ONE MONTH'S TRADE EXHIBIT

Uncle Sam's Statisticians Find in June Business General Increase Over the Preceding Months of 1908—Analysis in Full.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Washington, Aug. 8.—Internal commerce movements for the month of June, as reported to the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor, showed marked improvements over the preceding months of the year. There was a considerably heavier livestock movement than in June a year ago and the first six months of the year also showed a healthy gain over the same period of last year. A perceptible improvement in the freight car situation was indicated for the month, practically all the associations showing increased traffic for the month over any of the preceding months of the current year. Grain, lumber, and coal continued to indicate an advance over earlier months of the year, though still below the June 1907 figures in volume.

A notable improvement was in livestock receipts at seven interior markets. The receipts of all kinds of animals at the seven markets in question were for June, 3,2[illegible],561 head, compared with [illegible] and 2,222,106 head for June, 1907 and 1906, respectively. Chicago, Omaha, St. Louis, and St. Joseph all showing material gains over receipts of last year. As compared with June of the preceding year the totals [illegible] of cattle, hogs [illegible] and but a slight [illegible] mules. [illegible] year at [illegible] of [illegible] head [illegible] stock show a [illegible] over the corresponding [illegible] and 1906 receipts of [illegible] head, respectively [illegible] for the six months [illegible] figures of last year being due to the heavy gain in the receipts of hogs. [illegible] markets for June [illegible] six months ending [illegible] like period [illegible] the month [illegible] against [illegible] head for June [illegible] and for the six months [illegible] compared with [illegible] first six months of last year the number of cars required to handle these being 103,673, compared with 100,9[illegible] for last year.

At the principal Atlantic seacoast cities—Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore—receipts of livestock during June aggregated [illegible] compared with 69[illegible] during the same month of 1907 [illegible] receipts at the four ports [illegible] 266 head were hogs, [illegible] calves, [illegible] cattle and 2[illegible] sheep. As compared with June, 1907, figures cattle show but a slight decrease, while all other animals show substantial increases in number over a year ago. Receipts during the first half of the year, 4,-[illegible] head, were largely in excess of last year's receipts for the same period of 3,[illegible] head, the principal increases occurring in the excess of hogs and sheep, while cattle and calves likewise show slight increases.

The showing made by grain receipts at 15 markets for the current month is not so good when compared with the figures of last year. However, receipts for June, 45,678,265 bushels, show slight advance over those of last month. The figures for the same month of 1907 and 1906 were 64,630,970 and 75,433,831 bushels, respectively. Every city constituting the 15 markets, with the exception of Minneapolis, Little Rock and [illegible], show smaller receipts than during June of last year. Of the total [illegible], wheat constituted [illegible] compared with 14,131,[illegible] bushels received during June, 1907; corn [illegible] bushels compared with [illegible] bushels for June, 1907; oats, [illegible] bushels compared with 13,[illegible] bushels received during June, 1907; barley, 2,269,728 bushels compared with 1,867,720 bushels received during June, 1907, and rye, 292,047 bushels, compared with 343,473 bushels for June, 1907. The receipts of flaxseed were only about two thirds of that of June of last year. Flour receipts of 1,659,975 barrels also show a slight decline from the June, 1907, figures of 1,856,306 barrels. At these same markets during the 15 months of the crop season beginning September 1, 1907, there was a considerable decline when compared with the receipts of the same period of the two preceding years, the figures for the current season being 6[illegible],491,695 bushels, as against 718,390,-121 and 712,425,628 bushels for the corresponding period of the two preceding crop years. Kansas City, Little Rock and Peoria made gains—all the others showing losses.

Grain and Flour on the Coasts.

Receipts of flour and grain at the four cities of Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore for June were 11,275,215 bushels, in contrast with the heavy receipts of June, 1907, of 15,-863,692 bushels; but the June, 1906, figures of 12,624,973 bushels more nearly corresponds to those of the current year. All the ports in question as well as the different classes of breadstuffs are affected by the decline from last year's figures. Wheat receipts at these four cities for June were 2,272,547 bushels, compared with 3,772,925 bushels during June, 1907; corn receipts, [illegible] bushels, contrasted with 4,263,310 bushels received during June, 1907; while the quantity of flour, 1,061,012 barrels, was more nearly a just comparison with the receipts of 1,207,044 barrels for June, 1907. The export movement from the corresponding customs districts show a like decline during the month of June; the 1907 figures being [illegible] barrels above those for the corresponding month. During the first six months of the year the quantity of flour and grain received at the four cities [illegible] bushels, shows [illegible] decreases from the [illegible] figures of 1[illegible] and [illegible] bushels.

