VENEZUELAN PORTS WILL BE BOMBARDED BY WARSHIPS

LIMIT OF PATIENCE HAS BEEN REACHED

DUTCH WILL FIRE SHOTS

Unless Castro Comes Off High Horse War Will Result — Washington Is Pleased With Step Taken by Netherlands.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Willemstad, Curaco, July 27.—The Dutch cruiser Golderland arrived here today bearing Minister De Rues, who was expelled from Venezuela. The cruiser received orders to return at once to Venezuela to protect the Dutch interests and be prepared for any emergency. De Rues will remain here pending orders from the government.

Amsterdam, July 27.—In retaliation for the summary expulsion of Minister de Rues, it is officially announced today that all Dutch warships in Amsterdam waters have been ordered to make a demonstration against Venezuela.

Unless President Castro makes an immediate apology to this country it is probable that the Dutch ships will bombard La Guayra, Puerto Cabello and the other principal coast towns of Venezuela.

The opinion is expressed freely here that Castro at last has exceeded all bounds in his international insults and that nothing but an actual attack upon Venezuela will bring him to a proper recognition of the rights of other nations.

Reports from the island of Curacao of the revolt of the Dutch and the natives against the Venezuelan consul and all things Venezuelan have increased greatly the belief that the situation is critical and that summary action is necessary.

The Venezuelan consul, Senor Lopez, guarded by soldiers who surround his home today to prevent a repetition of the attacks of Saturday night and Sunday, when the natives engaged in a furious outbreak occasioned by their hatred for President Castro and the Venezuelan government in general.

The residents of this island believe that Castro has been leading up to an actual attack upon the Dutch possessions and have become so incensed that they will not listen to counsel of the leaders, who urge against public demonstration, promising that the home government will take the necessary action to hold Castro in check.

WASHINGTON IS PLEASED WITH STAND OF DUTCH

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Washington, July 27.—The announcement that the Netherlands has decided to make a hostile demonstration against Venezuela was received with much interest and a certain amount of satisfaction at the state department today.

The department realized that something had to be done to prove to President Castro that he is not above the international law. The action of the Netherlands, it is believed, is as good a way of bringing the Venezuelan to a realization of the certain outcome of a continuance of his present policy as could be proposed.

OPERA HOUSE IS IN ASHES

Fire of Unknown Origin Does $15,000 Damage at Coeur d'Alene.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, July 27.—Fire believed to be of incendiary origin destroyed the Coeur d'Alene opera house about 4 o'clock this morning. The building was a wooden structure, valued at $15,000 and insured for $11,000. Lack of wind saved surrounding buildings.

C. Spalding and Glenn Sales have been arrested on suspicion. They were attaches of a moving picture show which occupied the house, and were seen coming out of it just before the fire was discovered.

Scout Cruiser Completed.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Boston, Mass., July 27.—The Fore River Shipbuilding company today officially turned over to the navy department the new scout cruiser Salem, whose recent trials showed her to be the fastest large ship of the American navy.

A Little Daughter of the Tea Isle

Baroness Kiao Takahira, 16-year-old daughter of the new Japanese ambassador. The little baroness has just arrived from her native land. She still clings to her native Japanese ornaments. It is expected she will add materially to the gaiety of Washington winter society next season, and will undoubtedly prove one of the chief attractions wherever she appears.

LITTLE DOG SAVES LIFE OF MASTER

San Francisco, July 27.—Henry Longfaytt came near being killed in a peculiar manner this morning. He went to sleep while reading a newspaper and smoking a pipe, fell from the lounge and struck his head with such force on the floor that he was rendered unconscious. The pipe set fire to the paper and the house and Henry might have burned to cinder had not his little dog Pinkie made such a noise that neighbors came to the rescue. Longfayit was not seriously injured.

KELLAHER OBJECT OF ATTACK

Inman-Poulsen Company to File Suit Against Extension of Grand Avenue, Alleging Councilman Is Not Eligible to Seat in Council

Kellaher's Street Resolution Questioned on Grounds That Oregon Law Prohibits Person From Holding More Than One Office.

Councilman Kellaher's eligibility to serve in the city council since his elections to the state senate will be questioned and will form an important part in a suit that may follow Kellaher's resolution to extend Grand avenue from East Clay to Ellsworth streets, which would open up the street through the planing mill of the Inman-Poulsen company. That the company will fight the proposed street opening has been conceded by George S. Shepherd, who is the company's attorney.

Another resolution which Kellaher introduced to the street committee, which later introduced it to the council, provides for the opening of East Third street through the company's mill site. This resolution, however, is not expected to play so important a part in regard to Kellaher's eligibility as the one opening Grand avenue, which Kellaher introduced directly to the council.

Kellaher Holds Two Offices.

The constitution of Oregon says that no person shall hold more than one lucrative office at the same time. Further, the constitution says that a state senator becomes such the day after the general election. This would make Kellaher, who was elected June 1, a state senator and a councilman at the same time, which is contended to be in direct opposition to the wording of the constitution, if not to the spirit of the act.

