excelled in Salem and the management feels that the venture will fulfill the most sanguine expectations. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the first big parade of the three days' entertainment will start. The feature of the first day will be the crowning of the king, who will be impersonated by C. L. Star. When Mr. Star is not impersonating kings he is clerk of the normal school board of regents and occupies a very democratic office in the state house. The afternoon's entertainment will start with the crowning ceremony at Marion square and will be followed immediately by the parade. The parade will consist of the king's float, decorated automobiles, other floats carrying the high school, canoe club and various other institutions in Salem and Marion county. A band of 50 girls on horseback will be one of the leading features of the parade. A baseball tournament will be played during the fair between the Fairmounts, Chemawa, Albany and Salem Tri-City teams. The first game will be played this afternoon between Albany and Chemawa, the game tomorrow will be between the Fairmounts and the Cherry Pickers of the Tri-City league and the winners of the two previous events will meet for a $15 cup Saturday afternoon. GIRLS WILL BE WELL CARED FOR Several New Student Houses Are Being Built at the U. of O.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) University of Oregon, Eugene, July 16.—Girls at the University of Oregon will be well housed next year. At least three new houses, accommodating between 60 and 70 girls, will be ready for occupancy in September. The Mary Lippitt house, named for the first woman connected with the university, is now being completed and comfortably furnished. It will have room for 20 to 25 girls, and be under the same general control as the men's dormitory. It is beautiful in design and the highest part of the campus, and gives promise of being a most pleasant home. The Klappa Tilgum club has a handsome new home in the center of the university. The foundation has been completed and carpenters are preparing to raise the building as fast as possible. It will accommodate between 20 and 25 girls. The Zeta Iota Phi sorority is having a new house built on the corner of Thirteenth and High streets, which will have room for 30 girls. The plans call for a very handsome building. Rooms for rent are much more plentiful than usual, probably for the reason that the touch of hard times has made many more people willing to rent. These, together with the girls' houses and the old ones already established, will make it comparatively easy for the university to find good homes for the large number of girls that will enter in September.

SUFFRAGETTES WILL TRY TO BE GOOD

(United Press Leased Wire.) London, July 16.—The suffragettes today adopted a new plan of action by which their belligerent tactics will be abandoned and they will undertake a campaign of advertising and "education." The organization announced that stands will be erected in all public resorts and places of amusement where suffragette orators will deliver addresses and lectures on all occasions and exhort the people to join them in their warfare for equal suffrage. The motto, "Vote for women," will be painted and stamped on sidewalks and bare walls throughout London and other cities of the kingdom. Hundreds of suffragettes today are using bicycles, riding through the streets, each bearing a banner with the organization motto and other legends of their campaign. The national woman's suffrage organization announced that it would conduct a house-to-house canvass on behalf of the women, which would extend to the remotest corners of the empire. The leaders say they have come to the conclusion that their belligerent methods would continue to produce nothing but failure, as it is impossible for them to cope with the authorities and they have received little aid through the "martyrdom" of their members who have gone to jail.

HONOLULU WELCOMES WARSHIPS

(Continued from Page One.) miles from San Francisco and about 2,000 miles from the nearest mainland to the far west. Nowhere in the world is there to be found a more attractive and delightful country. Eight islands comprise the group. Hawaii, Oahu, Kauai, Maui and Molokai are the principal islands. Situated within the tropics, but swept by the trade winds, with a boundless expanse of sea on every side and mountains towering several thousand feet above the ocean level, with an almost daily gentle rain on the windward and almost absolute dryness on the leeward side, the island group is a natural sanitarium.

Oahu and Honolulu. Oahu is the principal island of the group. The city of Honolulu is situated on it, and nearly two-thirds of the population and wealth are on this island. The entrance to the harbor of Honolulu is one of the most charming in the world. The water is a peculiar deep blue, and the great crescent bay is fringed by a border of vivid green above another and are green-tinted by thousands of picturesque coconut trees waving palms and a chain of trees along the coast, rising several thousand feet high, are to be seen torn and serrated lava niches, enveloped in verdure of the richest hue.

