ILFORD WILL BE HERE NEXT WEEK

British Tramp Will Carry Valuable Lumber Cargo.

GOES TO DENMARK AND GERMANY

Left Guaymas, Mexico, About Three Days Ago and Is Now Well Along Up the Coast—Dollar Liners Will Load Lumber for Orient.

The British steamer Ilford has left Guaymas, Mexico, for the Columbia river and should arrive about next Tuesday. She comes in ballast to carry a full cargo of lumber to Copenhagen and Hamburg under charter to the L. P. Lee Lumber company and the Oregon Pine Export Lumber company.

The Ilford will carry away the most valuable lumber cargo ever set afloat from this port, it being estimated at a value of more than $100,000. It will consist of high-class decking and spars for use at the large European shipbuilding plants. The cargo will measure about 3,500,000 feet and will be furnished by the mills of the Hammond Lumber company, the Portland Lumber company and the Inman-Poulsen Lumber company.

According to an announcement made this morning the British steamer M. S. Dollar will also be here in a few days to begin loading lumber for the orient. She will receive her cargo at Linnton. The M. S. Dollar belongs to the Dollar line of steamers, which is owned by American capital but operated under the British flag. The large Bessie Dollar was here a few months ago and took a cargo of lumber, flour and miscellaneous freight to Japan for Mitsui & Co. and other shippers. The Hazel Dollar is the largest of the fleet, her net register being 3,581 tons. She is at Moji, Japan, booked to sail for San Francisco and will probably follow the M. S. Dollar out of here, since it has been decided to make future lumber shipments out of this port instead of Puget sound.

AUGUST PILOT CHART

Mouth of Typhoons in East Asiatic Waters Is Rapidly Approaching.

The hydrographic department has issued its monthly pilot for the North Pacific ocean, giving data pertaining to weather and wind in August. It is not to be construed as a forecast, but gives average conditions that might be anticipated during the month.

According to the chart, northwesterly winds will prevail mostly during the month along the American coast and with increasing frequency. This will give southbound vessels the advantage of weather and time while northbound craft will have to struggle for every mile of sea covered.

Asiatic liners will probably have some rough sailing next month because records of the past show that typhoons occur with the greatest frequency during August and September in east Asiatic waters. Four, five or even six of these dreaded storms may be expected during each of those months.

RIVER CAPTAINS ARRESTED

Port Engineer Accuses Spencer and McCully of Exceeding Speed Limit.

Captain Charles Spencer of the steamer Chas. R. Spencer and Captain W. W. McCully of the steamer Lurline were arrested this morning by Harbormaster Speier upon warrants sworn to by Engineer J. B. C. Lockwood of the Port of Portland charging them with exceeding the speed limit in the lower harbor.

It was last Monday morning that it is alleged the steamers passed the dredge Columbia at work near the flour mills at a speed greater than that permitted by the rules of the port and stirred up swells that gave the dredge and its floating pipeline considerable trouble.

The two steamboat captains were released upon $100 bail each and their cases will come up in the municipal court next Thursday.

BRINGS BIG FREIGHT

Steamer Alliance Arrives From Coos Bay After Pleasant Voyage.

With a large cargo of freight and about 30 passengers, the steamer Alliance, Captain Olson, arrived at Couch street dock last night from Coos Bay. She experienced fine weather all the way north.

The freight consisted of native products of the rich Coos Bay country, including a large shipment of condensed milk, hides, lumber and mill work, the latter booked for transshipment east. The condensed milk shipment was the largest brought here since the factory began sending out its product. The Alliance is booked to sail for Coos Saturday night.

The steamer City of Panama, Captain Fraser, left Oak street dock last night for Coos Bay with a full cargo of freight and a large passenger list. She is being operated in place of the steamer Breakwater which is now undergoing a thorough overhauling at San Francisco.

ALONG THE WATERFRONT.

The steam schooner Homer sails for San Francisco tomorrow night. She arrived here yesterday with general cargo.

The steam schooner Northland is loading wheat for San Pedro. She will take a deckload of lumber.

