KINSY BLANKS SERAPH CROWD

Bridegroom Lets Southerners Down With Two Hits —Johnson Bats Well.

By R. A. C.

Big Eddie Kinsella, a dapper young fellah,
Grabbed up his bucket and brush,
Laid on a plaster of pure alabaster
That covered their Angelic mush.

Well, the champions took another tumble toward the bottom of the ladder yesterday when big Eddie Kinsella shut them out with a two-hit record. Kinsy had everything and the Seraphs were swinging their heads off from the opening gun. On the other hand, the hard hitting home guard got jerry to Nagle in the seventh and eighth and fairly murdered the sphere.

Outside of the three errors which allowed the visitors to annex first base, the game was the prettiest of the series. Nagle was a deep mystery to the Beavers' Adonis, allowing but one bingle up to the seventh. Kinsella presented two hits to the southerners in the first and second, but after that he was invincible.

Ote Johnson continued his hard hitting bee, the score board saving Nagle from having a home run chalked against him. Johnson's three-ply wallop in the seventh was one of the longest hits ever seen at Vaughn street. The little chap who hangs up the score was compelled to lift his legs to escape being struck by the ball. Had it been in either right or left field the Viking would have secured a homer.

In the initial inning Bernard connected safely, driving the ball down the alley so rapidly that Kinsella could not touch it. Casey and Johnson raced toward it, but neither got within 10 feet of the sphere. Bernard looked dangerous, for he stole second and took third on Wheeler's infield out. Danzig to Kinsella. Casey fielded Brashear's grounder to Danzig and Bernie died on the sacks.

When Angels Threatened.

Another hit was made by Delmas in the second. Del, however, never got farther than first base. The Berry bunch went out in one, two, three order until the sixth, when they grew threatening. Nagle was safe on Johnson's error and Casey's miscue, immediately following, spoiled a nice chance for a double and allowed Bernard to negotiate the first station. Oakes' sacrifice moved both men up a peg, but perfect fielding prevented them from getting near the plate. Wheeler was out on a grounder to Danzig and Brashear's long fly fell into McCredie's glove. After that but nine men faced the bridegroom, Ote Johnson starting a ripping double play in the last inning.

Our runs came after this fashion: Ote Johnson, first up, pulled off his long triple to center. Danzig leaned so hard against the ball that Jud Smith was whirled in his tracks and Johnson scored. McCredie moved Babe up on a neat sacrifice, but Bassey and Madden were easy outs.

With one out in the eighth Buddy Ryan copped a two-bagger and Raftery's second single sent him to third. Together they pulled off a delayed double steal which was an immense success, Ryan registering when Delmas failed to handle Easterly's difficult throw.

NORTHWESTERN LEAGUE.

Spokane 4, Tacoma 3.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Spokane, July 17.—Stupid base running by the Tigers robbed them of what would have been enough runs to win the game here yesterday. Martinke and Burnett singled in succession and when Mike Lynch likewise drove a single into right field Martinke should have scored. Stevens hurried the ball to the infield, however, and Martinke was held at third. Lynch was not watching the play and tried to take second, with the result of being caught between bases. Just as Lynch was run down by Rowan, Martinke tried for home and was an easy out. Rogers shot the ball to Kippert at second and Burnett was caught peacefully dozing off that station. The score:

Butte, Mont., July 17.—Although the hits in yesterday's game here were evenly divided, Aberdeen's bingles came with Butte's errors and the Champions won out with ease. Thompson was never forced to extend himself, as his teammates took the lead early in the game and kept it throughout. Score:

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Seattle, July 17.—Errors at critical times lost for the Canucks here yesterday, 2 to 7. Meeks' drop of a ball thrown to the plate presented the Britishers with a run in the sixth, while Nordyke's single, Arbogast's three-bagger and an infield muscu gave them two more tallies and the game in the eighth. M'BURNEY BEATS CALIFORNIA MAN

Spokane Tennis Expert Takes Three Fast Sets— Miss Hotchkiss Rising.

W. A. McBurney of Spokane defeated E. Jordan of California this morning in one of the fastest matches ever seen in the northwest, the Washington expert taking three of the four sets played. In the first set Jordan's service worried McBurney and the Californian captured it 7 to 5. The next set was hotter still, McBurney finally taking it, 12 to 10. After that Jordan seemed to weaken and McBurney won the next two sets, 6-2 and 6-0.