The grandeur of the Hawaiian scenery was thus graphically described by United States Senator Money of Missouri, who was one of a party of public men from this country who visited the islands during the recent expedition being arranged. He said: "Senator Money's Description. "A visitor, standing upon Haleakala on the rim of its stupendous cup 23 miles in circumference, and looking down a few feet deep, can turn from a field of corrugated lava, shining like satin, and change in a moment to the most magnificent view of mountain, plain, sea and remote islands. Ten thousand feet below, the wrinkled sea changes to a deep blue to a border of vivid green edged with a line of milk white foam, where the surf breaks in thunder on a lava coast. Along the mountain the green fields and white plantation houses extend down to the vale of Waialua. This is the prospect, looking under the clouds, looking above them, Molokai and Oahu, on the sharp horizon's edge, appearing like brown stones, the shining of blue enamel. Strangely enough, the sea seems to have lifted itself to the mountain's height, and the islands to float in a sea which is mounted on the tremendous crater of Kilauea, blotting the sky by day, and illumining the night with her perpetual fires, sacred to Pele, the immense fields of lava flow from Maunaloa. In their sterility and loneliness, the wild solitudes of the deep valley of Iao—all these are scenes that all the mind will wonder and delight."

POLICE SEARCH FOR ACTIVE YOUNG THUGS

(United Press Leased Wire.) San Francisco, July 16.—The police are today searching for two young men who have been terrorizing the women of the Pacific Heights district, one of the most fashionable residence sections of the city. The young thugs operate in a peculiar manner. They use a horse and nine police in a number of ways. They will drive up to a crossing and wait until a victim comes from any house in the vicinity. They will then jump down, snatching one of the woman's purses, and then jump back up again.

POPULAR CORVALLIS GIRL WEDS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Corvallis, Or., July 16.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Marvin at Corvallis was the scene of a pretty wedding Sunday evening. The bride was Miss Leona Marvin of this city and the groom, Orlo Karstens, a banker of Oxford, Iowa. About 20 relatives and intimate friends attended. Rev. J. R. N. Bell of the Presbyterian church officiated. The bride was very prettily attired in a costume of white net over white silk and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. The decorations in the rooms were sweet peas and choice roses. A sumptuous wedding dinner followed the congratulations, and Mrs. Karstens are spending a brief honeymoon at Newport. Leaving there they will journey to Oxford, Iowa, their future home.

MAINTAINERS NEAR RESORTS

Captains of Incoming Vessels Issue Warning to Surf Bathers at Seaside Points—Schools of Sharks Are Skirting Along the Oregon Coast.

With schools of man-eating sharks running along the coast and off the mouth of the Columbia river, surf bathers at the various coast resorts should not venture out far beyond their own depth if they value their life. This is the warning issued by mariners who have just made port. The water is said to be fairly alive with the vicious monsters of the tropic waters, most of them being of remarkably large size. Officers of the steam schooner Northland, Captain Erickson, reported upon their arrival here from San Francisco that they had been surprised by seeing a dozen or more large sharks following the vessel until she was within the yellow streak that marks the meeting line of the sweet river water and the salty brine of the deep blue Pacific. Come Close to Shore. This morning Captain A. F. Aplund of the steam schooner Shoshone confirmed this report and stated further that from what he saw on the run north from San Francisco, the sea off the Oregon coast, particularly in the vicinity of the mouth of the Columbia, is alive with the monsters. Their mode of swimming near the surface makes detection easy from the deck of a vessel, and every now and then they come high enough to bring their dorsal fins out of water. "Not since the summer of 1885-86 have I seen such large numbers of sharks in these waters as at present," said Captain Aplund, "and in fact sharks are rarely seen in this vicinity, although whalers and fishermen up from San Francisco Tuesday my vessel was followed by sharks all the way from a point several miles south of the Columbia river until we reached fresh water. I was astonished, for sharks seldom leave the tropical waters, coming so far north in the temperate zone. And those outside here are as big as they make them, several measuring at least 25 feet. Have Good Appetites. "I do not think these sharks are doing any damage to the salmon fishing industry, except they might get away with fishermen who recklessly drift out to sea clinging to a capized boat, because sharks are not fast enough to catch live salmon. I have sailed in tropical waters for many years and know the habits of the shark pretty well. They are scavengers of the sea for upon cutting one open all kinds of things will be found. Tin cans, shoes, rubber boots, fish and even bones of human victims. "Four years ago my crew caught a shark off the Australian coast and upon opening it we found a human head in its stomach. From its size we judged it was from a child. I would have preserved it and taken it to port, but we were in a hurry to get away. Others again, were found to contain shoes and other articles difficult to digest. Fond of Human Breakfasts. Captain Aplund says a shark of the kind he saw today in the mouth of the Columbia will tackle a man, woman or child any time and make quick work of them. "I would hate to fall overboard in any way and then they would be a moment or two until I would repose peacefully" on the inside of one of the monsters. They have a very keen sense of smell and are always on the move when it comes to getting after a chunk of food, especially in the shape of a human being."

