

EXTERMINATING RUSSIAN SPIES

Revolutionists Preparing to Make Switzerland Headquarters.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Geneva, Aug. 15.—Preliminary to making Switzerland headquarters for its activities against the czar, Russia's revolutionary organization is now clearing this republic with lead and knives of everyone it suspects of spying, on its plans. Though it has been impossible to secure a single conviction, the authorities are convinced that the 17 recent murders of Russian travelers in Switzerland are attributable to political motives. In not a single instance was robbery attempted nor was there evidence that personal enmity figured as the cause of any of the crimes.

Fifteen of the victims were men who stood high in Russia and were well-to-do, and some of them were aristocrats. Investigation convinces the police that they were all in the country on secret service. On the breast of one of the men, mysteriously stabbed to death in the room of a hotel outside Nicholas, a note written in Russian was pinned: "Die, you dog, as you have lived—by treachery."

Terrified by the threats he has received, the Russian consul at Geneva has resigned his position and has left the country. The revolutionists make no secret of their plan to use Switzerland as the base of operations against the czar's government. Their decision that the revolutionary campaign must be conducted from some point outside Nicholas' realm marks the abandonment of their faith in Nicholas' manifesto pledging liberty of the press and the subject and promising other reforms which, had they actually been put in operation, would have made it possible for the revolutionists to carry out comparatively peaceable methods in their own country.

Four revolutionary papers will be published in Switzerland and smuggled into Russia through secret channels.

BURGLARS LOOT MANY RICH MEN'S HOUSES

(United Press Leased Wire.)

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Burglars, it was reported today to the sheriff of Westchester county, have looted the summer home of Henry Marquand, the New York banker, of silver and other articles worth $5,000. Mr. Marquand found that the burglars had ransacked the house and stolen many ivory carvings and other articles which were almost priceless, while the stolen silver and other valuables were hidden in the house.

ALLEGED FORGER TO BE BROUGHT BACK

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)

Salem, Or., Aug. 15.—A requisition for the extradition of Barney Lenahan, wanted in Portland for forgery, was issued from the chief executive's office last night. Lenahan is thought to be in San Francisco. Frank D. Moore was recommended by the district attorney's office to return Lenahan and was appointed. It was alleged that Lenahan passed a forged check on George G. Cadwell in Portland on June 27. Cadwell is the proprietor of a clear store at 308 Washington street and was presented with a check made out to Barney Lenahan and signed by one James A. Manson, which, according to the complaint, has been found to be a fictitious name. It was a Security Trust & Savings bank check for $25 and Lenahan obtained $15 on it after paying a bill he owed at the store. Moore was also stuck for $5 by the same artist.

FOUR DROWNINGS IN KINGS COUNTY

(United Press Leased Wire.)

New York, Aug. 15.—Four drownings in Kings county were reported this afternoon. The dead are: George Murray, 47, drowned at Coney Island; Dennis Healy, 66, drowned at Fourth avenue; Frank Shepard, 70, drowned at Rockaway; Thomas Dizar, 3 years old, drowned at Twenty-first street.

PORTLAND DOGS ON MURDERER'S TRAIL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Stevenson, Wash., Aug. 15.—Bloodhounds will be put on the trail of Antonio Piccioni, the murderer who shot and killed Ren Stahl Wednesday night at Cook's landing. Sheriff James Harty and deputy have been scouring the mountainous country in Skamania county and they believe with bloodhounds they will be able to capture the murderer. Andy Vaughn's hounds of Portland will be used.

Proving Their Claim

From the St. Joseph. The suffragettes who break Premier Asquith's windows and threaten to throw bombs are doing what they can to prove that women are not too good for the dirty work of politics.
