WORK HARD FOR PRIZES

Scholarship Contest Calls for Earnest Endeavor by Competitors—Greatest Progress Being Made by Those Not Easily Discouraged.

The students who are working the hardest in The Journal's third annual scholarship contest are the ones who are making the greatest progress. The old saying that all things come to him who waits counts for naught in this contest. The students who pin their faith to it will wait only to find that the subscriptions for The Journal waited for them, and not finding them coming, they were secured by the "up and doing" students who were progressive enough to hunt them up.

Judging from the scores made by some energetic students, it would appear that they are waiting around expecting orders for The Journal to come to them without solicitation. One may have numerous friends, but the friends not knowing of the aspirations of the students of their acquaintance, they give their orders to the energetic boys and girls who canvass them. Even if your friends are aware that you are working for scholarships, they will not put themselves out by hunting you up when they see that you do not think it worth while to approach them in quest of subscription orders. The get-up-and-hustle students will win out every time.

Don't be a "has been" contestant. A clock-watcher will never be a top notcher; neither will a meal watcher or a pleasure seeker be a scholarship winner in the Oregon Journal's contest. The scholarship winners will have lots of time after the contest to enjoy themselves, while the indifferent workers will have just as much time to bemoan their apathy and they will find the time long and plenty, when they realize that they lost out simply because they didn't ginger up enough to take advantage of the vacation time.

With the few remaining weeks still available, all the students should make a more determined effort to win the choice of scholarships. By covering their territory again, they will be surprised at the orders they will secure, and which they could have secured before. Thousands of people will give their orders to students who will manifest their ambition to secure a higher education through their own efforts. Progressive boys and girls going over the territory canvassed once or twice before by other students can easily clean up hundreds of orders.

Wise students will follow up this plan and find it highly profitable. It is high time now to be earnest about winning a scholarship. Let your friends see that you mean to win out by working harder than ever and the way to convince them that you are working hard is to increase your score. Let your next score surprise everyone. You can do it just as well as not by going about it with a will and applying yourself diligently to the work. Will you do it? Your friends will await your answer through the next score.

FORESTRY OFFICIALS FAVOR RESERVE BILL

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 24.—For the encouragement of forestry the next legislature will be asked by the state forestry department to pass a bill establishing what are to be known as auxiliary forest reserves.

The plan is that wherever the owners of woodland will agree to turn over the control of that land to the forestry department the latter shall designate the property an auxiliary forest reserve. The timber thereon cannot then be disturbed for 10 years, during which time the land may not be assessed for taxation at a valuation of more than $1 an acre.

The last legislature passed the main bill, but rejected the companion bill exempting the property from anything more than a nominal tax.

It is the opinion of the forestry department officials the adoption of some such law would greatly encourage the growing of timber in Pennsylvania.

LIGHTNING SHATTERS TREE; SPARES BABY

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Port Gamble, Wash., Aug. 25.—Saturday's storm did great damage and played some curious pranks near Kingston, an adjoining town. George Miller of Ballard was camping there with his family. The lightning struck a tree six feet from the tent and shattered it into shreds. A little baby had its shoe torn off and several others in the tent were stunned and more or less burned, but the injuries of none will prove fatal.

Do ... Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle-wrapper, what his medicines are made of and verifies, under oath. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftttimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nervine and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

EXPERT TO SPEND MONTHS IN DESCHUTES RESERVE

To prevent the encroachments of the sturdy lodge pole pine and to eliminate this conifer weed of the national forests so that its near relation, the valuable yellow pine of commerce, may have a chance to multiply, is the purpose of a visit to Oregon by T. T. Munger, an expert in sylvics, especially detailed by the forestry department to make an exhaustive study of the great Deschutes and Fremont timber belts in central Oregon.

These forests comprise more than 7,000 square miles of territory in a strip 120 miles long by 60 miles wide. Now practically overrun by the useless lodge pole, it is the intention of the forestry department to replace this timber with yellow pine which will add millions of dollars to the vast resources of the Beaver state.

