LOUCKES BEATS BEAVER TEAM

"Sauntering Walter" and His Crew Fail to Penetrate Delivery.

There was a main named Louckes— He had an Indian wife— The spearman hit the target— He hung it on the Beaver's bunch— And Rip Van Halton pulled out, first— A. Non.

It's off with the thing to Mr. Louckes of Oakland, he of the no-motomotion wind-up for the position one with the dream attuned eyelids began waiting the Beaver hitters in the first inning yesterday and it was a continuous performance for nine innings.

There were about a dozen of two fans out yesterday to see as pretty a game as you could wish for. The contest was close at all times and only one error marred an otherwise perfect battle between Louckes and the formidable hitters.

There was a little fair criticism by a fan who has followed the game for 30 years and has seen the national sport as it is played in every league of the United States will not be amiss at this time and it should be taken in the spirit it was given.

Other batters may loom up and menace for a time but sooner or later they will all dip behind and the severe Mr. Striker will be the one to bat in the end.

Some fool said that "Baby" Danzig was not playing his position because he missed a high one thrown by Conroy the other day. The same fellow would have said he had hit the ball because he is trying only for an individual percentage at the expense of the team.

University of Oregon, Eugene, Aug. 28.—"Chuck" Taylor reaffirmed the news here today that he would not be back to Oregon, but would go to "Duke" (Earl) Roberts, who was with Taylor, and who is a well known lawyer in Los Angeles.

Never was the old saying, "He who bestirres is lost" more aptly illustrated than in the case of the man who suffers from NERVOUS DEBILITY, STAMMING, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, OR OTHER CONTAGIOUS BLOOD DISEASE, and who neglects to have his ailment treated.

SIX-TEAM LEAGUE

Merely Chatter

"Ore" Johnson never knows whether his next swing will be a home run or a strike out.

Tom Rafferty is about the only Portland player who is keeping up a consistent batting record this week.

Portland must be a fall weather town for sure. McCreedy hasn't made enough money on the present series to buy base balls.

Pittner Harry Suter is considered by critics who have watched his work closely for the past month to be the best twirler in the league.

Ash Houston has made good his bet. His timely swings against the sphere have materially increased Oakfield's percentage.

The team misses Madson, who is out with a split hand. Madson makes some funny plays on the field, but he is "there" most of the time and his presence in the game cheers the pitchers and stimulates the rest of the players.

"Bull" Perrine got a well-deserved shouting from the throng of fans yesterday. Those who were standing or sitting behind the box saw nothing or little to complain of, but he fell by the wayside. Some of the batters stand so far away from the plate that nobody but the umpire is capable of judging whether or not the corners are out by the sphere.

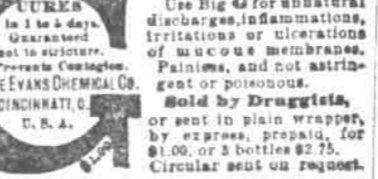

Van Halton's new recruits show that the "old man" of baseball on the Pacific coast still has his ability to "pick up" a player. Somebody down in Van Halton's state called these new players "Van's misfits." Wish we had some of them. Why, can't Ash Houston, the cub of the bunch, can bat in a run when his team needs it.
