Charging that her husband whetted a knife at midnight one night last winter and threatened to slaughter "the whole bunch" and that he made other dire threats, Mrs. Rosa Parks was granted a divorce from B. Parks in the circuit court yesterday afternoon. She told Judge Gantenbein that on another occasion he stood by her while she was making bread and flourished a razor, threatening to kill her and then himself. She declared that his rage at these times was unprovoked by any action on her part. They were married in August, 1906.

Epilepsy, a disease from which he had suffered for years, caused Wade Hampton Parsons, aged 87, a resident of Lents, to lie across the streetcar track on Hawthorne avenue at East Fifty-seventh street at 8 o'clock last night. An inbound car struck him. He died in the ambulance which was summoned to the scene. Parsons was making preparations for an inquest, which will be held late this afternoon if possible. Parsons, a native of Ohio, came to Portland a year ago, and has been living with his father, brother and sister at Lents.

H. A. Taylor knows how a pugilist feels when he receives a solar plexus blow. While working in the excavation for the basement of the new Y. M. C. building, he received a solar plexus blow last evening a heavy dirt bucket fell upon Taylor from a distance of 50 feet. The edge of the bucket struck Taylor on the solar plexus, and Taylor, a laborer, went down and out. Had he not been leaning backward the bucket would have killed him. He certainly was able to resume work after an hour he was able to resume work.

At a meeting of the ways and means committee of the city council yesterday morning the members discovered that the western Union Telegraph company is operating a clock system in Portland without a franchise. After a discussion as to the best way to bring the company to time, the members referred the matter to Mayor Lane and the city executive board.

At the first meeting held by the city automobile board of registry in two months, the members granted licenses to 76 owners and to 14 chauffeurs. Several of the latter will be compelled to demonstrate to the board, however, their ability to run a machine about the city before they finally receive their licenses. All of them passed the theoretical examination.

All council committee meetings scheduled for Monday will be held Tuesday afternoon. All departments of the city government will be closed on Monday because of Labor day. The committees which will meet Tuesday are the liquor license and license committees. The ways and means committee met yesterday.

PORTLAND MEN TO CAPTURE KIAMATH

From present indications, the second business men's and investors' excursion train to Klamath Falls, which leaves the Union depot at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, will carry a large Portland contingent. The Klamath Falls Chamber of Commerce is making extensive preparations for entertaining the excursionists, who are to be its guests while in the Klamath country.

Construction of the Southern Pacific's Klamath Falls extension is going forward as fast as money and men can do the work, the latest news being that the first train will reach Klamath Falls on Christmas day. Trains are now running to State Line, which is just six miles from Teters boat landing on the Klamath river.

One of the largest natoriums in the state is to be erected by the Klamath Hot Springs company, the contract having been recently let for a cement swimming pool 100 feet wide and having a length of 200 feet. It is beginning to be realized that a large portion of the fat beef cattle to supply the big Pacific coast packing establishments must necessarily come from the rich Klamath region, where hay is cheap and is produced in great abundance. A number of heavy cattle dealers are now buying cattle in Crook county and other cattle growing districts in eastern Oregon, which will be driven into the Klamath district for fall and winter feeding.

Members of tomorrow's excursion party will have an opportunity to witness the immense scale on which the livestock business is carried on in the territory tributary to Klamath Falls, and this is but one of the many profitable industries of this rich and favored region.

Problem for Piano Buyers FIGURE THIS OUT How can a retail dealer, who has an enormous rent to pay for a retail store, sell a piano at a profit when he can from his wholesale house?

To sell a piano at retail costs we not a cent extra, thus enabling you to save at least $75 on a piano, that being the amount all retail dealers figure on as the selling cost of a piano. After a retail dealer adds $75 to cover his selling cost and then adds his profit, can you figure out that we have any competition when it comes to price? If we cannot convince you upon one visit to our store of our ability to save you money, then you certainly are not interested in saving it. Besides the Mason & Hamlin (the costliest and best piano in the world, two years being required to construct one) we have the fine old reliable Hardman, made since 1842, open as the best piano sold by any dealer in Portland. We have been identified with the piano trade in Portland for over 30 years, conducting a clean, legitimate business, and never resorting to fake schemes to get trade, making our record one to be proud of.

We now have cheap values, if you are interested in a piano player. If so, be sure to hear the wonderful Emerson Angelus and Hardman Autotone, as the tones produced are nearer those of an artist than any player piano. The device for playing with expression being the simplest of any.

BAD CHECK MAN SKIPPED TO ALBERTA Harry Clark, wanted in Portland for passing worthless checks upon Mrs. J. H. B. of the Beverly Hotel and the International Conservatory of Music, Masonic building, has been located in Edmonton, Alberta, by local detectives. The Edmonton police this morning secured Chief Grimshaw, who has Clark in custody. The law of Canada requires the most thorough identification before a prisoner can be extradited, and in this case it will probably be necessary to bring witnesses from Los Angeles. The checks passed by Clark were upon a firm which had been incorporated with his wife immediately after obtaining close to $200 last month by the same checks. Detectives in Portland learned this week that he was in Edmonton and his arrest followed. Portland Railway Division.
