

SOCIETY

ALMOST every one has returned from the summer resorts, because the approaching school season makes it necessary for the parents to be at home to prepare their children. There have been many older ones leaving the past week for their colleges in the east, and things have been more or less unsettled in consequence.

The larger functions begin this week with Mrs. MacMaster's dance and Mrs. Warren's. The smaller affairs are announced for the week. The entertaining of the past week has been entirely on a small scale.

A very pretty party was that given by Miss Vivian Marshall at her home, 653 Multnomah street, Friday afternoon, in honor of Miss Mabel Wood. It was made the occasion for the announcement of the engagement of Miss Wood to Clifford F. Marshall, brother of the hostess, and the date of their marriage, October 7. Five hundred was played, the prize being won by Miss Anna Shea. A complimentary prize was given to the guest of honor. Refreshments were served in the dining-room which was beautifully decorated with streamers, hearts and shells. The color scheme was red. A large floral piece of red roses occupied the center of the table. Several of the invited guests were visiting in California and Washington but those present were: Miss Mabel Wood, Miss Helen Rosenfeld, Miss Evelyn Higley, Miss Frances Hatcher, Miss Corinne Crook, Mrs. Norris B. Gregg, Miss Nona Lawler, Miss Mabel Linn, Miss Mabel Wood, Miss Persis Sargent, Miss Anna Shea, and Mrs. Dodge and her sister, Miss Blanche Layman, both of Oakland, Cal.

traits. She has, too, found some excellent opportunity and inspiration for her work in the woods. Miss Cross is a charming young woman, who does very clever work with the brush, and numbers many of Boston's biggest personalities among those whom she has transferred to canvas. Since coming to Portland she has completed an attractive miniature of Josiah Nunn, the small son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Nunn, and is now working on a portrait of Hawley

A good deal of surprise was occasioned last week by the sudden marriage of Miss Mabel Alice Devera and John P. Plagemann. The engagement had been announced, but the date for the wedding had not been made known and only a few immediate friends were apprised of the fact that it was to take place Thursday noon at St. Stephen's chapel. The ceremony was very quiet and simple and the bridal party was unattended because of the death of Mr.

Mr. and Mrs. Bol Rosenfeld entertained at their King's Heights home with a dance in honor of their sons, James and Arthur, who are returning this week to their work at Johns Hopkins university. The guests appeared in character costumes, each representing a book. An elaborate supper was served late in the evening. Mrs. L. N. Sprague assisted her mother in entertaining. The young people present were: Miss Helen Rosenfeld, Miss Belle Falk, Miss Flora Fleischner, Miss Helen Coblenz, Miss Frances Jacobs, Miss Hilda Hester, Miss Clementine Hirsch, Miss Selma Kohn, Miss Florence Kohn, Miss Miriam Jacobs, Miss Mae Oppenheimer, Miss Mildred Meyer, Henryette Lauer, Miss Daisy Rosener, Miss Elizabeth Rosenthal, Miss Emil Rothchild, Miss Nellie Rosner, Miss Steinhardt, Miss Amy Seller, Miss Florence Wolfe, Miss Gertrude White, Miss Marion Bauer, Edna Biesinger, Dr. Etlanson, Julian Colenta, Roy Feidenheimer, Edgar Frank Lloyd Frana, Milton Friedenrich, Sam Hirsch, Leopold Hirsch, Adolph Jacobs, Milton Kahn, Sanford Lowengard, Julius Koshland, Will Lipman, Max Kaufman, Henry Metzger, Leon Steinhardt, Edna Nouna, Adolph Solomon and Dr. Jonah B. Wise.

Hoffman, and on a miniature of little Mary Louise, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Otis G. Wight. Miss Cross expects to return east in a few weeks.

Miss Lillian O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. O'Brien, and Miss Hazel Tichner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Tichner, will leave about the first of next month for New York to enter Mrs. Charles Huntington Gardner's school for girls, a fashionable Fifth avenue school.

Miss Georgina Burns and Miss Caroline Burns left for the east Tuesday. Miss Georgina will go to Florence to study art for the winter with George De Forest Brush. Miss Caroline goes to New York to be bridesmaid at the wedding of a school friend.

Miss Elizabeth Patterson Sawyers has returned from Seattle where she was entertained delightfully as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kerry. Miss Sawyers attended the horse-show and occupied the Kerry's box at each performance.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Ramsdell have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Kate Esther Ramsdell, to Ralph Hahn. The marriage is to Plagemann's father in San Francisco two or three weeks ago. Mr. and Mrs. Plagemann left at once for Victoria and Banff, in British Columbia, and on their return will be at home at the Portland. Both are well known and popular here and have many friends. Rev. H. N. Ramsey read the service.

Miss Caroline and Miss Evelyn Wilson left Wednesday with the Misses Burns to go abroad for the winter. There they will meet Miss Anita Burns, who has been in Europe this summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burns, and she will join their party. All three young girls attended school at Briar Cliff.

Mrs. C. T. Swigert gave a dinner dance Friday evening at her pretty Willamette Heights home in honor of her son Fred, who leaves Monday for Harvard. The lawn was beautifully illuminated with lanterns. Most of the guests were students just leaving for college. Prap's orchestra played for dancing.

A matter of interest to a good many Portlanders is the election of Samuel C. Eliot to a position as instructor in psychology and public speaking at the University of Oregon. Mr. Eliot has recently returned from England after completing his course and receiving his degree from Oxford as a Rhodes scholar. Mr. Eliot is a son of Dr. and Mrs. T. L. Eliot and has many friends here. He is a graduate of Portland academy and of Washington university at St. Louis. At present he is visiting here on his way to his home. They met last year in Berlin and their engagement was announced last winter.

