FORGOT EVEN DAY HE WAS MARRIED

Witness in Booth Case Has Memory Frequently Refreshed.

The marriage of I. Thomas Ages, a government witness for the prosecution in the Booth-Singleton conspiracy case now being heard by Judge Wolverton in the United States circuit court, plays an important part in the hearing and is mentioned many times, the defense attorney, Robert L. Frazer, asks the witness by asking him whether certain transactions took place before or after marriage.

Mr. Ages was married October 6, 1897. But he wasn't sure of the date until his lawyer for the defense, Mr. Frazer, asked him a question. In fact, he has lived in Douglas county most all his life and in the course of his making a livelihood never had much occasion to think of dates or anything so exacting. And besides, Mr. Ages is a slow thinker and a slow talker.

Mr. Ages was on the stand all morning being cross-examined by Dan Maloney to the defense. Mr. Ages said that when he arranged to file on the stand he was given a list of questions. He had no intention of defrauding the government and that he thought that everything he was doing was regular.

The government is endeavoring to show that Ages secured final proof to land for the purpose of disposing of it to the Boston-Kelly Lumber company, Ages got $300 for the claim.

Mr. Ages will probably be on the stand for a day or two longer.

COTTEL IN FAVOR OF $1,000 LICENSE

Councilman Cotel is still on the war path after the scalping of the restaurant owners, and stated today that he is in favor of increasing the license of such places from $300 to $1,000, instead of from $300 to $600, as provided by the Vaughn-Driscoll ordinance, which was referred back to the liquor license committee at Wednesday's meeting of the council.

"These places are the real menace," said the chairman of the committee, "and there is no reason why they should be allowed to pursue their business. If we can put them out of business by raising the license I am in favor of such a course. Furthermore, I believe that we can put many of them out of business in this manner, which will give us the opportunity to keep in closer touch with the remaining restaurants and thus enable their better regulation."

"There is no more doubt in my mind as to the advisability of raising the license than there is that many young women are led astray in the restaurants. By mitigating the risk we mitigate the suffering, and if we raise the license and thus save one girl our action in raising the license will be more than vindicated."

"There has been altogether too much squabbling over the liquor question in this city, and inasmuch as we are in the fight and inasmuch as again we might as well settle the question for once and for all. This can be accomplished in the next few meetings of the council if the members will do their part in passing favorable legislation."

PHONO RECORDS SOUND PHONEY

Frenchmen Must Answer in Court for Playing Ju-bilant Selections.

Because Albert Sequin and Francis Oliver put naughty records on their phonograph they will be tried in the justice court next Tuesday for disturbing the peace and quietness of Second avenue, Lewis.

Justice Bell today overruled the demurrer against the complaint. D. M. Moscoso, representing the district attorney's office, found himself cornered by James Glasgow, attorney for the defendants, and put in a hurry call to headquarters for help. District Attorney Cameron attended personally, and the case was so laid before Justice Bell that he overruled the demurrer and the case will be heard next week.

The defense alleged that Sequin and Oliver, Frenchmen, were merely celebrating the Fall of the Bastille. This applied all very well to the date of the French holiday, July 14, but, according to residents of the vicinity, the two Frenchmen have disturbed everybody within earshot every evening for weeks, and the records used on their phonograph abounded forth words to which Second avenue was totally unaccustomed. After the first complaint had been knocked out by the wily lawyer Deputy Constable Kiernan swore to a new charge, and it is under this that the case will be heard.

Next Week "East Lynne."

W. Grenfell, 953 East Eighth north, complained to the police last night that while at the Oaks he had been assaulted by Robert L. Frazer, 835 East Yamhill. Investigation showed, however, that the assault was provoked, for according to Frazer, an employee of the Portland & Co. Grenfell had persistently thrown confetti in the face of the young woman accompanied by Frazer, who resented the action, and, turning on the confetti thrower, she desired, according to the police report, "just about what any man would give him."

ABINGTON FIRE WILL NOT INCREASE RATES

Assistant General Manager Dan Fogarty of the Pacific coast branch of the Royal Fire Insurance company was asked yesterday if the fire in the Abington block would have a tendency to increase insurance rates if it was found that the fire was caused by the negligence of the building.

