

INFURIATED JAP STABS WHITE BOY

Jeered by Street Crowd He Uses Knife on Innocent Bystander.

(United Press Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, July 31.—H. Tachiguchi, a Japanese 19 years old, is held at the police station today awaiting the outcome of injuries he inflicted on 15-year-old Harold Webster last night in a running street fight in which the Japanese was attacked by a band of small boys.

Webster was stabbed in the breast with a long knife and may die.

The police withheld information of the affair until today. It is understood the Japanese consul is looking into the case and will make a report to his government.

The Japanese was walking past a crowd of small boys at the corner of Post and Steiner streets last night when they threw watermelon rinds at him. He protested and was jeered by the boys. This drove the Japanese into a fit of insane anger and drawing a long knife he started after the boys.

As he dashed around the corner of Steiner and Post streets he ran into the Webster boy, who was on his way home and not concerned.

Mistaking him for one of the boys he was chasing Tachiguchi plunged the knife into his breast.

The Japanese was arrested shortly before midnight with the bloody knife in his possession.

At the Central Emergency hospital it was discovered that the blade of the knife had just missed the boy's heart. He is very weak today and may die at any time.

NO TARIFF REFORM

clauses in the Republican platform.

Ridder said further on the question today.

"Cannon and Payne and Daisel and others would never permit such action on the part of congress for a minute. Mr. Taft with all his recommendations and his influence and his message to congress would be absolutely without any power whatever under the existing conditions. Every trust, as is well known, is well represented in Washington by men who will look out for its interests.

"Why haven't the Republicans reformed the tariff before? Certainly, they have had the opportunity. Only once during the last 12 years has the party done anything along these lines to help the people of this country. That was when they reduced the tariff on coal.

"I am in favor of a graduation tariff. One that would benefit the people and not alone the rich men who are gaining more wealth and making the poor man poorer. I would remove the tariff on meat and some of the other necessities of life now in the hands of the trusts altogether.

Congress Will Block Move.

"The Republicans will promise tariff reform perpetually and that is all that will ever be done. Taft will advise why he is not to blame—that his message, if he recommends reform, were not needed by congress. And congress doesn't need any excuse. It will be the same old thing year after year.

"Of course, the Republicans will probably reduce the tariff on some things and raise it on others, but the tariff on the commodities used by the people and most needed by them, those which are controlled by the trusts, will not be disturbed enough to make enough difference to the consumers.

"The recent hard times were brought on by Roosevelt. Times are still hard. They will continue so, I'm afraid, for some time. Currency famine they call it. I say it is a Roosevelt panic.

"Conditions in New York are particularly bad. That doesn't speak well for the country. There are enough idle men in the streets of New York today to turn the election results in New York state and they certainly know what that means. These men are all

ROSEBURG DIGS UP GIRL HOBO'S FARE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Roseburg, Or., July 31.—Miss Mary Bell, the girl hobo who was accompanied by three knights of the road on her trip here from Portland, says she has no excuse to offer for her mode of traveling other than that she had no money and was out of employment and had started to San Francisco to look for a job. Nathan Gage and Jack Goodell, her two young men companions from Portland, were each sentenced to five days' labor on the city streets. The third man, who had joined the trio here, was released and departed from the city.

Miss Bell was attired in a traveling suit of blue, with a white waist, and wore a "Merry Widow." She is about 18 years of age, and though not a striking beauty, is better looking than most of the traveling public who ride on the cushions.

The authorities have offered to pay her fare back to Portland, and she has expressed herself as being willing to go. There are no grounds for detaining her here.

GASPIPE THUGS

sen paced nervously up and down his cell. Siemsen attempted to assume an unconcerned air by whistling the tune "Somewhere, in the city," and joked with the guards and told them he had no fear of the hanging. He said: "It will all be over in a minute. Siemsen braced up again just before the end and looking at the crowd with his old-time bravado said, "Good-bye, all."

Dabner hung his head and went to his death with a wail.

