges and tickets for the eight Pennsylvania delegates seated by the convention last night.

Sullivan Is Heard.

Roger Sullivan of Illinois declared that he believed McWhiston was in error, as the national committee had provided for the delegates. It was finally ordered that the eight members be admitted and seated with the delegation.

Senator McCreary of Kentucky was recognized to present the report of the committee on permanent organization. It named Congressman Henry D. Clayton of Alabama as permanent chairman and made all of the temporary officials permanent.

So soon as the report of permanent organization had been adopted, Chairman Bell in a brief speech thanked the national committee for honoring him as temporary chairman and thanked the convention for the manner in which it had treated him. He declared that it was an honor to the Pacific coast that would be appreciated in every part of the states there, saying his selection was a tribute to the locality rather than to the individual.

He was enthusiastically cheered as he concluded, the delegates rising and waving flags, hats and fans. In a boisterous attempt to show their good will.

Hill then named as the committee to escort Permanent Chairman Clayton to the chair, Senator McCreary of Kentucky, Lewis Nixon of New York and Judge John E. Baker of California.

A Pleading Incident.

As Congressman Clayton started to speak, three little girls, garbed in the stars and stripes, ascended to the rostrum and presented him with a magnificent bouquet of roses. This was a pleasing incident that was followed by a loud outburst of applause, cheers and handclapping. The children, who were Irene, Catherine and Ida Smith, sisters, were lifted to the platform and the portly statesman from Alabama made a hit by kissing each.

Cries of "Hobson," "where's Hobson?" then came from the crowd, who recognized that the permanent chairman was a fellow-statesman of the hero of the Merrimack.

As soon as the noise caused by the incident had died down, Clayton began his speech.

[Note by editor.—The speech of Permanent Chairman Clayton may be found in full on page five in this issue of The Journal.]

Speeches During the Wait.

As the marchers passed out, Chairman Clayton recognized John W. Kern of Indiana, whose motion that a committee of three be named to ask the resolutions committee when it would be ready to report the platform, was carried. Kern, Pace of Alabama and Norman E. Mack of New York were named and they left at once to interview the committee.

Robbins of Chicago was then called to the platform to address the convention during the interval. He made a proper speech.

An Oklahoma delegate then demanded that Martin W. Littleton of New York be asked for an address. This brought Texas and New York to their feet and they yelled with delight as Littleton moved up to the platform.

"Politically," he said, "the message from New York to this convention is short. Whatever this convention does, both as to its candidate and its platform, New York will stand man and arm for the success of both and fight our hardest for victory."

The convention adjourned until 7 o'clock tonight.

The Best in Quality

Roberts Bros

THIRD AND MORRISON

The Most in Value

Roberts Bros

THIRD AND MORRISON

Our 453<sup>d</sup> Bargain Friday Sale

Don't Forget! These Are Money Saving Days to You Here -- This Is Our Clearance Time

Our Profitless time—Your Bargain Harvest time—At this store every department is teeming with seasonable goods marked at Hurry-Away prices. Avail yourself of the remarkable values offered for tomorrow. In some cases the lots are small and may not last the day, so if you are at all anxious to secure some of these wonderful values you had better reach our store just as early as possible after we open our doors in the morning.

Of Course You Will Be Present

Red Tickets Will Tell You of the Specials

A Great Sale of Fine Silks

We made unusually large preparations to insure extraordinary silk selling during July, and these silk offerings for tomorrow constitute one of the most important features of our Bargain Friday Sale. Thousands of women know that we have the best silk values all the year around, and they know equally well that our special sale offerings are unmatched values. There's some among these lots for YOU, surely.

27-in. Rough Pongees
Comes in the newest shades of brown, blue, green, etc. Warranted all pure silk. Extraordinary value at this price.

27-in. Wash Silks
Printed Jap Wash Silks of extra fine quality. Come in an endless variety of neat small designs, in pretty colorings.

19-in. Fancy Silks
Loulisenes and Taffetas in a great assortment—pin stripes, small checks, broken checks, dots, figures, etc., etc. All new and desirable.