Flour and grain receipts at San Francisco during June, 1,[illegible] bushels, show a slight advance over the receipts of 1,197,683 bushels for June, 1907. At Portland, Or., wheat shipments aggregated 995,870 bushels, which were far in excess of shipments for June, 1907, of 267,372 bushels. As compared with the season of six months ending June, 1907, wheat receipts at Portland for the first half of the current year show a gain of about 50 per cent.

Meats; Provisions Movement.

Stocks of meats at 5 principal interior markets at the close of June, [illegible] pounds, were smaller than at the end of the preceding months of the current year and likewise below June of 1907. Omaha and Milwaukee show a slight increase over last year, while Chicago, Kansas City and St. Joseph show a considerable decline.

The eastbound trunk line movement of provisions during the four weeks of June amounted to 84,322 tons, which were in excess of the preceding four weeks of May, but below any other four-week figures recorded during the present year. Figures for the first half of the year—or 26 weeks—of [illegible]955 tons compare more favorably with the 581,291 tons of last year, but show a decline from the total of 750,681 tons for 1906. The receipts of grain, 11,-416,000 bushels, for June were largely in excess of those of 1907 and 1906 of 7,866,000 and 6,611,000 bushels, respectively. The movement of the same commodity for 26 weeks of the current year, 78,512,000 bushels, also compares favorably with the two preceding years of 70,783,000 and 60,[illegible] bushels, respectively. Flour shipments show a decline both for the four weeks and the 26 weeks ending with June when compared with the two preceding years, the figures being for the four weeks of June 281,307 barrels, as against 409,360 and 283,[illegible] barrels for the same period in 1907 and 1906, and for the first half of the year, [illegible] barrels compared with 3,[illegible] and [illegible] barrels, respectively.

Packing-house Products.

In the shipments of packing-house products from [illegible] during the month of June [illegible] over June of the year last [illegible] figures, [illegible] pounds, were slightly below those of 1906. As compared with the figures of 1907, increases are shown in dressed beef, canned meats, cured meats, dressed hogs, hides, lard and stearine, while pickled beef, pork and tallow show declines. Shipments for the first six months of the year, 1,[illegible] pounds, were below the corresponding figures of 1907 and 1906 [illegible] and 1,4[illegible] pounds [illegible] the greatest decrease [illegible] being shown in the case of pickled beef and stearine.

Shipments of redwood lumber from [illegible] California during the month [illegible] are slightly lower than for a like period in 1907 or 24,[illegible] feet and in 1906 of 31,986,972 feet. The principal decreases both for the month and the six months season which show a shrinkage from 214,332,549 feet in [illegible] to 150,750,820 feet in 1908 affect principally consignments to San Francisco bay.

Coal and Coke.

During June coal and coke traffic over seven eastern coal-carrying roads [illegible] tons, while showing a considerable improvement over the preceding month's figures of 7,222,424 tons is nearly 2,000,000 tons short of the June, 1907 totals. The increase over last month's figures is due to the heavier shipments of bituminous coal, which show nearly a million tons advance over May figures. Anthracite coal shipments, 462,539 tons, for June, 1908, are smaller than the June, 1907, shipments of 573,735 tons. The total shipments of anthracite coal over the same roads for six months ending with June, 2,087,557 tons, are a better comparison with the figures of 3,758,619 tons for a like period in 1907 than the coke shipments. In the latter case the season figures of 1907 exceeded those for the same period of the current year by nearly 50 per cent.

Anthracite coal shipments from eastern producing territory for the month reached a total of 5,794,852 gross tons, slightly below the record of the preceding month, with its 6,088,116 gross tons, and a fair comparison with June, 1907, figures of 7,024,[illegible] gross tons. Shipments for the first half of the year, 32,0[illegible],442 gross tons, also compare favorably with 32,884,5[illegible] gross tons for the same period in 1907.

