JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS WILL SPEAK TOMORROW

Prominent Democrat Cannot Reach the Chautauqua Grounds Before This Evening at the Earliest—Cooler Weather Adds to Pleasures.

German day is to be celebrated by the German societies of Portland October 6. Delegates of the societies met at the home of Otto Kleemann recently and made arrangements for the observance of the day.

A train wreck, a faulty time-table, or a Democratic National convention? This was the question that presented itself to Manager Cross, when, at a late hour yesterday afternoon he received a telegram from up Denver saying John Sharp Williams had been unavoidably delayed, and it would be impossible to reach Gladstone Park before the opening of the observance of German day is in commemoration of the landing of the first Germans in America in Pennsylvania.

and is a student along all lines that make for progress and betterment. Although the meeting was at the same hour as the Forum she held a good-sized audience to the close of the hour. The Round Table at 3:30 this afternoon will be under the auspices of the Young Woman's Christian Association and the topic will be "The Oregon Girl" and it is expected that the Oregon girl will discuss herself, which means that some of the young women who have had business and social experiences will give some interesting accounts of themselves.

The mid-summer picnic of the Mazamas will be held Saturday, July 11, at 6 p. m., on Portland Heights, on the slope west of the Castle. Take the Portland Heights car to Clifton street, go east to end of street, around point of hill, then follow trail along hillside to the Castle. All interested in the objects of the club are invited, whether members or not. Bring your own lunch, cup and spoon; the club will furnish coffee, cream and sugar. A good time is promised.

Cooler Weather Acceptable. The overcasting of the sun by a few floating clouds this morning may have pleased by every camper on the Gladstone grounds, as well as the excellent victuals for evening in these classes, and under the historic oak the weather has been hot, and there could be no temporizing in describing Old Oregon as the best of the best.

It was not exactly "47 minutes of unabated applause" that greeted Professor Knox last night after a group of his inimitable readers, but it was prolonged and persistent enough to bring to the face of President Hawley the look we imagine he wears when he encounters the opposition on a waterways proposition—only before this he was to sing, and with her appearance the audience was too gallant to continue longer its silent and grave faces. But there is no getting away from the fact that he is a prime favorite, whom the audience never tires of and this is unusual praise for an orator.

An athletic test is being conducted at Multnomah field today for the benefit of men who would like to become members of the city fire department. The tests are under the direction of Secretary W. W. Mcintosh of the municipal civil service commission, and include all sorts of athletic contests from running 80 yards to jumping into life nets. The tests are being conducted for candidates for the positions of hose-men, drivers and truckmen.

Round Table Interesting. At the W. C. T. U. Round Table yesterday, under the direction of Mrs. Henrietta B. Miller, a paper was introduced and gave a most interesting address on "Woman in Moral Reform." She spoke particularly of the educational work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in securing the scientific temperance instruction law, which makes it compulsory that certain demonstrated scientific facts concerning stimulants and narcotics shall be taught in the public schools and gave facts which showed conclusively the marvelous results of this teaching on the moral character of the child.

Another educational branch spoken of was the Loyal Temperance legion, which has a regular course of study—scientific, ethical and social. Mrs. Urnui spoke enthusiastically of other reform methods that had been developed and brought to fruition by women, showing conclusively that they were in the forefront of the battle being waged for the uplifting and betterment for home, social and national life.

The Ancient Order of United Workmen will hold their regular biennial meeting in Woodman hall July 21, for a session of the city hall law for three days, and will conclude with the election of officers on July 23. During the convention there will be several amendments to the constitution of the order considered, while various recommendations will be made by the different outgoing officials.

Captured by College Students. Today Chautauqua camp is in possession of a joyous, rollicking crowd of students of the city colleges, as well as Portland day. Every tent, whether it be a private one or headquarters, if it holds a college boy or girl, carries the flag of the favorite pennant, and from the tent flap came a head with shrieks and yells for the colors that had been raised to do honor to somebody's alma mater.

At the close of the address Mrs. J. S. Hamilton of Portland sang "A Song of Praise." Her rich voice rang out in clear musical cadences and filled the large Auditorium. The number was one of rare merit and exceptionally well rendered.

Arrangements are being completed for the laying of the corner stone of the new Odd Fellows building at the southeast corner of East Sixth and Alder streets. There has been a delay in the ceremonies because of the delay in the arrival of iron work for the floor of the building. It is expected that this work can be done within a few days, however, and that the laying of the corner stone ceremony will soon be made.

