

AUDITOR'S OFFICE HAS CITY'S LONG SERVICE MEN

When it comes to long continued service to the employ of the city the deputies and clerks in the city auditor's office easily lead the other departments of the city government, even to the extent of including the woman who has been longest in the employ of the city. She is Miss Roslyn Joseph and her record of nearly seven years is only exceeded by four of the remaining employees of the office.

Sigee Grute, chief deputy city auditor, has been in the employ of the department since January 18, 1890, and is the oldest employe in the department in the point of continuous service. He has seen several changes in the city government in the course of his long career and has battled along through the various successive administrations that have ruled the city for nearly 20 years.

Maules the Checks. Grute has become acquainted with nearly every detail of the city's business since his connection with the auditor's office was filled with writing a stack of books that stand higher than his head while serving as a deputy auditor. The thought of doing the work over again caused him to nearly faint the other day and he remarked that if he would have any of the books he would employ 13 men who would require nearly a year of continuous work to duplicate his work of 18 years and six months.

Another old timer in the auditor's office is Ferris Henshaw who went to work for the city in 1892 and after two months after Grute started in, Henshaw, however, left the service for nearly two years while Grute has remained in continuous service. Henshaw has been with the city auditor since July, 1892, and should be one of the most popular men in the city because he makes out the payroll.

Colonel Milton Welder is another old time employe of the city auditor's office although he has quit the service at different times to work elsewhere. He is stationed with the fire commission and is more generally regarded as belonging to the fire department.

than to the city auditor's office although he is listed with the latter employe. D. Smith has been with the auditor's department for eight years and has the task of listening to all the bids made to street assessments by insignificant property owners. There are quite a few of these although Smith finds time to attend to other details of the office.

M. A. McEachern and J. S. Hutchinson are the license inspectors of the city and have been in the city for many years. McEachern, or "Mac," as he is familiarly known, has been with the city for seven years while "Joe" Hutchinson has served five years. Both are terrors to those persons who fail to comply with the city ordinances regulating property owners. There are many persons who have tried to evade the law.

Other Members of Family. W. K. (Sam) Lotan has been with the auditor's office since 1902 and is perhaps better known to every employe of the city than any other man connected with the city government. He is the man who each month hands out the pay warrants to the employes as they call at the auditor's office on the first of each month. His position has given him acquaintance with thousands of persons.

Joseph is the next oldest employe in the auditor's office in point of service, having been employed since 1892. She is at the head of the stenographic clerks and one of her duties is to transcribe the records of the city council and executive board. E. C. Pierce who makes out the city licenses has been with the city auditor since 1894. For a year previous he was in the employ of the city engineer's department. C. F. Wiegand, James Gill and E. W. Jones have been with the auditor since 1905, while the most recent additions are: R. R. Robinson, L. Penfield, R. C. Flanders, H. W. West, Miss E. Baurer and Miss E. Funk.

The employes of the department form a happy family that has a lot of work to do and perform it in a manner that reveals the affection carrying out the details.

Death Roll of the Northwest

Mrs. A. A. Roberts. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) La Grande, Or., Sept. 7.—Mrs. A. A. Roberts, wife of A. A. Roberts, receiver of the local United States land office, died yesterday morning. Mrs. Roberts, who was a daughter of Cassius Matlock of Heppner, had been afflicted with consumption for two years or more, but after spending the winter in California and Nevada, returned to La Grande this summer apparently greatly improved, and was on the streets until a few days ago. The body will be sent to Heppner this evening, and the funeral will take place there.

James A. Hurst. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) The Dalles, Or., Sept. 7.—James A. Hurst, 78 years, one of Oregon's old pioneers, died Wednesday at his ranch, about 12 miles east of The Dalles. Mr. Hurst was born in Tennessee, and in 1850 was married to Miss Melinda Davis in Missouri. In 1851 they came to Oregon, crossing the plains by ox team, and settled in the Willamette valley in Lane county. In 1867 the couple came to Wasco county and have lived there ever since. Mr. Hurst was an Indian War veteran, serving as a volunteer. Mr. and Mrs. Hurst celebrated their golden wedding in 1900.

Mr. Hurst is survived by four sons and eight daughters. R. J. Hurst, B. F. Hurst, William R. Hurst, M. M. Hurst, Mrs. Jane Patterson, Mrs. Susan Covey, Mrs. Emma Love, Mrs. Melinda Bollen, Mrs. Sina Brown, Mrs. Nancy Brown, Mrs. Melissa Reynolds, Miss Manny Hurst; one daughter and three sons are dead. There are 29 grandchildren and 20 great grandchildren.

Frederick W. King. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Hillsboro, Or., Sept. 7.—Frederick W. King, 73 years old, a veteran of the civil war, was found dead on the doorstep of his home, on the outskirts of this city, yesterday morning. The discovery was made by a Greek, employed on the Ore-

Entries in Livestock Exhibition Pour in From All Sections.