Mr. Munger, who stopped in Portland on his way south today to study the reports of the forest rangers on the forests he is to visit, is a graduate of the Yale forestry school. He has had wide experience in the practical study of sylvics and was selected by the department at Washington for his knowledge of pine tree culture, to make the investigation of conditions in Oregon. As he has not as yet made any extensive research into the growing timber in this state he was not prepared to state just how the department will carry out its plans with regard to the propagation of the commercial pine. He said:

Spend Three Months in Forests.

"I expect to be gone about three months on my trip into the Deschutes country and will in that time go over the ground thoroughly. We are as yet unable to say why lodge pole pine should reproduce more rapidly than other species, but it is probably due in large part to forest fires which dry out the ground and change the soil so that the lodge pole variety is better adapted to the region in which it is now crowding out other trees.

"The government expects to find some way to improve conditions down there by cutting the trees in a different manner. Of course it will take a long time to bring about the change, say 50 or 100 years, but Uncle Sam is in the forestry business for all time to come and he has become accustomed to looking a long way ahead.

"In the timber country east of the Mississippi, both in the Adirondacks and the mountains of the south, we find that after forest fires hardwood trees, such as birch and others, reproduce more rapidly than pine. We have successfully solved the problem of eliminating the growth of these and supplanting them with commercial timber and have no doubt that we will be able to solve the lodge pole pine problem in a satisfactory manner also.

Lodge Pole Useful.

"This is the first time in the history of the forest service that this particular phase of sylvaculture has been presented and consequently it is hard to say just now what steps we shall take to upbuild the forests in this section.

"In Idaho and other parts of the northwest the lodge pole pine grows just as thickly as down here in Oregon, but in those districts the tree is valuable for lagging and other purposes, to the mining industry. So the department does not worry over the crowding out of other varieties of pine where the lodge pole species is of value to the country."

BANK CLERK HAS GRUNT COMING AT MACHINE DOING TOO MUCH WORK

"The next thing you know they will have a machine to take in money at the banks and receipt for it in your bank book and another to pay out coins instead of a human cashier," said a Portland bank clerk this morning, "and it would not surprise me in the least if in the near future some inventor would perfect machinery that will write checks and drafts and things. In fact, after awhile I believe that all the people of this great world will have to do is to stand around and see everything done automatically.

"The latest in banking circles is an automatic money sorter which will assort metal coins which have been thrown together regardless of their denominations. Each coin is placed in its respective pocket or basket.

"The various coins to be sorted are thrown indiscriminately into a funnel at the top of the new machine. From the funnel they slide downward, alighting on a spiral track. This track has a projecting edge or raised border containing slits corresponding with the various sizes of the coins.

"As the coins glide along the track, through some peculiar mechanism they pass through slits according to their size and then enter their respective baskets at the bottom of the machine.

"It is a simple invention, apparently, but it is complicated enough, nevertheless, to eventually put thousands of men out of employment.

"And by the way, what ever becomes of all the men thrown out of employment by the use of machinery?

"'Tween you and me I believe all the new inventions to save labor brought about the currency famine last fall. And further, I believe that these darn machines are the cause of the hard times the people have been yelling about.

"But if you want to get rich, invent something."

PUBLICITY CURE FOR SALOON EVIL

Councilman Wills Would Have Them as Open as a Directoire Gown.

Councilman Wills has at last come to bat with his ordinance requiring saloons to locate in rooms with but one entrance; where no alcoves, screens or obstructions of any kind can be used and where the view from the street must be unbroken throughout the length and breadth of the barroom. There must be no chairs or tables in the place and frosted or painted glass in the windows will not be allowed.

The ordinance will be introduced in the council tomorrow and Wills believes that the members will pass it. He believes that the measure will remove all the ills that grow out of saloons and especially in reference to trouble with women. Loafers and persons who make it a habit of hanging around saloons will be deprived of their comfortable chairs and forced outdoors if the ordinance is passed and is one of the benefits Wills had in mind when he drafted the law. The ordinance is short and is as follows:

Clear as Mud.

"Section 1. Any person, firm or corporation engaged in selling spirituous, malt or fermented liquors or wines in any barroom or saloon in the city of Portland, shall not maintain in any such saloon or barroom or in connectin therewith any alcove, booth or box nor shall have or maintain any private or separate entrance or exits to such barroom or saloon.

