

MILLIONAIRE SOCIALIST'S ANTI-MONOPOLY SYSTEM

Joseph Medill Patterson Says, "Use Force; Steal Utilities As They Were Originally Stolen From the People"—Tells Why He Is a Socialist.

(Hearst News by Longest Leased Wire.)

New York, Sept. 5.—Joseph Medill Patterson, wealthy Socialist, author of "Little Brothers of the Rich," arrived in New York today and discussed with a reporter some of his ideas dealing with the rich, the poor and modern morality.

"Luxury and idleness breed moral decay," Mr. Patterson said with great emphasis. "Where the blood is heated with rich wines and the mind becomes sluggish through long periods of inactivity, what else but a rotten condition can be expected? I believe those in moderate circumstances are infinitely more contented in their married lives than the members of the court, with their golden thrones and armies of lackeys, for the reason that the bejeweled courtiers find it too much effort to think of anything but their own lives of idleness."

"I lean to Socialism for several reasons. The abuse of the millions in the suburbs, which I was compelled to observe during many a rush hour, to fatten the wallets of anarchists of corporations, made me resent unreasonably the notion of wealth. It was in the subway that I first focused my mind on the terrible conditions that doublets were mainly responsible for my book.

"I have been informed by settlement workers that poor children have been known to take scraps of meat and bread from garbage pails. How can you harmonize this situation with the statement that a woman can afford to examine a goitre in the throat of her dog.

Socialism and Love.

"An epoch of socialism would improve these conditions. It would also improve moral conditions. Marriage would become a matter of love. Socialism does not effect free love. Think of the woman of today who is forced to marry a man for love. She simply gets a job when she marries."

"Do you think there are many men in New York who are leading double lives?" Mr. Patterson was asked.

"There are men in every big community who take the women who wear their diamonds and pearls to a simpler and happier life with another woman in a cottage. Circumstances sometimes expose these dual lives and then society makes the man suffer and society hurls the woman who lives for

CONNAUGHT HAD A CLOSE CALL

British Princeolatory Seems to Melt in the Crucible of Socialism.

(United Press Leased Wire.)

Glasgow, Sept. 5.—An anti-royalist demonstration took place here today that rivaled the days of the Paris commune, when 8,000 socialists and unemployed tried to mob Prince Arthur of Connaught. The prince came to review the boys' brigade and only the fact that the police had been warned of the attack prevented him from suffering probable death at the hands of the infuriated mob.

The hostile demonstration began the moment the prince alighted from his train. A special detail of several hundred police threw themselves around the prince and conducted him to his carriage. The route to the city hall, where the city corporation officials gave a luncheon in his honor, was through hooting and jeering lines of maddened people.

As the prince left the reviewing stand a throng of 8,000 socialists and unemployed surrounded him. Troops were called out and with fixed bayonets drove the crowd back. Surrounding the prince was a heavy guard of police.

The most dramatic situation arose when one of the bands in the prince's escort started the national anthem. Instantly the mob broke into singing the Marseillaise and hundreds of red flags waved. For a time it seemed the royal party would be trampled down.

The prince retained his composure as he proceeded to the station amid a running fire of jeers and insults. The crush was so great at the station that the soldiers were unable to give the prince a parting salute. It was all they could do to keep back the mob.

The trouble arose over the refusal of the municipal council to listen to a plea from the thousands of unemployed at its session Thursday night.

The situation tonight is little improved. The people are demanding that either the municipality or the government do something in their behalf.

The Republican state convention in Connecticut will be held Wednesday, and Congressman George L. Lilley, of "submarine investigating committee" fame, now seems assured of the nomination for governor.

Other political events of the week will be the Democratic state convention in Montana and the state conventions of Illinois Republicans, Prohibitionists and Democrats to ratify the recent primary results and adopt platforms.

The second annual congress of the Playground Association of America will assemble in New York Tuesday for a session of four days. The congress will bring together the mayors, park, school and health officers of the chief cities of the United States and leading educators and play experts, with the idea of stimulating every city in the country to make adequate playground provisions for its population.

GIBBONS IS IN PERFECT HEALTH

Reaches London and Is Delighted With Reception There and Everywhere.

(Hearst News by Longest Leased Wire.)