The hanging of Dabner and Siemsen today was the third double execution held at San Quentin. On October 18, 1906, the United States marshal executed two sailors, Hansen and St. Clair, who mutilated on the American bark Hesper and murdered the second mate, Fitzgerald.

On February 15, 1903, Jose Cota and Juan Gonzalez, two Mexicans from San Bonita county, were executed for the murder of A. Ruiz.

BACHELOR COOK HAD OWN IDEAS OF FRUIT

Many Portlanders being away for the summer, there are many flats and houses occupied by bachelors—men whose wives are away and others in the class of the unfortunate "left alone." In many instances the male housekeepers are doing their own cooking and attending to their own marketing.

One of the bachelors living at present under these circumstances is a newspaper man. He does dramatics. He is tall and sunburned. And he is not a good shopper.

The first day the house party began the "dramatics" started out to buy the well-planned meal. He went into one of the most fashionable markets. It was his first attempt at such buying.

"Have you anything in the shape of cucumbers?" said the beginner at marketing to the clerk.

"Yes, sir. Bananas!" answered the clerk.

"All right," said the novice, "two dozen bananas, please."

WEAK WOMEN NEED A TONIC AS THEY APPROACH THE AGE OF 40.

Much Suffering Is Caused by Being Unprepared to Meet the Extra Strains to Be Borne at That Time.

As a woman approaches the age of 40 or thereabouts, she should pay particular attention to her health. The hard work which she may have been accustomed to do and the worry and excitement of her daily life should be lessened or avoided as much as possible. As her health after she passes these years will depend in a large measure upon it, every woman owes it to herself to build up her health during these years. It is absolutely necessary that the blood be made pure and rich, thereby enabling all the organs of the body to perform their work regularly. For this purpose Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have long been recognized as the standard medicine, because of their great blood-building and tonic properties.

Mrs. Minnie A. Keibling, a professional nurse of 1001 1/2 North Illinois street, Indianapolis, Ind., says: "An operation for appendicitis left me in a weakened condition and I approached the age of 40 in a poor state of health. I was sick for two years, being very restless and had sick headaches all the time. I did not have much of an appetite and lived mostly on fruits and light foods, but even these caused such gas on my stomach that I was compelled to wear a belt. At times there seemed to be a weight on my stomach.

"I was doctoring with local physicians, but did not get better, so decided to give them up and try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which I had read about in the paper. I noticed after taking a few boxes of the pills that I was beginning to get a little color. I took several boxes more and was cured. I have been in good health ever since and able to do my work."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are adapted for diseases due to impure blood and shattered nerves. They are invaluable in anemic rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fevers, sick headaches, dizziness, nervousness, neuralgia, and even partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia.

A valuable booklet entitled "Plain Talks to Women" will be sent free, in reply to request, to any woman interested.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

COZY JAIL COSTS HUSBY WIFE'S LOVE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Jacksonville, Or., July 31.—The Jackson county court will be asked to provide an annex to the county jail for the care of women held to await the action of the grand jury. An irate husband held his wife and a male offender held in the county jail. The pair have been separated only by iron bars an inch thick. They talked, played cards and whittled away the time so pleasantly that when the repentant husband secured bail his wife refused to accept it. The case has caused the agitation for a separate women's annex.

OREGON TO CELEBRATE

as large as a dozen eastern states. Into this great area of rich country a stream of immigration is being poured every year, and it is easy to foresee that Portland's commerce, with the constantly added means of transportation, will within the next decade vastly increase over its already large proportions.

Not since a memorable banquet at the Lewis and Clark exposition, when James J. Hill announced the beginning of work on the north bank road, has he appeared at any function in Astoria. His appearance will be attended with circumstances of the greatest interest. He is expected to be expected to see the new Portland and some prognostications as to developments in the near future as a result of the advent of the Hill lines. His city's great things are expected to happen in the commercial growth of the city.

