The Hee-Hee Kalaganis club, chaperoned by Mrs. E. May White, enjoyed a unique and delightful outing last Saturday. After sending their suit cases, supplies and blankets in a wagon ahead, a company of young women scaled Mount Inspiration early in the evening and there on its summit built a camp fire and enjoyed the evening with story and song till they spread their grassy beds for the night. After breakfast prepared in primitive fashion, they returned to their respective homes in time for church.

Among those who enjoyed this outing were the Misses Madea Hill, Helen Hutchinson, Pearl Chandler, Fannie Holmes, Bertha Ledyer, Helen Copeland, Jean Mackenzie, Gertrude Roberts, Arla Calif, Emma Harding, Lillie Morgan, Myrtle Henderson, Margaret Gregor, Lulu Lane and Eleanor Reid.

Miss Evaline Goldblatt and Miss Gertrude gave a leap year surprise party in honor of their friend Miss Anna Kamuscher at the residence of her sister Mrs. I. Nagle, 400 Second street, August 23. The house was neatly decorated. Miss Evaline Goldblatt retained the guests by playing, while Miss Mary Tolstonsky accompanied her by singing. Most of the guests gave selections on the piano. The attendants were: Anna

THE "in-between" weeks are perhaps the duller of the season—the time when everyone is returning from the summer resorts and is getting straightened out for the next season. In the summer when almost everyone is away the quiet and their little entertainments are done practically in self defense. When people begin to return those in town cease their activities to watch the return and those returning are not yet settled enough to begin to entertain and unbroken quiet reigns. Everyone lives, for a short time, in the future. The travelers in Europe will soon be returning. A large colony of people have gone abroad the past winter. The James Muckles were the first to return and last week the Scadding came in. The George Goods and the Walter Burns family are expected within a few weeks.

The horse show is being much talked of even this early in the season. Already people are beginning to talk of the frocks to be worn and are planning to make this year's function more elaborate in every way than last year's. There will be even more entertaining and the management believes it will be necessary to put in more boxes than last year in order to meet the demand. Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Wilcox, who were perhaps the most elaborate entertainers last year, have made arrangements to have two boxes thrown into one and will have several large parties. Several of the box holders of last year have renewed the same boxes.

The list of box subscribers so far includes Mr. and Mrs. Gay Lombard, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. W. Treat of Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Ayer, Miss Flanders, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Wilcox, Mrs. A. S. Norton, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Buffum, Ambrose Cronin, Miss Shogren, Mr. and Mrs. Renae S. Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Feldenhelm, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Feldenhelm, Dr. and Mrs. William Jones, Dr. and Mrs. William Wood, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Leadbetter, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Pittock. Next week the list is expected to grow materially when people return from summer resorts. The appointment of J. Wesley Ladd as chairman of the entertainment committee has met with general approval.

This week the horse show at Seattle is attracting general attention. The Wilcozes have gone over and will be prominent entertainers. The French are among the most elaborate entertainers. The Lewises who will show their beautiful driving team, will appear. Mrs. Frances Lewis' horse will also be entered. The Almsworths and the Misses Flanders are already there and several Portlanders summering up north will time their homecoming to be in Seattle at the time. The Hirsches, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Buffum, Mrs. Sarah Forbes, Mrs. A. S. Norton and Mrs. McRae will be other Portland visitors there.

Mrs. G. O. Wold and her daughters of Eugene arrived yesterday to spend a few days at Elton Court. Later in the week they will leave for the east. Miss Jean Wold to go to New York, Mrs. Wold to spend the winter with her there and with her son in Washington, and Miss Emma to make a two months' visit in New York before going to Europe with Mrs. Lischen Miller, the authoress, to spend a year. Miss Cora will remain in Portland and Miss Clara will return to Eugene after a few weeks' visit, to live at the Zeta Ipsilon Pi house, at the University of Oregon.

