KANSANS FIGHT AGAINST BOSSES

Senatorship and Governorship Involved in Struggle Before Primaries.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Topeka, Kan., July 31.—One of the most interesting Republican campaigns that Kansas has known in many years is practically ended, and from end to end the state is awaiting with the keenest interest the results of the general primary next Tuesday. In its outcome is involved the governorship and the question of who shall be the Republican senator from this state to succeed Chester I. Long. There is also involved the nomination of candidates for minor state offices, for electors, for congress, for legislative, county and township places.

Senator Long is opposed in his contest for reelection by Joseph L. Bristow, who was formerly fourth assistant postmaster-general. For a number of weeks the rival aspirants have been engaged in a lively campaign that has carried them to every corner of the state. The managers of the Long campaign appear to feel every confidence in the result. Nevertheless they have taken no chance of becoming victims of overconfidence and they are keeping up the fight with unabated vigor to the very end.

Roosevelt's Man vs. Machine.

The Long forces have had the benefit of a splendid political organization that extends its ramifications through every county of Kansas. They expect to win by a good safe majority that will leave no doubt as to the result. The Bristow forces, on the other hand, are likewise claiming the victory, though their claims are not so expansive as the Long claims.

Bristow has made a good fight for the toga, and his friends expect him to show up well in the primary, even though he may not win out. His attacks on Senator Long undoubtedly have given that statesman some anxious moments. President Roosevelt is exceedingly popular with the Republicans of Kansas, and Mr. Bristow has made one of his strongest points against his opponent by charging the senator with insincerity in his support of the president and his policies. He also charges Senator Long with being in too close sympathy with the railroads and other large corporations.

Square Deal Man for Governor.

The contest for the Republican nomination for governor to succeed Governor E. W. Hoch is even more bitter than the senatorial struggle. In the gubernatorial contest the lines are sharply drawn. The two candidates are W. R. Stubbs and Cyrus Leland.

Stubbs has conducted his fight by waging war on the machine element. He proclaims himself a square dealer and pleads for honesty and decency in the conduct of state affairs. He has arraigned those in power as the leaders of a faction that has bartered public offices as so much merchandise. He says it is time to get away from the old system of grafting and boodling if the Republican party is to be saved from defeat, and he points to himself as the instrument through which the political reform may be accomplished. He charges the machine with having blocked all reform legislation until he and his band of square dealers came to the legislature and demanded and forced the reform measures now on the statute books. He declares that if he is elected governor, Kansas will lead the states of the union in greater reforms for the people.

King of Practical Politicians.

Cyrus Leland, the opponent of Stubbs, was formerly the national Republican committeeman from Kansas and a personal friend and adviser of President McKinley. He has lived in Kansas more than 50 years and has contributed more to the state's political history than any other citizen. He is a practical politician and his organization reaches every voting precinct in the state. His name is as famous to Kansans as is that of Joseph G. Cannon of Illinois, or William B. Allison of Iowa.

He is a typical representative of "practical" politics.

Between Stubbs, the representative of the LaFollette school of politics, and Leland, the "practical" politician, the issue is clean cut. Stubbs expects to win through an uprising and a whirlwind, which his political opponents believe will not materialize in next Tuesday's primary. Leland must win through his superb organization, which admittedly never was in better shape to bring about success at the polls.

SWINBURNE IN DAYTON'S PLACE

Pacific Fleet Commander Relieved and Will Retire in October.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Washington, D. C., July 31.—Rear Admiral James H. Dayton, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, was relieved from the duty today and will proceed to his home to await statutory retirement for age in October. Rear Admiral Dayton is succeeded in command of the Pacific fleet by Rear Admiral William T. Swinburne, who has been in command of the second squadron of the fleet.

Admiral Dayton today delivered the command of the fleet to Admiral Swinburne on board the flagship West Virginia. The ceremony was simple. As Admiral Dayton's flag was hauled down from the armored cruiser it was saluted with 13 guns and as the retiring officer left the side of the ship in his barge another salute was given him. Admiral Swinburne then broke his flag from the masthead, and it was saluted.

In his first orders as commander of the Pacific fleet, Admiral Swinburne appointed F. H. Potett as his chief of staff and E. T. Constey as flag lieutenant.

Admiral Dayton will not retire until October, but he asked to be relieved so that he would not have to take the trip to the Samoan Islands.

Admiral Dayton, whose active career in the navy is brought to a close, has had about twenty-four years' service at sea. He is from Indiana, and entered the navy in September 1862. He reached the grade of rear admiral in February, 1906, when he was appointed to the command of the Pacific fleet and took the armored cruiser division of the fleet from New York to the Philippines and then to the California coast.

Admiral Swinburne, the new commander of the Pacific fleet, is 61 years old and a native of Rhode Island. He graduated from the Annapolis academy in 1866 and since that time has seen service in all parts of the world. He had a prominent part in the naval operations in West Indian waters during the war with Spain and later joined Admiral Dewey's fleet at Manila. From 1902 to 1904 he was the commander of the battleship Texas.

