ERRORS, ERRORS SAP OUR TERRORS

Fans See Weirdest Game Put Up by Beavers Tame.

From out the stand there came this shout,
That it was right there is no doubt,
"That bunch is woozy, take 'em out!
They're rotten."
—Dock's Dope.

Wasn't it aggravating, Agnes?

Even Dock Anderson, loyal supporter of the brown-furred colony that hibernates at Vaughn Park, sneaked silently away at the end of the seventh.

"Let Johnson do it all," was the excited declaration of a frenzied fan, when Ote was sent to the abattoir. Well, Ote promptly stopped laughter, and would have come through with a clean slate had not a brace of his companions slipped errors into his picnic basket.

Portland could not have won the game yesterday, anyhow. No team had a right to win against such pitching as Harry Sutor put up. But 31 times did the homeguard face the masterful Texan in the nine innings. Three of the scratchiest kind of his were all he permitted the Beavers. The heavy stickers were helpless in front of his puzzling slants.

Graney started the game for the locals, but after four runs were made off him in the fifth inning, McCredie chased him to the bench and sent in Beanpole Marshall. Marshall stayed long enough to allow Curtis, Sutor, Mohler and Hildebrand to stuff their batting averages with singles, when he, too, was waved to the bench and Ote Johnson taken from shortstop to shoot 'em down the alley, Cooney going in.

Ote was sure a puzzle to the Seals, and the next three men went out, though not before two errors had allowed Mohler and Hilde to register.

Here's the way Oakland made her nine. In the second inning, Berry arrived on his own double and Curtis' single. Joe having been sent in to take McArdle's place after the first inning. Four runs were made in the fifth on errors by Ryan, Graney and Casey, and three hits. In the following inning errors by Raftery and Cooney and four singles allowed four more runs.

MUCH MONEY WAGERED ON ROSEBURG'S RACES

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Roseburg, Or., July 30.—The regular races scheduled for this week were pulled off at the fair ground track yesterday afternoon. The three races were judged by M. D. Wisdom of Portland; Hon. W. H. Wehrung of Hillsboro, and Hon. Binger Hermann of this city. The first race was a five eighths of a mile dash between King Kohr, owned by W. W. Cardwell, and Oregon Frank, by Bert Brown. King Kohr was ridden by Bobby Herrin and Oregon Frank by Bert Brown Jr. King Kohr won by half a length; time, 1:04.

The second was the ladies' race. It was a half mile dash and the horses were: Virginia Dare, ridden by Miss Clara Kindt; Locust Queen, ridden by Miss Sylvia Kindt, and King Cosey, ridden by Miss Adeo Vial. Locust Queen won by 50 feet; time, 59¼.

Virginia Dare became unmanageable and ran once around the track before the race started, and again after the race was finished. The two Kindt sisters are expert riders, however, having lived on a large cattle range near Cheyenne, Wyo.

The third race was one eight of a mile dash between Blue Diamond and Col. Winningham, the former winning by three full lengths; time, 18¼. There was a good sized crowd in attendance and fully $1,000 changed hands on the races.

THIS IS BERRY

One of the happiest players in the Coast League is Claude Berry, the San Francisco backstop. Claude is so good-natured that all the fans like him. He is one of the niftiest little catchers on the circuit and good for a two-bagger most any old time.

FIGHTERS READY FOR TAP OF GONG

Hugo Kelly, Italian Middleweight, Confident of Beating Champion Ketchel.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

San Francisco, July 30.—The betting public today is offering even money that Stanley Ketchel, middleweight champion, will defeat Hugo Kelly, the Italian fighter from Chicago, in 15 rounds tomorrow night. It is expected that Ketchel will enter the ring a 10 to three favorite. These prices are looked upon as being far out of proportion by the so-called experts, who point out that the San Francisco public is doing just what it did when it went wild over Gans and backed him so heavily against Nelson on the Fourth of July.