At the rate the entries for the Pacific national livestock show are coming in there will be between 2,500 and 3,000 head of fancy animals in the various divisions at the exposition here two weeks hence—the first show of its kind since the world's fair. The horse and cattle divisions are filling rapidly in all classes and the capacity of the show barns will be taxed to the utmost. Special impetus has been given to the owners and breeders since the opening of the different county and district fairs in the northwest, for Portland is drawing heavily from all of them.

The local show will have practically every animal exhibited at the Snohomish county fair at Everett, Wash., held last week, and the western Washington fair which opened at Seattle for today. These two fairs are in the north Pacific fair circuit and with classifications uniform throughout the chain of cities the exhibition stock fitted for the fair can be shown throughout the circuit.

The railroads are helping matters along by giving the exhibitors a rate for round trip to all points in the circuit. The close relationship existing between the management of the Oregon state fair and the County Club Livestock association assures Portland a full representation of all the stock exhibitors in the northwest. Portland is therefore interested in seeing that Salem has the finest state fair ever held in the northwest, and will help the Pacific National here.

Splendid interest is shown in Portland's first attempt at a big show of this character by many of the counties in the state where fairs are slated for this fall. Even far-away Coos county with its poor transportation facilities expects to send almost its entire array of attractions of the recent fair at Medford. There are a dozen other counties which are entering large exhibits.

So great was the final rush of offerings in the late closing events of the harness race to be held here that it will be several days before the full list will be completely arranged and classified. While the entries closed Saturday, a time allowance of a few days will be given to the owners to a distance to file their applications, those which were dropped in the mail not later than Saturday are to be accepted with the rest.

Directors of the County Club and Livestock association meet this afternoon to pick up a lot of unfinished business. Reports of the principal committees will be made. The invitations to visit at Seattle and at Spokane on the "special" days will be acted on, as will the various recommendations of the general management committee which is to have complete charge of the week's races and show.

gon Electric railway, who camped near the place. Thomas E. R. Brown called Dr. Robinson of Beaverton, who pronounced heart failure as the cause. King served under McClellan and was in the battle of Gettysburg, enlisting at Green Bay. He came to this county about 10 years ago, his wife dying last year.

Thomas Baker Waite. (Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Salem, Or., Sept. 7.—Thomas Baker Waite, a well-known pioneer and at one time mayor of Salem, died Saturday, he was in the hardware business here for years and was one of the prominent men of the city.

Nearly 1,000 Chicago women will wear sandals this summer, shoe dealers predict. One firm already has laid in a stock of several hundred in all sizes, as well as sizes for children. The women of Chicago don't need the support of a physical culture club to give them courage to go sandalizing.

WALDPORT IS RAPIDLY ATTAINING RANK AS A SUMMER RESORT

(Special Journal Correspondence.) Waldport, Or., Sept. 7.—That Alsea Bay is gaining in rank as the most popular summer resorts on the Oregon coast has been attested by the heavy tide of tourist traffic this summer. Few places on the coast have a greater number of natural attractions. Waldport, the only town on the bay, is alive to its advantages and in spite of the large increase of summer population this year, was prepared to accommodate it.

Waldport has for a number of years been sleeping in the shade of Astoria and fishing away its summers without much thought of the great possibilities at its door. Some, however, have slipped in, stayed a few years, then left, taking with them a small fortune. As headquarters for the summer visitor, it is within easy and convenient distance of river, mountain and beach. Within this range lies everything dear to the sportsman's heart.

At the head of the bay, where the river and bay meet, are the mud clam beds, where the fish are taken. Here also are extracted yearly, on the north side of the bay, on Salmontown sand spit, the razor clam beds. These clams are sweeter and more easily cleaned. Between Waldport and the harbor are the cockle beds and rock oysters, which right in the very door of the town one may dig the mammoth oyster. Armed with a long-handled rake one may wander along the beach and raise out of the tide holes the "fisherman's bug," the crab. Between August 20 and October 20 the fisherman may take a troll and within a few hours' time land a dozen large salmon. He can also sit on the dock and lazily draw in a big fat flounder, or if more energetically inclined, take his boat and cross to the land flats, where at low tide it is an easy matter to spear them. Three miles up the river Drift creek joins the Alsea, and there is no stream in the state that will equal Drift creek for salmon trout trolling. A few miles into the mountains is the home of the deer and the elk. Here also, is acre after acre of huckleberry bushes.

Ten miles south of Waldport, a short drive to the beach, are the rocks and the mouth of the Yachats. The rocks are beautiful, with their natural bridge, devil's churn and all those curious forms nature carved. The visitor stands lost in admiration, until some one tells him the story of the rocks. When he comes out, soaked to the skin, tingling with excitement and staggered by the story, the load of fish he realizes the full meaning of the word sport.

Waldport has two roomy and comfortable hotels, the Alsea house, Central hotel—and a number of rooming-houses. It also possesses two general merchandise and grocery stores, a butcher shop, barber shop and bath, two amusement halls, two dance halls and a skating rink.

