

FEAR FOR SAFETY OF CHILDREN

One Kidnaped Caught—Summary Punishment Given Another Brute.

A series of crimes against little children has made every parent in the city feel anxious for the safety of his loved ones. Beginning with the arrest of John Gress, the man who kidnaped a little South Portland girl, there have been three arrests since Friday, the day Gress was caught after an exciting chase.

One offender received a part of his punishment without any process of law. A J. Kelly was caught by A. Simmons, 165 North Tenth street, late yesterday afternoon and was given a summary punishment. He was of the opinion that the law against gambling ought to be strictly enforced. Also, he thought, and did not hesitate to state, that the Angels were a lot of Dubs.

A Los Angeles player wandered down the line in front of the Bleachers and was promptly spotted by the Man With the Purple Tie. "You're a dub," he bawled. "You never could play ball anyway. You ought to be chasing a plow instead of posing as a baseball player, you unoffending ball player the fighting name which in some states is held by juries to be a commendable cause for homicide, adding a string of vituperative epithets which have caused a mule driver to blush for shame.

BRAVE MAN ON BLEACHERS, BUT IS LIKELY TO DOFF HAT ON STREET

He wore a purple tie and a grouch and occupied a seat in the bleachers. He was a Reformed Man, for on Monday he had bet 25 cents on Los Angeles and lost. He was of the opinion that the law against gambling ought to be strictly enforced. Also, he thought, and did not hesitate to state, that the Angels were a lot of Dubs.

HARRIMAN GUIDES TELL STORIES OF THEIR DISTINGUISHED PATRONS

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.) Klamath Falls, Or., Sept. 10.—Since the departure of the Harriman party and the return to this city of the guides, many stories are told of the Harriman young people. The girls are athletic, and often tried the guides in their tramps and rides. When the duck season opened they donned their brothers' rubber boots and were often out all day, carrying heavy guns. They did not skirt the tule swamps, but went through them, and would return to the lodge in the evening, covered with mud and water. Each had a room with private bath and they would appear for dinner in dainty white.

WALTER HOBART FIRST TRAIN ON ELGIN BRANCH TO JUDGE HORSES

Walter Hobart, the well-known sportsman and athlete of California, will be the judge of the horse show given under the auspices of the Portland Hunt club next month. This announcement was made unofficially today by officers of the Hunt club, who have known of the selection of Mr. Hobart for some time. For reasons not given out the club was not prepared to announce the name of the judge until this afternoon.

UNSIGNED NOTE STIRS R. POHL

Has Effect, However, of Putting Health Measure Through With Rush.

Members of the city council yesterday voted an appropriation of $255 to pay the salaries of two school inspectors and one school nurse to be appointed by the board of health. There was not a dissenting vote among the councilmen, even Councilman Cottel, who opposed the measure when it first came up in the ways and means committee, voted for the measure.

When the ordinance came up before the council yesterday, Councilman Cottel asked Dr. Pohl to explain the necessity of the inspectors and nurse. Dr. Pohl told of the mortality rate due to diphtheria and the spread of the disease of last spring due to inefficient school inspection. Cottel then stated that he had received information from several mothers to the effect that the same "tongue depressor" had been used on a number of children without being cleaned.

Dr. Pohl denied the act and asked Cottel to give the names and addresses of the persons from whom he had received his information. "As a matter of fact, Mr. Cottel, did you not get a letter from some person by the name of Smith," asked Dr. Pohl. "Yes," replied Cottel, "a curious smile lighted his face."

"There was no address or any other sign to show who this Smith might be," continued Dr. Pohl in her quietude. "Yes," replied Cottel with a broadening smile which commenced to infect the rest of the councilmen.

"I thought so," said Dr. Pohl. "This person Smith seems to have a grudge against the health department. Sometimes these letters are signed Jones, and I think Smith and Jones are the same person in one. Anyway, I wish to deny that such things were done by any of the inspectors and do not intend to pronounce it as an untruth."

That ended the controversy. The anonymous letter was tossed into a waste basket by the councilmen who had received them and the ordinance went through with a rush. Inasmuch as the health board has the appointment of the inspectors it is not probable that they will be named before October 1. Dr. Pohl stated today that she would rather wait a few days until the school authorities had an opportunity to organize the classes before starting the inspection.

