In order to procure prompt and more satisfactory service, when at the summer resorts, order from the following Journal agents at regular city rates.

MAKES A NOISE LIKE A REAL LOCOMOTIVE

Emil Kriesendahl and the "Foot, foot" look out for the "lightning express".

Thus were pedestrians on Washington street scared out of their wits the other night when a small steam tractor, fully equipped in every way around the corner hauling two small coaches behind.

The pedestrians ran out of the way, cleared the track so to speak, and the diminutive locomotive pulled up alongside the curb while her crew made a few necessary repairs.

Emil Kriesendahl, son of Emil Kriesendahl, 324 1/2 Mill street, is the inventor and engineer of the locomotive.

DAY LONG VISIT BY GREEN BAY MEN

Members of Local Bar Preparing for Eastern Attorneys.

A number of the members of the American Bar association, which has been in session in Seattle this week have decided that they cannot afford to leave the west and go back to their homes in the east without seeing Portland.

Just how many will come is not yet known, although R. T. Platt, who is chairman of the committee in charge of the entertainment of the visitors, expects to receive a message today giving the number.

A meeting of the local bar has been called by President H. W. Nantagale of the Oregon bar association for 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in department No. 1 of the circuit court to raise funds and stimulate interest in the entertainment of the visitors.

The details of the entertainment of the local bar but also any outside attorneys shall attend the meeting.
