

WORLD'S MARKETS TODAY

25 CENTS OFF CASH WHEAT HIGHER AGAIN SHORTS HARD

Larger Supplies Find Producers Willing to Sell Now at Lower Price.

Portland wholesale features: Potato market dropping. Onions market very firm. Peaches in full season. Poor cantons are lower. Wheat market very firm. Sweet potatoes down a notch. Fancy cherries are scarce. Apples market very weak. Poultry trade is hanging.

Walla Walla Onions Are Lower.

Walla Walla onions are showing a lower price because of the larger supplies from the inland empire. Front street sales of this quality are being made at $1.10 to $1.15 per hundred pounds and it is quite likely that still further concessions will soon be made in view of the heavy crop.

Poor Cantons Are Plentiful.

The market is very liberally supplied with poor quality cantons and for this reason prices on recent arrivals are dropping quite fast. Good select stock is rather scarce and being a premium over regular quality. Arrivals from the Inland valley today with the watermelon season opened but a short time, receivers are already complaining that the low prices they are being offered to sell at here, while values are held stiff in the south. The present unsatisfactory condition of the market is entirely due to the bringing here of several cars of poor quality, which were shuffled off to the trade on any old day.

New Honey Is Selling Higher.

Because of the very dry summer, new honey prices are starting very high locally. Along the coast, recent arrivals of new honey have been sold at 15c a pound. Shipments from southern Oregon are increasing somewhat and it is expected that the total output this season will be more than three quarters that of a year ago. Some reports tell of a bull market.

Weakness in Eggs Shown.

While some parties having eastern eggs to sell are trying to again boost the price of local stock, or in other words, place the price on a par with the product in order to sell their eastern stocks at greater profits, the front street market is showing a decided weakness in eggs and those who do a regular local egg business state their inability to move them all at a fractionally higher value is asked.

Butter Scarce; Look for Rise

That the trade was justified in advancing the price of butter 2 1/2c a year ago is now being demonstrated. At this time the market is very much shorter than a week or two weeks ago and some creameries find it expedient to raise their prices. A representative for one of the larger outside creameries stated this morning that he was unable to secure a quarter as much butter as he needed at this time.

JAP COOK DEAD; CHILDREN DROP HOTEL BURNING IN WAITING ARMS

Not Frightened a Bit When Routed From Slumbers by Fire and Smoke.

(United Press Leased Wire.) Welser, Idaho, July 31.—Fire was discovered about 1:30 this morning in the Hotel Vendome, a brick building of 80 rooms, one of the largest buildings in the city. The fire was in a room occupied by the Japanese cook. By prompt work on the part of the fire department the fire was extinguished, doing damage to the amount of only $500. When the room was entered the cook was found dead on the floor. He had been suffocated by smoke and was badly burned about the arms and head, though not sufficiently to cause death. It is thought the cook had been drinking and was smoking when he went to bed and, going to sleep, had a sudden bedding on fire. He was fully dressed when found. The Hotel Vendome is in the heart of the business portion of the city. A serious fire would have resulted but for the prompt action by which it was got under control.

Death Roll of the Northwest.

Mrs. Philcus Lazier. Weston, Or., July 31.—The funeral of Mrs. Philcus Lazier was held from the Episcopal church in this city yesterday. The deceased was the wife of Dr. Lazier of this place. She died after a brief illness of a few days, the hot weather and a head ailment hastening her death. Though a comparatively newcomer in Weston, Mrs. Lazier had made many friends. Except her husband and her son, the deceased leaves no relatives.