SOUND AT MERCY OF ANY FOREIGN FOE

Congressman Humphrey at Bellingham Sounds the Warning to Fortify.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Bellingham, Wash., July 16.—"Puget Sound should be protected by proper fortifications," said Congressman W. C. Humphrey on his return from Washington. "Deception Base and the channels leading into this harbor and the cities of the sound must be fortified. Otherwise a foreign foe could easily gain the interior. Once the inner harbors of the sound are under his control, it would be an easy matter to enter any of our cities, gain control of the navy yard at Bremerton, and in fact, by the use of the raider, occupy the entire sound country in a comparatively short time. Nothing has been done in this direction because no one has been bold enough to believe that the fortification of Bellingham bay is essential. This is a mistake, as the need for the protection of this harbor is greater than is generally supposed."

MAKE GOOD BREAD, IS DOCTOR'S ADVICE

(United Press Leased Wire.) Atlantic City, N. J., July 16.—Bakers are retooling today over the declaration made by Dr. H. M. Wiley, head of the national pure food commission, that "wheat" bread has not been made more intelligent than any other one thing. The assertion was made by the father of the "American square" in an address before the "American Biscuit association" last night. "Give the American man good bread, and you will make him a champion of the home and fireless," said Dr. Wiley. "If the bakers make good bread and then educate the people to buy their wares, the great destroyer of domestic industry, despatched, will be removed and we will hear no more of the divorce party."

Reed, a prominent Oakland attorney, both members of the Sierra club, are lost in the mountains near the spot where Miss Grace Barnett, the Berkeley high school teacher, lost her life. The two men were last heard of Friday, traveling together on a trail in the Sierrita national park. Searching parties have been looking for the missing men since Sunday noon, but so far as can be learned no trace of them has been found. The body of Miss Grace Barnett arrived today. It was brought here in charge of Alton Allan, who brought it down from Kaweah.

Comfort for the Fat in Hot Weather

Don't simply shed all your clothing. That is not the secret. It isn't your textile coverings that make life so wretched for you, but your fat. Get rid of the fleshy covering—the fat, friends, but you can be comfortable, though fat, in the hot weather, by reducing the fat with Caspary's Fat-Off. It gives you the following: 1. ounce Marmola, 2. ounce Fluid Extract Caspary's Aromatic and 3. ounce Strup Simplex. This is a harmless home mixture that any druggist will put up for a small sum, but it soon cures up with comfort at that rate no matter how fat you get. Alluring, isn't it? And when you realize that this inflexible same method takes the fat-off and gives you a trim, slim figure without causing any harm, you will be glad to try it. It becomes more than alluring—it's fascinating. Fat folks say so.