PROMINENT MEN FLEE THE COUNTRY

Abaction Charge Is Lodged Against Three Idaho Citizens in Nez Perce District.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Lewiston, Idaho, July 31.—As a result of warrants sworn out at Orofino, Monday, three well known citizens of the eastern section of Nez Perce county are fugitives from justice to evade arrest for cattle stealing, another is under arrest and the officers are scouring the mountain country to discover the trail of those who are supposed to be fleeing to Montana. The man arrested is A. J. Sloan of Orofino, and those wanted are George Moore, C. A. Rice and W. T. Reid, ranch owners in the vicinity of Ford's creek.

The warrants were sworn out at the instance of Daniel Carr, a prominent stockman of the upper Clearwater section. Carr's sons last Sunday in search of a missing steer found its hide at Reid's place. He objected to their removing it but was pacified and later said Sloan, Moore and Rice sold him the steer. On the strength of the hide and the brand warrants were issued for the four. Sloan was arrested, but the others fled. Carr says that he has missed 12 head of choice cattle in the past month.

The Edward R. Squibb policy in manufacturing is, "Make the finest article that skill and money can produce, and when the product is complete, figure costs, and sell at a reasonable profit. Never allow yourself to figure competively, for competition is destructive of high quality." That's the reason why goods bearing the Squibb label, are always the finest the world produces.

Thomas says

Candy is one of the great foods as well as luxuries of the American people. If made under clean and sanitary conditions, and with high regard for purity, it becomes a part of the beneficial diet of many. Pure candy will not injure or disturb the most delicate stomach, as is the contrary with those adulterated with glucose and artificial flavorings. The Walter Lowney Co., of Boston, Mass., enjoys a larger patronage than all other manufacturers of national reputation combined; due entirely to the superiority of their product, as well as to their absolute purity and methods of clean manufacture. I WANT YOU TO READ THIS

IF YOU ARE A

WEAK MAN

DR. TAYLOR, The Leading Specialist

Even If Others Have Failed to Cure You

Do you feel that your manly strength is slipping away? Are you weak, nervous, fretful and gloomy, have pains and aches in different parts of the body, your sleep disturbed, weak back, headache, despondency, melancholia, palpitation of the heart, unable to concentrate your thoughts, poor memory, easily fatigued, specks before the eyes, aversion to society, lack of ambition, will power depleted, dizzy spells, vital losses, poor circulation, feel cold, lifeless and worn out, primarily induced in many cases through abuses, excesses, overwork, etc? If so, then, I warn you. Do not delay longer.

My Fee for a Cure Is $10 In Any Uncomplicated Case Pay Me When Cured

The methods I devised 20 years ago for treating men's diseases proved a radical step in medical science. Those methods have enabled me to cure diseases that were formerly regarded as incurable. In working out my methods, I held the theory that "WEAKNESS," for instance, was not a constitutional or functional ailment, but a prostatic affection, and therefore, merely local. I reasoned that its concomitant effects were simply the results of a tremendous waste of energy due to inflammation of the prostate gland; that this being true, a local treatment could alone effect a cure. Thereupon I devised the treatment I employ today with such marked success. Indeed, I have never known this treatment to fail to effect a complete and permanent cure in a comparatively short time.

No Man Need Be Weak

My treatment for other diseases peculiar to men are also along original lines, and are equally successful. Hence, I reiterate that no man need be WEAK and AILING. My Special Treatment is an open door to manly vigor and all the pleasures that belong to perfect health. Any man may avail himself of my services. It has been and is my life's work to aid afflicted men, alleviate their sufferings and restore them to health and vigor. I have therefore placed the charge for my services within the easy reach of any man, no matter what his circumstances. To PROVE faith, I WILL WAIT FOR MY FEE UNTIL YOU ARE CURED. No man could be fairer than that. I take all the risk. You take none whatever. You have everything to gain and absolutely nothing to lose.

Delay Is Dangerous

Men whose vitality is exhausted, those who have some private disease or weakness lurking in their system, and who are prematurely old, while still young in years—broken down wrecks of what they ought to be, and who want to be strong and to feel as vigorous as they did before they wasted their strength, to enjoy life again, to win back the vim, vigor and vitality lost, should consult with me before it is too late.

My Direct-Method Treatment Offers a Positive CURE for Every Ailing Man

I Cure "Weakness"

"Weakness" is not a nervous disorder, demanding a tonic system of treatment, but is merely a symptom of chronic inflammation or congestion in the prostate gland. This condition exists as a result of early dissipation or some improperly treated contracted disorder, and requires carefully directed local measures only. By my own original methods the prostate gland is quickly restored to its normal state, which results in full and complete return of strength and vigor. My cures are permanent because the condition responsible for the functional disorder is entirely removed, and I am convinced that by no treatment other than my own carefully directed local measures is a radical cure of this ailment possible.

Contracted Disorders

The serious results that may follow neglect of contracted diseases could be scarcely exaggerated. Safety demands an absolutely thorough cure in the least possible time. I have treated more cases of contracted disorders than any other physician upon the Pacific coast. My cures are thorough and are accomplished in less time than other forms of treatment require in producing even doubtful results. I employ remedies of my own devising, and my treatment is equally effective in both recent and chronic cases.

I also permanently cure SPECIFIC BLOOD POISON, STRICTURE, NERVO DEBILITATION AND ALL REFLEX AILMENTS.

Consultation and Diagnosis Free

I do not charge for advice, examination or diagnosis. If you call for a private talk with me you will not be urged to begin treatment.

If you cannot call, write for Diagnosis Chart. My offices are open all day from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., and Sundays from 10 to 1 only.
