Crystal Springs farm, owned by the Ladd estate, is today without lights or running water, as a result of a fire early this morning, which completely destroyed the pumping station and lighting plant. The fire was discovered by employees of the farm about 3:30 o'clock this morning, and it almost broke through the roof. All efforts to save the building were useless because of the already big start, and the building was completely destroyed. The fire probably started from defective wiring, and the damage will amount to about $500.

Mazamas are leaving for the 1908 outing camp at Spirit Lake, at the foot of Mount St. Helens. The first party, consisting of C. E. Forsyth, E. P. Sheldon, Rev. C. T. Wilson, Rev. D. A. Waters, Misses Plummer and McClellan, departed today, and the main party is to leave Saturday evening, 2 p. m., going via Castle Rock and Trout Lake bridge. From the bridge they will make an early start Sunday morning in wagons and on foot, and all will be in camp at Spirit Lake Friday evening. Provisions and a cook have been sent in advance.

A spark supposedly from the big afternoon fire started a blaze on the roof of the Dewey house, Third and Burnside, at 9 o'clock last evening. A chemical engine quickly extinguished the fire after about $50 damage had been done. Another spark was reported in the building at 49 Ankeny street, but little damage was done. The building is occupied by Chinese, and was damaged several nights ago when Patrion Humphreys arrested a lottery agent and a lamp was upset in the scumming.

Court Clerk Fields has started a record of insanity examinations in cases where the accused persons are discharged. Heretofore there has been no record kept, but it often happens that a man brought in on charges of crime or other offense previously has expected of insanity. A record will be of use to the authorities in tracing men arrested in such cases. Cases coming before the coroner in which no action is taken will be noted for future reference.

Hugh Walthrow, former first cook on the steamer Potter, who was arrested last week by Detective E. B. Wood of the O. R. & N. and charged with stealing provisions from the steamer's larder, was released to await trial yesterday by Justice of the Peace Bell yesterday. Walthrow was captured with a suitcase filled with ham, butter, canned goods and other provisions, and admits his guilt.

A horse was burned to death last night because it was near five tons of hay under a temporary roof on the property of Nicholas Poch at East Thirtieth and Bismarck streets, Brooklyn. By the time the firemen had the horse out in the open air it was so severely injured that it died in a few minutes.

Water through hose for sprinkling yards or sidewalks or washing porches or windows must be paid for in advance and used only between the hours of 5 and 8 a. m. and 5 and 9 p. m. It must not be used for sprinkling streets. If used contrary to these rules or wastefully it will be shut off.

The residence of Mrs. George R. Bills, 452 East Taylor street, was damaged by a fire which broke out during the progress of the big fire on the west side yesterday afternoon. Starting under the eaves of the roof the fire did about $300 damage.

The woman who does her own work ought to have the very best of everything to do with.

Take this matter of dish-washing, for example—it pays to use Ivory Soap even for that.

Ivory Soap cleans the dishes as thoroughly as any soap can; while, at the same time, it is so mild and pure that it does not injure the hands.

 6—Margarette McCoy, La Grande, Or. 2,775

Miss Beulah Gilkey, a Corvallis student competing in the Oregon Journal's third scholarship contest, stands in sixth place in District No. 2. Miss Gilkey was born in Montesano, Wash., 17 is now a student at the Oregon Agricultural college. Her ambition is to take a course in either vocal or elocution in the Western academy. Beulah's sister is taking a post-graduate course in the same school. She is an assistant teacher of botany in that school. A brother is also a student at the O. A. C. Another brother is manager of a creamery and one a bookkeeper in a lumber company.

Beulah has a large circle of friends who are always glad to see her win a Journal scholarship and she will get good support from them.

As the contest is well under way now, it is up to those students who are behind the leaders to catch up in order to have the right to see the class of scholarship. Hard work is necessary. Remember the prizes are well worth working hard for. The contestant winning the first choice gets a scholarship worth $175 and a cash prize of $100. In addition to these, she gets a cash commission on every new subscription he or she secures. Surely all this remuneration should stimulate contestants to work diligent throughout the year.

Those who are far behind should not despair of winning. There is yet time to secure enough subscriptions for the Oregon Journal to put you in the lead. By April 1st you will be able to work harder and you will secure orders where you least expected them. Visit stores, offices, shops, factories, waiting rooms, depots, sunburned resorts, railroad cars and mix your work in stores and even places where people congregate. By explaining your work and making known your object you will secure hundreds of orders with a little effort. If you don't secure orders in one or two places, try again and again and success will crown your efforts.

Owners can find them at lost article Oregon Water Power & Railway company building First and Alder.

Woman's Exchange, 133 Tenth street, 14-30 to 2, business men's lunch.

AT THE THEATRES

"The Thief" at Heilig Tonight.

The charming American actress Margaret Illington, supported by an excellent company of players, will present the interesting drama "The Thief" at the Grand theater, Fourteenth and Washington streets, tonight and tomorrow night at 8:15 o'clock. Seats are now selling at theatre.

Bright Comedy at the Oaks.

There is no need to dull these days, when a short car ride to The Oaks will cure the blues. Out there this week the Allen Curtis Comedy company is producing "A Runaway Honeymoon" which is full of sparkling fun, pretty songs and dainty dances.

Great Vaudeville.

One of the best vaudeville programs in the history of the Grand is being presented this week by Sullivan & Considine. Zazel and Vernon are pantomimists from London and their act is the biggest kind of laugh. C. N. Grant in his legitimate comedy, "The Rounder," is a genuine star.

ADDITIONAL PLANS FOR THE REGATTA

(Special Dispatch to The Journal)

Astoria, Or., July 29.—The regatta committee has decided that both the single and double scull races between Vashon, Port Townsend, Victoria, Vancouver, B. C., and their partners, will take place. The chief of the Yakima Indians with the members of his tribe, will be here. One of their famous war dances will be given.

Italian Drowned at Klamath.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal)

Klamath Falls, Or., July 29.—The body of a man was found among the rocks near Ackley's mill Sunday afternoon by a number of boatmen. The bodies were identified as that of the man who disappeared from the steamer Klamath last week. A tax receipt was found on his person bearing the name of J. Garcelon. He was buried in the cemetery, and letters have been written to California to ascertain if the drowned man had relatives or friends living.

HOT CHASE WITH BUTCHER KNIFE

Prizefighter Gives Cook in North End a Run for His Life.

Armed with a huge butcher blade 18 inches long, Hugh Mooney chased George Smith, cook in a North Third street restaurant, for two blocks at 1 o'clock this morning. Smith escaped by his fleetness of foot.

Less than an hour later Mooney was arrested by Patrolmen Hewlett and Rupert. "There's a man in this town I'm going to kill, and if you stop me I'll cut off your heads," was his threat to the policemen, according to their report. He was charged with having a concealed weapon, and today Smith swore out a complaint against him. Mooney was carrying the monster knife in his hip pocket when arrested.

Mooney was known to Smith as a pizzighester, so when Mooney entered the Willamette restaurant, 112 North Third, where Smith is employed as cook, and began to create a disturbance, the manager, Mr. L. C. Moore, called for help. Mooney confronted him with the knife and threatened to kill him, so Moore telephoned for help and the manager sent the young woman cashier to stop him.

Smith instantly began to run. Mooney and the big knife were within 10 feet and the big knife was flying for the first block traversed, and then Smith's swiftness began to tell and Mooney dropped behind him.
