PEPPERY PLAYS WIN FOR BEAVERS

Graney and Garrett Pitch Great Ball Against Slippery Angels.

Jack and Jess, the best, I guess. That ever spat on horsehide. Fooled every man on the payroll. And beat Perine, the much guded. —Fans' Fancies.

Despite adverse decisions on the part of Umpire Perine that took the heart out of the Portland players, the Beavers copped yesterday's game in the first inning 1 to 1, after putting up some of the most peppery baseball of the series. Koester for the Seraphs pitched beautiful ball, allowing but four hits during the matinee. However, two of them came in the first inning, the timely single by Walter McCredie, scoring two runs and winning the game. Six hits were cleaned off Graney and Garrett, according to the official score, although it is a common opinion that there should have been but five since Raftery dropped a comparatively easy fly from Oakes' bat, that player finally being forced across in the sixth inning for the southerners' lone tally.

Two rattling good doubles, Cooney to Casey to Johnson at first, characterized the snappy work of the locals and shut off the incipient attempts of the Angels to score after reaching the bags. A third one over the same course seemed imminent in the sixth, but was nipped in the bud through Casey's impetuous in relaying the ball to Ote.

With the opening of the game things took on a serious aspect. Buddy Egan fielded Bernard's grounder beautifully, but not being accustomed to the distance from third to first and the quickness of Johnson, overthrew the Viking. Bernie took second on the play. Oakes sacrificed Bernard to second, but the score died down when Graney and Raftery handled the grassers of Wheeler and Brashear, respectively.

In the homecampers' half of the canto, Casey pulled off a two-ply swat down the third base line. Cooney reached the initial station when Smith made a blunder of his grounder. Johnson's grounder to Delmas moved both up a notch and they scored a moment later when McCredie slipped over second base.

That was the last of the scoring for the locals. The visitors put their single scorelet in the sixth inning which resulted in a squabble that saw the retirement from the game of both Fitcher Graney and Walter Egan. Hogan of Los Angeles at the instance of Perine.

Ote's long fly was dropped by Raftery. When sent a fast grounder to Cooney and both Angels were safe when Casey failed to hold Phil's throw at second. Brashear walked and Egan fanned. With the bases full and two strikes and three balls on Delmas, Oakes started for home. When he was tripped by Raftery at home, he made no attempt to assume his pitching position before the batter. When he stepped forward to Oakes' game he stepped forward and threw the ball to Whaling, who tagged Oakes. Perine decided that a ball had been thrown and Oakes' run was null and void. He stepped forward and out of the box before he made the throw. It looked to the eyes as though Oakes had stepped over, Perine decreed otherwise, and the Angels were one in the sixth frame.

MCCREDIE AFTER THREE MATCHES ARE "DULL" PERINE OF GREAT INTEREST

Rumor had it this morning that Manager Walter McCredie had asked for a change of umpires for the rest of the games at home. He is said to be thoroughly disgusted with the work of "Bull" Perine, and the decision in the sixth inning yesterday was the climax. Walter, it is said, has taken the matter up with President Ewing, and it will probably result in Jack O'Connell coming north for the rest of the games. McCredie says that the decisions of Perine have done more than anything else to disrupt the team and cause it to hit the toboggan. With a change of umpiring Mac thinks the team will get back into its stride again.

Manager McCredie stated yesterday that he was dicker for a catcher named Eng of Rockford in the Three-I league, who will start west shortly. Eng is said to be a first rate backstop, but his hitting has not been as classy as some of the other Three-I backstops. However, Mac will experiment with the youngster. He expects to receive word today now that Frances, the Altona backstop, has faced the west. Frances wrote Mac the other day that Secretary Farrell of the national commission would not let him come until some of the big leagues had put in a draft. If Frances does, then Frances belongs to the Beavers.

Babe Danzig suffered another sprain in his weak back, and he will be given a good long rest. McCredie has wired to California for Ed Kennedy to come and take Danzig's place. When Danzig completely recovers he will shift Kennedy to the outfield, probably in Bassey's place if the little fellow doesn't do better work with the stick. With Kennedy and Danzig's batting the team ought to move up a notch in the final spurt, providing the big fellow comes around all right.

Joe Garrett did some good work in the box yesterday after Graney had been chased. He went in at a critical time, and without much warning, and his work goes to show that he is one of the most reliable men in the league. Two hits were all the Angels got, and they amounted to nothing in the run column.

EWING AND BERRY TALK WITH JUDGE

Magnates Will Settle League Expansion Matter This Afternoon.