The oriental liner Nicomedia will probably have to go on the drydock to have some kinks taken out of the propeller. Somehow one of the blades was bent in coming from Kobe. It was not discovered until enough cargo had been brought out of the hold to bring the wheel partly above water.

Captain Amos, owner of the launch Eva, will build another large launch next fall. The Eva is popular as an excursion boat and the new craft will be equipped along even better lines for that purpose.

Captain Frederick Bolles, inspector of hulls at San Francisco, is in Portland spending a short vacation.

Columbia river pilots will begin making their annual survey of the river from Portland to the sea next month. Pilot Harry Emken has applied to Major MacIndoe, United States engineers corps, for use of a government tug in carrying on the work.

Assistant United States Inspectors Ames and Welden will leave for Coos Bay on the steamer Alliance which sails Saturday night.

The local weather bureau this morning received the following wireless message from the steamer President: July 16, 8 a. m. latitude 45:46 north, longitude 124:50 west. Barometer 30.20, thermometer 56. Light southerly wind, smooth sea, weather clear.

UNCLE SAM KEEPS WATCHFUL EYE ON PORTLAND'S WATER SUPPLY

In view of the fact that Mayor Lane has announced the immediate beginning of construction work on the second Bull Run pipe line it will interest the public to know that there is no danger of the water supply ever being diminished by reason of the sale of timber from the Bull Run forest.

Although timber on a reserve is sold whenever it has matured or is dead, an exception is made in the case of water sheds where a community depends upon the forest protection for the continuation of its water supply.

Few people knew anything about the United States forestry regulations. Many newspapers have a wrong idea in this connection, too. It is the general opinion that the government reserves vast tracts of timber absolutely without allowing a single tree to be sold for private use.

This is not true. The forestry bureau, on the contrary, sells all the mature and dead timber available for use in the national forests.

Last year $75,000 was derived from this source of revenue in this state. Of this sum the counties in which the timber which was sold stood, get 10 per cent in accordance with the bill passed through the instrumentality of Senator Fulton a year ago last spring.

This year the amount which the counties receive has been increased to 25 per cent. The money thus turned over to the county goes into the fund for the building of roads and school houses.

TO SAVE MONEY TREAT GAS METER AS IF IT HAD A HEADACHE

When you have a scheme to save money, spread the news. Here's a new one:

"It works best in the summer time, when the weather is waxing hot," a man said this morning as he began to talk of his ingenious discovery of how he reduces his gas bill each month.

"And furthermore, I consider my scheme legitimate in every respect. All one has to do to prevent his gas bill from being as much as is ordinary is to swath the gas meter in a wet flannel cloth. Underneath the cloth to catch the drippings place a pan. Change the cloth and water every day.

"Explanation? Don't ask me. I don't know. But it works. The wet cloth in no ways affects the mechanism of the meter—it just reduces the monthly gas bill. When the inspector is about due I remove the cloth. A friend told me about this wet cloth plan. I told another friend. The news is spreading. I tell you it's a great scheme. Try it."

G. O. P. CAMPAIGN TO OPEN HERE THIS MONTH

Oregon Republicans Will Get Busy Soon After Colorado Meeting.

Republican party leaders and workers will not know just what to do until after the conference of state committeemen and state chairmen to be held at Colorado Springs July 20. Following that gathering, at which National Chairman Frank Hitchcock will outline the work to be done, the different state committees will be able to start in on the work of the campaign.

There will be a meeting of the Oregon Republican state central committee as soon after the adjournment of the Colorado Springs convention, as it is possible for the state chairman and state committeemen to return to Portland and issue the call for the meeting. At that meeting the plans for the Oregon campaign will be outlined.

W. M. Cake, state chairman, and Ralph E. Williams, state committeeman, will leave the latter part of the week for the gathering at Colorado Springs. It is expected that they will be able to return to Portland by July 25, and that the meeting of the state committee will be called between that time and the first of the coming month.