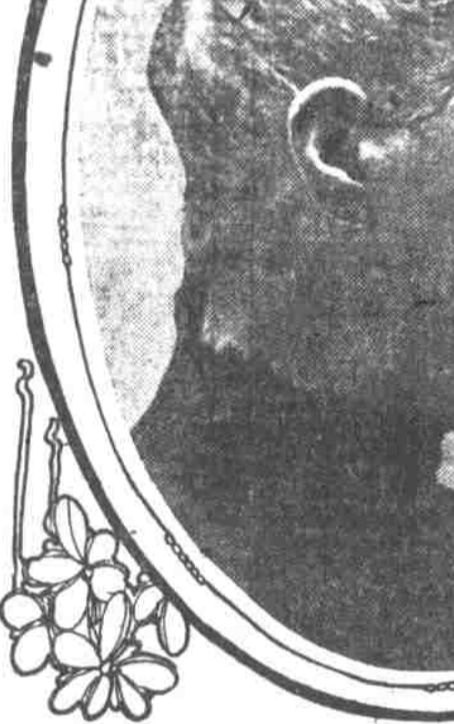

Lieutenant and Mrs. Alwin Barton Barber visited last week at the home of Mr. Barber's parents, Dr. and Mrs. S. J. Barber, while on their wedding trip. They were married Thursday of the week before in Berkeley and on their way from California they visited friends in Eugene they spent a day with Mr. Barber's sister, Mrs. Lewis R. Alderman. They have gone to Seattle where they will immediately for the Philippines where Mr. Barber's regiment is stationed. They expect to visit first in Japan. Dr. and Mrs. Barber and their daughters, Miss Fan-miraculous escape left them unharmed. Mr. and Mrs. William Gleason, Mr. and Mrs. James Gleason and their little son returned to the court Friday for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. James Clinton Luckey have sent out invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Miss Beatrice Katherine Luckey to Harold Simon Gilbert, at 8:30 Wednesday evening at the First Congregational church. Mr. Gilbert is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Gilbert and a brother of Alfred Gilbert. The clever athlete who distinguished himself at the Olympic games recently. Miss Luckey is an attractive young woman of the dumb-bell type and an accomplished singer. Last fall she returned from Italy, where she had been studying voice at the Conservatory of Bologna. She was introduced to some of the best masters there by Signor Lucchiani, from whom she has received letters and with whom she studied here. Most of her vocal work was done with Mrs. Pauline Miller Chapman. She attended school here at St. Helen's Hall and later went to Miss Tebbett's school in California.

The wedding is to be a large affair and the bride and Mr. Gilbert will leave immediately after on a trip of several months' duration.

Mrs. Minnie Washburne, one of Eugene's most prominent social leaders, spent the week at the Moore. Mrs. Washburne has recently returned from an extended visit east with her son, Chester, who holds a responsible appointment at Washington with the gov-

Mrs. P. L. Campbell, the Bride of President Campbell of the University of Oregon.

The president's handsome home is being remodeled for her occupancy. Mrs. Campbell is a woman of much literary and artistic culture and her personality emanates a warmth that peculiarly fits her for the position she will now hold. President and Mrs. Campbell have been spending their honeymoon at Colorado springs and are now en route home by way of California.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris B. Gregg have been staying at the Moore at Seaside since their return from their wedding trip through the middle west. Last week they returned to take their new apartments at 664 Flanders street. Mrs. Gregg was Miss Helen Brigham whose marriage was one of the prettiest of the June weddings.

Mrs. Kent and her daughter, Miss Louise Kent returned to town Monday and have taken apartments at Elton Court for the winter. They spent the summer in the country and have returned much improved in health and in spite of the runaway accident they had which disabled the trap but by an almost ernmental geological survey department some time in Astoria as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Eakin.

Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Brown and their son Hoyt have returned from Seaside after a month's stay there. They have taken apartments at the Cornelius and will later go into their pretty home at Fourteenth and Salmon streets. The past year it has been occupied by half a dozen young men from the Canadian bank who kept bachelor apartments.

Miss Lola Goddard is entertaining Miss Mabel Cooper of Independence, who was her classmate a year ago in graduating from the University of Oregon. Miss Cooper is now assistant there in the school of correspondence. Yesterday afternoon Miss Goddard gave a small tea for her guest asking in many college girls.

Mrs. Helen Goss Williams, the well known soprano of the ballies, has been visiting in Portland, and has added many new songs to her repertory studying with her former teacher, Rose Courtenay, Mrs. Reed will reopen her studio in the Tilford building September 1.

Miss Florence Kohn of the Portland hotel was a guest last week at Seaside house where she was entertained by the Marcus Flanders and the Misses Jacobs. Mrs. Kohn and her daughters, the Misses Kohn and Hilda, are having a pleasant stay there.

Mr. and Mrs. George Catter Mason and their small son and Mrs. Mason's mother, Mrs. E. H. McCracken, spent last week at the Moore. The Masons have built a double house at Irvington and are exceedingly popular additions to that pretty suburb.

R. F. Gliner and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund C. Gliner returned from St. Helena on Thursday after a week in Columbia. Thursday part of the time was spent at Hunter Hill, where Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Holman are camped for the summer.