J. Cal Ewing, president of the Pacific Coast league, and Henry Berry, owner of the Los Angeles club, now playing in Portland, arrived here this morning for a conference with Judge W. W. McCredie, the local magnate, relative to the expansion of the league in the north. The whole matter concerning the admission of two more northern towns will be threshed out this afternoon, when a statement will be made to the public. President Ewing, who made investigation of conditions in the northwest on his visit here several months ago with Mr. Berry, was averse to stating which towns should be taken into the league. Mr. Berry was not so particular, and without hesitation named Seattle and Tacoma as the most desirable places. When confronted with the fact that Spokane was of better standing in the north, he stated that most of the games could be played in Seattle, which would more than offset the attendance at Spokane and at the same time give Seattle what it desires, lots of baseball. While Spokane is a good town, he thinks it situated at the same time to pay the expenses of class A baseball.

Relative to assertions that the league was dominated by the Californians, President Ewing said: "If the fans can show where Portland has not been treated fairly I should like to know it. Every one of our propositions has been settled unanimously. There is a great deal more of friendliness between San Francisco and Portland than there is between San Francisco and Los Angeles. Every Californian knows that."

Mr. Ewing is just as confident now as he was when here last that the National commission will award the Seattle territory back to the Pacific Coast League upon the presentation of such facts as he has collected. Mr. Berry said: "I am willing to concede Portland anything within reason on this expansion business. We want continuous baseball in Los Angeles. The fans are crying for it. I am going to satisfy the fans, if I can. We want to do the right thing for Portland club and fans. If they want more teams in the north to offset the six in the south next season, why I let them have them."

McCredie this afternoon and arriving something definite before returning to California. It should be settled now. The season is nearing its end and we want to be prepared for what may come next year. We are breaking in a lot of new umpires and they are mighty good ones. We shall probably not take on the double umpire system, at least not next year. But we are trying several of the young fellows in practice for next season.

This Date in Sport Annals. 1877.—Captain Matt Webb, seated on a floating canvas mattress, with sail and paddle, twice crossed the English channel in 19 hours.

1885.—Connor of the New York club made the longest hit on record at the right field fence in the north to effect a double.

1889.—At San Francisco, Joe McAuliffe defeated Pat Killen in seven rounds.

1891.—At Hoboken, N. J., Jack McAuliffe defeated Austin Gibson in six rounds.

1892.—At Lowell, Mass., Professor J. W. Kennedy, using harness, lifted 2,549 pounds dead weight.

1897.—Cleveland, "Mysterious Billy" Smith defeated "Young Peter Jackson" in 18 rounds.

1904.—At Berlin, Germany, "Bobby" Walthour won international bicycle race of 100 kilometers in 1:23:18.

1905.—At Newport, R. I., John J. Flanagan broke world's hammer-throw record by throwing 15-pound hammer 175 feet.

Dan Patch to Go Against Record. Detroit, Mich., Sept. 11.—At the state fair track here tomorrow Dan Patch, the world's champion pacer, will go a mile in an effort to beat his record, and he stands a good chance of lowering the record.

PAPKE IS GIVING KETCHEL CHANCE

Managers of Fighters Sign for Fighting in Frisco on Thanksgiving Night.

(United Press Special Wire.) San Francisco, Sept. 11.—The fight fans here today were surprised to learn that Stanley Ketchel will be given another chance to regain his lost championship laurels by Billy Papke. Papke signed with Ketchel last night, Joe O'Connor acting for Ketchel and Tom Jones for Papke.

Jack Gleason has secured the match, which is to be pulled off Thanksgiving night at the Coliseum. The men will fight under the same weight conditions that governed their last battle and will receive 50 per cent of the proceeds, 60 per cent to go to the winner and 40 per cent to the loser.

The referee is to be selected 15 days before the fight. O'Connor left for Los Angeles today to bring Ketchel here. He says that Ketchel had taken on too many fights and was stale. He feels confident that the Michigan youngster will be able to regain the middle weight championship November 25.

Papke has a theatrical engagement here next week and will then leave for Chicago, where he will stay until within three weeks of the fight when he will come west to train.

OLYMPIC ATHLETES ARRIVE TOMORROW

Oregon's three athletes, Forrest Smithson, Al Gilbert and Dan Kelly, are due to arrive in Portland tomorrow night. They will be met at the depot by the Third Infantry, which will head the parade and escort the athletes to the Multnomah club grounds, where a large reception will be held. Multnomah field will be lighted by Roman candles and red fire.

During the speaking from the grandstand in which Governor Chamberlain and Mayor Lane will participate, the trio will be presented with loving cups. The train bearing the returning Olympic victors will arrive at the Union depot at 8:50 o'clock and the procession will start for the club field shortly thereafter.

A banquet will be tendered the athletes in the Commercial club Monday night, to which some 300 invitations, the capacity of the dining room, have been issued. Plates may be had at $1.50 each.