Ten new counties along the south line of Washington are added to this city's close range trade field. Montana is added to Portland's territory and the city is expected to see a new train service, and a down-hill grade to the Columbia river metropolis. The north bank road is also expected to materially shorten the running time between Idaho and Portland, as a result of connections given the Snake river railroad.

The Hill lines are building a great dock in Portland for deep sea vessels, and Mr. Hill will be expected to say something interesting about the future of Portland as a steamship terminal.

The Chamber of Commerce, with the cooperation of other commercial bodies in the city, is preparing a program that will include nearly a dozen speakers. The evening will be taken up with some of the most notable addresses ever listened to. The banquet is in charge of a committee consisting of Dr. T. J. Beese, H. C. Campbell, W. H. Dunckley, William McMurray, Julius Meier, W. H. Chapin, E. W. Bove, I. N. Fitchner, Secretary Glittin, and completing the list of speakers, which will include Mr. Hill and his son, Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern; Howard Elliott, president of the Northern Pacific; Francis B. Clarke, president Spokane, Portland & Seattle railway; R. W. Cotton, Mayor Harry Heitfield, Lewiston; Miles C. Moore, Walla Walla, and others.

SUNDAY CLOSING CAUSES JURY TRIAL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Roseburg, Or., July 31.—The Sunday closing law was the cause for a jury trial in Justice Long's courtroom today. The defendants were five of Roseburg's business men. E. Rhoads & Son was the first of the alleged violators to come to trial. Mr. Rhoads' attorney, only a few witnesses were called and the case was soon given to the jury, which disagreed and was dismissed. There are four other cases to be tried, but no prosecutions are expected.

CRIME RECORD OF THE FAIR

The crimes for which Louis Dabner and John Siemsen paid the death penalty today were a series of cold-blooded murders which caused a riot of terror in this city immediately after the earthquake. With robbery as their motive, Dabner and Siemsen dashed out the brains of three innocent men, using iron window weights and gaspise.

The criminals first slew Johannes Fritzner, a humber who met them in his little establishment on McCallister street.

Three weeks later they murdered William Friede, a haberdasher, on Market street near Jones. A short time after Mr. Munakata, president of the Klunnon Lumber, a Japanese who met them on Webster street, was murdered in broad daylight, his clerk was dangerously injured and $200 in cash was taken by the murderers. It was for the Japanese murder that the pair were hanged.

A Father Dies of Grief.

The thugs interspersed their murders with many robberies. Dr. Le Land was one of their victims, but he escaped unharmed. An ex-convict, an innocent man, was sent to the penitentiary for the robbery and it was only when Dabner's confession exonerated him.

Dabner's gray-haired father, who got him to make his terrible confession, died of grief a few months ago. His feeble mother visited him for the last time at San Quentin a few days ago, and while she cried the convict stolidly sat and uttered no word of repentance.

Mrs. Dabner, broken-hearted, is at her home in Petaluma today. Dabner's two brothers, Will and Leo, called on him for the last time last evening. The condemned man showed no emotion as he talked to them, though they were greatly affected.

Mandlin Note for Farwell

Dabner and Siemsen die friends. The reconciliation was effected last night, Siemsen extending the hand of forgiveness. Before Dabner retired for the night, Siemsen wrote the following note and gave it to a guard to pass to Dabner for his signature.

"Mother dear, forgive Dabner. You, mama, forget all. This Dabner and I. May you in your grief feel for Mrs. Dabner. What you will suffer for will she. Pray for us in this sad hour of misfortune.

"(Signed) JOHNNY SIEMSEN, LOUIS DABNER."

The note was written on the back of a photograph, which was the last picture of the two taken together when they were friendly. The picture was taken when they were brought to San Quentin under sentence of death. Since that time 18 months ago, neither had spoken to the other. Siemsen was angry at Dabner for having confessed and Dabner in turn was incensed that Siemsen should seek to take all the blame of the brutal murders on his shoulders. The note was written to Siemsen's mother in Honolulu and was mailed to her this morning.
