

MARINE PARADE WILL BE TONIGHT'S FEATURE

Water Spectacle Will Be the Most Elaborate Ever Seen on the Columbia—Sailors of the Donna Francesca Serenade Queen Hattie.

(By a Staff Correspondent.)
Astoria, Or., Aug. 28.—One of the features of particular prominence in yesterday afternoon's parade was the newly organized company of Oregon National Guard stationed at this city. Fully equipped, the soldiers made a creditable showing under Captain C. H. Abernethy. The company is known as First company, Coast Artillery Corps, O. N. G.

Commodore John Simon.

Other military bodies in the parade were two companies of Regulars stationed at Fort Stevens. T. S. Lamoreaux, who has command of the forces at Fort Stevens, participated as captain in Admiral Shepherd's staff. During his absence Captain Willis has commanded the fort. The regulars in blue put up a fine appearance. The parade was one of the largest and most interesting ever held here. Headed by Grand Marshal Judge Trenchard, a line of police and Signal Corps, followed by the regulars from Fort Stevens, followed by the Oregon National Guard, a life and drum corps and the regatta committee. Then came another local band, several decorated vehicles, the fire department and firemen and decorated automobiles.

EIGHTY-YEAR-OLD GEORGIA YOUTH ENJOYING FRUITS OF EARLY TOIL

Atlanta Georgia's oldest citizen in the point of continuous residence, is in Portland today. For 40 long years he has made his home there, which fact itself speaks pretty well for a man. Mr. W. H. Humeant, who arrived at the Hotel Portland yesterday, is the man referred to. He is 81 years old. Mr. Humeant is accompanied by his two daughters, Mrs. W. R. Prossert and Mrs. W. W. Drake, and a grandson, Atlanta, he the best all around built city in the United States. And, incidentally, the hottest city in this country.

ALLEGED RATE DISCRIMINATION EXPLAINED BY EXPRESS AGENT

(Salem Bureau of The Journal)
Salem, Or., Aug. 28.—F. K. Miller of the Brownsville creamery recently complained to the railroad commission of alleged discriminatory rates that made it difficult for the country creameryman to compete with the city creamery. Mr. Miller showed that while Wells, Fargo & Co. transported a 100-pound can of cream from Brownsville to Portland for 27 cents and returned the empty cans free of charge, they charged 40 cents for a shipment of 40 pounds of butter.

showed the parade, while the throngs that lined the sidewalks cheered enthusiastically. Sports in the harbor were resumed after the disbanding of the parade. Prizes were issued for the best float, the best decorated automobile and the best display of society.

Last night there were receptions in honor of Queen Hattie and her maids at Logan's hall and to Admiral Shepherd at the Irving club. Both functions were social events and largely attended.

Big Marine Parade.
The marine parade is looked for this evening. Deep interest is being taken in it, and a number of brilliant displays are promised. The regatta committee, General Guy Howard will be elaborately decorated, as will also the flagship "Donna Francesca" of Columbia and the station ship "Donna Francesca," which Captain Simon has kindly turned over to the committee during the festivities.

The regatta committee is being gaily decorated for the parade this afternoon, and the owners are vying with each other to put up the best display. The sailors of the British ship "Donna Francesca" have done much to enliven the parade, and they are expected to serenade Queen Hattie, and put up some real good singing. The "Donna Francesca" bears the distinction of having a crew that has been with her for years. On their voyage around the world the facts have endeared so many sailors to the ship that there seems no limit to the repertoire. They were roundly applauded yesterday.

Stations George E. Chamberlain and Tom Richardson, secretary of the Commercial club, Portland, arrived here last night.

Tomorrow evening the big Scandinavian regatta will be held. Dr. Emil Rhna, who conducts the big regatta, composed of the Swedish Singing club Columbia and the Norwegian Singing club of Portland and the Norwegian Singing club of Astoria, is expected to be in his efforts to bring about excellent results. The singers from Portland are to arrive here tomorrow on the steamer "Charles R. Spitzer" and it is understood that they will be accompanied by a large delegation from Portland.

The singers will be met in right royal style and welcomed to the city by Mayor Lane. The regatta committee will present Queen Hattie with a souvenir golden cross. The singers will also participate in a parade which has been arranged to their honor at Logan's hall, where the first concert will be given in the evening. The second concert will be given Sunday afternoon.

The Boat Races.
But for being fouled by a tug boat when three lengths in the lead of his opponent, the "Donna Francesca" would have won the single shell International and Pacific coast championship this morning. As it was, the "Donna Francesca" was fouled by a tug boat, which was in the way of the "Donna Francesca" in the lead.

L. G. Long of Vancouver, B. C., put up a fine race, but shortly after the start the tug boat fouled him and gradually increased it until the "Donna Francesca" was fouled. The "Donna Francesca" was fouled by a tug boat, which was in the way of the "Donna Francesca" in the lead.

Mr. Humeant says that he never left Atlanta but once. That was when Sherman drove him out. He never moved right back again. There are one or two other names in Atlanta but he never lived there as long as he has here. In a thousand years, it seems, it worked—worked harder than any two men in Atlanta. Mr. Humeant said he would like to see the city and take advantage of what I earned out of what I know.

"Did it ever occur to you what you were going to do in your old age? Where you were going to get your money to live on? Probably not. Few men when young think of such things. Those who do usually succeed. I thought about it. And I succeeded. But I am here in a good time now."