State Chairman Cake, it would appear, has changed his mind and will not resign his position at the head of the Republican state central committee. It had been all fixed up that the way to step out of the office, and that another Portland man was to take his place, but some cog seems to have slipped, for it is now understood that the business affairs of the chairman are such that he can remain at the head of the party organization during the presidential campaign.

COOPERATIVE MILL TO MAKE WOOLEN GOODS

It is proposed by a Portland company to establish a cooperative woolen mill at Gordon Falls, about 28 miles east of Portland, on the O. R. & N. railroad line and near the Columbia river bank. A syndicate including George L. Peaslee and Charles E. Coopey of Portland, E. Y. Judd of Pendleton, and T. Oliver Loud, a Massachusetts man, will incorporate with a capital stock of $225,000.

The new company is to be known as the Gordan Falls Electric & Manufacturing company and will develop water power from a cascade that drops over the Columbia river cliffs not far from Bridal Veil falls. The new textile town will be known as Gordon Falls. The company has acquired 840 acres of land at this point, embracing the water power site, and between two and three miles of frontage on the Columbia river.

The manufacturing plant will handle the production of wool fabrics, Indian blankets and excelsior. The land holdings include considerable timber. It is said a purchase of the Pendleton Woolen Mills company has been effected and that this plant will be removed to Gordon Falls and incorporated into the modern plant to be erected there.

The promoters will incorporate a number of cooperative features into the business and the townsite. Employees will share in the ownership and profits of the plant. The town will have a public park, gymnasium, hotel and other cooperative features.

CREDIT MEN ELECT OFFICERS

The Portland Association of Credit Men met in annual session last night in the convention hall of the Commercial club for the purpose of electing a full set of officers for the ensuing year. Prior to the selection of officers Charles L. Hughes of Hartman & Thompson read a paper on "Fidelity Bonds," which provoked a general discussion by the members of the association.

The secretary's report showed an increase in membership for the year of 24, the largest accession since the association was organized in 1896.

Officers as follows were chosen: President, E. E. Tressler; vice-president, H. K. Arnold; secretary, E. M. Underwood; treasurer, John A. Keating; executive committee, George E. Frost, Paul De Haas and D. R. Young. The next meeting of the association will be held the third Wednesday in October, when a banquet will be given.

Work will be resumed at the Kelly Butte rockpile today after a week of suspension during the progress of repairs on the machinery. The prisoners have been kept busy cleaning away dirt from the quarry.

SALEM BIDS FOR AUTO ENTHUSIASTS

A good automobile road between Portland and Salem makes it possible for tourists to travel between the two points by three routes, either the Southern Pacific, the Oregon electric, or by benzine buggy. The promoters of the Salem cherry fair urge that Portland automobilists should go en masse to the fair next Saturday. A large number of auto owners will accept the invitation.

A Salem delegation that came to Portland yesterday to interest local business men in the excursion received a hearty response, and about 75 Portland men gave their pledges to attend the fair. Many will take their families and make the trip by automobile. Others will go by electric car or Southern Pacific railway. Both railroad lines will make special rates. The following have signed the list of excursionists:

W. L. Boise, Tom Richardson, W. J. Clemens, Otto Breyman, I. H. Bragg, P. Lowengart, Jay Smith, Fred Muller, Henry Hahn, Leo Friede, J. B. Miekle, J. C. Ainsworth, H. W. Fries, Alex Nibley, F. B. KEEN-EDGED ROBBERY HAS SAD ENDING

Thomas Fisher tried a new wrinkle robbery, and consequently he has been held under $1,500 bond, unfurnished, to appear before the grand jury.

Fisher went into the room of Joseph Wolf, 55 Fifth street, Monday and offered to sell a razor, asking $1 for it. Wolf produced a handful of silver, $5 in all, and just as he was picking out a cartwheel, Fisher drew a revolver and demanded all the money in sight. The razor deal was off quickly. Fisher's arrest soon followed.