The estimated coke production at Connellsville, including the lower district, during the four weeks ending June 27, 648,026 net tons, was over a million tons below the corresponding figures of 1907. The number of idle ovens in the district reported on June 27 was less than for any of the end weeks since March 28. The number of cars used in the shipment of the product for the 26 weeks ending June 27, [illegible] is less than one-half the number for the same period in 1907.

Iron and Petroleum.

Pig iron production during the month, 1,088,624 gross tons, was about 50 per cent less than the production during June, 1907, all the districts showing declines in the output. The output for the first six months of the year, 6,755,-113 gross tons, is only slightly in excess of one half the quantity produced during the similar period in 1907, the Pittsburg district showing the greatest decline, being 1,[illegible],117 gross tons for the six months of the current year, in contrast for the like period of 1907 of 3,119,881 gross tons.

Runs of petroleum from the wells tributary to the principal pipe lines in the Appalachian, Lima-Indiana, and mid-Continent fields for the month aggregated 8,840,295 barrels, which quantity was over 400,000 barrels short of last month's runs. To consumers the regular delivery represents 8,143,738 barrels, compared with 7,855,329 barrels reported for the preceding month. Gross stocks of reporting lines at the end of June, aggregating 70,591,512 barrels were likewise in excess of the quantities reported at the end of June, 1907—44,445,195 barrels.

Building Operations.

The activities in the building operations, as shown by the value of building permits granted in some 50 leading cities, indicate quite distinctly the improvement over the preceding months of the first half of the year. Even compared with 1907, the current month shows only a decrease of 15 per cent. Substantially the same cities which showed declines in activity in the first part of the year show relatively smaller declines for June. New York shows a large loss, attributed mainly to the Borough of Brooklyn, which is, however, on the other hand, offset to a large extent by a gain of 35 per cent in Manhattan. Baltimore, Birmingham, Cincinnati, Columbus, Denver, Duluth, Grand Rapids, Milwaukee, Pittsburg, St. Paul, Syracuse, and Worcester all show substantial gains over June of last year. Milwaukee and Birmingham head the list with gains of 62 and 57 per cent, respectively, over a like period of last year. Chicago and Philadelphia are each holding close to the 1907 records.

The Car Situation.

Reports from 26 car-service associations covering practically the entire territory of the United States indicate the total number of cars handled during June as 2,163,126, compared with 2,686,841 and 2,464,506 cars handled during June, 1907 and 1906. Practically all of the associations show material gains over the preceding months of the current year.

The American Railway association reported a marked improvement in the freight-car situation of the country, the number of idle cars having decreased in the 15 days from June 10 to June 24 from 349,994 cars to 312,298 cars.

FEMININE GUIDES SHOW DISCRETION AND TACT IN DISPOSING COUPLES INDISPOSED TO SEPARATE

Women Ushers at White Temple.

During August the men ushers at the White Temple are given a vacation and their work is done by the young women of the church. Although this seems a strange innovation to most people yet the plan has worked splendidly for the past two summers. Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, D. D., the pastor of the White Temple, is away on his vacation but his instructions of previous years seem to be well remembered. One rule in particular he was always very careful to impress upon the ushers. "Whatever you do," said he, "never separate a fellow and his girl or a man and his wife." While this sometimes happens when the men are ushering, the fair ushers are never guilty of such an indiscretion.

Two young women, one married and one single, will be stationed at the head of each aisle. The former will find out how many there are in each crowd and will hold the crowd back while her assistant finds seats for the party.

Mrs. S. W. Wingate has the general supervision of all the ushers and takes charge herself of the main floor of the auditorium. She is assisted by Mrs. E. M. Runyan, Mrs. C. E. Cashen, Mrs. Charles Venable, Mrs. George F. Iresse, Misses Winifred Young, Grace Ford, Georgia Hoegstra, Amelia Haupert, Pearle Tooley, Nellie E. Furnish, and Pauline Seppelheimer.

Mrs. Sylvia W. McGuire is head usher in the gallery of the main auditorium. Her assistants are Mrs. W. G. Stiles, Mrs. Emily Franssen, Mrs. Hilma Trofitter, Misses Alta McKeron, Margaret Mascher and Clara Misler.

