

PHILOSOPHIZING OF A JAILBIRD

Six-Year Man Says Dope Is What Crams Prisons— Man Who Smiles.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Kansas City, Mo., July 24.—John M. Speyer today completed six consecutive years of imprisonment in the Jackson county jail and he is believed to be the oldest jail prisoner in the west, if not in the entire country. He has been convicted three times of the murder of his son and twice has been sentenced to death. An appeal each time has served to stay execution and has likewise prevented him from being transferred to the state penitentiary. He is now awaiting a fourth trial in his case and it probably will be well along toward his seventh year in jail before his case is finally disposed of.

Speyer is a changed man since his long imprisonment. He has seen several changes in the jail administration during his term of six years and has witnessed the imprisonment and release of hundreds of prisoners. This has led to a philosophy of the kind and his introspective cogitations have led him to long in his cell, the motto, "Smile, damn you, smile."

Says Dope Keeps Jails Full.
Speyer does not think much of the jail as a place for reforming criminals. On this subject he says:
"The men who come here are mostly graduates in crime. They cannot be reformed. I have seen many men in here, who went to the penitentiary when their first crime was committed and served their sentences, have come back and have been taken away to begin a second sentence. The first jail sentence may do a young man some good, I think. That is, if he is set free in a few hours, before he becomes acquainted with the other criminals and before the horror wears off. But after a man has spent a week in a jail, the jail is without opportunity for doing him any good. He becomes hardened. I will tell you why this jail is always full. It is because of the men who come in and tell us, because of men being hungry and having to steal and because of men who are addicted to cocaine and morphine and other drugs that keep the jails full. Nine-tenths of the inmates of jails are drug fiends. The jailers have no opportunity to keep the stuff out of the jail, but it is smuggled in in leaves of bread, in pies and bananas. And a man who is a drug fiend is an incurable criminal. At any time he is without his drug he will steal, murder or commit any crime to get the price of the stuff."

STOCKYARDS ARE WANTED IN LINN

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., July 24.—J. E. Jenks has addressed a petition to the railroad commission asking assistance in securing a stockyard and shipping point for stock at Tangent in Linn county. The petition is signed by a large number of farmers who have considerable stock to ship from time to time. At present stock must be driven to Albany, seven miles distant or to Shedd, six miles distant for shipment. There is a stock route already established at Tangent and for little expense a stockyard large enough could be provided. It is thought.

"CHAMP" JEFFRIES TO BE IN EUGENE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
University of Oregon, Eugene, July 24.—Jim Jeffries and his party are expected to visit Eugene on their way to their hunting camp up the McKenzie. The party will be composed of Los Angeles pugilist, Jim Walker, who has always managed the trip, but he received a letter for a month, but he is certain that the trip will be pulled off as usual.

NEW $7,500 SCHOOL TO GRACE CORNELIUS

This is a picture of a new $7,500 school house under construction at Cornelius. It is a four-room building which is being constructed by a Portland contractor—employing Portland workmen—according to specifications used for the past two years by the school board of this city in putting up the latest type of frame school buildings. All the material used in this building was hauled from Portland except the lumber which was purchased at a nearby mill. The cost of this building will be about 25 per cent less than the cost of the same type and class of schoolhouse in Portland. Architect Ernest Kroner, designed the building and is superintending its construction.

FAIR PROSPECTS ELATE FARMERS

Indications Point to Big Success—$5,000 Will Soon Be Raised.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Gresham, Or., July 24.—At an adjourned meeting of the Gresham city council held last night, the committee, appointed to secure a suitable tract of land to be used as a city park, and permanent home of the Multnomah county fair, reported that it had secured an option on a 10-acre tract and had three other tracts in view. The fair is thus assured a site, and will be held sometime this fall. The association will be incorporated as the "Gresham Fair," with a capital of $5,000 to start with. Already the larger portion of this has been subscribed and the other will be taken soon.

Plans for the administration, pavilion, livestock sheds and other buildings are being drawn.

It is proposed to secure the aid of Portland business men and the farmers and stockraisers of Multnomah and Clackamas counties. Farmers in the valley east of Gresham are highly elated over the success of last year's fair and the bright prospects for the fair this year.

FEEBLE-MINDED YOUTH RELEASED

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., July 24.—Governor Chamberlain yesterday afternoon personally escorted a feeble-minded youth, who has been serving a term in the penitentiary here for attempted burglary. The governor put the boy on the O. R. & N. train at the union depot under the care of his parents who live at Sumpter.

The youth was led into entering a store at Sumpter about three years ago by some unscrupulous person, who offered the boy, then hardly more than a child, $5. He was convicted and sentenced to five years. He is only about 18 years old.

Chaplain E. W. St. Pierre of the prison, raised enough money to send the boy to his home in Grant county and the governor put him on the train when he made his week's end trip to his home in Portland yesterday afternoon.