"Section 2. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to conduct, carry on, open or maintain any barroom or saloon within the city of Portland that has more than one entrance or exit to such barroom or saloon, and it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to maintain, have or use in any such barroom or saloon, chairs, tables or seats of any kind or maintain, use or have any screens, partitions or curtains in any such barroom or saloon, and any room and any building now or hereafter used as a barroom or saloon shall be constructed so as to give a full view of the interior of such barroom or saloon from the street, and it shall be unlayful to use any screens, painted or frosted windows, or other obstructions whatsoever to prevent the full view of such barroom or saloon from the street.

Prescribes Penalty.

"Section 3. Buildings now used as barrooms or saloons in the city of Portland not constructed in accordance with the terms of this ordinance shall be made to conform with the provisions of this ordinance, and the owners of said buildings or the owner or proprietor of any such barroom or saloon shall have 60 days from and after final approval of this ordinance in which to reconstruct said building, barroom or saloon to conform with the provisions of this ordinance.

"Section 4. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not more than $250 or by imprisonment not exceeding 90 days; and any person, firm or corporation, owning, operating or maintaining a barroom or saloon in the city of Portland who shall be convicted in the municipal court in the city of Portland for any offense under this ordinance ipso facto forfeit the license to conduct, carry on, or maintain such barroom or saloon."

DIAMOND RING IN BLACKBIRD'S NEST

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Caldwell, N. J., Aug. 25.—While several boys and girls were playing in the woods in the lower end of this township yesterday Anna Dodge, whose home is in Brooklyn, found the nest of a blackbird, and after examining it closely suddenly exclaimed:

"Oh, look what I have found in the nest!"

It was a ring set with four diamonds. Later a jeweler examined it and said it was worth $250. It is supposed the ring was carried to the nest by the blackbird.

SUEY PLACES NOT BAD AS PAINTED

That Chinese "poodle joints" are not so bad as they have been painted and in fact not as bad as places conducted by white men, was the contention of Mrs. Lola G. Baldwin before the liquor license committee of the council yesterday. Mrs. Baldwin's testimony followed the declaration of Chairman Cottel to the effect that he would never vote for the transfer or issuance of a license for a Chinese liquor license.

Cottel declared war on restaurants in general yesterday and stated that he would not vote for a license for any place where screens or other obstructions are used to shut off a full view of the room. Mrs. Baldwin's evidence came as quite a shock to several of the councilmen who have contended that the chop suey restaurants are an evil factor in the city.

These men, and Councilman Belding in particular, have contended that the Chinese resorts have been the cause of much moral distress. It is in such places as these that most of the evil in the city originates declare the councilmen, and they believe that no more licenses of this nature should be issued.

The transfer which caused the controversy yesterday was one sought by the Yuen Kum Lun company from 81½ Second to 81 and 83 North Third. The Chinese company has been operating in Portland for years and is about to move into the new Chinese building on North Third street.

Other business before the committee yesterday was the issuance of a license to the Oaks and the transfer of a license to C. D. Elder in the Board of Trade building. The Oaks license caused a discussion as to whether a saloon license or restaurant license should be issued.

TO WALK TO MEXICO ON THEIR HONEYMOON

Newly Married Pair to Start This Week on Long Jaunt South—Suggested as a Joke.

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)

Philadelphia, Aug. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Simmons of this city plan a walking tour to the southern country as the most appropriate way in which to spend the first year of their married life.

Before her marriage Mrs. Simmons was Miss Etta McLaughlin. Both she and her husband are theatrical performers, and their wedding was the result of a stage romance. They were married last Monday.

After the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Simmons had no time for an immediate honeymoon, since they were booked for an engagement in a pleasure park at Burlington, N. J. This engagement ended Saturday night. Yesterday they came to the bride's home and began preparations for the delayed trip.

They had figured it all out, discussing whether to go to Niagara Falls, Atlantic City or to the mountains. Simmons then suggested in a joking way that they take a walking tour through the southwest and into Mexico. Mrs. Simmons was "game." Arrangements were completed and the pair will start on the long journey in the next few days.