The Waldport brass band and the Renshaw orchestra furnish music for dances, excursions and various public entertainments. The Waldport company and the specialty man have discovered Waldport and the summer white right here is a place to spend his dimes and quarters. Teams, row boats and gasoline launches are readily secured, and every man, woman or child is a guide. One can get a good clear in Waldport, hear a good story, eat a good meal, and, perhaps, best of all, sleep in a good bed. Already various enterprises are under way for the next year and Waldport hopes to establish an excellent reputation as a summer resort.

DR. C. H. CHAPMAN LECTURES ON MATHEMATICAL SUBJECTS AT LIBRARY

The circulating room of the public library has undergone transformation, and with fresh calcimine upon the walls, the noiseless cork carpet, and a new desk which facilitates business, it is a most attractive room. In spite of the heat of the summer days, the attendance and circulation have kept up very well, during the past month, the total circulation of books from all sides being 26,774; 1,844 of these books were circulated from the East Side branch, 2,161 from Albina, 1,672 from Sellwood, 3,628 from county stations, and the balance from the main library. There are now 22,100 library members in the city and county. Dr. C. H. Chapman will hold a course of free lectures on Saturdays evening during the winter in the patent room of the library. These will be practical lectures upon the calculus and mechanics applied to electricity. They will be illustrated with the blackboard. Books upon these subjects will be found in the library. The class will be limited by the size of the rooms; there are still a few vacancies, and it is advisable for those who wish to attend the lectures to apply immediately. On September 24 an examination will be held for library assistants. Those wishing positions will kindly consult with the librarian before September 20.

DIRECTNESS AND ACCURACY.

DOCTOR PIERCE'S AIM ALWAYS HAS BEEN TO GIVE POSITIVE AND AFFABLE SERVICE for every dollar received, therefore when he began professional life he sought to AIM STRAIGHT AND HIT THE MARK, especially in the treatment of a very large class of cases that were being maltreated by many physicians through ignorance of their real nature. This necessitated going to the root of things in two special senses,—IN CAREFUL, EXHAUSTIVE STUDY to know what was the real cause of the innumerable aches, pains, drains and weaknesses which afflicted women, and AGAIN to the ROOTS which Nature had provided so plentifully for the HEALING OF MANKIND. Thoroughly convinced that alcoholic stimulants and medicines prepared with alcohol did far more harm than good, Dr. Pierce prepared his remedies, extracted their virtues and preserved them without alcohol, then, guided by actual experience, formed combinations by which a man result. This insured his success and gave him the reputation of "the successful specialist," and, quite naturally, the prescription that he thus used most became "HIS FAVORITE," and was the origin of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as now known. In no sense is it a "patent medicine," or even a secret one, but a REAL PRESCRIPTION OF A REAL DOCTOR, that had run into great popularity because it cured more than ninety out of every hundred of the cases in which it was correctly used.

One of the important ingredients of this now world-famous "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" is BLUE COHOSH ROOT, which was in great repute among the American Indians a century ago. The squaws used it for the relief of the special troubles, particularly for the easing of the pains of maternity, calling it "Papoose root." Then there are four other ingredients in this "PRESCRIPTION," namely: LADY'S SLIPPER root, Black Cohosh root, Golden Seal root and Unicorn root. It Stands Alone not only in respect to its known composition, but also as the only specific, advertised remedy for woman's weakness, which absolutely CONTAINS NO ALCOHOL.

It Stands Alone as the one medicine, the makers of which take their patients fully into their confidence and tell them exactly what they are taking. This Dr. Pierce can afford to do, because his "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" is made of such ingredients and after a working formula that has thousands of cures to its credit, placing its merits above criticism. 1000-page Doctor Book sent free on receipt of 2 one-cent stamps to cover postage only; 21 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Formerly for $1.00 to extent of over 500,000 copies. Every family should possess a copy for ready reference in case of illness or accident. It is illustrated with hundreds of woodcuts, and several colored plates. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Reason Why" Contest Begins Today

Don't overlook the "Reason Why" contest, which begins this morning at the popular tailor shop of the Columbia Woolen Mills Company. Yesterday's papers explained the contest fully. This contest should interest every man in Portland. There is no element of chance connected with it. It is simply a method we have taken to learn the "Reason Why" Columbia-Tailored Clothes are so popular—why you selected this shop to make your clothes. It is for the best original "Reason Why" that we are offering cash prizes this week, to be judged by a representative from the advertising departments of each of the three local newspapers.

The first hundred purchasers of suits will be entitled to submit their "Reasons Why." The first prize will be $50; second prize $25; and five prizes of $5 each. These amounts will be paid in cash as soon as the result of the contest is announced by the judges. The reputation of the Columbia Woolen Mills Company is back of this contest. All "Reasons Why" will be judged without knowledge as to the name of the person who submitted it; each will be numbered, the number and name sealed until after the prize-winners are selected. The contest will remain open for only a few days—for a week at most—so it behooves the purchaser of a Fall suit to delay.
