The marriage of Miss Fanny Brown, daughter of Mrs. J. A. Brown, to John White Browne, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Browne of Tacoma, was celebrated Thursday night with very quiet ceremony at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. A. Brown, 2000 N. A. Street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Brown, pastor of the First Baptist church. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white silk and was accompanied by her father and brother. The groom wore a tuxedo and was accompanied by his father and brother. The reception was held at the bride's home and was attended by many friends. Refreshments were served in the evening.

The marriage of Miss Clara Lemps to Samuel Owen of Portland was celebrated Saturday night at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. A. Brown, 2000 N. A. Street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Brown, pastor of the First Baptist church. The bride wore a beautiful gown of white silk and was accompanied by her father and brother. The groom wore a tuxedo and was accompanied by his father and brother. The reception was held at the bride's home and was attended by many friends. Refreshments were served in the evening.

Mrs. Hunt Lewis will not return to Portland until late in the fall. During her absence her home at Nineteenth and Flinders streets is being occupied by Dr. and Mrs. Francis James Bailey.

Many Portlanders are interested in the announcement of the approaching marriage of President P. L. Campbell of the University of Oregon to Mrs. S. C. Church. President Campbell is now east, sent by the board of regents to secure new instructors, and on his return he will stop in Colorado to be married. Mrs. Church is a charming woman, who during her three years stay at the university, first as matron of the men's dormitory and later as assistant librarian, has made a host of admiring friends. She will be warmly welcomed as first lady of the campus.

One of the most delightful beach events of the season was a hay party given by Mrs. E. Beckman for her nephew, Richard Kruse, of Gearhart park. The rack was a festive affair with its decorations of greens and bright lanterns. The merry party rode up the beach, then to Seaside, where the merry noises attracted much attention. Little Margery McGuire was apt in rendering verses for the merry-makers' songs. Refreshments were served in the wagon. Those present were: Ralph Cate, the Misses Helen Cate, Margery McGuire, Gertrude Carter, Julia Munson, Esther Hortense and Bernice Miller, Herbert Miller, A. J. Miller, the Misses Mildred and Grace Honeyman, Sallie Hart, Clementine Lambert, Laura Cummings, Cecelia Murphy, M. Wilkinson, Esther and Winifred Burrill and Gertrude Pollock. departure for London. His limited time here may, however, preclude the possibility, and meanwhile the social leaders at the beach are making his concert next week an affair of prominence. Mr. Alexander is hardly less of a favorite socially than musically.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Marion Louise Bolster of Nashua, N. H., to Rev. Virgil Victor Johnson, last Wednesday evening. The bride's father, Rev. William Bolster, read the marriage service.

Mr. Johnson is well known in Portland, and his sister, Mrs. Bernard C. Jakway lives here. He is the second son of the late Dr. John W. Johnson, the first president of the University of Oregon. His oldest brother, Dr. Herbert Johnson, is one of the leading ministers of Boston and has prominently identified himself with the Congo reform work. Of his younger brothers, Louis is at Harvard studying and Winifred is the latest Rhodes scholar for Oregon at Oxford. All four sons and the one daughter are graduates of the University of Oregon.

The marriage of Miss Clara Lemps to Samuel Owen of Portland came as a complete surprise. The ceremony was pronounced July 24, but the event was so carefully guarded that only a few immediate friends knew of it before last week. They were married before a few friends of the bride and groom at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. A. Brown, 2000 N. A. Street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Mrs. S. H. Jones of Goldfield, Nev., whose picture is shown today, is the guest of her hostess, Mrs. C. E. Wolverton at the Roberts' party. She will remain through the rest of the summer and will be much entertained. She is a charming woman, who during her three years stay at the university, first as matron of the men's dormitory and later as assistant librarian, has made a host of admiring friends. She will be warmly welcomed as first lady of the campus.

A launch party was given Wednesday evening in compliment to Miss Ethel Rogers, who will leave this week after a delightful visit of several weeks. The party went to Rock Island club for dinner and informal dancing followed. The party consisted of Miss Rogers, Miss Genevieve Thompson, Mrs. George Wentworth Jr., Miss Hazel Crocker, Miss Maida Hart, Miss Louise Carey, W. A. Spanton, C. E. Rorer, William Banks, Egbert Mercereau and Leland Smith. Friday evening there was a similar party composed of Miss Hazel Crocker, Miss Barbara Crocker, Miss Grace Warren, Miss Thompson and Miss Rogers, Mr. Rodis of Salt Lake, Wilson Clarke of San Francisco and George Warren.

Miss Mildred Watkins, the clever metal worker, who did a great deal toward popularizing handicraft work during her summer here last year, is the guest of Mrs. M. A. M. Ashley for the rest of the summer. Saturday a week ago Mrs. Ashley gave a luncheon of 12 covers in her honor. The guests were Mrs. H. C. Wortman, Mrs. Lee Hoffman, Miss Sallie Cross of Boston, Mrs. Hugh Hume, Mrs. Louis Burke, Mrs. T. L. Willis, Mrs. T. W. Sherman, Mrs. Edwin Casper, George H. Nottage and Mrs. James Dunlap.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gerlinger, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Belle Gerlinger Dalton, leave today for New York, whence they will sail for Europe about the middle of the month, to be away from Portland for more than a year. They will go to Switzerland later in the season and will take a villa at Geneva for the winter. Mrs. Dalton will travel extensively throughout the European countries while she is away.

Fred B. Morris has been entertaining a hunting and fishing party of friends in his handsome large houseboat. The boat, the largest and most complete in Portland, was moored on Young's river, below Astoria, near the Lewis and Clark river crossing. The guests were H. C. Bowers, A. D. Charlton, John C. Lewis, H. S. Stickney, Ion Lewis, D. Wilcox, W. H. Hurlburt and Wirt Minor.