London, Sept. 5.—Cardinal Gibbons in delighted with the reception accorded his entrance into England. He arrived this morning at Southampton, where he was greeted by the Bishop of Southwark and a party of distinguished prelates. United States Consul Swalm and civil functionaries were also at the station to meet the cardinal. Arriving at Vauxhall station in London he was met by Archbishop Bourne and taken to the archiepiscopal palace, Westminster, and spent the afternoon visiting in Mill Hill. The cardinal received the Hearst News Service correspondent just before retiring and said:

"I am in perfect health and have enjoyed my trip immensely. After traveling to Rome, I went to Mr. Huffer at Houlgate, Normandy. I will remain as a guest of Archbishop Bourne until September 8, when I become the guest of the Duke of Norfolk at Norfolk house, where I am to have as fellow guests the archbishop of Paris and Prince Max of Saxony. There is not much rest for a prelate, as I am celebrating low mass at 7 o'clock on Sunday at the cathedral."

The body contains enough salt to supply the family for a month.

EIGHTEEN PIANOS DAMAGED

By Tramps Breaking Into the Car and Walking on the Tops.

The railroad company has now settled with the tramps for the damage done the cases and if you want a real bargain call first thing Tuesday morning and secure one. Think of it! A new piano action and interior absolutely guaranteed, can be had for as low as $125, the price depending upon the amount of damage done the cases. Not one of them, however, costs over $125.

The policy of this house is not to hold special sales, offering pianos less than cost because the dray horse needs new shoes, as all such sales are false pure and simple. This is merely a case of selling a piano with damaged case-work for one half what a retail dealer asks for a piano of this grade.

We receive hundreds of pianos unboxed, they being shipped in harness as it is called, saving thereby the extra cost of boxes and freight. We cannot ship pianos with defective cases to our country agents. We would much prefer to dispose of this entire carload outright and will arrange with any local retail dealer to see them and submit terms before 1 o'clock Tuesday morning.

The Final Test of Any Watch Is Pocket Service

THE great difference between SOUTH BEND WATCHES and other watches is that a SOUTH BEND WATCH is a watch for pocket service, while other makes never seem to get beyond the showcase stage.

Any ordinarily good watch will keep good time provided it is kept where the conditions for good time-keeping are exactly right. Jewelers do not have trouble with the chronometer kept under a glass and in an even temperature.

Before a SOUTH BEND watch leaves the factory, it must undergo tests and trials that are twice as severe as the worst strain you will ever give it. It is baked in an oven and kept for hours in a refrigerator at freezing point, to demonstrate that it will keep perfect time without being influenced by the changes in temperature. It must keep perfect time in every position and not be affected by jars and jolts.

You might freeze it in a block of ice without injuring it in the slightest degree.

They are not worried about watches they have stored in the vault or which rest secure in the dainty, velvet trays. Kept there, other things being equal, they will be as satisfactory timekeepers as heart could wish.

It's the kind of time a watch will keep after you leave the jeweler's store that counts.

And every jeweler who sells SOUTH BEND watches is picked out with as great care as is exercised in making the watch.

Even a SOUTH BEND watch, perfect as it is, must be adjusted to the individual who carries it. The highest grade watch made will fail as a timekeeper unless it is adjusted to meet the individual requirements of the person carrying it. You cannot make the adjustment yourself. Only a skilled watchmaker can do it for you, and so we are just as careful to select good jewelers to sell our watches as we are particular to make good watches to sell. No extra charge is made for this service.

No other watch you can buy can possibly give the service that a SOUTH BEND watch does. Your jeweler will gladly show you this beautiful modern watch and tell you all about it.

He will explain to you why SOUTH BEND watches keep time better than any other watch.

If your jeweler is not one of our 10,000 authorized representatives, send us his name and we will take the matter up with him personally and send you, free, our handsome book, "How Good Watches Are Made," and a little device showing how a SOUTH BEND watch adjusts itself to every temperature.

A SOUTH BEND WATCH

Will it stand the hustling, rough-and-tumble life you lead, will it meet the bumps and jolts of every-day use without failing, will it go on keeping good time after your morning run for the train or the vibrations of automobile, and horseback riding, withstand violent changes in temperature—these are the questions you must answer. They are the points that settle whether you are to receive satisfactory watch service for your money.
