GRANEY ALLOWS SEALS TWO HITS

Oscar Jones' Wildness Helps but Beavers' Slugging Is Enough.

(United Press Leased Wire) San Francisco, Aug. 8.—Graney was in masterful form yesterday and left the Seals down to two hits, winning the match 5 to 1. Oscar Jones, who opposed him, was extremely liberal with the passes, forcing in a position of the Seals' batsmen to hit only Graney's big batters, but the locals swinging their heads off most of the afternoon.

RED HOT GOSSIP FOR RABID FANS

Many Requisitions Made Lately on Texas League—Graney May Return.

Requisitions on the Texas league have been so heavy of late that two things may result, the depletion of the Lone Star circuit and the changing of the personnel of several coast teams. San Francisco yesterday secured a catcher from the Austin club in the person of William and Oakland got an infielder from the same team named Truesdale. A few days ago Oakland's new pitcher, Christian arrived from Texas and seems to be making good, although he has had hard luck.

Asher Houston was given a chance at shortstop on the Oakland lineup yesterday. The Portland boy went to bat three times, made no hit, secured one assist and was charged with an error. He took Miller's place.

Hans Wagner and Mike Donlin are having a merry fight for the batting lead in the National league. First one is ahead and then the other forgets to bat. Since Donlin assumed a seat on the water wagon he has increased his average noticeably. The race between these two great batmen is almost as interesting as the race of the teams.

If Jack Graney continues to pitch for the Seals and win them, he will not stay long in this league. Perhaps the few days of the Pacific coast tour of a class A league before he was fit for the majors. Let him pitch a few more such games and Cleveland will take him back instantly.

(The Journal, Aug. 8.—Sporting Editor of the Journal. Several parties here are desirous of the present series in San Francisco played by the Pacific Coast league when July 7. Will you kindly advise me what game the Seals played on that date and at what place and what game was won and lost. This only information I have is that the Seals won the game. I have taken the trouble to consult the 'Eagle' at San Francisco and the 'Eagle' at Portland. The text of the games were listed at the home grounds with the names of the players who were in San Francisco. They are: Portland won two out three and tied one with Fresno; San Francisco lost one with Los Angeles; San Francisco won three out of four with Los Angeles. In the first game the Seals won, the Seals won the game and lost one with Fresno.

Miss Ruth Hennessey, a young Portland player of promise, was beaten by Miss Hazel Hotchkiss of California, 4 to 2.

PETER JOHNSON WAS FICKLE IN HIS LOVE

Alleging that Peter Johnson will not marry her, after promising to do so if she would secure a divorce from her husband, Mrs. Elizabeth Bock this morning filed suit in the circuit court for $5,000 damages for breach of promise and for the return of her property. Last January she secured the divorce and on July 78 the law allowed her to marry again, but she alleges that he now refuses to do so.

The complaint asserts that while she was still the wife of Bock, Johnson made love to her. He was so anxious, she says, that he made arrangements for the divorce. As an evidence of good faith, she says, he fitted up a house for her and gave her a bill of sale for the furniture, so that all would be cozy when she was once more free to wed.

Not long ago, it appears, the love of Johnson began to cool. She alleges that he went to the house that she had looked on as her future home and removed the photograph and clock that he had provided. The music-box and the timekeeper had been included in the bill of sale and Mrs. Bock hurried away to consult an attorney. While she was absent she says, Bock returned to the house and carried away all the furniture, not even leaving a chair upon which she could sit down to think it over.

Mrs. Bock files May 27 as the date of the engagement. She says she confided in his promises and remained single, waiting for the date when she could annex Johnson to her name. She says that she has done nothing to merit his displeasure and that his refusal to be tied is without good cause.

Mrs. Bock is under 30 years of age and comely. Johnson is about 35 and is proprietor of a feed store at 350 Hawthorne avenue.

Mrs. Bock's former experiment in matrimony began in Chicago in 1904, when she was married to Frederick Bock. She sued for divorce last December on the ground of cruelty and Judge Gantenbein granted the decree in January. John F. Logan, who is now joined with John H. Stevenson as her attorney, then appeared for Bock, but Bock's resistance to his wife's suit was only nominal.

As grounds for divorce Mrs. Bock testified that her husband made insulting remarks concerning her to her mother, that he called her a liar and other orthodox names and falsely accused her of being fond of other men.

LEMMONS FOUND WITH FORBIDDEN FRUIT

If Mister John Lemmons, a colored gentleman with a broad grin, had been thoughtful enough to prospect for a revolver bargain without letting a policeman see him he wouldn't have been arrested. But the other day Patrolman Keller saw Lemmons looking in the windows of a dozen pawnshops and inspecting every revolver there displayed.

So when Keller and Elmsen saw Lemmons board a car last night and hold his arm tight to his chest they were sure he had found a pistol that suited him. At Elton avenue and Russell street they nabbed him. "How on earth did you fellows know I had a gun on me?" he asked, but he was not told. It was a case of putting two and two together.

The revolver was an excellent weapon which had cost the negro $13. His hearing was postponed until next week.