Both Ketchel and Kelly are in excellent condition. They did no work today. Kelly is practically at the required weight of 158 pounds and Ketchel is about a pound and a half over it. The champion will make the weight with ease by 6 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Despite his being the short ender in the betting, the Italian is confident and his trainers are delighted at the prospects. At the Ketchel camp the usual confidence of the champion prevails.

Jim Jeffries has notified Promoter Coffroth that he will not serve as referee at the Attell-Moran fight and intimates that the fee of $600 is no inducement whatever. He says he intends to stand by his decision to retire temporarily from the ring, according to the announcement he made after officiating at the Welsh-McFarland battle at Los Angeles.

Attell and Moran are expected to reach here Saturday or Sunday. There is some talk of Tiv Kreling being selected as the referee.

JOURNAL HEADS A WELCOME LIST

The Journal heads its subscription list for the bringing of the three Oregon athletes, Forrest Smithson, Albert Gilbert and Daniel Kelly, home in state from the London Olympic games, with a $50 contribution.

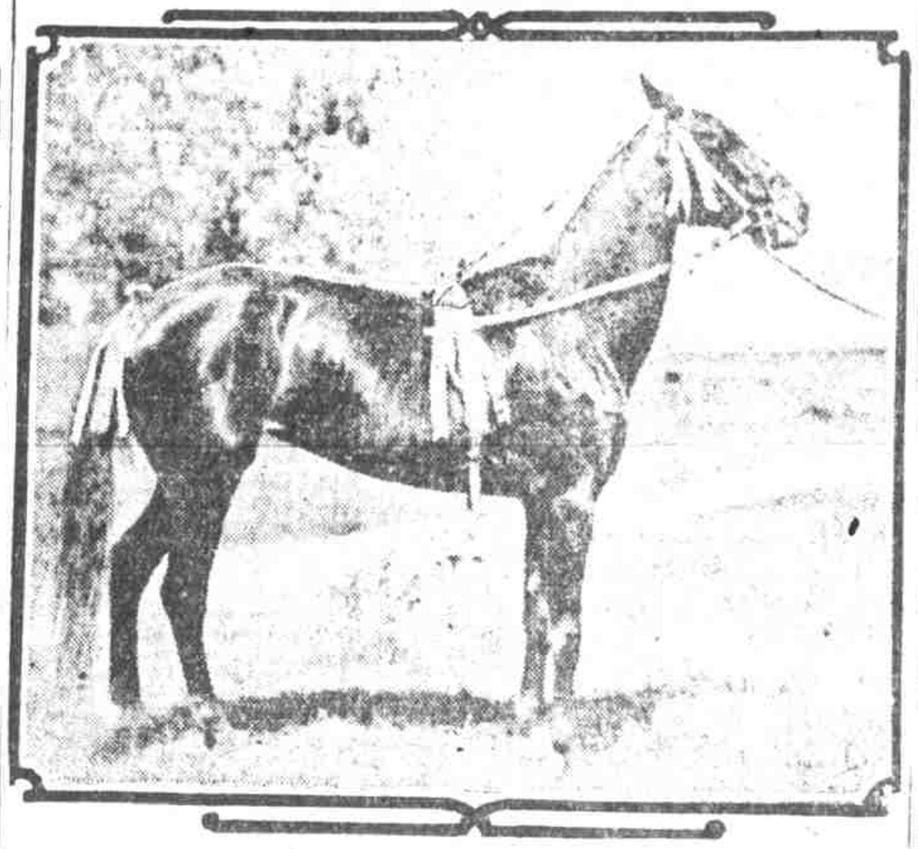
That there will be little trouble raising money enough to bring the three heroes across the continent in a special car appropriately decorated with Oregon advertisements, is fully believed by Dr. Morrison's committee. The movement has the support of the press of the city, since it was officially taken up by the Multnomah club at its meeting Tuesday night, and the various commercial, fraternal and other organizations.

Already Dr. Morrison has been the recipient of scores of letters informing him that the movement will be amply supported. It is believed that $2,000 will be needed to defray the expenses incidental to the trip. This sum is small in comparison with the benefits that will be reaped from the publicity attendant upon the special car and reception features.