Mrs. Claire B. Lamont (Miss Maud Hahn) of Seattle made a pleasant fortnight's visit here with her parents and sister, Mrs. Alexander's brilliant success in England last year, under the distinguished management of Mr. Sharpe, has, if possible, increased its popularity here at home, and there are many requests that he give recitals in Portland and at Long Beach before his departure.

Mrs. Francis James Bailey is one of the newer matrons, who is meeting with a warm welcome because of her charming manners and winning personality. Dr. and Mrs. Hatley came here in December and had apartments at the Hotel Curtis until recently, when they took the Hunt Lewis home on North Nineteenth street.

Mr. Anna Selkirk Norton, who formerly lived here and was a popular figure in social and musical circles, has identified herself with the Fisher School of Music in Walla Walla. The school is starting out on a new basis with a number of musicians of prominence in its teaching force.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Grolle returned yesterday from their wedding trip in southern California and will take up their residence on Willamette Heights. Mrs. Grolle was Miss Beatrice Henry of San Jose, whose wedding was one of the most fashionable affairs in California society recently.

Miss Mary Montgomery, who has been spending the summer at her brother's country place, Indian Neck, on Long Island, is expected home next week. Miss Montgomery has been absent since early spring, when she went to Connecticut to visit her brother and to New York to see her sister.

Miss Beale Dooley, who is popular with the younger set, is the guest of the Misses Elsa and Florence Gran of Sacramento, and is being delightfully entertained. Until six years ago Miss Dooley's home was in Sacramento and she has many friends there to welcome her.

Mrs. Rogers, with her son, arrived yesterday from South Greenfield, Mass., to join her daughter, Miss Ethel Rogers, who has been Miss Genevieve Thompson's guest for several weeks. Next Saturday they expect to leave on a trip to Alaska.

Mrs. Bert M. Denison entertained at bridge last Friday in honor of Mrs. Warren Keeler of Chicago. Mrs. E. B. Gaze was the first prize. Mr. and Mrs. Denison have gone up the river canoeing on a two weeks' outing trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Weesinger have opened their Seaside cottage for the rest of the season. Their son Henry a Cornell student, and their daughter, Miss Milla Weesinger, will live with them.

Another party that is enjoying the delights of Cloud Cap Inn consists of Mrs. S. L. Hamilton, Miss Jewell and Miss Alice Quigg. They will remain through August.

Miss Meta Buehner has returned from Seaside, where she was the guest of Miss Celesta Moore, whose father owns Hotel Moore there.

Mr. and Mrs. Gadsby are spending a fortnight as guests of Captain and Mrs. William Gadsby at Mandalay cottage at Seaside.

The Misses Jacobs were the guests last week of the I. N. Fleishohners, who own the handsome cottage at Seaside beach.

Mrs. J. H. Page and her daughter, Mrs. Daniel Shindler, and little son have been enjoying a stay at Seaside.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil H. Bauer have returned after a month spent at Hotel Moore, at Seaside.

Preston Cookingham and Simon Winch, Princeton students, spent last week at Seaside.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Koehler and Miss Ilae Koehler have returned from Seaside House.

Miss Grace Warren, Miss Leslie Knapp, Carl Wernicke, Raymond Wilcox, Marion Dolph, Eugene Roesser, George Warren, and Joseph Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Hurskatt chaperoned the party.

Miss Lela Shelby leaves today for the sound on a short visit. She will first go to Seattle to visit with Mrs. Carl Lewis (Laura Jordan) and Mrs. Claire B. Lamont (Maud Hahn). Later she will go to Victoria, B. C., to stay with friends.

Miss Abbey Whitehead left last week for New York, to sail August 15 for Europe for a year's study abroad. Miss Whitehead is a pianiste of rare refinement, and year before last was head of the piano department at the University of Oregon.

Miss Frances Wilson has returned from a delightful Alaskan trip taken with Mrs. Dannenhower of New York and her daughter, Miss Ruth, who visited Miss Wilson recently.

Miss Jeanette George, who is visiting Miss Estelle Williams in Oakland, Cal., is being delightfully entertained. Last Saturday afternoon her hostess entertained several girl friends with music and cards.

Mrs. C. L. Howe and her daughter, Miss Mabel Howe, have gone on a trip to Alaska. During their absence several young men are keeping up bachelor apartments with Mrs. Howe's son, James P. Howe.

Miss Emily Gilbert, who is interested in settlement work in New York, returned recently and is at the country home of her father, Judge Gilbert, on the Washington side of the Columbia.

Mrs. A. H. Devers and Miss Mabel Devers have arrived in New York from a trip around the world and will arrive here the latter part of the month.

Mrs. H. C. Wortman and her two children have returned after a delightful trip through Yellowstone park.

Mrs. William M. Ladd has gone to Cloud Cap Inn, on Mount Hood, for the rest of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett are expected to arrive early next month.

She Likes Good Things. Mrs. Chas. E. Smith of West Frankfort, Maine, says: "I like good things and have adapted Dr. King's New Life Pills as our family laxative medicine, because they are good and do their work without making a fuss about it." These painless purifiers sold at Skidmore Drug Co., 25c.

from their wedding trip in Europe. They will occupy Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett's handsome home on West Park street.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Talbot and their little daughter, Jane, and Miss Talbot of New York left Saturday for a stay at Gearhart Park.

Miss Sara Napper of Salt Lake City is spending her vacation with her sister, Mrs. Emily Hampson, at 353 Chapman street.