The tennis tournament at Multnomah club has been well attended the past week, and tennis enthusiasm shows no sign of dying out, even though this is the third journey this summer in which most of the players have participated. There has been an interested crowd of watchers every day, and social intercourse has helped pass the time pleasantly. Tennis has received an impetus toward popularity the past two or three years, and almost all the younger set are taking it up seriously. The frequent tournaments add to its popularity as a fashionable game.

Miss Lillian O'Brien and Miss Hazel Tichner will leave about September 23 for New York to enter Mrs. Charles Huntington Gardner's school for girls on Fifth avenue. Mrs. T. P. O'Brien will accompany her daughter and Miss Tichner across the continent and expects to visit for a month with Mr. O'Brien's mother, Mrs. M. O'Brien, in Winsted, Conn. The sister, Miss Lillian O'Brien spent a year here with her son some two years ago.

Friends here are sending good wishes to Miss Katherine Brown, of Oakland, Cal., whose engagement to William Thornton White has been announced. Their marriage will take place in October. Miss Brown will be pleasantly remembered as a popular young woman who visited two summers ago with Mrs. Walter F. Burrell and Miss Mary Montgomery. She was extensively entertained at the time.

Mrs. Eva Kohn and Miss Selma Kohn of San Francisco have returned from a visit in Seattle and are at the Portland. They have been shown many courtesies by their friends. They will leave this week for California.

Miss Willow and Miss Hazel Fields left last week to enter Belmont college, Nashville, Tenn. They were accompanied by L. H. Rumbaugh, their aunt, who will visit east for a month.

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Chapman entertained at their Portland Heights home Wednesday evening for Miss Van Dyke of Des Moines, who is the guest of the C. H. Farringtons in Irvington.

Dr. Jonah Wise, pastor of Temple Bath Israel, has taken apartments at the Nortonia hotel for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Klaber are also at the Nortonia for the season.

Miss Dorothea Nash has returned from the Nash's country home at Nashville. She entertained a number of her friends there, and spent much of her time on horseback.

Edward Ehrman left early in the week for Baltimore to visit his mother, who is ill. His son, Mason Ehrman, left Thursday to resume his work at Yale.

Mrs. Leo Friedl and her son, who have been absent for four months in San Francisco, visited in her mother and sister, returns tomorrow morning.

Miss Marion and Miss Flora Bauer left yesterday afternoon for New York after spending the summer with their mother in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster have invitations out for a dance Tuesday evening at their beautiful home at the golf links.

R. Rierson entertained about 20 of the young business men of the city Friday evening with a launch ride on the river.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace Graham and their little son have returned from their summer's outing at Ocean Park.

Mrs. S. Frauenthal, prominent in Seattle society, is a guest at the Nortonia and is receiving much attention.

Prescott Cookingham and Sim Wincy left Wednesday for Princeton to take up their work as sophomores.

The officers at Vancouver barracks have sent out invitations for a hop there Friday, September 25.

Mrs. C. E. Gliner is visiting at Willamette Heights the guest of her aunt, Mrs. George W. McBride.

Mrs. S. L. Baer and Miss Elizabeth Baer of Baker City are registered at the Nortonia.

John Wheeler left Wednesday for Ann Arbor to enter the University of Michigan.

Mrs. W. C. Alvord entertained with a small bridge party of five tables Tuesday evening in compliment to Miss Avaline Webster, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Harrison Corbett. The guests were Miss Webster, Miss Hazel Dolph, Miss Grace Warren, Miss Imbellia Gould, Miss Olive Felling, Miss Josephine Smith, Miss Dorothy Morrison, Miss Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grell, Irving Webster, Elliott Corbett, Antoinette Labbe, Raymond Wilson, Kenneth Baber, Harry Felling, Don Moore and William Barrett.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Gifford Nash and their infant son, Benjamin Gifford Nash, will return tomorrow from Eugene where they spent the summer, and will reopen their flat at Twenty-third and Irving streets.

Mrs. E. May and family will soon leave for a year abroad. Dr. Gustav Baer and his sister, Miss Beatrice Baer, will occupy the May residence on Twenty-fifth street near Lovjoy.

Mrs. Hans Hirschberger entertained Wednesday afternoon at her residence on Portland Heights. The honor guest was Mrs. David B. Gann of Chicago. Those invited to meet Mrs. Gann were Mrs. Charles E. Chenery, Mrs. W. B. Honeyman, Miss Celia Swigert, Mrs. Finlay McNeill, Mrs. W. P. Adams, Miss Ethel Honeyman, Mrs. J. C. Micken, Mrs. J. C. Stuart and Mrs. E. B. Wight.

Miss Besse Katherine Lacey, who is to be married next Wednesday, entertained her bridesmaids at luncheon Wednesday. Besides the bride-elect and her mother those present were the Misses Gertrude and Claire Jones of Brooks, Miss Adele Dyott, Miss Grace Towles and Miss Elizabeth Cormack.

Miss Lisa Wood, who has been spending the year abroad with the Drakes, will sail from England September 19. After a few short visits in the east she will return home about October. Miss Wood is one of the most clever and popular girls of the younger set, and has been greatly missed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Couch Flinders and the Misses Corrie and Louise Flinders left last week to open their summer home, Ecota, at the beach.