OVERTON TRACT BRINGS $30,000

Residence Property Along Twenty-Fifth Street Is Sold.

Frank L. Shull and Martin W. Hunt, secretary and superintendent of the Portland Flouring mills, have closed a deal for the purchase of about $30,000 worth of residence property in the Goldsmith addition. A portion of the property is on the south side of Overton, between Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth streets, and the remainder is on Overton street, further east. The purchasers intend building each a handsome residence on the property for their own occupancy, and will later erect a modern up-to-date dwelling on each of the remaining lots.

Negotiations are under way for the sale of the Isalah Buckman tract which consists of 14 blocks bounded by East Twenty-fourth, East Twenty-fifth, East Ankeny and East Everett streets. The purchase price is said to be about $100,000 or a little less than $1,000 each for the 115 lots in the tract. The name of the purchaser has not been made public, although it is known to be an investor who has had considerable experience in handling high-class residence property in Portland.

NEW SAFE NOT YET SAFELY INSTALLED

At a meeting of the city hall committee of the executive board today, D. D. Fagan of the Norris Safe & Lock company appeared to protest against the acceptance by the board of the new safe delivered by Boyd M. Hamilton of the Mosier Safe company. The protest was made on the grounds that the combination lock is attached to a separate sheet of metal and is unsafe when the door is not closed.

PERSONALS

Henry F. Conner, one of the well-known members of the legal department of the Harriman system of the northwest, left last night for a two weeks' hunting trip to the north fork of the Coueur d'Alene river. Mr. Conner took a large assortment of hunting paraphernalia with him, including an elephant gun of the latest automatic make which is guaranteed to kill provided it is pointed right. He expects to bring back big game.

RUNAWAY CAR KILLS GRAVEL CART

Alberta Coach Tears Wildly Down Russell Street When Brakes Break. That no lives were lost in a collision between a Vancouver streetcar and a gravel wagon this morning at 7:15 a. m. is considered by the passengers on the car as nothing less than miraculous.

Car No. 231 on the Alberta line was coming down Union avenue toward Russell street when the brakes gave way four blocks from the latter thoroughfare. The car already going at a fast speed, gathered impetus with each block, and when it hit a passing gravel wagon at Russell street the vehicle was almost demolished, the driver being thrown to the ground and painfully but not seriously hurt. His injuries were attended to at once and examination showed that no bones were broken.

Conductor E. C. Holladay was in charge of the car, and Motorman George Eisenauer. Neither of these men nor any of the occupants of the crowded car were hurt.

R. H. Hedlund, residing at East Thirty-second and Alberta streets, employed by Sig Sichel & Co., was a passenger on the car. He used to work on the Casadero line of the O. W. P., so when I heard the brakes make a certain sound I was sure they had broken. The driver, who was coming north of Russell street, where the motorman had tried to stop for passengers to get on, kept going faster and faster, and I leaned back and looked out of the open window. The car was full of passengers, mostly men. Their eyes were glued to the car in the way and the car smashed into it."

O. R. & N. BOARD OF DIRECTORS REMAINS

For one year more the same men will continue to rule the destinies of the O. R. & N. Co., who have had the job for the past year. At an adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the company held today the same board of directors was elected for the ensuing year. This board will meet in the near future to elect officers, an executive committee and transact whatever business may come up in the regular order.

EXPERTS SAY WRIGHT HAS WINNING AIRSHIP

(United Press Leased Wire.) Washington, Sept. 10.—The signal corps officers here today freely express the belief that the Wrights will shatter all records in his history-making aeroplane flights, will be able to exceed by a wide margin the requirements of the war department. One official predicted that the Wright aeroplane will be able to make 42 miles an hour. The matter of records in the signal corps is given length of time between no one now, since Wright sailed last evening for 62 minutes and 15 seconds, with perfect ease.

The members of the signal corps are all anxious to take a trip in the machine. Lieutenant Lahn called about with Wright at Fort Myer last evening.

Orville Wright is the hero of the day and the title of "king of the air," though not advanced by himself, is not disputed. He has received congratulations from aeronauts from all parts of this country. Europe, but is calm and unassuming as usual. He has little to say except that he "knew the machine would do it."