CURES ECZEMA QUICKLY

New Drug, Poslam, Now Obtainable in Small Quantities. Since its discovery one year ago, the new drug, poslam, has successfully cured thousands of chronic cases of eczema and other distressing skin afflictions. Heretofore poslam has been dispensed solely for the benefit of eczema patients in large jars sufficient for a month's treatment. This was found to be an inconvenience to many thousands who use it for minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, scaly scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., which require but a small quantity to cure. To overcome this, and in response to urgent appeals, new dispensers of poslam have been obliged to adopt in addition to the regular two-dollar package, a special fifty-cent size, which in future may be found on sale at the Eldorado Drug company and other leading drug stores in Portland, or may be ordered direct from the Emergency Laboratories, New York City, in Twenty-fifth street, New York City. In all eczema cases poslam stops itching with a few applications, and proceeds to heal immediately. In less serious skin troubles, results are seen after an overnight application. Samples for experimental purposes may still be had, free of charge, by writing to the laboratories for them.

PREACHERS VS. BALL TEAM AT SALEM SUNDAY

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.) Salem, Or., July 16.—The Salem Ministerial association has notified the managers of the local Tri-City league team that an attempt will be made to prevent Sunday baseball in Salem. The ministers notified Managers Heyser and Edwards that if a game was called next Sunday the whole team will be placed under arrest and prosecuted under the state law for violating the Sabbath. The managers say the game will be called next Sunday as usual.

HARTRIDGE BELIEVES WIFE WAS DEMENTED

(United Press Leased Wire.) New York, July 16.—Clifford W. Hartridge, who was the attorney of record in the first trial of Harry K. Thaw for the killing of Stanford White, did not go to Canton, Ohio, to attend the funeral of his wife, whose body was buried there yesterday. Mrs. Hartridge mysteriously disappeared from her home some months ago and Hartridge was unable to find any trace of her. There was much mystery about the case, as Mrs. Hartridge's mother never expressed any anxiety about her whereabouts. Extensive search was made without success, and there were many varying reports regarding the cause of her departure. She was gone for weeks before it was learned that she was in a sanitarium. Hartridge refused to discuss his wife's actions. He said: "I believe my wife's mind was unbalanced. I declined to talk of her actions when she was alive, and I certainly shall not, now that she is dead."

BIG FOUR SQUADRON EQUIPPING FOR SAMOA

(United Press Leased Wire.) Vallejo, Val., July 16.—All the cruisers of the "Big Four" squadron of the Pacific fleet, commanded by Rear Admiral Sebes, the California, the South Dakota, the Maryland and the West Virginia, are here undergoing repairs for their trip to Samoa this summer. The California has been placed alongside West Virginia and mechanics are busy installing her new fire-control system. It is not expected that this system will be installed before the Pacific fleet leaves for Samoa, but it is thought it will be far enough along so that the crew can be put to work on it as soon as the ships get to sea. The West Virginia and the Maryland will be ready for sea August 20. It is possible that sailors will have to do the work of the new fire-control system on the South Dakota, as it is not thought she will be ready when the fleet leaves for the Hawaiian islands.

UNION OF MINERS' UNIONS PROPOSED

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Denver, Colo., July 16.—Before the convention of the Western Federation of Miners adjourns here it is expected that the preliminary plans will have been adopted for the proposed amalgamation with the United Mine Workers of America. The proposition to merge the two organizations has been under consideration for some time and was discussed by the United Mine Workers at their convention in Indianapolis last January. If the proposed combine of the two organizations is accomplished it will place the miners among the largest body of organized labor in the world. The total membership will approach 400,000, and it is believed that within another year practically all of the miners of the United States, Canada and Mexico could be enrolled in the federated union. The Western Federation now dominates the metalliferous mines, while the United Mine Workers confines its activities and membership to the anthracite and bituminous coal fields.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, July 16.—Orders have been issued by the war department to the gunboats Vicksburg and Princeton to proceed at once around the horn to the Caribbean Sea, in order to protect the Panama canal. Both vessels are out of commission. The Vicksburg is at Mare Island, the Princeton is at Bremerton. Conditions in Honduras are responsible for the rush. The gunboats will stop at Anapaima, where the rebel army is now stationed. Orders have also been issued for the gunboat Albatross to proceed at once to Porto Costa, on the east coast, toward which General Lee Christmas is headed with a rebel army. The cruiser Tacoma, now at Panama, is directed to stop at Porto Costa to observe conditions also.
