

RICH YIELD IN WALLAWALLA

Southeastern Washington's Wheat Empire Will Come Close to Last Year's Record in This Season's Production.

Because of the general feeling of unrest regarding Oregon's wheat crop this year, The Journal has detailed Hyman H. Cohen to make an exhaustive investigation into crop conditions. His articles will deal with probable wheat yields in the different sections of the state, and the causes which have combined to effect increases or decreases in production.

Walla Walla, Wash., Aug. 7.—Walla Walla county will produce about 4,000,000 bushels of wheat this season—securing over $2,000,000 in payment, from the present outlook of the market. It is quite safe to estimate that Walla Walla county will produce 75 per cent of its bumper yield of 1907—some interests estimating a slight decrease from this while others claim a fractional increase.

The foothill lands will give in some instances as great a yield as a year ago, but generally the crop is short of the 15 per cent estimate will about touch average.

As in other sections the light land fields show the greatest decrease but there are instances where a higher yield than a year ago is shown. Between Walla Walla and Clyde, however, the crop is 20 per cent short of last year. In the Pomeroy section the crop will likely run but 60 per cent of that of a year ago.

Extremely dry weather is the direct cause of the deficiency—likewise for the appearance of considerable smut in this year's crop.

Famous Bluestem Wheat.
The bluestem wheat is becoming the premier variety of the Walla Walla county. It was 15 years ago that the first bluestem wheat was brought to this country and in that time it has become the first grain of the Pacific northwest.

ARID DAYS DO NOT AFFECT DALE GLORY

By Hyman H. Cohen.
Pendleton, Aug. 7.—A story of the wheat crop of the Pacific northwest would be most incomplete without mention of the good growing qualities of the Dale Glory. In a year when every other grade of wheat showed material decrease in production from the normal, this wheat has come to the front and is now receiving the plaudits of the growers who have been fortunate enough to secure a sufficient supply to sow their fields.

Dale Glory wheat is a native of Umatilla county, and it is therefore showing proper respect for the place of its birth by producing almost a normal yield in the face of obstacles that would have burned most grades. Even with a general lack of rain since April the growers of this variety are reporting yields of 30 bushels to the acre on an average, although in normal seasons this quantity of Umatilla fields has averaged close to 50 bushels to the acre.

Dale Glory originated in the fields of William Dale, who has a ranch north of Colfax. The wheat came as a result of several varieties being crossed in Mr. Dale's field. That was eight years ago, and about two years later the originator of the new variety had secured a sufficient supply to enable him to distribute his seed to his neighbors, who are now loud in their praises of the new grain.

Notwithstanding the red chaff to a considerable extent, only the Dale Glory is darker in color, it stands a protracted spell of dryness with little lessening of the quantity produced. The Dale Glory is not entirely a dry weather variety, for the huge returns from the harvest of a year ago showed it to be among the heaviest producers to be found in this section of the country.

Umatilla county will produce this season, from present indications, between 3,500,000 and 4,000,000 bushels of wheat as compared with 5,000,000 bushels a year ago, and a normal output in later years of 4,500,000 bushels. It will be noted therefore that this season's yield is just about as much short of the normal as the production of 1907 was greater.

It must be noted that as some had been led to believe, although the damage is somewhat greater than usual. A feature of interest in this connection is the fact that the lands which usually produce the best yields of wheat are not keeping up their lead over the lighter land sections, which this year are not running far below the normal output.

An instance of this is shown by the reports coming from the Holmwood station on the O. R. & N. east to Van Cleave on the Northern Pacific. This section is this year producing crops ranging from 20 to 30 bushels to the acre, while the normal output is not usually over 25 bushels. Lands between Pendleton and Walla Walla which usually give forth the best wheat yields are this year showing far greater losses than the lighter land sections, of which practically nothing was expected this season, when rain was so scarce that residents of Umatilla have really forgotten the name of their state.

