CHILDREN'S BATTLE WITH FATHER LOST

Clark's Sons Lose in First Round of Bitter Family Quarrel—Sought to Gain Possession of Parent's Big Business.

Court Holds Bill of Sale to First Wife Transferring $300,000 Saddlery Property Not Valid—Will Appeal Case.

John Clark's sons, John and Edward, and his daughter, Mrs. Lottie Apperson, will not gain control of the $300,000 concern known as the John Clark Saddlery company.

The trouble in the Clark family antedates the filing of the suit last year by some time. In 1894, just prior to his leaving for Europe in 1895, the elder Clark gave a deed to his wife, Elizabeth, for all his property, real and personal.

After Mrs. Clark's death Mr. Clark married again and the children quarreled with their father and step-mother most of their lives.

W. T. Clark, the oldest son, took no part in the hearing of the case much as the suit had been given by Mr. Clark with any intention that the business should pass entirely from his control.

MAN WHO THINKS HE HAS LOCATED MILLIONS IN GOLD

Captain Keils Peter Sorensen of Chicago believes he has Robert Louis Stevenson's Treasure Island buried at the bottom of the ocean just where he can get at it and shows documents to prove the existence of the wreck laden with gold, tallow and wool, just where it has lain for 42 years.

NORTHWEST HARVESTING GOOD CROP

Reports From Wheat Fields Show Yield Will Be Far Greater Than, Estimates Made Earlier in Season—20 to 25 Bushels.

Eastern Oregon and Washington Both Show Good Returns—Heavy Increase in Fall Acreage—Spring Wheat Only Is Short.

By Hyman H. Cohen. The Pacific northwest wheat harvest is in progress in at least half the districts of the three states and reports are encouraging. The general condition of the fall wheat crop seems to be good in practically every section where the harvest has begun and actual returns greatly increase the yield over the pre-harvest estimates.

Yields of 20 to 25 bushels to the acre are quite common in the inland empire thus far, no returns being received to date placing the cut at least 15 bushels to the acre. Returns of less than 20 bushels are very uncommon and thus far are noted only in sections where the rain supply was short at least six inches from the north.

Even in the Condon district the returns are much better than expected. In that section it has been noted that by far the best returns are being received from places that were well cultivated. In such a dry season the well-cultivated wheat field suffers but little from drought, but in sections where little attention was given cultivation and where wheat-growers allowed nature to take the full burden of the crop the initial reports of the yield were far from favorable—but still not so bad as had been forecasted in some of the early damage reports.

Oregon Yield Good. Returns of 25 to 30 bushels to the acre were lately received from Heppner section, around Lexington, Heppner, Eight Mile, Gooseberry and several other spots of the Heppner section the yields are seldom ranging below 25 bushels to the acre, and never to date this season have they fallen below 20 bushels.

Around Pendleton harvest returns show yields ranging from 20 to 35 bushels to the acre, the latter being an exception as well as the former. While there is little doubt that considerable damage was done the wheat crop of this section by a general drenching of the valley's fields state that conditions were almost ideal in most places although here and there the fields were ruined locally because of the shortage of moisture during the spring months. The wheat was carried through the winter with little loss.

Good Crop in Willamette. The Willamette valley will turn out a much better quality of wheat this season and probably a larger crop. Grain men who have received information from the valley's fields state that conditions were almost ideal in most places although here and there the fields were ruined locally because of the shortage of moisture during the spring months. The wheat was carried through the winter with little loss.

ANTI-NOISE WAR ON IN NEW YORK MAGGIE HAS ONE VERY FUZZY BUG

Hawkers, Grindorgans and Spielers First to Feel Hand of the Law. Buzzes That She Is Queen of the Filipinos and Boss of the Japs.

New York, July 21.—Effects of the anti-noise crusade inaugurated by Police Commissioner Bingham were noticeable today, particularly in the residence district, where formerly the cries of hawkers, wandering musicians and fakers were incessant. Several arrests last night had the effect of curbing many of the noise-makers of their mania.

When the offenders were arraigned in the police court today light fines were imposed, but with the threat of more severe punishment for a second offense. The police commissioner said today that he did not expect to be able to suppress all unnecessary noise immediately, but that he had instructed his officers to use their discretion in making arrests and that the desired end would be accomplished in time.

Newspapers, churches and various organizations are cooperating with the police.

NO PROMISE TO ROOSEVELT WILL MR. PETTIGREW NOT TAKE PART

Nor to Anybody Else, of a Definite Statement Regarding Attitude in Campaign Comes From Loeb.

Washington, July 21.—President Roosevelt will not participate actively in the coming presidential campaign, according to the definite statement made for the chief executive by Secretary Loeb in a letter received here today.

The letter was in declaration of an intention to make an address at the fair here September and Loeb explains that the president is unable to accept because he has decided not to take part in the campaign and is not making any arrangements for speeches during the period preceding the election.

Spokane Stops Fight. Spokane, July 21.—The authorities refused to allow the KKK poster-boys to go on last night and promoter Johnny Reed announces that it will be transferred to Salt Lake in the near future.

BAY CITY VOTERS REGISTER LARGELY

San Francisco, July 21.—The fight between the reformers of both parties has brought a larger registration this year than has ever before been recorded for the primary elections in this city. Over 65,000 voters have registered and the rush to the recorder's office is still on. Over 2,000 voters registered yesterday.

GRACELESS SON ALLEGED INSANE

Insanity Proceedings Disclose Skeleton in Eppinger Closet.

San Francisco, July 21.—Isaac P. Eppinger, son of the late Jacob Eppinger, is to be examined for his sanity today by a commission of doctors.

Young Eppinger was incarcerated in the Central Emergency hospital late last night on complaint of his brother, Maurice Eppinger, who charges that his condition is such that the family can no longer keep him.

The insanity charge brings to light a scandal of long standing in the Eppinger family.

Jacob Eppinger, who died June 24, was indicted several years ago following a sensational failure of his grain company and the case dragged on through the courts for several years.

The jury at the first trial stood six to six and dead, removed the grain merchant from the jurisdiction of the courts before the district attorney could force trial through a mass of technicalities raised by Eppinger's attorney, Henry Ach.

The extravagance of Isaac Eppinger, the son who is charged with insanity, was said to be the cause of all the trouble of his father's failure.

July 23d! Will You?

That you will not forget the date of the carmen's day at the Oaks, we repeat the words, "July 23d. Will you?"

The Journal has tickets which it will distribute free to all actual members of the families of the first and second departments and salaried mail clerks and letter carriers.

The picnic is going to be worth postponing. The Journal wants to assist in a good cause and will have the picnic at its usual place, the shore in public service position.

will be an off time in Wall-street for about a month, but after that it will quiet down and the result will not be of great importance.

The election of Taft probably would not cause any flurry at all in financial circles.

In either event the results will be about the same after the election is over.
