

OPERATORS OF NEW PORTLAND PARK SYSTEM

Burglar Plies Trade in Drug Store Sub-Postal Station During Early Morning Hours—Leaves No Clue for Detectives.

Because of the work which will be taken in consequence of the $1,000,000 bond fund to be raised by the park board, the members decided this morning to ask the council to allow the park department the full amount provided for by the charter out of next year's tax levy, in order to carry on the construction work which will follow in building the new park system. The charter places the limit on park funds at one-half mill and the amount which could thus be raised next year would be more than $1,000,000.

A Baby Show in a Piano House

Just as soon as alterations and changes in our building are completed we shall inaugurate, in Recital Hall, from which seating will have been removed for the occasion, a unique and intensely interesting Baby Show—not of your "cry babies"—but of beautiful Baby Grands. There will be also larger and smaller grands. This baby show will, in its scope, excel any similar previous occasion. No less than three carloads of one make, Chickering's, have been received during the past few days at our wholesale warehouse, corner Thirteenth and Northrup streets, for this event. There will be many of other makes, too. Recital Hall will soon be filled with these masterpieces of highest class piano making. Music lovers will, we hope, be accorded a real treat. See display of $11,000 worth of these beauties in our corner display window on Washington street.

HISTORICAL—A DEVOTION TO IDEALS

Chickering

When Jonas Chickering, in 1823, sold the first piano that bore his name, he established the foundations of the scientific and artistic leadership in piano building that have been associated ever since with the name of Chickering. From the very first his inventions revolutionized the piano-makers' art—and gained for American pianos in many respects a well-deserved superiority over their foreign rivals.
