ANGELS PERFORM DAILY OPERATION

Amputate Beaver's Chances to Win After Chloroforming Patient B. Groom.

Los Angeles administered the usual daily defeat to Portland yesterday afternoon, when she snowed the local team under a pile of tallies eight deep, which made Portland's four runs virtually as good as none.

Portland evened matters up in the second game. Danzig put a safe one into the right garden, and Ryan stepped and Busey ambled. Danzig and Busey moved up when Dillon juggled Ryan's grounder.

The fifth inning was painful to the anxious spectators, resulting in the blue "W" being chalked up on the tally board in the Angels' column.

Portland got one more run in her half of the sixth. Rafferty beat out a bunt and made third on Gray's bum throw which Ryan caught with his fingers on it.

The pennant race in the American league is one of the prettiest exhibitions of good baseball fandom has ever followed.

Confident that we can do it. We have close to 80 games at home now, and the Detroit fans will see some fighting, worthy of Tigers.

EASTERN STARS FOR "WINGED M"

Shevin, Slaker, Farnsworth and Townsend May Don Multnomah Uniforms.

That Multnomah club will have the greatest football team in her career is the belief of close followers of the game in Portland.

There is Frank Slaker, the old University of Chicago and Stanford full-back regarded in his day as the greatest punting back produced in America.

Another player of continental prominence who may come up to help the club out provided there is no team late in the season at Fort Stevens is Lieutenant Farnsworth, the old West Point lumbar.