HEN-HOUSE CASE IS WIPED OFF

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)
Salem, Or., July 24.—The case of Emily Hen was today dismissed by the supreme court. The case has been pending in the supreme court ever since March, 1905.

Emily was a school teacher in Multnomah county a long time ago and House, whose first name was Andrew, lived in the same district. In fact, the charge Andrew said of Emily that she was nothing but a traitor and taught high treason in the school room. Emily resented the insinuation and sued Andrew for slander.

According to the briefs in the supreme court and the report of the decision four times and Emily wished Andrew to put up $1,000 for every time he had said she was a traitor. In fact she had brought suit for $12,000 damages. She lost in the lower court and appealed but the case was dropped. Andrew also said of Emily that she told her pupils the United States history then used in the public schools was nothing but a stack of lies.

THE YOUNG MOTHER

OFTEN NEEDS A TONIC TO BRING BACK HER STRENGTH.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Are Just the Remedy Because They Are Effective and Cannot Harm Even the Most Delicate Constitution.

The young mother who finds that her health and strength does not return after confinement needs a tonic. After the nurse has gone and the doctor has stopped his visits a weakness often continues which unfits her for her household duties and it is in such a case that a tonic is needed. But great care must be used in the selection of a strengthening medicine, especially if the mother is nursing the child. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which contain no opiate or other harmful drugs, are just suited to the mother's needs.

Mrs. Ethel K. Foster of 1303 South Sheffield avenue, Indianapolis, Ind., bears witness that while in bed after the birth of her two children I became in a terrible run-down condition and my work and sleep for about a year and a half was always up and around, but would have to lie down many times during the day. I couldn't do much work, for I would get so weak and tremble so that I would have to lie down. I suffered constantly with headache which was most intense on top of my head. There was a feeling on top of my head as though a weight was coming down on it. I couldn't see clearly and I couldn't turn around quickly. If I did I would fall down. My heart was weak and I would get out of breath after my little exertion. Many times I would start out for a walk to get a little exercise, but was so weak I could get on only a few steps. I lost in flesh until I weighed about 90 pounds. I was pale and yellow. My lips had no color and my eyes were sunken in my head. I looked like a dead woman.

"I was under two doctors' care for about three months. While they kept encouraging me, I grew no better and was completely discouraged. I was induced to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and after I had taken them a while I felt so much better that I gave them a good trial and was cured. My complexion is healthy, my weight about 125 pounds, which was my weight before being sick. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

WIFE'S ON THE INSIDE AND HER PARENTS WILL REND THOSE VOWS ASUNDER.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Olympia, Wash., July 24.—The efforts of young Grover Holopeter to get his girl wife away from her parents by habeas corpus proceedings failed in the superior court today when Judge Mason Irwin denied the writ.

Young Holopeter, who is 19 years old, eloped with Imogene Glenn, aged 14, July 17. They secured a license by presenting what purported to be a written consent from their parents and were married. After visiting Shelton, North Yakima and Tacoma, they were arrested in the latter city and the boy's name was changed with forgery in preparing the written consent of the parents of the two.

The case against him was dismissed on preliminary examination and he then sought to secure a writ that would deliver Imogene to him from her parents, who are retaining her by force.

Imogene told Judge Irwin she preferred to leave her parents and go with Grover, but the judge refused to interfere and permitted her parents to amend the pleadings so that an annulment of the marriage will be asked. The trial on this phase of the case will occur tomorrow.

Imogene is a pretty, blue-eyed girl, whose looks do not belie her age, and Grover does not look over 19. Young Holopeter is engaged for himself in cultivating oysters and claims to be able to support a wife.

WALLA WALLA'S CITY HALL IS COMPLETED

City Officials, Segregated for 20 Months, Are Now Amalgamating.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Walla Walla, Wash., July 23.—After having been in the course of construction for more than a year, Walla Walla's city hall is at last completed and the city officers, who have been strewn about the town for 20 months, are taking up their quarters in the new building. The offices of the water department, the city clerk, the street commissioner and surveyor have already been moved and the police are today busily engaged in transporting their belongings to the new building. The commercial club, which is to occupy the third floor, will move soon.

The building is of pressed brick and finely finished. The offices are large and commodious. The building is located at the corner of Third and Ross streets, on the site of the old building which was torn down to make room for the new building. The building was begun months ago but has been held up some-time on account of a difference of opinion as to whether the bonds issued for its erection were good. This was decided favorably a short time ago by the supreme court.

SEEKS TENANT FOR NEW MODERN BUILDING

Theodore B. Wilcox, the owner by recent purchase of the Yeon quarter block at the southeast corner of Seventh and Stark streets, is negotiating with a prospective tenant for the erection of a building covering the entire site. When seen this morning, Mr. Wilcox was not prepared to make definite announcement of the character of improvement to which the site was to be put, but he said that the nature and height of the proposed structure will be largely governed by the requirements of the prospective tenant. Mr. Wilcox says that any improvement he makes there will be in keeping with the recently constructed buildings in that vicinity.