The point that will be brought out in the suit to be filed by the lumber company against the proposed opening of the street is in regard to the legality of the council's act in passing the resolution, which the company will claim was introduced by a man who was not legally a member of the council at the time.

Just how the courts will look upon Kellaher's eligibility is a matter of concern not only to the councilman's friends but to the company and city as well. So far as known there is only one case of similar nature that has ever been taken to the supreme court of any state. This was the case of Indiana against Kirk.

Test Case in Indiana.

It is almost identical with that of Kellaher and to add interest to the matter the constitution of Indiana respecting one man holding two lucrative offices at the same time is almost identical in wording as the Oregon constitution.

The supreme court of Indiana in this case held that the position of councilman in this sense was not considered lucrative and ruled in favor of Kirk. If the lumber company should press the Kellaher matter in its suit it is believed the Indiana decision will play an important part in the proceedings.

Whether Kellaher is eligible or not, the resolutions promise to renew the fight of the council against the lumber company. Not since the resolutions were passed by the council respecting the city's rights to six streets now occupied by the lumber company has anything been done toward ousting the company from its position in using city streets without first obtaining their vacation from the city council.

White Masked Thug.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, July 27.—The police are today looking for a thug that has been operating in the down town district in the early hours of the morning under a white mask. The man had held up several victims within a few minutes of one another but no one had ever been able to get a glimpse of his face, which is always concealed behind a long white mask.

STARVES TO DEATH IN MOUNTAINS

Alone, One Leg Broken, a Young Englishman Makes Futile 16-Day Fight for Life in Montana Wilds Near Olive Station.

Diary Tells Story of His Horrible Sufferings—Saw Section Men Across River on Seventh Day — Mind Became Deranged.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Helena, Mont., July 27.—After living in terrible torture and agony for 16 days, alone and without food, death finally came to the relief of a young man by the name of W. H. Gulliver in the mountain wilds near Olive station, Sanders county.

The man was a stranger in this part of the country and nothing is known of him other than what was gleaned by Coroner Victor Seward from a diary kept by the unfortunate man. He evidently became unconscious, dying soon afterward. The first entry in the little book reads as follows:

"Notify My People."

"My name is W. H. Gulliver, my home, Birmingham, England. Notify my wife, mother and child at K. E. South street, care Rand & Smith. Am a brother-in-law of Rand. Fell down the mountain and broke my leg."

The next memoranda were dated on later days. On July 16 the story of his terrible fight against death and his struggles to reach civilization and help was concluded, and it must be left to the reader to imagine the man's sufferings as he dragged himself through miles of wilderness for 16 days, his broken leg dangling behind him, striking rocks, trees and stumps, with the grim spectre of death ever hovering over him day and night.

Help Near Yet Far.

On the seventh day he says: "Could see section men across river on hand car. Hallooed. They surely heard me, but went on. My leg so badly swelled have to crawl on my back." On the twelfth day he wrote: "Two young men passed me and promised to go for help, but never returned." This last is believed to have been an hallucination of a deranged mind.

On the sixteenth day he still had vitality enough to write. "This is my last day," closing forever the story of one of the most pathetic tragedies ever occurring in these mountains.

The body was found by the Sanders boys last Tuesday while they were looking for stock, and was in the last stages of decomposition, the head and lower limbs having separated from the body.

Word was immediately sent to Coroner Seward and he arrived on the scene that afternoon, and after learning the facts had the body buried near Olive among a number of other graves.

The unfortunate man appeared to be between 30 and 35 years old. He wore a good blue colored coat and two pairs of overalls. From the tattered condition of his clothes it is evident that he had crawled a long distance in his desperate fight with death.

GROSSCUP NOT GUEST OF E. P. PRENTICE

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Pittsfield, Mass., July 27.—Indignation was expressed today by Judge Peter S. Grosscup while discussing the story that E. Parmlee Prentice, son-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, had invited him and Attorney-General Bonaparte to dinner at the Prentice summer home here. The judge, a member of the federal court of appeals at Chicago, read the decision invalidating the $29,000,000 fine imposed upon the Standard Oil company of Indiana by Judge K. M. Landis.

"The story you refer to is not true," Judge Grosscup said. "Mr. Prentice and his family are, I am told, abroad. I am the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bishop, old-time Chicago friends."

PROGRAM IS THAT HISGEN WILL HEAD INDEPENDENCE TICKET

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Chicago, July 27.—At conferences held today by the leaders of the Independence party, the national convention of which opens here tonight, it was practically decided that Thomas L. Hisgen of Massachusetts will be the candidate for the presidency and that a southerner, not yet chosen, will be named for vice-president.