Ozark, Ark., Aug. 7.—A big time is expected here tomorrow on the occasion of the opening of the Republican state campaign. Captain F. W. Tucker, chairman of the state committee, will be in charge of the rally and the speakers will include John I. Worthington, nominee for governor; H. L. NEW ZEALAND AWAITS FLEET

Open House and the Glad Hand Everywhere—Elaborate Program.
(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
Auckland, N. Z., Aug. 7.—The 175,000 inhabitants of the provincial district of Auckland are on the tiptoe of expectation in anticipation of the arrival of the fleet of American battleships. Auckland is the first port in the New Dominion at which the fleet will touch, after an unbroken stretch of 3,850 miles from Honolulu. The reception of the battleships will provide a notable spectacle, and one to which the people of New Zealand have been looking forward with keen interest for weeks past.

The fleet is due to reach port Sunday, but the official landing will not be made until the following day, according to the program as arranged. The landing will be an imposing affair, the visitors marching in procession to the government house, under triumphal arches and past beautifully decorated buildings. The New Zealand volunteers will act as escort and the officials, the mayors and municipal authorities of the chief cities of New Zealand will form the reception party, which will be headed by the governor, General, Lord Plunket.

A municipal welcome will be given Tuesday and Wednesday, and the mayor of Auckland, in the evening there will be a state ball at government house, the men being entertained in various halls.

The entertainment committee has prepared a large number of excursions to places of interest, and Wednesday will be devoted chiefly to this part of the program. Perhaps the most interesting of these trips will be that to Emerald Lake, where there will be tournaments by the Maoris.

Jackies' Coin Is No Good.
The bluejackets will be entertained at a municipal luncheon Thursday. In their honor the city will give matinees at the theatre and athletic sports and other forms of outdoor entertainment. All the places of entertainment will be thrown open free to the visitors.

Friday, the concluding day of the visit, will be given over to games, football and lacrosse matches, and a special entertainment for the surgeons of the fleet by the British Medical Association of New Zealand.

The preparations for the entertainment of the visitors are practically complete. Excursions for the day are being arranged from Wallington, Dunedin, Christchurch and other cities and towns, and by tomorrow night it is expected the crowd will be the largest that has ever been seen in Auckland. Thousands of persons will go out to the headlands to catch the first glimpse of the fleet. The latter thought it is the first time Auckland will let loose its enthusiasm in salutes and daylight fireworks.

Old Glory Everywhere.
Every American flag in Auckland was sold days ago, notwithstanding the fact that the demand for the stars and stripes is in anticipation of the demand. Business houses and public buildings are decorated with the stars and stripes and in every part of the city the Stars and Stripes will fly on the day of the arrival of the fleet. The mayor of Auckland has requested the people to observe the day of the official landing as a general holiday, and scores of private houses will be thrown open for the entertainment of the officers and men of the fleet and their families. It is made to assist the men in finding entertainment, besides the public festivities supplied by the committee. There will be a dinner of dietetic experts and theater parties, at which the sailors will be guests of honor. During the entire period of the stay the men will be free to visit the city and to wear the American naval uniform.

Government Pays the Freight.
Despite the opposition of the Socialists and radicals, the new government adheres to its original determination to spend the sum of $25,000 for the entertainment of the fleet. The government will bear the entire expense of the trip to Rotorua and a considerable part of the cost of the decorations of the city. Costly souvenirs have been prepared for presentation to Admiral Sperry and the commanders of the battleships, together with a special gift to be conveyed to President Roosevelt. Handsome souvenir books giving views of the principal places of interest throughout New Zealand have been printed at government expense and copies will be presented to every officer and man of the fleet. The cost of these presents, which are unusually handsome design and workmanship, is stated to be in excess of $5,000.

KILLED HIS MAN IN A GOOD CAUSE
(United Press Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 7.—After shooting and killing W. F. Beale, a wealthy rancher of Walnut Center, near Cooswa, Ollie O. Corley, son of a state senator of Oklahoma, is in jail today awaiting an investigation.

The shooting followed a series of carrels in which Beale is said to have been the aggressor. According to Corley's statement, he and several others became annoyed against Beale last April, when the latter exhibited hostility to a horse. Since then Beale is alleged to have made several threats against Corley's life.

Yesterday while Corley was at work in a field Beale ran across the roadway with a knife in his hand, threatening Corley, fearing he meant violence, fired, killing him instantly.