"I remember well when there wasn't a house on the ground where Atlanta now stands, a city of 10,000 inhabitants. Finally there was a house built, then a store, other homes and other stores and you know the rest. I was among the first settlers. And I have been there ever since—ever since, except when Sherman drove me out."

Mr. Humeant will remain in Portland until Sunday. Then he goes to Spokane accompanied by his daughters and grandson.

EVIDENCE ALL IN IN NORTH END CASE
All the evidence in the case of the government against Armand Perrot and Henriette Van Iralis who are charged with having harbored a French girl for immoral purposes is in, and this afternoon before United States Commissioner A. C. Cannon the attorneys are making the final arguments. The lawyers are E. B. Seabrook represent the defendants. For the government District Attorney John A. Coast is appearing.

TAFT WILL TAKE WEEK'S OUTING

Candidate Declares He Is Not Campaigner of Whirlwind Sort.

(United Press Leased Wire)
Hot Springs, Cal., Aug. 28.—Judge Taft will leave this evening at 6:30 o'clock for his week's outing at Middle Bass Island, near Port-in-hay, Lake Erie. Mrs. Taft, her son and Judge Taft's secretary, will go from here to Cincinnati.

It was announced today that upon his return to Cincinnati from the island, Taft will make his home for several weeks at the Minton hotel, which will be his headquarters during the time.

Taft received a letter today signed Harry L. Gifford, a West Virginia farmer, who asks that the candidate make him a present of a cow dog. He explains that when Taft can procure the dog, Gifford says he needs the dog badly. He knowingly adds that he is working hard to bring about Taft's election and wishes his photograph.

Taft is not a campaigner of the whirlwind sort. This is shown in the following statement: "After the first week of my speaking campaign has been gone through with, and one finds himself, next week, talking without difficulty on all of the various subjects of discussion, I do not think there is anything more enjoyable making at least one speech a day."

When asked if it were not a possibility that a change might be decided upon in the announcement that he would not leave Cincinnati during the campaign, Mr. Taft replied: "Of course, there is nothing to prevent a change of these plans."

Despite the official announcement that he would not leave Cincinnati during his presence in various parts of the country, Mr. Taft is willing to accommodate himself to anything except a whirlwind campaign, as he puts it, was made clear.

GOLD SEPARATOR PUT ON FARMING LAND

Because a mining machinery company wanted its money and sent an expert to the alleged claims to investigate their value, one of the biggest fake mining schemes ever attempted to be floated in Portland was ripped in the bud. This is the story of the machinery company, the side of E. M. Swift, the promoter of the company, and F. M. Richardson, who had promised to back him financially.

Swift, formerly a commercial traveler, asked the Hydraulic Gravity Separator company to issue some samples he could use in his own work. He had a placer property on a coal creek, Clackamas county. Gold was present in these sections in large quantities. Swift began a thicket for a separator, and advised suggested that as his mine would become famous the advertisement to the separator company would be worth money. Consequently they billed him a $2,000 separator for $1,500 on 30 days time.

The machinery was shipped to Coal creek in the eastern part of Clackamas county, a section where gold has frequently been found in goodly quantities. When no payment was forthcoming the company sent an expert who found, as the company's attorney, R. M. McVain, says, that the 1,200 acres was good only for farming.

Richardson, a Portland man of means, had by this time made an investigation of his own, and decided to back Swift any further. It had been Swift's plan to sell stock to the public. The machinery company has been in the circuit court to recover $1,500 from the Swifts. Richardson Mining company, of E. G. Gidner, has brought suit in the justice court to recover $25 wages due him from Swift.

FRIENDS MEET AT WINONA LAKE

(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
Winona Lake, Ind., Aug. 27.—The Friends general conference began a week's meeting here today with an attendance of about 600 visitors, chiefly from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Indiana and Ohio. The meeting is the first that the general conference has held in Indiana in 10 years.

The program prepared for the conference this year is one of more than usual interest to the public at large. Some of the speakers and their topics will be as follows: "The White Slave Traffic," Ernest A. Bell, Chicago; "The Spirit of Gambling in Present Day Life," Edward Harris, Richmond, Ind.; "The Courts and the Donor Traffic," Judge Arthur LeBaron, Ind.; "The Progress Toward Suffrage for Women," Mary Bentley Thomas, Sandy Springs, Md.; "Purity of the Press," Florence H. Tittensor, Trenton, N. J.; "The Present Situation as to the Use of Tobacco," Albert T. Mills, Mills of the University of Michigan; "The Movement for Peace and Arbitration," Edna H. Slates, Cincinnati.

ried out in full. However, the weather man did not wait long after the close of the event to start the downpour, and the people had to seek shelter on the dead run. And when the day's events were concluded the rain came down in torrents.

"Aside from the weather, which as I have said did not interfere with the day's sports, the regatta proved a splendid affair, and I think will prove to be one of the most successful ever held. There were many Portlanders present and all seemed to be enjoying themselves."

SUN SHINES BRIGHT WHILE REGATTA PARADES ARE HELD

Mayor Lane has returned from Astoria where he attended the opening of the regatta, and says that city has the most accommodating weather man he ever saw. He said:

"Whenever the people wanted to have a parade the rain topped falling. As soon as the parade was over the rain started. If an event of any kind was to be held, the weather man very obligingly pulled in his storm signals, looked merry sunshine and the event was carried out in full. However, the weather man did not wait long after the close of the event to start the downpour, and the people had to seek shelter on the dead run. And when the day's events were concluded the rain came down in torrents."
