COW CAUSES MAN'S DEATH

Stick Which He Intended to Use on Unruly Bovine Became the Instrument of Robert M. Wood's Death—Coroner's Jury's Verdict.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Hillsboro, Or., Aug. 18.—Circumstantial evidence indicates that Robert M. Wood, found dying yesterday at the barn door of H. D. Jennings, met death through accident. Sheriff Hancock in an interview this morning stated that the evidence was irrefutable; that not the slightest suspicion could be attached to Jennings, and that the only "mystery" about the case was how Wood became impaled upon the sharpened stick. He said:

"The evidence laid before the coroner's jury was conclusive, as nearly as circumstantial evidence can be. According to it, Wood went out to the barn, as was his daily custom after arising, to milk the cows, while Jennings, whose wife is an invalid, prepared breakfast. The cows were allowed to run in a near by pasture during the night. Wood always herded them to their stalls in the barn before milking.

"Yesterday, it is presumed that one of the cows became unruly, and instead of following the herd through the stall door of the barn entered the manger door. Wood, in an endeavor to drive her out of the manger passage, is supposed to have picked up the three foot sharpened stick. How he met death is of course problematical. But in some manner he must have slipped and fell, the sharp end of the stick piercing his body in the region of the heart. The stick was found near him when Jennings came out to the barn."

Coroner's Jury's Verdict.

Following is the verdict of the coroner's jury:

"We believe that his death was the immediate result of a wound in the left side, caused by some blunt instrument which penetrated the heart, causing instant death. We also believe that the wound was accidentally inflicted.

"E. S. WILCOX.
"H. DAMES.
"H. L. COOKES.
"A. S. KRAHMER."

The Jennings place appears to be afflicted with fatalities. In July, 1905, a young fellow by the name of Allen George McDonald shot himself in a fit of jealousy because Wood was working at the Jennings place, and because, it is said, he thought Mrs. Jennings was fond of the young countryman. McDonald snapped a revolver in the face of Wood and then rushed to his room where he locked himself in. The sheriff was sent for, and when the officer approached the house, McDonald killed himself with a shotgun.

According to Dr. John R. Baker, who performed an autopsy, the cut in Wood's breast was made either by a dull knife or some blunt instrument. The wound extended almost clear through the heart.

PRESERVE BRAIN OF HYDROPHOBIA VICTIM

Woman's Spinal Column Also Removed and Will Be Carefully Studied—Bitten by Puppy.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Philadelphia, Aug. 18.—An autopsy was performed yesterday upon the body of Mrs. Anna Rule of Darby, who died Saturday at the Philadelphia hospital from hydrophobia, for the purpose of preserving the brain and spinal column for a microscopical examination meant to aid the medical profession in its fight against the disease.

Dr. William G. Shields Jr. of Germantown had the brain and spinal column sealed and turned them over to the bacteriological department of the hospital. The doctors there will begin the examination today.

This was the first case of hydrophobia in Philadelphia for years. Mrs. Rule was bitten by a puppy nine months ago. Several days ago she began to show symptoms of rabies.

Dr. L. D. Frescoln, assistant chief resident of the hospital, hopes something may be found that will give a clue to a possible successful treatment of the disease. It will take several days to complete the examination, and the outcome is watched for by medical men in general with great interest.

EMPEROR FRANCIS JOSEF IS 78

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Vienna, Aug. 18.—The Austro-Hungarian kaiser, the venerable Francis Josef, today celebrated his seventy-eighth birthday, as is customary, in retirement in the imperial summer villa at Ischl. The anniversary was observed throughout the empire, but the elaborate public fetes originally contemplated have been deferred until next December, when the emperor will celebrate the sixtieth anniversary of his accession to the imperial crown.

The health of Francis Josef is reported to be better now than it has been for a long time past. At Ischl he is up every morning at 5 o'clock, and after a light breakfast he walks for an hour or so. At 7 o'clock the courier arrives from Vienna with the dispatches, and then the emperor devotes four or five hours to business of state. At 11 o'clock he has a light luncheon, followed by dinner at 2:30, when there sit down to table with him an adjutant, the private physician and the court chaplain. The afternoon is spent in walking or shooting, and at 7 o'clock a light supper is served, and then comes some music, after which the emperor retires—usually between 8 and 9.

NOT WELL TIED; SO THIS PAIR REMARRY

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Pittsburg, Aug. 18.—Details of a remarkable second marriage ceremony here have come out. Charles Zahner, a young business man, has been quietly married to his own wife. The Zahners were married last February in Boston by a minister, who they recently learned eloped the next day with a married woman, and who has since been banished from the ministry.

After consultation with friends the pair decided that a ceremony performed by a minister who was about to break up the home of another man was hardly proper, and that they should not consider it as binding, so they decided to wed again.

Zahner is a son of a Philadelphia contractor, and Mrs. Zahner was a young Boston widow.

Tomorrow and Thursday will positively be the last days for discount on east side gas bills. Portland Gas Co.