Mr. Fogarty said the insurance companies merely regard the fire as an incident and would not raise rates to expect an advance. He said the agents of insurance companies had not set out to effect the orders they had received from headquarters to raise the insurance rates some time ago.

These rates had been advanced because of the fact that there was no alternative outlet for the electric system here, but the promise of the power company to remedy this by the installation of a new station has been taken into consideration, and the board has decided to wait a reasonable time before putting the increased rates into effect.

Mr. Fogarty paid a high compliment to the fire department, which he said, as efficient as any in the country. He said the Abington fire had been admirably handled by Portland's firemen and thought it a remarkable thing that the whole block had not gone with the two buildings that were swept.

The building records of the Ames Mercantile Agency, which it was feared had been destroyed in the fire of Thursday night are found to be almost intact. The records containing the names of persons who were in the building at the time of the fire, but who were not themselves being tightly packed, escaped with only a scorching. As the records cover some 10 or 12 years, their safety is a matter of no little importance to the firm.

BOARD INDORSES WOOLEN MILL SCHEME

The Manufacturers' association at a meeting last evening went on record in favor of the proposed industry of the Gordon Falls Electric & Manufacturing company, which is preparing to establish a woolen mill plant near Bridal Veil. The following resolution was adopted:

"The directors of the Manufacturers' association, which is also the committee on manufactures and public improvements of the chamber of commerce, after personally inspecting and investigating the property and water-power and other natural facilities of the Gordon Falls Electric & Manufacturing company, wishes to report to the respective associations and public generally, that they desire to affirm again their belief that Oregon is the best natural field for the operation of woolen mills and other kindred industries, for which we possess the raw materials, and that the Gordon Falls Electric & Manufacturing company, with its location, served as it is, by both rail and water, offers most excellent advantages for the establishment of such industries."

A resolution was passed endorsing the school of trade to be opened under the auspices of the Portland board of education.

After waiting two years for her husband to return from the Philippines and support her, Mrs. Rosa Polito has begun suit in the circuit court for divorce from Adolph Polito. The husband returned on July 1, she says, and she invited him to come back and live with her, but he declined. They were married at Salinas, Cal., in April 1905, and Mrs. Polito charges that her husband left her for the army seven months later. She desires to resume her maiden name, Rosa Wilcox.

The Portland chamber of commerce has received proposals from the Panama canal commission asking for bids on 600,000 bushels of wheat, 1,000,000 pounds of hay, and a large quantity of dimension lumber. The city of Portland and state of Oregon produce these commodities in great quantity and the secretary of the chamber is at the service of any one interested in formulating bids for supplying the government with the desired products.

CRAZED WOMAN SCREAMS MURDER

A telephone call to the police station this morning having a woman had been murdered on Sixth, and that a streetcar brought out the patrol wagon for a two-mile dash.

When the patrolmen arrived they discovered a hall of women and children congregated about a middle-aged woman who has been in the insane asylum and is now suffering from mental derangement. The officers tried to calm her but she continuously declared, "I'll tell the governor about it," which was the only intelligible sentence she spoke.

Some people like freckles; other people don't. Those who don't like them and want to get rid of them should try this recipe: Shave down a cake of Ivory Soap. Add just enough water to dissolve it. Set on back of stove. When thoroughly melted, remove from the fire. Add the juice of one lemon. Beat hard for a few moments and pour into moulds to harden. Use just as you would use a cake of toilet soap.

BEWARE THE MAN OF MUNCHHAUSEN TYPE

Should a soft-spoken Tennesseean begin to unfold to you a tale of his adventures in a gun fight at the local table, or tell you how many times he has helped those in distress, throw him out at once. The chances are that he is Louis Stoltz, 59 years old, sentenced to Peleum for first degree murder, but who broke his parole at Roseville, Cal.

The description of Stoltz sent the Portland police is regular in the extreme. He habit of telling of his achievements in a fight or in a poker game and also of his good Samaritan acts is so laid upon him that the California authorities evidently rely largely upon it to effect his capture and return to Peleum. His eyes fill with tears when he relates how he has helped the widow and orphan, but just the same there is a reward of $100 for his apprehension.
