Burglars attention! you are hereby notified that we keep an Alredale terrier in the house. This may be a sign that will add not a few back doors when the story of Nipper is told. Nipper is the big Alredale terrier owned by Dr. and Mrs. Tucker and is now in the hands of an enterprising burglar torn off the screen at one of the lower open windows and entered the house. Along about 2 o'clock one of the servants heard a noise and investigated but could find nothing. When the family arose in the morning they found the hall cluttered with blood, bloody hands on the window sill and heavy tracks leading away from the window. Nipper is the only one that knows the secret and so far he has made no statement over his left eye there is a gash. Nipper was loose in the house that night and all the blood in the hallway may not have been canine. Nothing inside is missing.

RED HOT GOSSIP FOR RABID FANS

How Would You Like to See La Lange a Beaver?

First question—Will Danny Long let Mickey La Lange go now that he has signed another catcher in the person of Killifer of the Austin Tex. club? Second question—Will Walter McCredie gobble up the fast little backstopper who wants to play in Portland and whom McCredie was after during the training season, provided he is turned loose? Those who have seen La Lange play are hoping Manager Mac grabs him if he is turned a-drift. If Long lets anybody go it will probably be Mickey, as he caught Berry the best receiver on his team.

A word about Killifer. The big league scouts have been looking him over, two of them going to Austin to see him work. This is Jesse Tannehill's opinion. The former utility star, who has been hit, and when it comes to throwing he has not an equal. He is only 19 years old, is bright and will learn rapidly. In one season he ought to be a wonder.

Orlet, the Portland boy, broke up a game for Seattle the other day. Orlet punched Jimmy Jensen, slinger for a homer. He has been considered the best hitter of the team. However, his fielding work has been good. When it comes to oversleeping with a morning ball game on hand, some unkind things might be said, as the area contains reports that some of the Beavers did this Sunday morning. Fillmore street must have opened a path for a merry party the previous eve.

Ash Houston got a chance again yesterday but didn't do much with the ash. For the first time since he was in the line in fast company he will have to come through with a bingle now and then.

Woelm Wins Class C Trophy and Abraham is Highest—Shoot Again. Adolph Woelm won the Dupont class C trophy for the second time at the combined meeting of the Multnomah and Rose City Gun clubs on the former's traps at Fulton yesterday and it is now his permanent property. M. Abraham made the highest percentage of any shooter, getting 98. He broke 49 out of 50 birds. The Rose City ducks were among the top-notchers.

Next Sunday the two clubs will shoot at the Rose City grounds. Several nice trophies will be hung up for the shooters. In addition there will be a high average contest. The dinner will be served and an effort made to pull off the largest shoot of the season. Take the latest car at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

Abraham's Scores yesterday: Shot at. Hoke. P.C. Howe 100 85 82. Robinson 100 87 87. Red Wagner 75 64 66. Shangle 75 69 79. Burns 75 68 72. Woelm 100 63 68. Wolf 100 61 68. Keith 75 60 67. Kendall 75 60 66. Johnson 50 50 60. Boone 50 50 50. Lewis 50 50 50. Ring 15 6 40.

Panthers Kill Deer. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Springfield, Or., Aug. 10.—Leater Hullin, a local sportsman, accounts for the scarcity of deer in Lane county as being due to the rapacity of the panthers. He accuses the granting of a bounty of $250 on each panther or cougar scalp, as to stimulate the hunting of the big cats. Panthers undoubtedly kill many fawns and sometimes, it is said, big bucks, especially when deer are poor and thin in the winter time and panthers cannot get other kinds of food.

But in the Nick of Time Aid Came to the Amstelland. —Oklahoma Joins in the Complaint.

(United Press Leased Wire.) London, Aug. 10.—The timely arrival of the British steamer Imogen saved from death many passengers on board the Dutch ship Amstelland, which caught fire off the coast of South Africa on August 6, according to a message received by Lloyd's agency today. A number were drowned, but exact figures are not known. The passengers of the Amstelland were in a wild panic, and many more undoubtedly would have jumped overboard and drowned if the Imogen had not appeared just in time. Lifelines were lowered from the Imogen and most of the passengers from the Amstelland were taken aboard the Britisher, while fire-fighting apparatus was transferred to the endangered ship and assistance given in fighting the flames. The fire was extinguished without damage to the Amstelland, and after the excitement passed the passengers were returned to the Dutch ship, which was able to make port at Swakopmund. The main danger was in the panic, and it is believed if none of the passengers had jumped there would have been no casualties.