Solid Colored Silks
Broken lines of solid-colored Loulisenes, Messalines, Liberty Satin, Chiffon Taffetas, Peas de Cygne, etc., in correct up-to-date shades, desirable in every respect. Values up to $1.00 a yard.

New Silks
Vals. to $1 Yd. at 49c

This Season's Most Fashionable Silks. In Every Wanted Weave and Color.

36-in. Lining Taffetas
A solid, durable Lining Silk of guaranteed quality. Comes in all wanted shades and black.

26-in. Jap Silks
Cream grounds with Jacquard designs. Soft, cool and durable. Nothing nicer for summer wear.

Black Swiss Taffeta
Strictly all pure silk, brilliant finish, warranted to wear; deep, rich black. A great bargain at this low price.

23-in. Foulard Silks
All Silk and Satin Foulards in a complete showing of the latest and best designs. Stripe and figured effects in the popular new shades—Copenhagen blue, golden brown, tan, navy, black, white, etc., etc.; 75c and 85c values included in this sale.

An Underpriced Sale of Embroideries

Here is an event which presents very unusual bargain features, the chance to make every dollar go as far as two, where lavish display and beauty of goods are coupled with splendid saving opportunities; come early; we anticipate rapid selling.

25c Embroideries 10c
A special Friday offering of a beautiful line of Embroideries and Insertions to match, with edges from 3 to 6 inches wide; 25c value, special for Bargain Friday..... 10c

Laces at 19c
Another special Bargain Friday offering of wide Lace Bands, Insertions, Edgings and Flouncings, 6 to 18 inches wide; also new French patterns in 18-inch Corset Cover Embroideries; all this season's newest productions; values up to 65c, special for Bargain Friday..... 19c

Lace Bands, Specially Priced 25c
A special Bargain Friday offering of a fine line of Laces, consisting of Venice bands, galloon bands, Irish point bands and edges, appliques and combination Venice and baby Irish insertion; values up to $2 yard, special for Bargain Friday..... 25c

35c Embroideries 12c
A full line of Embroideries and Insertions to match, from 3 to 10 inches wide, made of fine sheer Swiss and nainsook; values up to 12c a yard, special for Bargain Friday..... 12c

Embroidery at 35c
A beautiful assortment of fine 18-inch Corset Cover Embroidery, from the dainty small patterns to the large scroll effect, embroidered on fine grade Swiss, chiffon cloth, nainsook and Hamburg; not a pattern in the entire lot less than 75c and up to $1.25, special for Bargain Friday..... 35c

Embroideries at 5c
A special line of dainty Embroideries and Insertion to match with edges, from 3 to 6 inches wide; regular 10c and 12c values, we close out the entire line Bargain Friday at..... 5c

Women's Knit Underwear

Two Special Values

If you wish to buy seasonable, well-made Knit Underwear of excellent quality at a saving, come tomorrow without fail. Here are two special offerings from our regular summer stock:

Umbrella Pants 75c Values at 39c
A sale of Women's Fine White Lisle Wide Knee-Length Pants, umbrella style, trimmed with fine English Torchon lace, made with French sateen band and tight top. Extra value at 75c. Priced for this sale Bargain Friday..... 39c

Sleeveless Vests 50c Values at 39c
A special sale of Women's Fine White Swiss-Ribbed Sleeveless Vests, with yokes trimmed with fine Valenciennes lace and silk tape—vests that have always sold at 50c, on sale Bargain Friday..... 39c

Special Friday Sale Undermuslins & Aprons

Muslin Drawers
AT 39c—An extra fine line of muslin drawers, made of good quality cambric with lawn flounce, trimmed with rows of neat hem-stitched tucks and wide ruffle of embroidery. These garments are made extra full and well finished; best 65c values; special for Bargain Friday..... 39c

Sateen Aprons
AT 19c—A special line of black sateen aprons, made of extra good quality sateen in the plain straight or round style, with wide ruffle, all are finished with pocket and long ties; best 25c grade; special for Bargain Friday..... 19c

Bargain Friday Specials in the Domestic Section

The list for tomorrow's sale tells of values that are decidedly better than usual. If you want a little money to go a long way in buying for the home or person, come to this sale.

3000 Yards of Percales</