Mrs. M. A. Osborne and Mrs. C. E. Wightman have charge of the ushering on the main floor of the Sunday school room. Their assistants are Misses Mable Lewis, Bertha Mae Young, Barbara Gray and Vida Munkers.

Mrs. W. G. Woods is head usher in the gallery of the Sunday school room and is assisted by Mrs. D. A. Evans and Miss Margaret McDonald.

OPEN COMPETITION FOR CONCESSIONS AT RACES

Because of the overwhelming flood of applications for privileges at the forthcoming harness race meet and livestock show to take place here the final week of September, the committee on general management has eliminated all the bids for restaurant and refreshment privileges and will put them all on a competitive basis. This will allow all applicants to establish booths if they care to comply with the requirements of the committee and this scheme, it is figured, will obviate any further trouble or argument with moderate privilege seekers.

Chairman F. O. Downing of the general committee declared last night that there were so many applications and the offers were so widely divergent that his committee dumped them all in the basket and decided to work out a scheme for open competition.

The plan will cover practically the restaurant and refreshment privileges and will enable all would-be concessionaires to meet on an even plane. The committee figured that there would be so many thousand people attending the races and show each day that there would be plenty of room for any number of concessionaires, and the only question his committee had to determine was how much was to be charged for the right to operate during the week.

The following schedule of rates was finally adopted:

Restaurant, 8 tables, or seating 32 persons at once	$ 50
Restaurant, 12 tables, or seating 48 persons at once	75
Restaurant, 16 tables, or seating 64 persons at once	100
Restaurant, seating more than 64 persons at once	125
Coffee, sandwiches, etc. (no seats)	50
Candy stand, peanuts, popcorn, and fruit, ice cream, and ice cream cones	100
Soft drinks	100
Combination stand, candy, etc., and soft drinks	150
Grand stand, candy, etc., soft drinks and cigars (exclusive privilege)	250
Bleachers, candy, etc., soft drinks and cigars (exclusive privilege)	250
Cigars and tobacco	100
Fruit stand (fruit only)	50
Canes, balloons and souvenirs	100

In addition to these essential privileges, there were scores of applications for the score card for the meet and for the reason that all offers tendered were so much at variance they were all discarded at the Friday evening meeting and the following disposition was made of this feature:

"Bids will be received until 5 p. m., Friday, August 14, for the score card privilege for the Pacific National show. All bids to be filed with the secretary at the headquarters, room 12, Hamilton building."

This action according to Chairman Downing has cut off a vast amount of detail and has saved the committee much time, worry and labor.

The other classes of concessions will likely be placed on a purely percentage basis and some one selected to have complete control of them, either under an arrangement like a "trail" or "midway" or "pike," or else by having a certain amount of the Country club grounds set aside for these features.

A Nomadic Piece of Land.

T. F. Day, in Outing Magazine.

As I said, Cape Cod itself is sand, and like everything of a desert is nomadic. Like the Arab, it is always silently stealing away, so that the appearance of the peninsula constantly changes. The prevailing winds in the winter being from the north, the sand is blown south; in summer it is blown t'other way, but the winter winds being stronger, the land is gradually working south. Monomoy at the lower end used to be an island, its extremity being called Cape Malabar, a name not used now. Why, I cannot say. This island of Monomoy is rapidly growing toward Nantucket, it having advanced some five miles in the last 50 years. One of the rubes told me that his father used to fish where the light is now. Of course you can always strain rube talk and pick out about 50 per cent sediment, but the old charts show that the point is working south fast.

Spray.

It's the poor figure that advocates modesty in the bathing rig.

If you think the summer girl can't economize, look at her bathing suit.

Many a bather leaves his broad shoulders in the bathhouse with his coat.

Tact softens the haughtiest. Even the life guard will tell you about his medals.

Some married people, when they urge bachelors to wed, a good deal resemble the bather who, with chattering teeth and blue lips, says that the water is delightfully warm, and urges you to come in.

To those who have grown weary of the old-fashioned and monotonous amusements common to the seashore, the following novelty is recommended: Have a dozen of the poorest and palest slum children shipped down to you, put them in bathing suits, and with cold chicken and fruit and games and surf dips amuse them on the beach till sunset. The object of the game is to keep the children always smiling. As jugglers keep balls in the air, so experts at this game have been known to keep a broad grin on a dozen pallid faces all day long.