Freeman of California is playing Wickersham of Portland in the semi-finals and at noon had won two of the five sets by scores of 10-8 and 6-2.

Miss Hotchkiss, the California girl, is showing excellent class in her sets. This morning she easily defeated Mrs. Cook, 6-1 and 6-2, and then took her match with Miss Fording, 7-5 and 6-4, the latter putting up a somewhat better game than the previous opponent. Miss Heltshu will undoubtedly be the player to meet Hotchkiss, the present holder, for the state championship.

What was considered the best single play yesterday was between Mr. Jordan and Mr. Hall of Everett. Jordan's backhand stroke was a puzzle to the Everett expert just the same as it puzzled McBurney today. Jordan won 8-6 and 8-6.

BRITISH METHOD CAUSES PROTEST

No National Championship Awarded at London Because of System.

London, July 17.—Protests against the method of scoring the Olympic games resulted today in the announcement that no championship award will be made this year. Seeing that it would be hopeless to attempt to get the competing teams to agree upon any one system of scoring, Lord Desborough, chairman of the London Olympic association, adopted this course as the only solution of the difficulty. The order will apply to both the games held at the Stadium and those conducted under the auspices of the association at other fields.

When it was announced yesterday that the scores made at fields other than the Stadium would be included in the general result by which the championship would be determined, the Americans immediately entered a protest. This method, which is a departure from the usual system of scoring, would have placed every country except England hopelessly out of the running. The athletes from the United States insisted that the field events alone should count for the championship while the Englishmen supported the action of the association in including lacrosse, football, shooting tournaments, figure skating, hockey, boxing and various other sports in the general results.

Their Method of Scoring.

This method of scoring would have placed the teams in this order:

United Kingdom, 20; United States, 8; Sweden, 5; Norway, 2; Canada, France, Belgium and Italy, 1 each.

Under the method usually applied, Stadium scores only being counted, the teams would stand thus:

United States—Throwing the hammer, 8; team race, 3; discus, 9; putting the shot, 6; 1,500 meter race, 5. Total, 31.

United Kingdom—Team race, 5; putting the shot, 3; 1,500 meter race, 4; 300 meter walk, 8. Total, 20.

Sweden, 5; Greece, 3; Canada, 1; Australia, 1; Norway, 1.

First place under this system counts five points, second place counts three points and third place counts one point. Under the English system, besides including outside games, only the first place counts and but one point is given for that.

Decision of the Olympic association not to award the championship meets the approval of the Americans here. They feel confident of carrying off the most points at the Stadium and although they will not be officially declared victors will be able to count themselves the champions.

Winners Today.

In the 100-meter back-stroke swimming race today, Bieberseeln of Germany won the first heat of the semi-final in 1 minute, 25 3-5 seconds.

In heat two, Haresmape of England was Victor, making the distance in 1 minute, 25 1-5 seconds.

Combining sections 1 and 2, Nilson of Sweden won the preliminary in the middle hold javelin throw by hurling the shaft 154 feet, 6½ inches.

Larner of England won five points for England today by finishing first in the 10-mile walk. His time was 1 hour, 15 minutes and 2-5 second.

Lemming of Sweden won the first place in the javelin throw finals, scoring 170 feet, 10½ inches, beating his own Olympic record 4 feet, 4½ inches. Lemming's record at Athens was 175 feet, 6 inches.

England won the tug-of-war from America but a protest has been entered by the team from the United States.

After hearing the Americans' complaint the committee rejected it and declared England victor in the tug of war.

In the 5,000-meter bicycle race preliminaries, Spenger of Poland finished first, making the distance in 8 minutes, 39 4-5 seconds.

In heat two Demangler of France finished first, his time being 9 minutes 1 2-5 seconds, but he was disqualified for fouling another rider and first place was awarded to Marechal of France.

The Americans' complaint in the tug of war was based on the fact that the members of the English team wore heavy cleated boots. This is against the rules, and as the Americans wore the light shoes customary in an event of the kind they were at a great disadvantage. Rejection of the protest caused a great deal of unfavorable comment and Greece and Germany withdrew from the contest.

It is raining again today and the attendance is small.

Referring to the decision that no championship would be awarded, Captain Johns of the London Olympic association said:

"We have decided that it would be unfair to award the championship in view of the system of scoring that has been adopted. This system would give England a walkover. As the American team has appeared the strongest in the regular track and field events, it has just cause for complaint. The athletes from the United States will probably now be able to make a good claim that they are entitled to the championship."