Mrs. L. A. Githens.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Athena, Or., July 16.—Mrs. L. A. Githens, wife of the Athena postmaster, died at the home of her daughter at Bandon, Or., yesterday. Mrs. Githens had long been a sufferer from consumption, and was about 55 years of age. She was taken to Bandon some weeks ago in hopes that the change would benefit here. Besides her husband she leaves one son and four daughters. The remains will be interred at Bandon.

GROCERS SORRY IT'S ALL OVER

Bonneville Picnic Eclipses All Others in Features and Attendance.

Many tales of prowess are being related by Portland grocers today as the aftermath of their second annual picnic which was held in Bonneville yesterday. From every standpoint the picnic was a success; there was not an accident to detract from the pleasure of the affair and everyone returned home last night safe and happy.

Rain and mosquitoes, the two archenemies of picnickers, just threatened enough to make their absence noticeable and the grocers thankful. When the two excursion trains reached the park a small herd of mosquitoes swooped down, but a score or so of smudges were built and the insects did not reappear again until evening.

It was the same way with the rain. There was a slight sprinkle early in the morning and another the last 20 minutes of the afternoon—just enough to give the men a chance to wrap their coats around the girls, and it was therefore regarded in the nature of a blessing in disguise.

Interest centered around the various sports and games, especially the ball game between the grocers and the salesmen, which was won by the grocers by a score of 10 to 8. In the baby show Mary Bement was chosen as the prettiest baby. The biggest family on the ground numbered 13 souls, but unfortunately the committee lost the common surname—not, however, until after the prize had been presented. In the prize waltzing contest the first winners were lost, but Miss Nelly Troy of the Retail Grocers' association and Charles Holbrook with their Yale sidestep carried off second.

The prize winners in the various contests were as follows:

Shoe race—G. W. Long, first; Fred Hoffman, second; A. E. Deyoe, third.

Poetry writing contest—Mrs. S. B. Vincent, first; W. J. Prendegast, second.

Boys' 100-yard dash—Grinnell, first; Clark, second; Purnell, third.

Running broad jump—Livingstone, first; Robinson, second; Hamilton, third.

Salesmen's 100-yard dash—Kelt, first; Breed, second; Hoffman, third.

Grocers' clerks race—Clay, first; Schoenborn, second; Scales, third.

Fat men's race—Fromuehlen, first; Chehak, second; Oberg, third.

Grocers' 100-yard dash—Hamilton, first; Lawson, second; Long, third.

Grocers' wives' race—Mrs. Brown, first; Mrs. McMillen, second; Mrs. Voelker, third.

Race for girls under 15—Maud Tyler, first; Mildred Monahan, second; Ruth Daly, third.

Ladies' egg race—Mrs. Voelker, first; Mrs. Klink, second; Mrs. McMillen, third.

Girls' egg race—Mildred Freeman, first; Alice Campbell, second; Louise Masters, third.

Sack race, 25 yards—Robinson, first; Livingstone, second; Thurston, third.

Baseball throwing contest—Breed, first; Schoenborn, second; Jamison, third.

Boys' pie-eating contest—Rider, first; Livingstone, second.

Ladies' tug-of-war—Winners, Mesdames Andross, Breeding, Walker, Pilger, Miller and Saterlee.

There were a good many people from Corvallis, Hood River and The Dalles at the picnic and the total attendance was around the 2,000 mark.

SWEET PEAS GROWN BY CHILDREN OF COUNTY

All arrangements have been completed for the annual sweet pea show to be given by school children in Multnomah and other counties in Oregon under the auspices of the Oregon State Congress of Mothers and the Teachers' Progress club at the city hall Saturday. Superintendent R. F. Robinson has sent an invitation to the public inviting attendance Saturday and Saturday evening.

The sweet peas to be exhibited will be those grown by the children themselves, and awards will be in the shape of neatly printed ribbons for the first, second and third prizes. All flowers must be at the city hall before 10 o'clock Saturday morning, when they will be taken up by the committee in charge.

The owner's name should be on each bouquet, but this will be removed and a number substituted by the committee in order that the judges will not know whose flowers they are judging. Those who provide their own vases should have their name on the bottom of the vase in order that it cannot be lost. All points on which awards will be made will be on the quality of the flowers, color, stem and foliage.