N. P. MUSTERS IN STANDING ARMY

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 25.—The Northern Pacific railroad has begun vigorous methods to suppress the Italian striking section men. Nearly 100 special deputies have been sworn in and stationed along the line wherever there is thought to be a possibility of the Italians causing trouble. Thirty of these men are on duty here. These deputies are armed with shotguns and have orders to see that the strikebreaking section crews that have been put to work during the last few days are not molested. A squad of deputies was sent to Auburn to intimidate any strike outbreak that might be attempted.

PARADE HALF HOUR IN PASSING

Circus Procession Draws Thousands — Thrilling Scenes in Canvas.

When there is a circus in town there is nothing else doing. Papa closes his office to take the children and mamma goes along to help him with the children; and grandma, too, must go because she has nothing else to do and she didn't see such big circuses when she was a little girl.

The country lad comes to town with his best girl. Circus day is brim full of wholesome merriment for all of us, and it makes an enjoyable break in the humdrum of life.

The Barnum & Bailey street parade this morning held the attention of thousands of spectators as it passed through the streets. It was one of the greatest ever witnessed here on circus day. The children under the parental wing gazed with wonder and delight at the monstrous wild animals, and shrieked with glee at the antics of the clowns.

It required 25 minutes to witness the parade in its entirety and the crowd became young in its enjoyment. In the various divisions of the pageant there was everything to instruct and amuse that has ever been heard of in connection with a big show. There was a grand oriental display, seven brass bands and an electrical organ, the biggest herd of pachyderms ever seen here, a drove of camels and dromedaries, pretty shetland ponies and beautiful blooded horses. More than 100 gilded lairs, dens and cages showing beasts of the jungle and forest from nearly every clime. The horses were gaily caparisoned, the trappings were beautiful, the gilded cages and chariots possessed a brightness that was pleasing to the eye. The thousands of people that crowded the route of the procession voted it one of the very best of the character ever seen.

There was a performance at 2 o'clock this afternoon and the attendance was very large. Numerous new and startling feats were performed and many novel acts were given. The zoological collection is incomparably the rarest in existence. It exhibits four monster giraffes, four great hoards of elephants, including two perfect specimens of huge fan-eared Africans, 20 of these bulky beasts perform amazing tricks in the rings.

"Baby Bunting," a 3-year-old baby elephant, is an interesting feature of this department. Three rings, two elevated stages and the hippodrome oval were devoted to acrobatic and equestrian performances and specialties, including thrilling feats of daring which awoke the applause of the crowd. The thriller, "Autos that Pass in the Air," proved a hair-raising sensation. Two young women glide riding machines down a steep incline plane, reaching a point half way down, one of the autos leaps into the air, turning a somersault, while the other auto glides underneath the one in the air.

There will be a performance tonight at 8 o'clock, the doors will be thrown open one hour earlier so that all may have the opportunity of inspecting the wild animal collection and other curiosities. Two farewell performances will be given tomorrow, afternoon and night. There will be no sale tomorrow morning.

SUYER COMPLAINS TO RAILROAD COMMISSION

(Salem Bureau of The Journal.)

Salem, Or., Aug. 25.—George E. Brey, a shipper at Suyer on the west side branch of the Southern Pacific, has entered a complaint with the railroad commission. Suyer is not a regular shipping point, but there is a spur at that place where farmers may load their produce into the cars. Brey says that after loading, the cars are left on the spur for three or four days, where they may be pilfered easily. He does not ask for a station agent, but merely less delay in picking up loaded cars.

YOUNG MOTHERS

A mother who is in good physical condition transmits to her child the blessing of a good constitution; sickly, ailing mothers, the reverse. The tiny babe brings to her a living responsibility. At such a time too great care cannot be taken to build up the mother's general constitution, and restore her feminine system to a healthy, normal condition. The greatest assistance that any woman can have in accomplishing this all-important work is

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. M. Gilmer, of West Union, S. C., writes to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

"I was greatly run down in health, suffering from a weakness peculiar to my sex. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I was not only restored to health but am the proud mother of a fine baby girl. I wish every sick and ailing woman would give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial."

Mrs. Paul Oliver, of St. Martinville, La., writes to Mrs. Pinkham.

"For years I suffered from the worst form of female troubles, and the doctor said I could not get well without an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to perfect health, and I have the sweetest little baby girl. I will never cease to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with the worst forms. Why don't you try it?