ANGRY AUSTRIANS ATTEMPT TO MOB SMITH FOR THROWING COUNTRYMAN

"Strangler" Smith arrived in town yesterday after a two weeks' tour of the coast towns, during which time he engaged in five wrestling matches and came very near getting mobbed. At Chinook he was attacked by an angry bunch of Austrians and had a very narrow escape.

Smith was to engage in a wrestling match with Jim Sulovic, a local celebrity, who weighed somewhere near 220 pounds. Before he went into the hall he was accosted by one of the Austrian's friends who informed him that if he threw Sulovic he would be killed.

When they went on the mat, Smith let Sulovic take the aggressive for fully 20 minutes, during which time the Strangler let him try every hold he knew but was unsuccessful in his attempts to put Smith's shoulders to the mat. Smith then got on top himself and was just to pin the Austrian's shoulders down when the bunch, which was loitering around the door when he came in, started after him. The referee saw what would happen if the match was allowed to go on so awarded the match to Smith, and the Strangler quickly hit out for cover.

Smith met Billy Scholtes at Astoria July 4, and easily threw him. Scholtes' shoulders went to the mat twice in less than seven minutes. Then July 7 he met the Austrian at Chinook. Scholtes and he then went to South Bend, where they met in two exhibition matches.

Smith then went over to Long Beach, where he took on Rogers, another local celebrity, and threw him three times in 10 minutes. This trip was more of a vacation trip for the Strangler than anything else and he will now settle down to the hard work of trying to get a match with Dr. Roller.

Strangler has a good word to say for Joe Marks, the local boy who boxed Olmar Dranga at the club last winter. Marks boxed a man named Ely at Long Beach and easily defeated him. The bout went six rounds and at the end of that time he was all in. Ely announced to the audience before the fight that he was going after the lightweight title and that this bout was only a little training stunt. Before the bout was over Ely had forgotten all about the lightweight championship and was trying his best to hang on through the rest of the bout. The fight was pulled off as a preliminary to the Smith-Rogers match at Long Beach.

RUBY ROBERT'S CHALLENGE TO KETCHEL CONSIDERED BIG JOKE

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, July 17.—Hugo Kelly and his manager, Sylvie Feretti, are due from the east some time today, and when they arrive the details of the coming bout with Stanley Ketchell are to be arranged.

Manager O'Connell said today that nothing had been done about the wire from Bob Fitzsimmons at Spokane, requesting a fight, because the proposition is looked upon as a joke.

"Bob is an old man," said O'Connell, "and Spokane is no place for a fight. The whole thing looks to me like an advertisement to call attention to Fitzsimmons' road show. However, if Bob really wants to try it and some one offers us a good proposition we are ready. Ketchell has never turned down anything of middleweight class yet."

At a banquet given at the home of Luke Marsch last night, Ketchell was presented with a $1,000 gold belt, emblematic of the middleweight championship. O'Connell said in thanking the Pacific club for the gift that Ketchell would soon be able to take on Tommy Burns.

Spokane, Wash., July 17.—Bob Fitzsimmons, who is playing here at the Pantages theatre, has sent the following message to Stanley Ketchell, care Eddie Graney, at San Francisco, Cal:

"I challenge you to a fight for the middleweight championship of the world, which title I never have lost. One hundred and fifty-two pounds at 6 p. m.; your own terms, preferably winner take all. Suggest 20-round contest near Spokane."

Local business men are behind the project and are anxious to have a real boxing contest here. Fitzsimmons is in earnest. He wants to loose the title if anybody can take it away from him, but refuses to do like Jeffries, lay it down without a fight. He is now 46 years old and "still in the ring." Mike Butler, who will meet Fitzsimmons for a three-round match on the 21st, will manage for the old fighter.

LADIES' BASEBALL TEAM PLAYS TWICE

The Chicago Ladies' baseball team and the Wabashers will meet in two games here, one at St. Johns tomorrow and a second at Vaughn street Monday. The ladies are said to be fast players, and will make a hard bid for the game. Look out for them.

Crosby, the lanky pitcher of the St. Johns team, will twirl for the Wabashers in the game at St. Johns, and Jack Olney of the Vancouver team will whig them at the ladies at Vaughn street. Jack is very handsome, and should have the ladies on his staff.