The committee in charge of the exhibit is composed of the following: Mrs. George Howard, Mrs. E. B. Colwell, Mrs. Millie R. Trumbull, Mrs. Saddie Orr Dunbar, Miss Elsie Claire Tifft, Miss Margaret Powell.

AT THE THEATRES

"A Night in Venice" at The Oaks.

During this week and Sunday night the Allen Curtis Comedy company will present a fantastic and spectacular comedy entitled "A Night in Venice." The production is filled with merriment, with pretty songs, fanciful costumes, graceful dances and dainty dancers. Already the patrons of the Oaks have put their stamp of approval on the effort and it is meeting with a hearty reception.

Vaudeville Stars.

Many vaudeville stars are at the Grand this week. It is a bill of extra merit that is being presented by Sullivan & Considine. The Riva-Larsen troupe of European acrobats head the program, with numerous other clever artists.

"The Tide of Life" Tonight.

The biggest and best show of the summer is to be seen at the Lyric tonight, where the Blunkall-Atwood company will repeat its great success "The Tide of Life," which is pronounced the very finest offering yet made by this popular stock organization.

Damon Lodge Installs.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Pendleton, Or., July 16.—Damon lodge, K. of P., has installed the following officers for the ensuing term: F. J. Quinlan, chancellor commander; A. E. Lamber, vice-chancellor; John Vaughn, prelate; M. S. Kern, master of work; E. W. Myers, master of arms; Charles Hamilton, inner guard.

MEAT CHEAPER HERE THAN IN THE EAST

"Portland people are paying less for the meat they eat than those of any other city in the United States. The consumer here gets his steaks, chops and roasts for from ¼ to 4 cents per pound cheaper than does the consumer in any other city."

This statement is vouched for by Charles Rudeen of the State market, First and Salmon streets. Mr. Rudeen has just returned from a month's trip through the east on a tour of inspection for his firm.

He says that there is a general scarcity of beef all over the country and looks for a sharp rise in the prices this fall, although he thinks prices will go still lower before the summer is over.

Mr. Rudeen attributes the comparative cheapness of meats in the Rose City to the fact that Portland has easier access to the stock ranges and better facilities for bringing the stock in than other cities of the country.

The people of the west never get a first-class steak. This edible is only indigenous to the east. A round steak in Portland costs 10 cents a pound. In Omaha the same steak brings 18 cents and in Chicago 20 cents, but it is worth the difference.

The eastern steak is cut from a fancy stall fed steer; the Portland steak from a bunch grass ranger. Until the stockgrowers of the west realize the difference in prices to be obtained by fancy feeding the epicure must cross the Mississippi for his good meat.

ROOSEVELT INVITED TO PACIFIC SLOPE

Aberdeen, Wash., July 13.—George J. Wolff of this city, is in receipt of a letter from President Roosevelt. Mr. Wolff recently extended him an invitation to come to the harbor for a hunting and fishing trip next October. A photo of the Teddy bears given the fleet by Aberdeen was also sent the president.

President Loeb, writing for the president, says he is making no engagements this year besides those to which he is already committed. From the expression of thanks and the general tenor of the letter it is believed the invitation will be accepted after the expiration of Mr. Roosevelt's term of office.

WEATHER REPORT

The disturbance causing the rains yesterday in this district has crossed the Rocky mountains and is now central over North Dakota. A moderately strong high pressure area has moved in from the ocean and now overlies the North Pacific states. Another high pressure area of moderate strength is central over the lake region. Good rains fell yesterday afternoon in northern Oregon, Washington and northern Idaho, and light rains fell last night in southern Idaho and western Montana. These rains were generally attended by thunder with high gusts of wind. Practically no rain has fallen in the southern states, and but little in the northern states except a small shower in the Red River Valley of the North. It is cooler this morning in eastern Washington, southwestern Idaho, the middle Atlantic and New England states, and warmer in Minnesota, South Dakota and eastern North Dakota.

The indications are for fair and warmer weather in this district Friday.