Nothing could have been more acceptable or appropriate than that the President of our State university should so graciously speak at the graduation of the matter of a suitable and dignified appropriation for the University of Oregon to speak today. A well-circulated and referred to on the rostrum at Gladstone Park, and the institution was undergoing the throes of insufficiency of funds to weather it through the year, to say nothing of the years to come.

Standing Room Only. This was figuratively speaking the sign that went up last night at the dormitory of the city hall. Every cot and mattress was full and some of the other headquarters were crowded upon the benches. The many young women who wanted to stay on the grounds under safe and comfortable conditions. There are no two better than Miss Copeland and Miss Gage and Miss Copeland who have this work in charge.

The Portland chamber of commerce trustees have elected the following new members to that organization: Covey Motor Car company, Anglo-American Concrete, Marble & Tile company, National Portland Cement, National Bond & Underwriting company, Rodgers-Hart-Gibson company (land and real estate), Rose City Motor Car works.

College day has drawn the attention of many of the modest little school-children of the Monmouth Normal school, which is quietly distributing its literature and working up an interest in the devotion of its faculty and faculty of the citizens of Monmouth has the school been able to remain open. To those who are interested on one of the most interesting Chautauqua days this opportunity for further investigation of the subject.

Double Attraction Tomorrow. The statesman that has arrived and the coming citizen will meet in friendly competition for the honors of tomorrow. No doubt Saturday being a half holiday will bring to the grounds many men to hear John Sharp Williams, who would have been prevented through business, from hearing him today, and in this particular the "accident" was perhaps a fortunate one.

City Engineer D. H. Guillard and the members of the city council of Lewiston, Idaho, were visitors at the city hall yesterday to study Portland's system of conducting street improvements. The party left last evening for Seattle, where they will make a similar examination.

Today's Special Features. The Council of Jewish women have charge of the lecture at the lecture of Woman's club's tent today, and the 10 a. m. car brought up a large delegation of the members of the council. The housewife for the institute meeting was slipped on an hour, so many could not get out so early. Miss Clark, who is in charge of the institute, is a most earnest and impressive speaker.

Reception Postponed. The reception that was to be tendered Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Hawley and Miss Clark today by the club women, owing to the non-arrival of Mrs. Williams, has been postponed until tomorrow.

Rev. D. L. Rader of Portland, the editor of the Pacific Christian Advocate, will speak at the Epworth Methodist church at 11 o'clock Sunday evening. The subject will be "The Missionary Work of the Church," he having taken a trip through the foreign field.

AT THE THEATRES

Fun at the Grand. There is fun at the Grand where cheerful vaudeville, such as is best liked in summer, is being presented. Miss Anna Hamilton and her sensational dramatic sketch, "Beggars," is the feature. It is one of the greatest little acts in vaudeville. Oscar Lorraine, the protein violinist, is a hit with his selections.

Portland Girl Coming. Miss Anna Bingham, the premier whistler of vaudeville, comes to the Grand next week as the special added attraction. Miss Bingham is a Portland girl who has made a distinct success in vaudeville with her specialties.

Unique Dancing at the Oaks. Admirers of specialty dancing can see something that has not been presented in Portland prior to this time by a visit to the Aldome at The Oaks, where the Allen Curtis Comedy company is presenting the smilful farce "The Head Waiters." Albert Leonard does a dancing stunt that is entirely new.

Grand's Summer Show. There is a summer show at the Grand this week, typical of the heated term. The theatre is cool and the vaudeville bill good, so that the combination is most favorable. Ann Hamilton in her dramatic playlet, "Beggars" is the special feature and it is one sketch no one should miss.

"A Circus Girl" Tonight. Once again the Blunkell-Atwood stock company will cover itself with glory in a repetition of that brilliant farce comedy, "A Circus Girl," which will be repeated tonight. Those who have already seen it are loud in praising it as the funniest show of the year.

TWILIGHT SERVICES IN CENTENARY CHURCH. Centenary Methodist church, corner of East Ninth and Pine streets, has decided to unite all its forces for a summer campaign. Instead of closing the church Sunday nights during the summer months, a twilight service will be held from 7 to 8, thus closing before dark. The Wesley Epworth league will lead the first half hour one week and the Thoburn league the next.

Dr. Clarence True Wilson will deliver a series of Sunday night lectures on "Science and Religion," as follows: August 16, "Scientific Light on Prayer"; August 23, "Scientific Light on the New Man"; August 30, "Cause and Effect in Retribution"; August 6, "How God Made Things, How Account for Evil"; July 26, "Does Science Help Us Understand Christ?"; August 13, "Modern Science and the Holy Spirit"; August 20, "Scientific Light on Prayer"; August 27, "Scientific Light on the New Man"; August 3, "Cause and Effect in Retribution."