William R. Hearst, head of the Independence party, declares positively that there will be no compromise with the Democratic party and that any attempt to indorse Bryan would be futile. He says that the Independence party is out to make an independent fight against both the old parties and that it is gathering strength every day. Though his quarters in the Auditorium Annex were near those of Bryan Sunday he exchanged no courtesies with the commoner and there was no show of friendliness of any kind.

The program for tonight is as follows: 8:00 p. m., convention called to order by Charles A. Walsh of Iowa, secretary of the national committee; 8:05 p. m., nominations for temporary chairman of the convention; 8:10 p. m., election of temporary chairman; 8:15 p. m., speech of temporary chairman; 9:15 p. m., roll call of delegations for nominations for members of credentials, rules, resolutions and other committees of the convention; 9:30 p. m., announcement of standing committees of convention; 10:00 p. m., adjournment to Tuesday afternoon.

It is expected that Hearst will be named as temporary chairman and will deliver the "keynote" speech. This address is expected to be a severe arraignment of the two old parties and a call to arms to the independent voters of the country.

This afternoon he attended a meeting of the state central committee which has been called for the purpose of infusing harmony into the Taft campaign in Ohio. It is expected that every member of the committee will go away from the meeting with old factional differences forgotten and make a fight for Republican victory.

Word was received from Chicago that Frank H. Hitchcock left at 1 o'clock for Cincinnati to be present tomorrow at the notification of Taft of his nomination for the presidency by the Republican convention. Hitchcock will make a report to Taft on conditions in the middle west.

ROUMANIA ASKS RECALL OF ENVOY

Horace G. Knowles Said to Have Exceeded His Diplomatic Power.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Bucharest, July 27.—The Roumanian government is today considering the advisability of demanding that Washington recall Horace G. Knowles, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Roumania and Servia who is accused of having misrepresented his authority to the Roumanian officials.

The incident, which has caused a diplomatic crisis here is the outcome of negotiations between the United States and Roumania concerning a proposed extradition treaty.

Premier Sturdza, who drew up the extradition treaty accused Knowles of having represented to him that he had plenary powers to conclude the treaty between the two nations.

The treaty was drawn and sent to Washington, where it was disapproved. The incident has caused the Roumanian government much humiliation, says Premier Sturdza and he demands that Envoy Knowles be recalled.

APPEASES HUNGER FROM GARBAGE CAN

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Los Angeles, July 27.—Following his arrest while eating half decayed meat and sodden bread snatched from the foul depths of a garbage can, Joseph Lemonte is in jail here today, a puzzle to the police.

Lemonte, who is well dressed and apparently an intelligent man, explains that he was out of work and starving. It is learned that he did not apply for aid at any of the charitable institutions here and the police believe that his mind was temporarily deranged.

GUSHER SHOOTS UP 1,500 FEET

Ninety Thousand Barrels Flowing Daily From Mexican Oil Well.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Mexico City, July 27.—Flames are shooting 1,500 feet in the air today from the oil well near Tampico, which has been burning for the past two weeks. Recent explosions have torn fissures in the earth surrounding the well and given new outlets to the fire. Experts said today that 90,000 barrels of oil are flowing from the well daily, making it the greatest gusher in history.

There is little hope of extinguishing the flames now, but the Pennsylvania Oil company, which owns the well, is preparing a metal drag which will be hauled across the openings, in an effort to quench the flames as soon as the fire subsides sufficiently to allow men to get near enough to work.

AERIAL NAVIGATOR OUTLINES FLIGHT

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, July 27.—Henry Farman, the world's champion aerial navigator, is here today preparing to make 15 flights at Brighton Beach race track, for which the Aero Club of America has agreed to pay him $24,600. He arrived from Havre Sunday on the French liner La Lorraine.

After making his flights at Brighton, Farman expects to make 15 more in the principal cities of the United States at the rate of $2,000 each.

As soon as he has completed his scheduled flights he will issue a challenge to Wright brothers. He will offer to bet them $10,000 that his machine will remain in the air longer than theirs.

MONTEREY FOREST RESERVE THREATENED WITH DESTRUCTION

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Salinas, Cal., July 27.—A forest fire that threatens to destroy the entire Monterey forest reserve of over 40,000 acres has already consumed over 10,000 acres of some of the most valuable timber in the United States and fighters under the direction of the government supervisor are trying to check the flames. The fire is now sweeping the Santa Lucia range and there is no hope of checking the wall of flame until it has gone at least as far as the Arroyo Seco river.

The area now embraced by the fire is from the east to the valley and as far north as the Arroyo Seco river and redwood timber of great value is wiped out.

Reports received here today state that the men have no hope of controlling the fire. It is stated to be the most disastrous fire in the history of the forestry department.

Late reports received here from the scene of the big forest fire in the Monterey forest reserve state that the fire is now under control.

The fire started last Tuesday at 10 o'clock in the morning, presumably from a camper's fire and before night it had gained in volume until it had destroyed several farm houses and orchards.

Forest rangers have impressed men into their service to fight the fire. The path of the flames is strewn with the bodies of mountain lions that were killed by the fire.