Several parties from without Portland have written to the committee, asking that they be allowed to help in the enterprise. Some of these letters are from Corvallis, Eugene, Forest Grove, Baker City, Pendleton and other points where the three athletes are well known and athletics fostered and supported. This makes it of state-wide importance.

One of the first of the local organizations to come forward with its contribution this morning was the Portland Ad club, which has deposited $10 in The Journal subscription bureau which is open to every organization, club or individual in the city.

College Maid at Hillsboro Races



One of the distinctive features of the harness race meet to be held on the country club and Livestock association track here in September will be the exhibition miles by College Maid, the world's record "guideless pacing wonder." The beautiful mare has already been shipped here and is warming up at the Chappelle track at Hillsboro, where she makes her first appearance in the northwest in an exhibition half mile next Friday.

College Maid will go an exhibition mile each day of the week's races here, so that everybody will have an opportunity of seeing this marvelous animal. Her record—and she made two of them in one day at Denver last year—is 59¼, for the half mile on a half-mile track, and, in breaking the world's record, which was up to that time held by Cute, she negotiated a quarter in 27¾, doing it without coaching, prompting or urging of any sort.

When she gives these wonderful exhibitions she is simply "bitted up" as she is shown in the accompanying picture taken the past week at Hillsboro.

The following description of her world's record-making heat is taken from a Denver paper:

"Without driver or sulkey this beautiful pacer was liberated at the half mile and was sent through to the home stretch. Not even the roar of the applauding crowds nor the attempts of the railbirds could disturb the gait of the mare and she paced steadily under the wire and continued to the quarter pole before she was headed by a runner.

"When the official time for the half was announced, horsemen could scarcely believe the correctness of the figures and were astonished beyond comprehension at the quarter in 27¾."

College Maid is by Wild Brimo-Certainty and was raised in Canada. She is being trained out at the Chappelle track at Hillsboro by E. C. Erwin, a member of the owning firm. Her best previous mile was 1:09¼. She has worked four miles in succession with an average record of 2:11½, with the fastest heat in 2:01¼.

Prior to her performance, the world's record for the half mile under these conditions was 1:01¼, and was held by Cute.

The two days' program for the tryout races at Hillsboro tomorrow and Saturday is as follows:

Friday—Pacing, 2:20 class, with cash prizes amounting to $200.

Trotting, 2:27 class, purse $100.

Exhibition by the guideless mare College Maid for championship cup. (Goes without driver or prompter.)

Trot or pace, mile heats, without records, for local horses, $50.

Saturday—Trotting, 2:15 class, $100.

Pacing, free-for-all, $100.

Gentlemen's road race to cart, owners to drive, cup or purse, $50.

Quarter-mile dash for local horses.

AMERICAN TROPHY FOR GAME ITALIAN

Manager of Yankee Athletes Would Honor Marathon Runner, Dorando.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

London, July 30.—Matthew Halpin, manager of the American Olympic team, announced today that when he returns to America he will raise a fund for the purpose of purchasing a trophy to be presented to Dorando, the Italian runner who finished first in the Marathon race but was disqualified.

The Americans were greatly impressed by the great run by Dorando and think it is worthy of some mark of distinction, even though his enthusiastic admirers carried him over the tape and he could not claim the victory under the rules.

The attitude taken by Dorando in accepting the result in a manly manner has won widespread admiration for him.

It may be that somewhere on earth there are other cigarettes as good as

IMPERIALES CIGARETTES

But if there are the men of the West have never discovered them.

Imperiales Cigarettes are as standard for quality as a twenty dollar gold piece.

Their deliciously blended, pure tobacco gets its full value through the thin mais paper—crimped, not pasted—and the cooling mouthpiece.

Smoke Imperiales Cigarettes all day long—no "after effect."

The men of the West smoked over 125,000,000 Imperiales Cigarettes in 1907.

The whole country is rapidly learning their rare qualities.
